The Fitness and Fashion Book

The Fitness.Fashion book that was launched only last Thursday at the Ayala Museum took two months to finish. But much of those had long dormant moments in between. Putting the book together would have been easy, except that it took long for us to get data pertaining to the program. Much as the people from Philippine Daily Inquirer were willing to help, they were all busy putting together seven days a week of The Philippine Daily Inquirer.

On several instances, we would send the writer Cheche Moral to Philippine Daily Inquirer's Makati Office to have photos identified, but it would take forever for anyone of them to identify, for example, a photo with Akiko Thompson in it. There really was proper news archiving in this country, which was why it was murder for those involved in putting this book together.

During the launch, I was asked as the book author to talk about how we came up with the book, but I had to be cut short due to lack of time and was unable to share some of the details that went into the completion of the Fitness.Fashion book.

That night I also wanted to thank the people involved in the book project, especially to director Jackie Aquino and designer Lulu Tan-Gan for their creative and production services.

And so this was the journey we took as we completed the book of Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung, which is now on its 3rd year.

I accepted the project that time because I can never say no to Inquirer Lifestyle Editor in Chief Thelma Sioson-San Juan. He is such a good man that I'm willing to take a bullet for him. I even said that on the newspaper.

For Senator Pia Cayetano I will think about it. I also said that on and she heard it.

Lian Las Pinas updated the description.

This fashion event was held at the Rigodon Ballroom of the Peninsula Manila in Makati City on July 31, 2008 and Pacific Grand Ballroom of the Waterfront Cebu City Hotel and Casino in Cebu City on November 8, 2008.

High fashion married active wear in this groundbreaking event that featured some of Manila's top designers such as Ivar Aseron, Rajo Laurel and Randy Ortiz, and top retail brands such as Adidas, Nike Golf, Speedo, Puma and Kipling.

Together with Samsung and with the cooperation of the Peninsula and the Waterfront hotel, Inquirer Lifestyle presented the show in both Manila and Cebu. Personalities like Senator Pia Cayetano, Waterfront GM Marco Protacio, jewelry designer Tweetie de Leon-Gonzalez and socialite Amparito Lhuillier were among the big names who gamely participated in the event.

New blogpost: Looking Back on 2011: Renaissance of Swimming

"2011 witnessed what I like to call the renaissance of technical swimming. Some may argue that this rebirth started a year ago in 2010--when the high-tech full bodysuits were officially banned from competitions. However, to use the metaphor of the phoenix, 2010 was the death of the fully grown bird and its rebirth as an infant. 2011, on the other hand, was the phoenix's first flight; it's baby steps to reclaim its former glory. With all that has transpired last year, no other metaphor could be so apt. That said, here is my top five epic and memorable swimming moments of 2011..."

Eat, Bulaga! has been aired and seen in three of the largest and most powerful networks in Philippine television history. Ahhh, teka... "history" ba 'ika n'yo? O, eto — We have survived six Philippine presidents! How's that for history? Ops, wala ba kayong mga kamay at paa? Standing ovation please. Actually, because of that unusual "staying power" and record-breaking achievement, it should be called WITHSTANDING OVATION!

'yung ellinwood malate church choir 'ata 'yun, if i remember right...tuwing sign-on and sign-off pinapalabas 'yun ng GMA, 'yung "hallelujah" na may halong mga shots from all around the philippines...

pinalitan nila ito sometime in the mid-'90s ng isa pang choir--hindi ko lang alam 'yung kanta...pero parang may "hallelujah" rin 'ata...

tapos lagi ring binabanggit sa sign-on and sign-off ng GMA ever since 'yung lahat ng mga provincial station nila...

Mula Batanes hanggang Jolo
Saan ka man ay halina tayo
Isang libo't isang tuwa
Buong bansa... Eat Bulaga!

Bulagaan sa tanghali lalong umiinit
Laging ginagaya dahil puno ng gimik
Sa puso mo'y walang dala kundi saya
Tumutok na kayo buong bansa

Buong bansa ay nagkakaisa
Sa tuwa't saya na aming dala
Isang libo't isang tuwa
Buong bansa... Eat Bulaga!

Sina Tito, Vic at Joey
Barkada'y dumarami

Eat Bulaga! 2007 Theme

A new opening for the show that features OBBs and episodes from the past, a new-updated theme was debuted on Monday, January 1, 2007 and used until June 30, 2007.

Mula Batanes Hanggang Jolo, Saan ka man ay halina kayo

Isang libo't isang tuwa, Buong bansa... Eat Bulaga!

Jazz Verse (Julia Clarete, Ciara Sotto, Pia Guanio, Janno Gibbs):

Sina Tito, Vic, at Joey, Barkada'y dumarami (Ooooh)

Silang lahat ay nagbibigay, Ligaya sa ating buhay

Reggae Verse (Jose Manalo, Wally Bayola):

Buong bansa ay nagkakaisa, Sa tuwa't saya na aming dala

Pop Verse (EB Babes, Sugar Mercado, Mr. Pogi's):

Isang libo't isang tuwa, Isang Bayan

Nagkakaisang mamamayan, Buong bansa...

Rap Verse (Michael V, Francis Magalona):

Eat Bulaga! Ito na humanda ang lahat sa dami ng papalag hindi mapapahamak

Tatlong bituin at isang araw, sa Luzon, sa Visayas, sa Mindanao, Isa lang ang isinisigaw

Rock Verse (Vic Sotto, Joey De Leon):

Isang libo't isang tuwa, Buong bansa (buong mundo!)... Eat Bulaga!!!

Christmas on ABS CBN

In a time when Christmas has been subject to gross commercialization, ABS-CBN dares to be different with its newest Christmas station ID, Sabay Tayo. Produced by the networks Creative Communications Management division (CCM), ABS-CBN's new Sabay Tayo station ID celebrates a truly Filipino Christmas, by spotlighting the rich values and traditions that make our holidays special togetherness, familial pride, and unity.

Many viewers have already been touched by the message of Sabay Tayo, in which ABS-CBN brought together the biggest assembly of the network's talented stars, including talents from the news and entertainment departments of ABS-CBN, Studio 23, the ABS-CBN Regional Network Group, Myx, Cinema One, Lifestyle Network, and ANC, as well as DZMM, DWRR, and ABS-CBN Global. The Sabay Tayo station ID also put together ABS-CBN talents from TV, radio, the cable channels and even the network's anchors from the provincial stations.

Moreover, Sabay Tayo also spotlights some world-class Filipino achievers, including the Hail Mary the Queen Choir, which won the Gold Medal over 88 participating countries in a Germany-based choir Olympics; Douglas Nierras' Powerdance dance company, the Grand Prix winner in the International Creative Dance Concourse in Japan; the UP Madrigal Singers, an international award-winning ensemble, with awards including Grand Prize in the 1997 European de Chant Choral in France; and the Bayanihan Dance Company, the legendary dance troupe that recently won the Gold Temple Award and Absolute Gold in the 47th International Folk Festival in Italy.

Christmas is the season for counting our blessings. For the Filipino, the biggest blessing is the family. It is with our parents, brothers and sisters with whom we share dreams, joys and pains, says ABS-CBN VP for CCM Robert Labayen, who stood as Sabay Tayo's creative director along with Johnny delos Santos and Zita Aragon. ABS CBN champions the spirit of the Filipino family. We are the only Filipino media company that reaches nearly all Filipinos in the country and in 2/3 of the world. At ABS CBN, we are happy that we touch the lives of Filipinos wherever they may be, and it is our pleasure to remind our countrymen of this message this Christmas. Christmas is the time for kapamilya, even when we love people who are far away, and we reflect that with lyrics like sa pinag-isang damdamin, malayo man ay magkapiling pa rin.

The song for Sabay Tayo was written by Robert Labayen with the help of his son Joma Labayen. Music for the spot was composed, arranged and conducted by Jessie Lasaten, an award-winning composer and summa cum laude graduate of the world-class Berklee College of Music in Boston. Luigi Santiago, a graduate of the New York University-Tisch School of the Arts who regularly directs the award-winning series Nginiig, directed the spot. SABAY TAYO

Lyrics: Robert G. Labayen

Music: Jessie Lasaten

(Martin)

Sa 'yo ko lang naranasan, ang lambing na totohanan

(Zsa Zsa)

ngiti mong di nagpapanaw, ano pa man ang pagdaanan

(Kuh)

Walang malungkot na araw, pag ang kasama ay ikaw

(Gary V)

At sa pinag-isang damdamin, malayo ma'y, magkapiling pa rin

(Vina)

Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso

(Sarah G)

Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo

(Eric Santos)

Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya

(Christian & Mark Bautista)

Sabay nagsisikap sa iisang pangarap

(Frenchie, Rachel, Shreyn)

Magkaramay sa lumbay, magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

(Gloc9 Rap)

Makinig, manginig masdan ang aking bibig,
May sasabihin akong talagang nakakakilig
Matagal ko na itong sa sarili nabatid
Napaka-swerte ko at ikaw ay aking kapatid.
Lahing malupit, lahing astig, matinik, magaling,
Malikot ang isip kahit saang dako ng daigdig
Kapag ikaw at ako'y magkasabay, may malaking bagay
Itigil na natin, alitan at ano mang away
Yabangan, bangayan, tama na ang paligsahan
Mas gusto ko pa na tayong lahat ay magyakapan
Isang pamilya sama-sama, ating lahi bigyan ng kulay
Bandila'y iwagayway, buong mundo ay magpupugay
Sama-sama, lahat ay mag-hawak-kamay

Bawat isa sa atin ay magsi-silbing gabay
Sama-sama, lahat ay mag-hawak-kamay
Bawat isa sa atin ay magsi-silbing gabay

(Hail Mary the Queen Choir)
Sa pinag-isang layunin
Sa pinag-samang galling
Saan man dito sa mundo
Ikaw at ako'y mag-niningning
Kapag kamay mo'y aking hawak
Para akong may pakpak

(Madrigal Singers)
Pagsubok man ay umapaw
Ikaw at ako'y mangingibabaw

(All)
Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso
Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo
Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya
Sabay nagsisikap sa isang pangarap
Magkaramay sa lumbay
Magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso
Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo
Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya
Sabay nagsisikap sa isang pangarap
Magkaramay sa lumbay
Magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

Malamig ang simoy ng hangin
Kay saya ng bawa't damdamin
Ang tibok ng puso sa dibdib
Para bang hulog ng langit

Himig ng Pasko'y laganap
Mayroong sigla ang lahat
Wala ang kalungkutan
Lugod sa kasayahan

Himig ng Pasko'y umiiral
Sa loob at labas ng tahanan
Masaya ang mga tanawin
May awit ang simoy ng hangin

Himig ng Pasko'y laganap
Mayroong sigla ang lahat
Wala ang kalungkutan

Lugod sa kasayahan

"Angat ang Ligaya ng Pasko" ABS-CBN 2006 Christmas Station ID

O bakit kaya tuwing pasko ay
Dumarating na
Ang bawa't isa'y para bang
Namomroblema
Hindi mo alam ang regalang ibibigay
Ngayong kay hirap na nitong ating buhay

Meron pa kayang caroling at noche buena
Kung tayo naman ay kapos at wala nang pera
Nakakahiya kung muling pagtaguan mo
Ang 'yong mga inaanak sa araw ng pasko.

[refrain]

Ngunit kahit na anong mangyari
Ang pag-ibig sana'y maghari
Sapat nang si hesus ang kasama mo
Tuloy na tuloy parin ang pasko

Mabuti pa nga ang pasko noong isang taon
Sa ating hapag mayroong keso de bola't hamon
Baka sa gipit, happy new year mapo-postpone
At ang hamon ay mauuwi sa bagoong

[refrain]

Ngunit kahit na anong mangyari
Ang pag-ibig sana'y maghari
Sapat nang si hesus ang kasama mo
Tuloy na tuloy parin ang pasko

(instrumental)

[refrain]

Ngunit kahit na anong mangyari
Ang pag-ibig sana'y maghari
Sapat nang si hesus ang kasama mo
Tuloy na tuloy parin ang pasko

[coda]

Tuloy na tuloy pa rin (tuloy na tuloy pa rin)
Tuloy na tuloy pa rin (tuloy na tuloy pa rin)
Tuloy na tuloy pa rin ang pasko
Tuloy na tuloy pa rin ang pasko

Sa kapamilya mo tuloy ang pasko.....

Nadarama mo pa
Maiinit na yakap
Alaalang kay saya

Kapag kapiling ka
Paligid ay gumaganda
Kaya ngayong Pasko
Nais na maKASAMA

Walang mag-iisa ngayong Pasko
Sabay magdiriwang ating PUSO
Ika'y malapit man o malayo
Magkakapiling tayo sa Pasko
Nasan mang dako naaalala ka
Sana'y kapiling sa pagsasaya
Tayo'y iisang PAMILYA

Walang mag-iisa ngayong Pasko
Sabay magdiriwang ating PUSO

Ika'y malapit man o malayo
Magkakapiling tayo sa Pasko
Makakapiling ka
MakaKASAMA ka ... hah ...

"Bro, Star ng Pasko" ABS-CBN 2009 Christmas Station ID

Performed by: ABS-CBN Artists

Kung kailan pinakamadilim
Ang mga tala ay mas nagniningning
Gaano man kakapal ang ulap
Sa likod nito ay may liwanag

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa `ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Tayo ang ilaw sa madilim na daan
Pagkakapit bisig ngayon higitan
Dumaan man sa malakas na alon
Lahat tayo'y makakaahon

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa `ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Kikislap ang pag-asa
Kahit kanino man
Dahil ikaw Bro, dahil ikaw Bro
Dahil ikaw Bro
Ang star ng pasko

Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw

Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw

• Lian Las Pinas edited a doc.

- CHANGING THE LIVES OF 30 YOUNG PEOPLE

- I don't know of anyone who can still question the fact that Eat, Bulaga! is the most successful noontime show — ever. It is now the longest-running lunchtime program and is still the most popular (you can check the ratings). This year, it turns 30 — a rare feat, especially if we go back to its beginnings.
- Eat, Bulaga! actually went through the most difficult birth pains because — to begin with — it dared go against the then king of noontime shows, Student Canteen, which everyone thought was unbeatable. Then still on Channel 9, Eat, Bulaga! didn't have the resources of the competition because advertising support went to Student Canteen, which then enjoyed immense ratings. Since very few were supposedly watching Eat, Bulaga!, the more important stars all went to Student Canteen to do their guest appearances.
- On its first anniversary — held at the Philtrade (now the present site of Aliw Theater) — their major guest stars were the late couple Balut and Matimtiman Cruz. But they managed to give away prizes to the live audience — mostly refrigerators. The high point of the event was when the cast members released doves — plenty of them. The second anniversary was even less memorable and nobody remembers it practically.
- In 1982, however, things turned around for Eat, Bulaga!. Channel 9 went Domsat (short for domestic satellite — a device thrown up into airspace that allowed shows in Manila to be seen simultaneously all over the archipelago, even as far as Palau). Coney Reyes was also fired from Student Canteen, got the sympathy of the public and brought viewers with her when she moved to Eat, Bulaga!. That was the beginning of the success of this now unbeatable noontime fare.
- By the time it marked its 10th year, it was already able to afford to stage its anniversary show at the Araneta Coliseum and it was dubbed as the day of 1,000 stars. Actually more than 1,000 entertainment celebrities showed up, led by Sharon Cuneta. Eat, Bulaga! had moved to ABS-CBN that time and it undeniably helped push the network to No. 1 around that period because that is the purpose of noontime shows — these serve as flagship for the network. In 1995, Channel 2 put up its own lunchtime program — 'Sang Linggo nAPO Sila — and Eat, Bulaga! was welcomed by GMA 7, which as the ratings would prove is now the top network. Industry people widely believe that wherever Eat, Bulaga! goes, the station becomes No. 1.
- Five years ago, Eat, Bulaga! celebrated its silver by putting up a show to end all shows and the venue was the Clark Expo. It was so grand and magnificently put together that it even won Best Special Annual Production at the prestigious Asian Awards held in Singapore.
- Now on its 30th year, the Eat, Bulaga! bosses Tony Tuviera, Malou Choa-Fagar, director Poochie Rivera, creative head Jenny Ferre (all the way to the staff, Sunshine Delgado Benadiel, etc.) were put in a quandary on how to celebrate this milestone. How else could anyone top that 25th anniversary show?

- The solution is to give back to the public that has supported Eat, Bulaga! all these past three decades. Instead of spending on lavish production numbers — all of which the show had done in the past — Eat, Bulaga! has opted to change the lives of 30 young people by supporting them through high school.
- Starting early this year, the show launched a search to find 30 (symbolizing the show's 30 years) deserving students from all over the country. This was announced daily on the show and you can just imagine the tons of nominations that came in.
- Dubbed as Eat, Bulaga!'s Excellent Student Awards, the project was already in full swing by February and Eat, Bulaga!'s hardworking staff went all over the Philippines for this program. Of course, that's in keeping with the "Mula Aparri hanggang Jolo" jingle (the show, however, is beamed all over the world now). But sorry, they had to skip Jolo and don't we just all know why.
- The candidates chosen for this program were those about to enter high school this year because in the words of Jenny Ferre — "most of us probably do not even realize the fact that there are so many who cannot afford to even go to public high schools due to poverty."
- Under Eat, Bulaga!'s Excellent Student Awards, the show will provide the 30 students with a little seed money to get started with high school, regular school supplies and will basically see through their needs (Eat, Bulaga! will do a quarterly monitoring on them). Those selected will continue attending public schools because that is the better arrangement since most of those chosen don't live in areas where there are reputable private education institutions. "The last thing we want to do is disrupt the lives of these young people by taking them away from their respective families," explains Jenny.
- Those who will benefit from this program are those who finished the grades with honors — with a lot being valedictorians and salutatorians. The Eat, Bulaga! staff also made sure their parents are also determined to see them graduate at least through high school.
- What about college? "We'll take it one step at a time," says Jenny. "At this point, these kids are already very grateful that they are assured of making it through high school because some of them were not going to enroll anymore because their families can't afford to send them to pursue higher education."
- One kid, for instance, lives in a house with no electricity and has to read and study in the dark. Another girl never experienced owning her own pair of shoes and bags. On her graduation day from elementary — where she graduated valedictorian — her mother had to borrow a pair from their neighbor. Some have family members who have illnesses and a huge chunk of the household budget goes to medical expenses. And almost all of these 30 youngsters go to school every day hungry and without baon.

- Since last month, Eat, Bulaga! has been featuring their life stories and on May 23, they will all be gathered in the show's Saturday edition — a day that will surely change their lives. Finally, there's hope for them to have a brighter future.
- The May 23 event is just a pre-anniversary show. There will be a bigger one and they're not telling yet what will happen. My guess is that it will not be extravagant — in keeping with the times — but relevant.
- I salute Eat, Bulaga!. After 30 years of unequalled success, instead crowing about how it beat all sorts of competition, it chooses to celebrate by extending help to the public it entertained in the past three decades. Happy 30th Anniversary, Eat, Bulaga!

SILVER ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL

It was, even in the beginning touted to be the biggest spectacle Eat Bulaga has ever produced. The Silver Special took years in preparation, a pool of production talents, a lot of performers, a long list of special guests, big production numbers and as some staffers would probably say, "25 years in the making". It was no surprise then that millions of households tuned in for the Silver Special. For the hosts and staff of Eat Bulaga, it was already an achievement. Little did they know that the much talked about special would later make waves throughout Asia.

Eat Bulaga has been winning awards in the past but when the Asian Television Awards sent the letter affirming the show's nomination for Best Entertainment (One-Off/Annual) Special, the hosts and staff took it as a great honor. After all, it is not everyday that an international award-giving body cites a local show.

Apparently, an ever bigger surprise awaited them in Singapore when the awards was handed out last December 2005, capping off another significant year.

Eat Bulaga all the more became inspired to continue its legacy of producing quality show... something we can proudly consider "world class"

Salo-Salo Together!

Handa na ba kayong makisalo sa amin
Sa palaro at gimik kayo'y bubusugin
Sagad sa sorpresa walang patid ang tawa
Tuloy tuloy ang ligaya!

Nandito na kami ang buong barkada
Tawagin niyo na rin ang buong pamilya
Magsalu-salo tayo at magsama-sama
Kung kayo'y handa na tayo'y mag-umpisa na!

Chorus:
Salo-Salo Together... sa tawanan!
Salo-Salo Together... sa sayawan!
Salo-Salo Together... sa kantahan!
Kung kayo'y handa na... mag-Salo-Salo Together...

Kung kayo'y nagluluto o kumakain
Naglalaba pa ba o anuman ang gawain
Buksan ang pinto at inyong patuluyin
Buong Pilipinas....

(Repeat Chorus 2x)

Buong Pilipinas....
Salo-Salo Together!

However, the SST song had a little similarity with the Eat Bulaga theme because of the "Buong Pilipinas" lyric but it sounded catchy...

Tapos notice ko rin na from Lunch Date.... to SST... to Eat Bulaga... consistent na may word na "BARKADA" sa lyrics... when Eat Bulaga moved to GMA... naging "Sina Tito Vic at Joey, barkada'y dumarami" thanks to sharon cuneta guesting on "walang tulugan with the master showman" for german moreno's birthday, and suddenly reminiscing about her "GMA supershow" days with jackie lou and, of course, kuya germs, nalaman ko na at naalala yung lyrics sa unang part ng unang theme song ng "GMA supershow" (back in the '80s and early '90s):

there's a feeling every sunday you can't explain, you wonder why you'd rather be in front of the TV having lunch with the whole family... songs and dances, fun and laughter celebrities and superstars...

(at itong part na 'to, 'di na maalala nina sharon at jackie lou, o kahit ni kuya germs mismo...incidentally, this is the only part na naiintindihan ko sa theme song nila noong bata pa ako...:glee:) there's something special for one and for all on the GMA supershow...

"Eat Bulaga!" 1995-2003 Theme (GMA Years)

When "Eat Bulaga" transferred to GMA Network, it changed the second line of the second stanza and omitted the names of Aiza and Coney from the lyrics, in response to the growing cast of "Eat Bulaga".

Thus the familiar line now reverted back like this: "Barkada'y dumarami" (The gang is growing). The 1995 version of the theme remaked the 1979 theme, and it also omitted the word "Aparri" to "Batanes" from the line.

Mula Batanes hanggang Jolo
Saan ka man ay halina kayo
Isang libo't isang tuwa
Buong bansa... Eat Bulaga!

Sina Tito, Vic at Joey
Barkada'y dumarami
Silang lahat ay nagbibigay

"Eat Bulaga!" 1982-1989 Theme

The 1979 theme music package is the first to contain the 1979 theme song. The original theme was launched in 1979 and was co-written by Tito Sotto, Vic Sotto and Joey de Leon and arranged by Homer Flores, after Coney Reyes defected to Eat Bulaga from Student Canteen, which was preceded by the defection of Chiqui Hollman to Student Canteen. It goes:

Mula Aparri Hanggang Jolo
Saan ka man ay halina tayo
Isang libo't Isang tuwa
Buong bansa. .. Eat Bulaga!

Sina Tito, Vic at Joey
Kasama pati si Coney
Silang apat ay nagbibigay

Eat Bulaga's 30th Anniversary Poem of Joey de Leon:
(Aired on Eat Bulaga, 30 July 2009)

Sa araw na ito, lahat ay paingayin
Salamat daigdig sa mahabang pagtingin.

Pangyayaring ito'y mahirap malimutan
pagkat lahat kayo'y naging bahagi bayan,
lahat ng magkakampi't pati magkalaban,
ang Eat, Bulaga! naging kanila nang minsan.

Sinabi namin nun nagkatotoo yata —
na hanggang may mga bata'y may Eat, Bulaga!,
salamat sa tiwala at paniniwala
pagkat wala ring palabas kung kayo'y wala.

At salamat sa lahat ng mga sumali
sa mga palaro, natalo at nagwagi —
'di n'yo lang alam na marami ring sandali
kami'y inyong napangiti't pagod napawi.

At salamat sa lahat ng naging bisita, sa mga manggagawa at ka-opisina, salamat sa t'yaga't sipag na pinakita sa hirap at ginhawa kasakasama ka.

Sa lahat ng naging bahagi ng palabas,
sa harap o likod; sa loob man o labas,
pasalamat tayo't nanatili ang lakas
natin kahapon, ngayon at sana rin bukas.

'Di naman mabubuo ang tanging tagumpay
kung walang mga nagtaguyo't umalalay,
patalastas nila sa amin inilagay,
sana'y nakamit ninyo ang nais na ingay.

Sa mga nakasama lalo't namayapa,
salamat sa mga ngiti't pati na luha;

ala-alang matatamis dito sa lupa,
salamat kahit kami'y inyong inulila.

Alam naming pumapalampak kayo ngayon
sa piling ng ating dakilang Panginoon, pakiusap na rin sa kanya ay ibulong
na bigyan pa tayo ng mahabang panahon.

Sa lahat ng nakasabay nami'y salamat
sa pagtatapat natin sa tanghaling tapat,
sa inyong lahat — mga tatlumpo din lahat,
sa amin ay huwag mahiyang pumalakpak.

Salamat, salamat, maraming salamat po,
imbes taas-noo, kami po ay yuyuko
sa harap n'yong madla matapos unang yugto,
pagkat bukas uli ikalawang tatlumpo!

Totoo po 'yan at isang katotohanan, ikalawang tatlumpo ng tao'y sisimulan,
nawa ay kayong lahat pa rin ay nariyan;
sama-sama tayo hanggang maging hukluban.

The 2012-2013 PLDT-DPC Telephone Directory Cover 26th Visual Arts National Competition, with the theme: "Fitness.Fashion: Colors of Fitness and Lifestyle through Sport."

Lian Las Pinas created a doc.

DPC visual arts tilt draws hundreds of student artists

Showcasing winning artworks that become familiar to thousands of Filipinos through the Metro Manila telephone directory, the Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT) and Directories Philippines Corporation (DPC) launched the 26th PLDT-DPC Telephone Directory Cover 26th Visual Arts National Competition, the longest-running annual art contest in the country. The competition continues to help launch the careers of promising young artists, and is one of the few local contests aimed at promoting Filipino art appreciation and awareness.

Hundreds of students from more than 20 participating schools and representatives from DPC and PLDT gathered for the event held at the PICC.

National Artist Napoleon Abueva, designer of the winners' trophies and plaques for over two decades, also graced the event.

DPC's vice president for marketing Edna Villena expounded on the company's continuing commitment to the arts and the youth's talents.

"We look at it as a venue to showcase Filipino artistry," she said. "There are a lot of companies holding competitions for professional painters and artists, so we brought it to the students. This year's theme is special because the values represented in this competition are Filipino pride and openness to reach out to the global community. Join us and we'll showcase your talent to the world!"

Reaching millions of households nationwide, DPC promotes Filipino art by featuring the winning artwork on the cover of the 2012-2013 Metro Manila Telephone Directory. On top of that, the grand prize winner will be getting a P100,000 cash prize and an Abueva trophy.

The theme for this year's contest is "Fitness:Fashion - Sports and Fashionable Lifestyle of the Filipinos" and participating students are encouraged to create art that captures the essence of lifestyle as a bridge connecting Filipinos to modernity, quality of life and societal change.

DPC and PLDT enable such a phenomenon to take place, being two institutions that have been connecting Filipinos to the world for over 26 years now. Both have been facilitating communication for Filipinos-DPC through print Yellow Pages and its online version eyp.ph, and PLDT with its telecommunication services.

Lian Las Pinas created a doc.

The Three Musketeers of Philippine TV: Juan For All, All For Juan. Tsup, tsup!

Mula Batanes hanggang Jolo

Saan ka man ay halina kayo

Isang libo't isang tuwa

Buong bansa...Eat, Bulaga!

Sina Tito, Vic at Joey

Barkada'y dumarami

Silang lahat ay nagbibigay

Ligaya sa ating buhay

Buong bansa ay nagkakaisa

Sa tuwa't-saya na aming dala

Isang libo't-isang tuwa

Buong bansa...Eat, Bulaga!

Isang libo't-isang tuwa

Buong bansa...Eat, Bulaga!

Let's play a little Pinoy Henyo game. Our henyo word is "Eat, Bulaga!"

Reminder: Clue-giver may answer only with "Oo," "Hindi" or "Puwede." Otherwise, contestants will be slapped with a minus-3-seconds violation. Okay, contestants have two minutes to make hula. Go!

Contestant No. 1 (guesser): Local ba ito o foreign, longest-running variety show?

Contestant No. 2 (clue-giver): Oo!

Contestant No. 1: Ito ba'y pinapanood hindi lang sa Pilipinas kundi sa buong mundo?

Contestant No. 2: Oo!

Contestant No. 1: Ito ba ay ginagaya ng ibang shows pero hindi magaya-gaya?

Contestant No. 2: Puede!

Contestant No. 1: Ito ba'y Kapuso?

Contestant No. 1: Dito ba sa show na'to na-discover sina Jericho Rosales (Mr. Pogi search); Precious Lara Quigaman (TeeVee Babe search); at Aiza Seguerra, Rachelle Ann Go at Gladys Reyes (Little Miss Philippines), at marami pang ibang sikat ng artista ngayon?

Contestant No. 2: Oo!

Contestant No. 1: Tumagal na ba ang show na'to ng 32 years at isang dosenang katapat na show na ang pinataob?

Contestant No. 2: Oo!

Contestant No. 1: Ang host ba nito ay sina Tito, Vic at Joey?

Contestant No. 2: Tumpak, wala nang iba! (minus three seconds).

Contestant No. 1: Eat, Bulaga!

That portion of Eat, Bulaga! is a stroke of henyo (genius), now being also played during parties. Even Pres. Noynoy Aquino played it during a Christmas party with the press. Yes, he was able to guess the henyo word — Shalani Soledad (his "ex").

The show's opening song (quoted above), co-written by Sotto brothers Tito and Vic and Joey de Leon, arranged by Homer Flores, has become so familiar that every household in the Philippines (and, I'm sure, in Filipino communities abroad covered by Pinoy TV, GMA 7's international network) can sing it by heart, from the heart.

Among the show's other popular portions (also imitated by writers of other shows who have run dry of ideas, imitation after all is the highest form of flattery) is Juan For All, All For Juan (Bayanihan of d' Pípol) which showers blessings over a lucky viewer picked from hundreds of entries and personally visited at home by the Sugod-Bahay gang composed of Jose Manalo, Wally Bayola and Paolo Ballesteros.

A book titled Eat, Bulaga, Ang Unang Tatlong Dekada, written by STAR columnist and Startalk co-host Butch Francisco (with Joey de Leon's son Jako in-charge of the Design Concept), was launched Thursday night at a Kapuso-filled affair at Whitespace in Makati City. Conversations sat with the so-called Zany Trio for a nostalgic trip down Memory Lane.

Did you ever think that the show would last this long?

Tito: During our first year we didn't really imagine that it would last as long as it did. We never thought it would. Inisip lang namin siguro one year, two years. Sige subukan natin. 'Yon lang originally.

Vic: We started out parang wala, sige let's have fun. Eh, magbabarkada na kaming tatlo talaga. We were trying to come up with something new, something alternative, at wala kaming plinano na...uy, 10 years tayo ha; uy 20 years tayo ha. Basta, things just happened, tumagal nang tumagal 'yung show. Now, I feel like we are starting all over again. (It was Vic who popularized the greeting "Tsup, tsup!" among the show's followers. — RFL)

Joey: Ang katapat namin noon Student Canteen and we were just having fun, parang naglalaro lang kami. Our only dream then was to save enough money to buy a second-hand car, ay okey na. Vic was able to buy a car, kulay dilaw.

Vic: Actually, brand-new.

Joey: We started on Channel (RPN) 9, then we moved to Channel (IBC) 13, to Channel (ABS-CBN) 2 and finally to Channel (GMA) 7.

Ilang shows na ba ang nakatapat n'yo (and most of them you have beaten)?

Joey: Mga more or less 25 shows.

You are always way ahead of the competition. How do you do it?

Joey: Eh, siguro nagmamadali kami lagi. May lakad, eh.

Tito: Maraming factors, eh. One of them ay 'yung chemistry not only among us three but also including our producer (Tony Tuviera of TAPE, Inc.) and our co-hosts. Maganda at matibay ang samahan namin. But the most important thing is our dedication to the show. Alam mo bang kami lang ang television show na ganito katagal na walang kontrata? After the first year wala kaming kontrata. Talagang tama 'yung sabi ni Tony — pakikipagkaibigan lang, pagmamahalan, dedication; 'yon lang talaga, eh. Alam mo ang Eat, Bulaga!, it's actually a public-service show masquerading as a variety show. (Obviously referring to the show's "donate plastic bottles" campaign, with the bottles made into chairs that are donated to schools; and the Juan For All, All For Juan portion which benefits especially those in depressed areas. — RFL)

Vic: Another factor is loyalty.

Joey: And also, we laugh at our own jokes and we support each other. We support Tito in his election campaigns. Tapos, ang Eat, Bulaga! ay extension ng mga bedroom, living room at kitchen namin araw-araw.

A, pati bedroom?

Joey: Pati bedroom kasi natutulog kami together, eh. Hehehehe!

Parang naglalaro lang kayo?

During those 32 years, what were your trying times?

Vic: None. It's all fun for us; puro kasiyahan lang 'to. In good times and in bad times, we always maintain the fun. There were sad times, like when Rio (Diaz) and Kiko (Francis Magalona) died. Well, it's part of growing up. Up to now, we're still growing up.

Joey: You mentioned "competition" earlier. You know, when you have lasted this long, I don't want to call them competition, mga ano na lang...neighbors. Hindi na kami nai-intriga na ano, eh. I think it's because our fans have gotten married and have children, at nagka-apo na sila, but they are still there. Hindi ka nila basta iiwanan. Tapos nagkaroon pa ng remote control lahat kayo puwedeng panoorin. Babalik-balik. 'Yung neighbor mo maganda, tapos balik ka na sa bahay mo. 'Yung dating bahay na 'yon ay Eat, Bulaga! we would like to believe.

You are like brothers.

Joey: As Tito said, oftentimes he looks at Vic as a friend and he looks at me as a brother.

In your earlier years, I understand that you would spend more time in the Sotto home than in your own home.

Joey: Oo. They would let me sleep in their house pero hindi nila ako pinapakain.

Vic: Hahahahaha!

Oh, you mean you would bring your own baon?

Vic: No, we would eat out.

Joey: Pinapatulog nila ako d'un sa may mumo na kwarto. (Vic laughs again and Tito breaks into a smile)

Vic and Tito: Hindi niya alam may multo d'un, eh.

You started out as friends. How and when did your professional team-up begin?

Vic: Ewan ko. (Looking at Tito and Joey) Professional ba tayo?

Joey: We started in the show Okey Lang, kasama ang APO (Jim Paredes, Danny Javier and Buboy Garovillo) at kung sinu-sino. And then came Discorama, Iskul-Bukol and finally Eat, Bulaga!

Who came up with the name Eat, Bulaga!?

Joey: *Hmmmm...it was me. Actually, we had a contest who could give a title. I thought of Eat, Bulaga! in the kitchen of Tito's house. When I thought of it, I was with somebody whose name was Jess Espiritu. Alam mo, nakakakilabot ang pangalan niya — pinagsamang Jesus and Holy Spirit.*

Vic (Addressing Joey): I think you were guided by the spirit.

Joey: Oo, guided ako. Kasi...(Looking at Tito) bowler 'yan, eh, kaya guided talaga.

Vic: Tito has already branched out to politics but his home base remains TVJ. Hindi mawawala ang TVJ. Tito became a senator and even if he becomes vice president or president, nandoon pa rin ang TVJ. Babalik at babalikan niya ang TVJ.

(To Vic) Do you have plans of going into politics? You could be a sure winner.

Vic: No plans. Wala. Si Tito as public servant, taga-gawa ng batas; kami ni Joey, taga-amyenda ng batas. Kami 'yung labag sa batas. The truth is we have our own way of doing public service, lalo na sa mga dabarkads.

Joey: Entertaining people and giving fun is a public service in itself.

How do you react to other copycat shows such as...never mind?

Tito: We are not irritated, we are elated. There should be healthy competition. The market is so big that you shouldn't mind competition. Kung may ibang taong makakapag-entertain d'un sa mga hindi nanonood ng Eat, Bulaga?, di okey lang. Mabuti 'yon, di masama 'yon.

Vic: Nasabi na ni Tito ang gusto kong sabihin.

What won't we find in the Eat, Bulaga! book?

Vic: I don't know. I haven't read the whole book yet.

Tito: 'Yung menu ng kinakain namin pag tanghali wala d'un sa book.

Joey: When we were starting in Channel 9, the food wasn't free so each of us would spend our own money to buy food.

Vic: Mami siopao.

Joey: Mami siopao sa Channel 9? (Addressing Vic) Kelan ba tayo nalibre ng pagkain?

Vic: When we moved to Channel 2. May pakain na.

Joey: Tito, Vic and I have a secret. Alam mo ba na from Day 1 ng Eat, Bulaga! hindi kami nagpapa-makeup? Nagtatanggal lang kami ng langis sa mukha. Kaya wala kaming ka-plastic-plastic when we face the public. What they see is what they get.

One bad thing about this seemingly never-ending TV network war, it turn Pinoys against each other. Ratings does not always equate with quality kaya the basis for a good show should come from us. Kahit ratings ang sole lifeline ng mga TV shows, hindi siguro masama kung iaangat lang nila ang kalidad mga programs.

I applaud what the minor networks on giving Philippine TV a necessary shot to the arm. They air quality programming devoid of the stains from the network warpath, badly-needed alternatives for Filipinos to watch other than just ABS and GMA. Hopefully, pagdating ng tamang panahon, competition will no longer be a duopoly between the two giants.

siguro, another reason kung bakit na-reduce to a "duopoly" ang kompetisyon sa TV ngayon was that nawala rin ang kalidad ng production and programming ng dalawang government-sequestered networks: IBC and RPN. until the late '90s, they came out with really good shows, especially on primetime, that was worthy of competition...at kung na-privatize sila sana years ago, they could've sustained that, along with having had their facilities improved (which would, in turn, also help wi...See More

Bago pa lang pumasok ng showbiz, matunog na ang pangalan niya sa sports bilang swimmer. Unang napansin sa talk show na "Home Boy." Nalinya sa pagmomodelo at nabigyan din ng pagkakataong mapatunayan ang galing sa pag-arte sa "Katorse," "Magkaribal" at "Maria La del Barrio." Enchong Dee, live! Bandila, Pebrero 27, 2012, Lunes

Incidentally, the complete title of "Eat Bulaga's" theme song is "Mula Batanes Hanggang Jolo, Saan Ka Man Ay Halina Kayo — Isang Libo't Isang Tuwa, Buong Bansa... Eat Bulaga" — of course, joke lang. The EB theme song has no title.

On December 18, 2009, GMA signed a six-year contract extension to keep the show on their network until December 2015. After celebrating 30th anniversary, it was incidentally the 15th anniversary of Eat Bulaga's start in GMA the next year.

Smart Araneta Center Tree Lighting Yuletide Kick-off

The Christmas season is always a good reason to bring together talents from rival stations ABS-CBN and GMA-7.

At the Smart Araneta Center Giant Tree Lighting event last November 12, celebrities as well as beauty queens and other prominent local personalities graced the yuletide fair, which was officially opened to the public.

The Christmas fair featured booths selling goodies: hotdogs, ice cream, pizza, popcorn and even bibingka. The early Christmas festival was not complete without music and dancing onstage as celebrities performed before a sizeable crowd.

"Intimacy is what makes a marriage, not a ceremony, not a piece of paper from the state." — Kathleen Norris

Life is a journey made colorful with memories you create and special people you spend it with. For the ever joyful Olympia "Bootsie" Violago, celebrating her birthday has become more special every year. Bootsie felt truly blessed when she recently ushered in her 65th birthday, surrounded by a loving family, friends and well-wishers.

The celebrator's lively '60s-themed party at the Makati Shangri-La started with a thanksgiving Mass followed by a lavish feast of intercontinental cuisines perfectly paired with the finest selection of wines and champagnes. Family members, including Bootsie's adorable grandsons, surprised her with special performances. Not to be upstaged, the woman of the hour also showed off her vocal talent as she sang a rousing duet with "The Guitarman" RJ Jacinto.

But the highlight of the evening was when Bootsie's devoted husband Oscar "Oskie" Violago made a moving and heart-rending speech for his beloved wife of 40 years. "Bootsie, you are my shining star, my Joan of Arc, my Madonna and I wish you a happy, happy birthday and I promise you that I will always love you beyond eternity! Happy birthday, my darling Bootsie!" Oskie said. His statement stirred the hearts of so many guests that it left some of them teary-eyed.

Here's a toast to you, Bootsie! May you be blessed with more years of happiness!

Bawat minuto, oras at araw na naghahatid ng tuwa, saya at pag-asa. Nakatatak na sa puso at isipan ng bawat manonood. Magbago man ang panahon, ang "Eat Bulaga!", bahagi ng buhay ng bawat Pilipino.

Hanggang sa susunod na dekada ng "Kwentong Dabarkads", ako po si Dingdong Dantes, magandang gabi.

Incidentally, the complete title of Eat Bulaga's theme song is "Mula Batanes Hanggang Jolo, Saan Ka Man Ay Halina Kayo — Isang Libo't Isang Tuwa, Buong Bansa... Eat Bulaga" — of course, joke lang. The EB theme song has no title.

"Sina Tito, Vic at Joey, barkada'y dumarami! Silang lahat ay nagbibigay, ligaya sa ating buhay! Buong bansa ay nagkakaisa, sa tuwa't saya ng aming dala — Isang Libo't Isang Tuwa, Buong Bansa... Eat Bulaga! Isang Libo't Isang Tuwa, Buong Bansa... Eat Bulaga!"

The twins, born 10 minutes apart, were physically identical. Though brought up in the same way with the same environment by their parents, Joe and Ronnie grew up differently and were free to follow their individual pursuits.

In a party held recently at Makati Shangri-La, the Twins invited their relatives and numerous friends from the social, business and political sector. A video which showed the twins from toddlers to the present pictured how they lived their lives remarkably, each twin leaving a mark in their various fields of endeavour. Books on the biographies of each twin were launched. Joe's book, authored by Joe's eldest son Joey, is titled "Joecon's Journey: Our father and His Remarkable Legacy". The odyssey of Raul Concepcion was co-authored by Ronnie's loving wife Menchu and STAR's Joanne Rae Ramirez.

However, the SST song had a little similarity with the Eat Bulaga theme because of the "Buong Pilipinas" lyric but it sounded catchy...

Tapos notice ko rin na from Lunch Date.... to SST... to Eat Bulaga... consistent na may word na "BARKADA" sa lyrics... when Eat Bulaga moved to GMA... naging "Sina Tito Vic at Joey, barkada'y dumarami"

When "Eat Bulaga" transferred to GMA Network in 1995, it changed the second line of the second stanza and omitted the names of Aiza and Coney from the lyrics, in response to the growing cast of "Eat Bulaga". Thus the familiar line now reverted back like this: "Barkada'y dumarami" (The gang is growing). The 1995 version remakes the 1979-1982 theme, and it also omitted the word "Aparri" to "Batanes".

PANATA NG PAGKILOS

"Aming ligaya na pag may mangaapi, ang mamatay ng dahil sa iyo."

"Ligaya ng sambayanang Pilipino ang nakataya sa 2010 elections. Huwag magkakamali ang sino man na mang-api o apihin ang ligaya ng sambayanang Pilipino. Sapagkat ako, kami, tayong lahat ay mamatay ng dahil sa iyo Pilipinas, bayang magiliw, perlas ng silanganan.

"The Filipino is worth fighting for!
The Filipino is worth dying for!
Magkaisa para sa matagumpay na 2010 election. Bagong Presidente, Kongreso at 'local officials' ng bansa.
Labanan ang Con-Ass.
Labanan ang Cha-Cha.
Labanan ang Martial Law Part 2.
Labanan ang coup d'etat.
Tigil na ang rebolusyon ng Kaliwa.
Tigil na ang giyera sa Mindanao.
Labanan ang mandaraya.
Labanan ang 'guns, goons at gold.'

"Kahit sino ka man... Kahit saan ka man... Oras na.
Magsimula ka at kumilos bago mahulí ang lahat.
Mabuhay ang kalayaan! Mabuhay tayong lahat!"

My duty, as I see it, is to tell our people that we must not only dream of a good and just society. We must resolve to make this dream come true... Hopefully, with the end of these proceedings, the woman who is the hope and light of my life's dark night will be delivered from her anxiety and anguish. She has stood by me with an unshakable faith, unruffled and undeterred by the endless humiliation, the abandonment of friends, and the heavy burdens of having to be a teacher, father, mother and provider of my children. She has been the healing oasis in the desert of my prison.

"I wish I had more than one life to give, for even if I had a hundred lives, I would never be able to repay the love and affection bestowed upon me by our great people — to whom, when I was desperate, I confided my despair, and with whom, when I was hopeful, I shared my hopes.

"I end with the brave and noble refrain of our National Anthem:
Aming ligaya na pag may mang-aapi
Ang mamatay ng dahil sa iyo..."

The producer's cut of the much-talked about "Eat Bulaga! Silver Special" produced by TAPE, Inc. and staged last Nov. 19 at the Clark Expo Philippines in Pampanga will be seen today at 9:30 p.m. over Channel 7.

Yesterday, the first part of the musical special the fantastic and glossy opening numbers that featured thousands of performers complete with memorable video clips of the past episodes and fabulous costumes and sets.

Not to be missed tonight is the producer's cut of the special that will feature interviews of the major hosts "Eat Bulaga," its producers and the people behind the success of the noontime show.

The second installment of the 25th celebration will also display some of the grand production extravaganza that was shown at Clark Expo.

Some of the country's top performers that became part of "Eat Bulaga's" historic event were Regine Velasquez, Pops Fernandez, Andrew E., Giselle Tongi, Diana Zubiri, Streetboys, Danilo Barrios, Jessa Zaragosa, Donna Cruz, Helen Gamboa, Coney Reyes, Sunshine Cruz, Kyla, Juliana Palermo, Regine Tolentino, Gracia, Pia Guanio, Allan K., Jose, Wally, Teri Onor, January Isaac, Maricar de Mesa and more.

Of course, that wacky trio of Tito Vic and Joey leads the pack in entertaining the estimated 50,000 crowd that trooped to the venue on its silver anniversary night.

The trio, for sentimental reasons, shed tears of joy as they celebrate the program that has been part of their lives since July 1979.

Expect more surprises, laughter and non-stop entertainment as the "Eat Bulaga! Silver Special" marks another part of its 25th year in the history of Philippine television tonight.

It's an episode not to be missed since the secrets of the show's success will be finally revealed to its loyal viewers.

"Eat Bulaga" will bring cheers to noontime viewers still via GMA-7.

TAPE Inc. President Tony Tuviera and Executive Vice President Malou Choa-Fagar, two of the big bosses of the show, recently renewed their contract with GMA-7, which was represented by Chairman and CEO Felipe L. Gozon, President and COO Gilberto R. Duavit, Jr. and Senior Vice President for Finance Felipe S. Yalong.

In a report by "24 Oras" on March 15, Atty. Gozon expressed amazement at the longevity the noontime show enjoys. "Ang 'Eat Bulaga' ay hindi lang isang institusyon. Bihira ang variety show na tumatagal ng alam kong ganyan kaya't tayo'y talagang nagagalak na they chose to stay with us."

He added, "Alam kong maraming may gusto diyan. Parang magandang babae 'yan, eh."

Mr. Duavit said there exists respect between the network and the show, which is why "nakapagtaba siyempre ng puso lalo na well... ang tibay ng samahan, 'yung respeto sa isa't isa, ang kahalagahan sa isa't isa. Mahirap isipin na ang Kapuso na hindi kasama ang Kapusong Bulaga."

Tuviera likened the renewal of contract to "renewal lang ito ng marriage vows."

"Parang mag-asawa na magko-continue na magbigay ng tuwa't saya sa lahat. Lingid po sa kaalaman ninyo, talagang kami'y nananalangin na sana, eh, bigyan pa kami ng GMA na mahaba pang buhay sa telebisyon," Tuviera explained.

"Eat Bulaga" hosts Vic Sotto, Joey de Leon and Tito Sotto gave a few words for their followers.

"Simpleng salamat at makakaasa sila na ang lahat ng binibigay nilang suporta sa amin, eh, ibinibigay din namin in return sa kanila," Vic said.

As if in a conversation with their followers, Joey said, "You're welcome---dahil palagay ko ay nagpapasalamat sila na hinahabaan pa namin ang pagdudulot ng saya sa kanila. So, 'You're welcome.'"

Tito hinted that they will delve even more into helping those who need it. "Naramdaman naman nila ang public service component ng 'Eat Bulaga.' Palalakasin pa namin 'yon," he said.

Also present during the contract signing were "Eat Bulaga" co-hosts Ruby Rodriguez, Allan K, Anjo Yllana and Jimmy Santos.

Eat Bulaga" is the longest noontime running show! It has made a round practically on all local TV stations, winding up with GMA-7.

The noontime show has discovered and built stars and celebrities — some of them from their early childhood. There were also heartaches - as a result of the illusion of love!

"Eat Bulaga," in celebration of its 25th anniversary, is offering a total of P25 million cash prizes, spread out perhaps into several editions of the show, to be won by participants in its game show segments.

No other TV show has offered that amount for a prize! And one can just imagine the number of people trooping to Eat Bulaga to participate and take a chance in grabbing a part of the P25 million cash prize.

The taping of the Eat Bulaga Silver Special at the Clark Expo Amphitheater last Friday evening took more than four hours, and watched for free by more than five thousand guests who stayed even after the fireworks were over.

The show was impressive — of epic proportions!

Tito, Vic Sotto and Joey de Leon arrived into the stage via a spacecraft! How it was done, I leave it to you to find out when the special airs next week.

When they came out from the spacecraft, facing the audience, it was a tearful moment, Vic shedding tears over the shoulder of Joey de Leon as they embraced. Imagine the 25 years that they have been together. Later, Tito also embraced Vic and Joey!

The dance and song numbers that followed were fantastic. It's like getting more than what you need!

It was the segment of Aiza Seguerra that stood out from the rest. It was nostalgic! As a "tsikiting," she was discovered by Eat Bulaga through a competition, and later became a child co-host of the show!

The Eat Bulaga Silver Special also paid tribute through songs and dances to several celebrities who earlier appeared in the show and who are in their respective successful careers in showbiz!

But when the past co-hosts were called into the stage, some in the know held their breath when Coney Reyes was seen coming out. She was met by the cameramen as she walked towards where Tito, Vic and Joey de Leon were standing. It seem that time stood still. There was that fleeting glance or meeting of the eyes between Vic and Coney, and the hesitance of both to come closer or even hug each other was discernible.

An entertainment writer said that the particular scene was an intense drama! We earnestly hope they will not edit that out from the final copy of the show!

Don't miss the "Eat Bulaga Silver Special," which will be aired on Nov. 27, Saturday. It is an impressive—an epic—show that can only come to your life once!

Davao City is one of the favorite destinations of local celebrities. Hotel owners Gene and Ronald Bangayan of the Venue maintain close ties with showbiz producers. They frequently produce shows and bring Manila talents to Davao. It would not be a surprise to see a number of stars checking in at Linmarr Suites.

Linmarr Suites and Appartele is known for the serenity and calmness it provides. For busy folks like our local stars, Linmarr has always been the popular choice for accommodations in the Philippines' largest city. "Linmarr is a very cozy and homey place. It takes my mind off all the stress in Manila." praises Pops Fernandez. Pops is just one of the many stars who have soaked themselves in the peacefulness of Linmarr. Other celebrities who can attest to that are Piolo Pascual, Jolina Magdangal, Side-A Band, Southborder, Ai-Ai dela Alas, Ara Mina, Maui Taylor and Freestyle.

Inclusive of adult and kiddie pools, a business center, a mini park, entertainment areas and various food selections, Linmarr's 98,205 square meter area is a paradise on its own.

'Eat Bulaga!' turns 25 - offers P25 million cash prizes!

"Eat... Bulaga!" is the longest noontime running show! It has made a round practically on all local TV stations, winding up with GMA-7.

The noontime show has discovered and built stars and celebrities — some of them from their early childhood. There were also heartaches - as a result of the illusion of love!

"Eat... Bulaga!" in celebration of its 25th anniversary, is offering a total of R25 million cash prizes, spread out perhaps into several editions of the show, to be won by participants in its game show segments.

No other TV show has offered that amount for a prize! And one can just imagine the number of people trooping to Eat Bulaga to participate and take a chance in grabbing a part of the R25 million cash prize.

The taping of the Eat... Bulaga! Silver Special at the Clark Pinoy Expo theater last Friday evening took more than four hours, and watched for free by more than five thousand guests who stayed even after the fireworks were over.

The show was impressive — of epic proportions!

Tito Sotto, Vic Sotto and Joey de Leon arrived into the stage via a spacecraft! How it was done, I leave it to you to find out when the special airs next week.

When they came out from the spacecraft, facing the audience, it was a tearful moment, Vic shedding tears over the shoulder of Joey de Leon as they embraced. Imagine the 25 years that they have been together. Later, Tito also embraced Vic and Joey!

The dance and song numbers that followed were fantastic. It's like getting more than what you need!

It was the segment of Aiza Seguerra that stood out from the rest. It was nostalgic! As a "tsikiting," she was discovered by Eat... Bulaga! through a competition, and later became a child co-host of the show!

The Eat... Bulaga! Silver Special also paid tribute through songs and dances to several celebrities who earlier appeared in the show and who are in their respective successful careers in showbiz!

But when the past co-hosts were called into the stage, some in the know held their breath when Coney Reyes was seen coming out. She was met by the cameramen as she walked towards where Tito, Vic and Joey de Leon were standing. It seem that time stood still. There was that fleeting glance or meeting of the eyes between Vic and Coney, and the hesitance of both to come closer or even hug each other was discernible.

An entertainment writer said that the particular scene was an intense drama! We earnestly hope they will not edit that out from the final copy of the show!

Don't miss the "Eat... Bulaga! Silver Special," which will be aired on Nov. 27, Saturday. It is an impressive—an epic—show that can only come to your life once!

On December 2004, the contract to air the show on GMA Network was extended until December 29, 2009.

Over the years, there has been talk that "Eat Bulaga" will transfer back to ABS-CBN or move to Associated Broadcasting Company (ABC) every time their blocktime contract with GMA Network expired (2002 and 2004) but in the previous interviews, GMA executives led by Atty. Felipe Gozon and Jimmy Duavit have expressed their desire to keep the show for as long as they can. Main host Joey de Leon on the other hand, is also considered as an important factor to "Bulaga"'s stay in GMA since he has been fiercely loyal to the station and his efforts have been rewarded. He is considered as a key asset to the Kapuso Network.

Coca-Cola Big Youth Blowout!

Got this invite from Coca-Cola the other day. The Big Youth Blowout? By Coca-Cola and Bench? This has got to be huge!

Most definitely, I will be there with my nephews and nieces who happen to be the biggest fans of Enchong Dee and Joseph Marco. Yes, they will both be there, Kathryn Bernardo and Julia Montes aka Mara Clara, too! I'm sure it'll be one hundred times more exciting and fun than the tandem's past events... after all it's in celebration of Coca-Cola's 100 happy years!

100 Years Young

Yup, a whole century in the Philippines and still Coca Cola is forever young! That is how it felt this weekend when the new tie-up with Bench and Coke, and of course Brand Ambassadors Joseph Marco, Kathryn Bernardo, Julia Montes, and Enchong Dee got off to a rocking start at the Trinoma Mall Activity Center.

The succeeding weeks became very stressful for Zyrene. For the investors' night, she had to practice singing Lupang Hinirang many times over because that was the first time she was rendering it before a huge crowd. At St. Paul Parañaque where she spent the grades and high school, she only got to sing the national anthem with the rest of her classmates. She therefore had to study its melody and lyrics prior to the investors' night — without a clue that she would become destined for bigger things (she'd be viewed by millions in Dallas, Texas).

As part of her preparation, she went to the office of the NHI where she was given a CD and a book on how to sing the national anthem — the proper way.

Basically a march, Zyrene has to master the cadence on how the national anthem should be sung — in 55 seconds (that's how fast it should be).

The NHI also suggested that it would be best for her to hold the microphone on her left hand — with the right hand on her chest. She was also taught how to hold the flag correctly, which actually does not concern her anymore, but she took all that in and appreciates the help extended by the NHI people to her.

Of course, Zyrene is aware that there is already a bill that had been filed to make sure the Philippine national anthem is not bastardized anymore and those who are unable to comply with it face a possible one to two years imprisonment and pay a P100,000 fine. The very thought of jail time is enough to make her shudder. But no way is she running away from the challenge. She will leave on Oct. 29 for the US and will pack with her a Pepsi Herrera Filipiniana dress in red with Swarovsky crystals.

The past several weeks had seen her starting her day singing the national anthem as soon as she gets out of bed. She sings it in the bathroom (I hope there's no law against that) or at any chance she gets, especially while trapped in Metro Manila's traffic. Before retiring at night, she sings it one last time to end her day — making sure that she isn't lacking in practice.

Pasted on the walls of their Las Piñas home are sheets of paper that contain the lyrics of Lupang Hinirang — and those are positioned all over the house — to make sure she doesn't forget any word or stanza of the Julian Felipe work. Last Thursday, she also sought out Ryan Cayabyab, who had generously volunteered to train her on the correct way of rendering the national anthem.

Style statement: Sporty

Fashion becomes less a spectator sport when sport itself becomes the fashion.

Last Thursday, Inquirer Lifestyle staged the rousing, filled-to-the-bleachers (despite the heavy rains and flooding) curtain-raiser to its Lifestyle Series of events with "Fitness.Fashion," a catwalk team-up between some of the country's top designers and best-selling activewear brands, at the Rigodon Ballroom of the Peninsula Manila in Makati City.

Co-presented with Samsung, it drew guests who cut across the fields of fashion, business and commerce, arts, media and entertainment. With the support of HSBC and Peninsula, the show had 12 sought-after designers melding their creations with the latest brand collections: Kipling with Vic Barba; Fila with Lulu Tan-Gan; Nike Golf with Anthony Nocom; Speedo with Louis Claparols; Adidas with Patrice Ramos-Diaz and Rhett Eala; Marks & Spencer with Arcy Gayatin; Aigle and Oxbow with Rajo Laurel; Bench with Joey Samson; and Puma with Ivarluski Aseron and Randy Ortiz. (Read the fashion report in this Friday's Lifestyle Fashion and Beauty.)

"Fitness.Fashion" also scored a coup with the runway debut of fitness enthusiast and sports advocate Sen. Pia Cayetano. Other guest models were Akiko Thompson, Amanda Carpo, Rina Go, Paolo Abrera, Phoemela Baranda, Svetlana Osmeña, Jeena Lopez, Enchong Dee, Ruby Gan, Fely Atienza, Trishan Cuazo, catwalk queens Tweetie de Leon-Gonzalez and Apples Aberin-Sadhwani, and Inquirer's own Tessa Prieto-Valdes and Leica Carpo.

The show was supported by L'Oreal Phils. and Swatch.

In many ways, Enchong Dee is like any young person. A fro-yo a day keeps him happy. He still likes to watch movies on the first day that they are released, or at least on the first week of release. A trip to Disneyland turns him into a kid again. And yet, in many ways, he is unlike most young people. On his first trip to the States, yes, he did make that obligatory trip to the popular amusement parks, but he also made sure to see a touring exhibit of the treasures of King Tut as he has a deep curiosity about Ancient Egypt. No matter how jam-packed his schedule may be or how exhausted he is from tapings, shoots, and rehearsals, he makes sure to go to Sunday Mass. And for four grueling years, he would wake up at 5 a.m. to make it to a 6 a.m. training session for swimming, then start classes at 8 a.m., and then from Taft Avenue, trek to ABS-CBN or sometimes, to out-of-town locations for his television shows.

Those early mornings and endless nights have not been for naught. He was a consistent dean's lister at De La Salle University. He has back-to-back Most Valuable Player in Swimming awards from the UAAP, as he won seven gold medals for his alma mater. He was a silver medalist in the SEA Games in 2005, and was part of the National Swimming Team that competed in the 2006 Asian Games in Doha, Qatar and the 2007 SEA Games in Nakhon Ratchasima, Thailand. As for his showbiz career, he has gone from strength to strength. He headlined the afternoon show Boystown, and the primetime top-rater Katorse. He will soon star in Magkaribal, with Gretchen Barretto and Bea Alonzo, and in Sa 'Yo Lamang, a Star Cinema project with acting heavyweights Christopher de Leon and Lorna Tolentino. And he is only 20 years old!

SUNDAY GOLDEN SPECIALS ON DVD

"KAPAMILYA: ABS-CBN at 50" (2003)

Aired on October 26, 2003 (Part 1) & November 2, 2003(Part 2)

- Curtain Raiser 'Yan ang Kapamilya - For 50 years, ABS-CBN has upheld its motto of being in the service of the Filipino. And, in turn, every Filipino household has welcomed ABS-CBN into their homes every day. Kapamilya, ABS-CBN at 50 begins with a fitting tribute to the family. It opens with an original song by Musical Director Ryan Cayabyab entitled 'Yan ang Kapamilya, a warm greeting from one family to another from ABS-CBN to every Filipino family, as interpreted by actress and comedienne Ai-Ai delas Alas.
- 50 ABS-CBN Theme Songs - The music of our lives is not only the tunes we hear on radio. We remember the music streaming through our living rooms, coming from the television set tuned in to our favorite program. With an ambitious cast of stars from the past to the present, we look back at the melodies that have shaped 50 years of television for ABS-CBN.
- Dance Fusion - Music flows through the veins of every Filipino. It is a powerful gift that we express through song and dance. We revel in this gift with a dance fusion number performed by one of the entertainment industry's triple treat performers, Ms. Vina Morales together with the country's leading dance troupes of Philippine Ballet Theater, the Hotlegs, the Streetboys, and the Maneouvers.
- OPM Medley - ABS-CBN has long been at the forefront of developing Filipino music. The company has been committed to developing performers and Original Pilipino Music via its songwriting contests. As a testament to this unwavering principle, music icons Gary Valenciano, Kuh Ledesma and Basil Valdez with popular diva Bituin Escalante perform some of the most haunting OPM hits.
- Vintage Classics - Feelings of nostalgia and happiness embrace everyone with a fondness for days past. As ABS-CBN celebrates its 50 years in the business, we look back not only in the business, we look back not only on the past years of television, but also at the classic tunes that fill us with joy to this day. The stage is set for the truly classic musical stylings of Eddie Mercado, Ariel Ureta, Richard Merck, Mon David, Ding Mercado, Eugene Villaluz and Verni Varga as they take us on a sentimental journey with the songs of Ol' Blue Eyes Frank Sinatra.
- Acoustic Idols - With the dawning of the age of acoustics, music aficionados are turning to the purity and richness of unsynthesized sound. Keeping in step with this fast-sweeping movement, ABS-CBN raises the curtains on Cesar Montano, Sunshine Cruz, Aga Muhlach and Judy Ann Santos, as they perform their acoustic renditions of the Beatles' immortal hits. Sharing the stage with them are today's acoustic idols Nina and Nyoy Volante.
- Showgirls Showdown - "Dynamic" and "sexy" are two words that describe the roster of ABS-CBN screen sirens. A dazzling performance of classic tunes intertwined with trance rhythms and flying sequences are brought to the stage by dance divas Angela Velez, Michelle Bayle, Michelle Estevez, Jenny Miller, Apreal Tolentino, Miriam Chiu and Chrry Lou.

- ABS-CBN Comedy Shows - This 50th Anniversary gala would never be complete without a retrospective view on Filipino comedy. To bring the gift of laughter to centerstage, ABS-CBN performed a casting coup as the King of Comedy, Dolphy meets with the Kings of Noontime Show, Tito, Vic and Joey in a very rare opportunity guaranteed to leave the audience in stitches.
- ABS-CBN, The Starmaker - Through the years, ABS-CBN has evolved splendidly into a staunch media company committed to the development of Filipino talent. The company recognizes that its greatest asset is its people, most especially its promising youth. ABS-CBN's newest star Piolo Pascual serenades the audience with the fully orchestrated arrangement of the romantic Tagalog ballad Kailangan Kita. The brightest Talent Center stars, on the other hand, take the spotlight in a rockin' tribute medley highlighting glitz and glamour in an enticing and bedazzling fashion show.
- Pinoy Goes Global - Lea Salonga opened doors for many talented Filipino performers in the international entertainment scene. Today, Filipino thespians are making names for themselves winning worldwide acclaim. In tribute to the art of stage performance and the contribution of the Filipino to that art, top caliber theater stars breathe life into the most well-loved Broadway tunes of recent years.
- When you Believe - Any goal can be attained when there is a commitment to achieving it. This is a lesson ABS-CBN has learned and learned well. The company renews its commitment to the service of the Filipino with its rendition of When You Believe, to be sung by the Divine Diva, Ms. Zsa-Zsa Padilla.
- Finale - Keeping a steady gaze toward the future and working tirelessly toward a better one are the primary goals of the company. While the past 50 years were certainly worth celebrating, there is a little urge to rest on our laurels. The persistence for vision and innovation will fuel efforts toward an even more fruitful future for the company and for the society it seeks to serve. Megastar Sharon Cuneta leads the ABS-CBN family in an original anthem that calls all to action in attaining that single aim.

Eat... Bulaga! launched its very first Coffee Table Book on October 6, entitled, "Eat... Bulaga!: Unang Tatlong Dekada."

In a span of 33 years, Eat... Bulaga! became a household name and just getting stronger and better with its latest segments, Pinoy Henyo and Juan for All, All for Juan.

Besides Eat... Bulaga!'s present and past hosts, present on the book launching are the people behind Eat... Bulaga! headed by Antonio P. Tuviera, Pres. and CEO of Tape Inc and APT Entertainment; and Malou Ochoa-Fagar, Executive Vice President, TAPE Inc.

UPDATE: For those who wanted to avail of Eat Bulaga's Coffee Table book, you can call (02) 426-6423 as announced by Joey de Leon on Eat... Bulaga!

Lian Las Pinas

Two star-studded events recently ushered a festive mood for showbiz personalities and public figures – the launch of the “Eat... Bulaga!” coffee table book, “Ang Unang Tatlong Dekada,” and the Esquire magazine launch.

In a report by Pia Guanio on “24 Oras,” she mentioned some “Eat... Bulaga!” personalities who graced the event like former TV host Chiqui Hollman-Yulo, as well as Aiza Seguerra and Ryan Agoncillo, whom she said talked about the show being an “innovator” in the industry.

“Dito sa book na ito makikita n’yo ang napakaraming memories ng ‘Eat... Bulaga!’ ang ilan never before seen; and alongside the book, namimigay din ang ‘Eat... Bulaga!’ ng limited edition CD—na 3,000 copies lang ang ginawa—of the 2004 25th silver anniversary show kung saan nabuo ang idea para sa coffetable book na ito,” Pia said in her report.

Pia also noticed that “medyo nagiging emotional si Joey de Leon.”

Malou Choa-Fagar, TAPE, Inc., COO and vice president, revealed how they’re able to make the show appealing to the public all these years.

“(We) try to outdo and outmatch whatever we have done before,” she said.

“Eat... Bulaga!” hosts Tito Sotto, Joey de Leon and Vic Soto were asked what still drives them to work everyday.

“Yung mga tao,” Vic quipped. “Yung mga dabarkads na kasama namin for the past 30 some years, 33 years. Yung mga bata noon adult na ngayon. So yung mga nagkaanak ngayon nanonood sila ng ‘Eat... Bulaga!’

“So yung mga manonood, yung mga tao, taong bayan, dabarkads, yun ang talagang bumubuhay sa ‘Eat... Bulaga!’,” he added.

Joey interjected, “people like you” pertaining to Pia.

Tito said that they’re driven by the support they get from the viewers.

“Ang drive siguro naming tatlo na makikita natin, yung inspirasyon natin sila, eh, at yung dabarkads. Sabi ko nga, kaya ko nabanggit yung evolution, sapagka’t nabanggit ko na’t dati, eh. ‘Eat Bulaga’ has become a public service program masquerading as an entertainment show.”

Atty. Felipe Gozon, Chairman and CEO of GMA Network Inc., said that as a noontime show, “walang kaparis ang ‘Eat... Bulaga!’ Congrats to all the people behind ‘Eat Bulaga!’”

He said his favorite segment is “Juan for All, All for Juan.”

“Maganda, nagagandahan ako doon. There is something more than just helping,” he said.

Gilberto R. Duavit, Jr., President and COO of GMA Network Inc., said they’re “very proud to be part of the ‘Bulaga’ family also.”

As to how they will continue to support the show, he noted, "Kanina lamang ay nag-blood compact kami muli ni Kuya Toni, ni Mr. Tuviera, so kung 'yan ang pagbabasehan ay habang-buhay. Mga at least tatlong dekada pa."

Antonio P. Tuviera, President and CEO of TAPE, Inc. and APT Entertainment, feels "so blessed that's why we're really trying to give it back to our audience na all these years [ay nandiyan], pati doon sa advertisers na sumuporta."

PANALANGIN SA IKATLO NG HAPON

Pumanaw ka, Hesus subalit ang bukal ng buhay ay bumalong para sa mga kaluluwa at karagatan ng awa ay bumugso para sa sanlibutan.

O bukal ng buhay, Walang Hanggang Awa ng Diyos, yakapin mo ang sangkatauhan at ibuhos mong ganap ang iyong sarili para sa aming lahat.

O banal na Dugo at Tubig na dumaloy mula sa Puso ni Hesus bilang Bukal ng Awa para sa aming lahat, ako ay nananalig sa iyo.

Banal na Diyos, Banal na puspos ng kapangyarihan, Banal na walang Hanggan, maawa po kayo sa amin at sa buong sansinukob. (3x) Amen.

O Hesus, Hari ng Awa, Kami ay nananalig sa Iyo.

The Angelus

English Version:

The Angel of the Lord declared to Mary: And she conceived of the Holy Spirit.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you; blessed are among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

Behold the handmaid of the Lord: Be it done unto me according to your word.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you; blessed are among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

And the Word was made Flesh: And dwelt among us.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you; blessed are among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

Pray for us, O Holy Mary, Mother of God, that we may be made worthy of the promises of Christ.

Let us pray:

Pour forth, we beseech you, O Lord, your grace into our hearts; that we, to whom the incarnation of Christ, your Son, was made known by the message of an angel, may by His Passion and Cross be brought to the glory of His Resurrection, through the same Christ Our Lord. Amen.

In their swimsuits, the 30 official candidates of the 2012 Bb. Pilipinas beauty pageant competed for the semi-finals in Pasay City recently. Later, they traded their bikinis to Philippine ternos.

Pageant observers believe that the swimsuit competition is one of the important categories of the beauty contest. Many of those who won the swimsuit competition went on to win some of the major titles during coronation night.

Among the past winners of the Best in Swimsuit Competition include Krista Kleiner who later won 2010 Bb. Pilipinas-International; Pamela Bianca Manalo, 2009 Bb. Pilipinas-Universe; Lia Andrea Ramos, 2006 Bb. Pilipinas-Universe.

The media also voted for Miss Photogenic. Winners of both special awards and those who will make the cut will be announced during the grand coronation night at the Smart Araneta Coliseum in Cubao, Quezon City on April 15, 2012.

This year's candidates are Karen Gallman, Romelin Roxanne de Castro, Nicole Marable, Jaine Hidalgo, Rose Ann Aguilar, Maria Alicia Ariosa, Patricia Lae Ejercitado, Nicole Schmitz, Mary Jean Lastimosa, Jilleen Camille Orbina, Marie Virginia Peter, Ayelee Marie Dasalla, Katrina Jayne Dimaranan, Gina Joy Howell, Elaine Moll, Liezl Alcantara, Anna Czarina Buenviaje, Janine Mari Tugonon, Roxanne Joy Jesalva, Roxanne Tadique, Giselle Munoz, Meiji Cruz, Goldy Baroa, Fer Mary Baliquig, Chloe Zanardi, Angelee Claudett delos Reyes, Golda Soller, Marie Irisha Arcenas, Annalie Forbes, and Sherlyn Gonzales.

This developed as the Miss Universe Organization has confirmed that the Miss Universe beauty pageant will be held in December.

This was also confirmed by the Bb. Pilipinas Charities Inc. (BPCI) which selects the country's representative to the most prestigious beauty contest. They said that they have received information from the Miss Universe Organization headed by billionaire Donald Trump. No other details were given.

"It's confirmed... it will be in September," Tessa Mangahas, Public Relations and Corporate Communications Manager, Araneta Group, said. The beauty contest is usually held in the summertime in different countries.

News reports said that the staging of the beauty contest in September would pave the way for NBC to focus on London Olympics and the US Presidential Campaign and Elections. The NBC is the official network of the Miss Universe pageant.

The changes in schedule would also make the reigning Miss Universe Leila Lopes of Angola the longest reigning title holder, giving her nearly three more months to reign.

The Philippines has produced two Miss Universe – Gloria Diaz (1969) and Margarita Moran (1973) – in the 61-year history of the pageant. Last year, Shamcey Supsup placed third runner-up in the same pageant. In 2010, Ma. Venus Raj won fourth runner-up.

'Eat... Bulaga!' picks Cebu for first-ever regional game show

The country's longest-running noontime show Eat... Bulaga! offers a special lunch treat to Cebuano televiewers via the 30-minute radio and television program dubbed as "Eat Na Ta."

According to Malou Choa-Fagar, SVP and COO of Television and Production Exponents, Inc. (TAPE, Inc.), the producer of Eat... Bulaga!, "Eat Na Ta" is exclusive in the Visayas region with major media concentration in Cebu. This latest offering is part of efforts to strengthen the mother program and its home network's presence in Cebu. "We want to step up on our performance in the ratings. We have to admit that we are lagging behind the competition here in Cebu," revealed Choa-Fagar in a presscon at Golden Cowrie in Salinas Drive last Monday.

The radio component of "Eat Na Ta," which premiered last November 12, airs 11:30 am from Monday to Friday, while the pilot episode of its TV component has yet to see live broadcast this Saturday, November 24, still from 11:30 am to 12 noon over GMA 7 Cebu.

It was revealed that they have long wanted to expand "Eat... Bulaga!" in Cebu, initially conceptualizing a one-time show, but the idea has now evolved into a long-term project. Even if the program may come across to viewers like a spin-off of Eat Bulaga, the program is still very Cebuano, Choa-Fagar stressed, from its hosts to the EB jingle now in Cebuano.

"Eat Na Ta" will be "loaded with prizes and surprises" including a shot at Eat... Bulaga!'s widely popular game segments.

Game segments include Itaktak Gyud, wherein in the radio game Cebuanos can join via telephone by answering Taktak Mo o Tatakbo-styled questions. Winners will automatically win P300, and will have the chance to play for Itaktak Yud on Eat Na Ta-TV, which will be staged in various barangays of Cebu. In the TV game, the contestants can win up to P20,000 cash or get the chance to play in Eat... Bulaga! for that chance to spin the Taktak Mo or Tatakbo roleta for the P1M jackpot.

Ang Akong Pangandoy takes after Eat... Bulaga!'s "Send In Your Dreams." Cebuanos may send letters sharing their "dreams" via this segment, which will be narrated through a "radionovela." The "fulfillment" of the dreams will be then be aired on the TV program.

"Kwarta Na Ni" will give away cash prizes through texting. There will be an early morning texting edition from 6am to 10 am and the texting promo will continue from 11:30 to 12nn. Four winners of P300 will be announced daily.

"Eat Na Ta sa Radyo" is hosted by GMA Cebu talents "Talk to Papa" deejay-host Papa Joe, entertainment news host and drama talent Chooptah plus Undoy Z (otherwise known as Cerj Michael in the stand up comedy circuit). Undoy Z will spot both listeners and viewers of Eat Na Ta all over Cebu. For the radio, winners will be given P300 and a chance to greet on air, while for TV, Undoy Z will conduct an instant card game called "Itaas...lubos! Imong Bulsa Mabdos!" for viewers who will be spotted watching Eat Na Ta every Saturday.

"Eat Na Ta sa TV" will still feature Papa Joe, Undoy Z plus Cutie del Mar, one of Cebu's loveliest faces who has made a name for herself in the hosting arena of the media industry as news anchor and TV host.

Somewhere Between Michael Phelps and Maxim Magazine

Closer to earth, ABS-CBN personality Enchong Dee is a superb swimmer too. His 21 gold-medal haul at the UAAP swimming championships for De La Salle University the past three years, although not impossible to match, is quite amazing too.

These two swimmers are not our benchmarks.

Whenever I read Maxim magazine, I notice that most featured personalities list swimming as their favorite sport. Then I wonder, do they do butterfly sets for technique and speed, or do they just swim for distance? I recall how people whom I see lounging poolside, cocktails with small umbrellas in hand, consider sun-tanning as swimming. They shouldn't be our inspiration too.

For majority of the populace, swimming is somewhere between Michael Phelps and Maxim. Long considered one of the best forms of exercise, swimming provides a total body workout. First, all the major muscle groups are used, top down. Next, cardiovascular endurance is optimized. And third, due to its low impact and the protective cocoon of water, swimming hardly causes injuries. All you need is a safe and accessible body of water, and off you go.

The Philippines should be a world swimming power like the United States and Australia since our nation is an archipelago. What's surprising though is the large number of Filipinos who don't know how to swim. Hopefully, that statistic soon shifts to those who know how to swim. More so, those who can swim don't swim enough because they think it's too tiring or it's too hard. They just have to do it right and do it often. This article will try to contribute to that mission.

Johansen Aguilar set a new Philippine record when he captured the gold medal in the backstroke event of the recent UAAP swimming championships held at the Trace Aquatics in Los Baños, Laguna.

Aguilar, a second year De La Salle University student, smashed the 50-meter backstroke record with a time of 27.54 seconds.

The 5-foot-11 Aguilar broke the 27.94 mark set by national team member Ryan Paolo Arabejo in 2008 in a competition held in Speedo, Lauderdale, United States.

In setting the new RP record, the 18-year-old Aguilar also posted a new UAAP record in the backstroke event. He also smashed the UAAP records in the 100m and 200m backstroke events by clocking 59.58 seconds and two minutes and 9.67 seconds, respectively.

The previous record in the 100m was 101.47 seconds while the 200m 2:10.67.

Aside from topping the 50m backstroke in UAAP, Aguilar also ruled 200m individual medley and the 200m butterfly. He also won silver in the 100m butterfly, and bronze in the 100m freestyle.

Collezione big boss on Rhett's defection: 'I learned about it from someone else'

Businessman Joey Qua, owner of Collezione C2, knew as early as mid-January that Rhett Eala, creative director of the house, had been working on a “capsule” collection for Plains & Prints. The problem was Qua heard the news not from Eala himself, but from another source.

“The person asked me rather innocently over dinner what I thought about Rhett’s collaboration with Plains & Prints,” said Qua, who didn’t identify his source. “I didn’t know what to say. It was like I was hit by a bus. All I could say was ‘What?’ as I stared back in disbelief.”

It turned out to be no hearsay, as Eala eventually gave a sneak preview of his collection for Plains & Prints to lifestyle media last Feb. 8. Two days later, Qua cut his ties to the fashion designer, ending a five-year partnership that saw the rebirth of the sportswear brand, which celebrates its 40th year this year.

Eala’s graphic design of the Philippine map—printed, then embroidered on Collezione clothes—has become a global symbol of the Philippines. Filipinos from all over snap it up.

Less than a week after Lifestyle came out with an exclusive report last Feb. 17 on Eala’s departure from Collezione, Qua requested for an interview to air his side.

Despite their parting of ways, he says, he still considers Eala a “good man, who was simply ill-advised.”

“Rhett had no exclusive contract with the company, but I had the right to terminate his services for conflict of interest,” said Qua. “Rhett was identified with the brand. What he did was unfair to the organization and detrimental to the brand’s vision and values.”

Qua dismissed Eala’s earlier contention that there was no conflict of interest between his involvement in Collezione C2, whose main line is knitted sportswear for men and women, and in Plains & Prints, a women’s wear brand owned by businesswoman Roxanne Farillas. (Qua and Farillas don’t know each other.)

Due

"How can that be when 50 percent of what we sell are targeted at women?" Qua said regarding Eala's denial about conflict of interest. "Upon Rhett's request, we also relaunched Due (pronounced as "du-weh"), a more upscale ready-to-wear brand exclusively for women."

Although identified with Eala, who started his fashion career more than 20 years ago designing a women's RTW line under the Due label for Rustan's, Due is now owned by Qua, and has stores at Rockwell and Greenbelt 5. Collezione C2 is bigger and has a nationwide presence.

After that fateful dinner in mid-January, Qua said he "let the situation simmer down." He said he waited for Eala to break the news to him, but no such thing happened. After a couple of days, Qua couldn't stand it any more and decided to drive to Eala's house one Sunday morning to get some answers.

"I called him and said I was already on my way," said Qua.

Not only did his worst fears prove true, Qua also learned from Eala that the so-called capsule collection (usually consisting of eight to 12 pieces) he was doing for Plains & Prints was only the tip of the iceberg. In fact, Eala had already signed a two-year contract with the other brand.

"As I drove to Rhett's place, I was kind of hoping that the situation could still be salvaged," said Qua. "Not only me, but everyone directly involved with the brand who learned about it was stunned. We still deliberated on it, but after the Plains & Prints show, the issue had already gone public. I knew the situation could no longer be saved."

Qua declined to go on record about Eala's supposed reason for his decision to work for the competition. He also didn't want to comment on how long the partnership between Eala and Plains & Prints has been going on.

(It usually takes three to four months to design, source for materials and manufacture a full RTW collection.)

Inquirer Lifestyle sought Eala to get his side. Contrary to what he said in an earlier interview during his Plains & Prints show, the designer admitted he didn't have Qua's blessings before signing a two-year deal with the other brand. He also admitted that he only confirmed everything to his former boss during their unscheduled Sunday morning meeting.

'Misjudgment'

"Yes, it's true," said Eala over the phone. "I was waiting for the right time to tell him, but I never really found the right moment. I didn't know that it would turn out this way."

Since he didn't have an exclusive contract with Collezione C2, Eala said he thought he was free like other designers abroad to "explore and work" for other brands. He still insisted that Plains & Prints is different from Collezione C2 and even Due.

"Due is more occasion wear, while Plains & Prints is more for workwear," he said.

He also claimed to harbor no ill feelings towards Qua. At the same time, he acknowledged that he had committed a "misjudgment."

"With or without me, I wish them all the success," he said, his voice breaking. "I was also part of the brand. Of course, there's nothing I would want more, but for them to succeed."

For his part, Qua has hired a transition team led by marketing man Ferdie Salvador. He also promised to overhaul the brand's image while remaining true to its DNA of providing discerning customers with a world-class Filipino brand that fuses "fashion and art with a spirit of nationalism."

Qua declined to comment on who Eala's replacement would be. But instead of making the designer the star, he now intends to focus more on the brand, he said. He's also thinking of making the organization more decentralized by forming a creative team in lieu of a single creative director.

"Rhett has moved on," said Qua. "It's sad that we're celebrating our 40th year without him. He did a great deal for the company. But we also have to move on as we look forward to our next 40 years."

Qua's father built the brand from scratch in the early '70s.

After its popularity peaked in the late '80s, the brand plodded on as competition intensified from local and foreign brands. It was still a reputable but staid brand when Eala came on board five years ago.

After adding "C2" to the original brand name Collezione, Eala lost no time turning things around. He scored big among consumers, especially in the last presidential elections, by downplaying the brand's trademark embroidered key insignia and playing up the Philippine map on polo and sports shirts, and later on, pants, shorts, bags and even casual dresses.

Collezione C2 shirts have also become a favorite "pasalubong" of Filipinos to friends and kin abroad. Before long, other brands cashed in on the trend by coming up with their own version of the embroidered "map shirt."

"We like to consistently inject a fresh, new spin into these [pieces] while staying true to the brand's fashion aesthetic. And I think Rhett has achieved that with a repertoire that features pieces the Plains & Prints wearer will definitely love to don for the season," said brand founder and owner Roxanne Farillas.

Eala, for his part, said: "The entire collection carries the distinct Plains & Prints style, but with a hint of adventure and a laid-back vibe that spring/summer dressing calls for."

"The cuts are relaxed, either falling away from or skimming the body. The lighter color palette and playful prints give a nod to the sun-kissed, carefree days of this favorite fashion season," he added.

Eala is known for designing Collezione C2's Philippine map shirts, which were closely associated with President Benigno Aquino III after repeatedly wearing them in his campaign sorties.

He also designed the flag shirts worn by ABS-CBN field reporters as they covered the May 2010 elections.

Eala left Collezione C2 days after his collection for Plains & Prints was launched.

Other local designers who have worked for Plains & Prints include Randy Ortiz and Rajo Laurel, Eala's cousin.

The successful collaboration that was at the forefront of "fashionalism" is now over. Rhett Eala has left Collezione-C2 after five years, which had seen the designer bringing new energy into the 40-year-old brand with the My Pilipinas line, featuring tees and other items of casual clothing emblazoned with the Philippine map. He is now with the Plains and Prints team as their most recent collaborator, having designed the recently launched Spring/Summer 2012 collection.

The switch raised eyebrows in the fashion industry as insiders speculated whether a conflict of interest or a breach of contract was involved in Eala's transfer. In an email interview, Eala maintained that his collaboration with Plains and Prints should not have caused any problems. "My contract with Collezione-C2 was non-exclusive and Plains and Prints was well aware of this when they signed me on. Given that Collezione-C2 and Plains and Prints cater to completely different market segments, I didn't think that there was any conflict of interest," he said.

Joey Qua, the owner of Collezione-C2, felt differently. He told us that he found out about Eala's new project in January of this year, four months after Eala signed a contract with Plains and Prints. "Sometime in mid-January of 2012, while at a dinner with some friends, I was asked by someone how I felt about Rhett's design collaboration with Plains and Prints," he began. "I was of course caught off guard and it came as a big surprise to me since I had absolutely no knowledge of this—more so since we have maintained a great working relationship for five years. I never expected this from him." He continued, "He had a live contract with us for both Collezione-C2 and DUE—it was very disappointing for me and the entire organization. We would have expected disclosure from him at the very least."

Eala told us that he took on the Plains and Prints project in order to cater to the country's broad retail market. "Roxanne [Farillas, owner and creative director of Plains and Prints] and I have known each other for a couple of years. She came to me last year for a possible collaboration. Since one of my main goals as a designer is to design for a broader market, collaborating with the brand was something that interested me."

Two days after Plains and Prints launched their Spring/Summer 2012 collection, Eala's contract with Collezione-C2 was terminated (it was renewed in June 2011 and was supposed to have run until June 2014 for both Collezione-C2 and DUE | Collezione). Qua said, "I tried to find a suitable compromise, but when I found out that he signed a two-year contract with the other brand, I didn't think it was fair to our brand and the organization. Trust and transparency are key to a good relationship, [and] once these are not in place, it is very difficult to continue to work productively."

Saddest thing to happen in Philippine TV today is this so-called network war. Nagkakaroon palagi ng iringan sa pagitan ng dalawang higitang networks, especially on issues that involve them both.

In the end, the viewers who are the backbone for these networks are suffering. Dahil sa network war na to, nagkaroon ng mga loyalista online and offline na walang magawa kungdi mag-away 24/7. Even television ratings are so much a big deal to them.

No doubt that Philippine TV is at its lowest point, it makes you say "Gone are the days of good TV". Today, competition is solely between the two networks, ABS and GMA, slimming the chances for other networks to get their fair share on the viewership pie, pati na rin sa sister channels ng ABS and GMA (Studio 23 and QTV-11).

This "war" makes it difficult for stars from different stations to work with each other because of an exclusivity clause in their contracts (unless, your a TV institution, you have that rare privilege to work in any network). When trying to imply the name of a rival station, sasabihin "sa kabila..." or "on the other station" (if they are interviewed on TV).

Compared to other TV networks in other countries, satin lang yung parang big deal ang "network loyalty" and that each network (at least, ABS and GMA) has its own talent pool (its as if, they are the contemporary versions of the old Sampaguita-Premiere-LVN era where each of the big studios have its own set of talents).

just my few sentimos' worth--not to stray too much out of the topic...

siguro, another reason kung bakit na-reduce to a "duopoly" ang kompetisyon sa TV ngayon was that nawala rin ang kalidad ng production and programming ng dalawang government-sequestered networks: IBC and RPN. until the late '90s, they came out with really good shows, especially on primetime, that was worthy of competition...at kung na-privatize sila sana years ago, they could've sustained that, along with having had their facilities improved (which would, in turn, also help with their programming output)...come to think about it, these two were THE biggest networks prior to EDSA 1, and a few years after that, kaya medyo nakakapanghinayang...

ABC naman was a strong #3, especially during its first couple of years...as far as i can remember, the gap between ABC and the "big two" was not as wide as it is now...and they too came out with a lot of other good stuff aside from "tropang trumpo," "wow mali!" and "ispup" na mas naaalala ng tao (and good counter-programming, for that matter, like 'yung "good evening please!" every weeknight at 6pm, "B na B (baliw na baliw)", "love notes" and "love bytes" on friday nights against GMA's "vilma!" and "mother studio..." and ABS' all-foreign line-up back then, etc.)...pero, IMO, na-overshadow siguro talaga sila ng promotional efforts ng GMA at ABS...and 'yung availability ng ABC nationwide was, perhaps, another reason...

these three networks--which have been around before the UHF stations "mushroomed" now have a lot of catching-up to do. then again, RPN (through solar) and ABC/TV5, along with much smaller stations like SBN and RJTV (also with solar's help) doing more "niche programming" (think the CW and mynetworkTV) is always a good counter-move--kahit na ABS and GMA are also doing niche programming on their sister networks (studio 23 and Q, respectively)...

as for IBC, though...ewan ko...

Lian Las Pinas

Add to that, hilig ng mga tao na manira sa isa't isa na para na rin nating sinabing, sila ang representation ng diumano'y network. Grabe!

Sorry if I'm getting a bit OT in this thread pero after reading page after page about the history of Philippine TV, it's hard not to compare the situation of then and now. Back then, because most if not all networks were under Ferdinand Marcos' cronies, there wasn't much conflict between them. Although they're competing against each other, they let their talents guest on each other's stations. But when that competition slimmed down to just two, that's when it all became nasty.

Because of this war, our tv shows in general became: 1)lame, 2)mediocre, 3)copycats of each other, 4)uneducational, 5) much worse than worse, 6)quality is low but quantity is high, 7)the new generation of stars can't act but are on tv because of their popularity among the masses, and the good ones are mostly placed on unlikeable timeslots.

Programming in ABS and GMA are 1)not balanced, 2)ads are not well regulated, 3) their regional network find it difficult to sync their local programming to the national feed coming from Manila, 4) their live shows are always a mess on and off stage.

Nakakainis talaga iyung nabuo nilang fanbase, the die-hard "Kapamilyas" and the "Kapusos". The most fanatic from each of these camp are usually the most zealous ones, they like to throw each other names, ruin the names and reputations of talents through bashing, and mean/nasty fan artworks meant to ruin them.

Most of all, the "Ratings" brouhaha. A day's worth of ratings here are published in such a way that it looks like a score sheet coming from an arcade. They always show which program outwit, outplay, and outlasted each other. Worse, it's always between GMA and ABS. Away nang away, away nang away.

Dahil sa lokong ratings na yan, nadedegrade ang karamihan ng mga tv shows ngayon, whether they high or low ratings. I've been very critical on shows that rate, madalas mas gusto diumano ng mga manood ang mga na shows na hindi madalas kagandahan pero pina-patronize nila. Game shows (and i'm point to the flagship games shows from the two networks) that seem to make fun of people (but people still adore them), showbiz talkshows that have grown to become notorious for their "explosive" presentation of issues and always go overtime (but because we're not always in the know, hindi natin puwede i-judge kaagad ang premise ng mga ganitong programa, nor its hosts).

Teleseryes may have improved in terms of longevity and storytelling as well as going beyond the usual rags-to-riches story, but the cancer that had plagued the teleseryes for years remains. Its tendency to go out beyond its supposed premise, overstretched arcs, unnecessary characters, tendency for the network to extend a serial, etc.

Sana wala nang away, sana wala nang "network war", sana tumino na ang mga extreme loyalists ng mga networks na ito. Now that's my wish for the New Year, lalo pa't the minor networks seem to be doing well!

One bad thing about this seemingly never-ending TV network war, it turn Pinoys against each other. Ratings does not always equate with quality kaya the basis for a good show should come from us. Kahit ratings ang sole lifeline ng mga TV shows, hindi siguro masama kung iaangat lang nila ang kalidad mga programs.

I applaud what the minor networks on giving Philippine TV a necessary shot to the arm. They air quality programming devoid of the stains from the network warpath, badly-needed alternatives for Filipinos to watch other than just ABS and GMA. Hopefully, pagdating ng tamang panahon, competition will no longer be a duopoly between the two giants — with Hero A Noble.

grace nono sang the "pinoy ang dating" jingle for IBC...note that in the entire jingle, walang kahit anong mention ng network name or anything TV/broadcast-related (like the words "programa", "balita", etc.) at all. the first part of the jingle, if i remember right, goes like this:

narito, narito
ang damdaming totoo...
ang buhay at ang pulso
ng bayan mo ang bayan ko...

may kumpas ng siyudad,
may himig ng bukid,
parang ihip ng hangin,

parang agos ng tubig...

and the refrain simply went:

may lukso ng dugo,
may igting ng damdamin,
may kurot sa puso
na pinoy ang dating...

i thought i would see a mid-'90s resurgence for IBC with that "pinoy ang dating" identity, na may kasama ring music video-style station ID (a first back then for philippine television, which, looking back, i was surprised na nagawa nila even with their situation back then as an already-government-sequestered network struggling with programming)...VTV (which later became vivatv) did them a lot of good especially with primetime programming, to the point na for a short while, they were able to challenge ABC for the #3 spot, but they weren't able to return to their former pre-EDSA 1986 glory, especially on their own (without that blocktime deal with vintage)...not even 'yung ginawa ng team ni boots anson-roa (who became IBC's president around 1999 or 2000), like a big reunion special for all former IBC talents/stars from 1975 until the '90s ("homecoming sa trese"), the restoration of their professional relationship with vintage (which went sour after some wrong moves by boots' predecessor, retired general mitch templo), plus some new shows outside the VTV block (like "alas dose sa 13" and "DMZ TV"), were enough, i guess...

at eto pa...'yung "new face, new attitude" slogan nila was probably one of their shortest-running campaigns ever...it only lasted for less than a year...i think that was from around 2001 or 2002--they launched the new logo with the "new face..." slogan in january, tapos bagong logo na uli with the "ang bagong pilipino" slogan just before christmas that same year.

Gameplan

The first ever Sports-oriented show in the Philippines has finally come on air! Started in August of 1995, Gameplan has contributed something to the "struggling" Philippine television. Originally aired on GMA-7 and aired every Sundays, the original hosts were commercial model Paolo Abrera with buddies Rufi Parpan and Yas.

Throughout the years, there were so many changes, from hosts to networks to OBBs. Until it laid in rest in June 30, 2007, almost 12 years.

Their main competitor is ABS-CBN's Sports Unlimited which had basketball star Vince Hizon and tennis player Dyan Castellejo, which was still on air until today. Thou, they are not common in schedules.

Death came in its usual threes last week in local show business:

Ram Revilla — the son of former actor and senator, Ramon Revilla Sr. and ex-starlet Genelyn Magsaysay in the dying hours of Oct. 28.

Ricky Pempengco — the father of Filipina international singing sensation Charice last Oct. 31.

Boots Plata — director, actor, who died of lung cancer (after going through several illnesses) last Nov. 2

Happy Birthday To Former President and Now Pampanga Rep. Gloria Macapagal Arroyo

Former President and Now Pampanga Rep. Gloria Macapagal Arroyo is celebrating her 65th Birth Anniversary today, April 5, 2012. She was the country's 14th President, the 2nd female Chief Executive after former President Corazon C. Aquino. She is now a member of the House of Representatives, representing the 2nd District of Pampanga.

Born in San Juan, Rizal, to former President Diosdado P. Macapagal, the 9th President of the Philippines, and Dr. Evangelina Macaraeg Macapagal, Congresswoman Arroyo studied elementary and high school at the Assumption Convent, graduating valedictorian in 1964. She studied for two years at Georgetown University's Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service in Washington, DC in the United States of America, then finished her Bachelor of Arts in Economics at the Assumption Convent, graduating magna cum laude, in 1968. She obtained Master's in Economics from Ateneo de Manila University in 1978 and a Doctorate in Economics from the University of the Philippines in 1985. From 1977 to 1987, she taught economics at Ateneo de Manila University and University of the Philippines.

She joined government service in 1987 when President Corazon C. Aquino appointed her Assistant Secretary and later, Undersecretary of the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI). It was during her concurrent stint as Executive Director of the DTI Garments and Textile Board that the local garments industry attained robust growth. She first ran for the Senate in 1992, then topped the Senatorial race when she ran for reelection in 1995. As Senator, she authored or sponsored 55 economic and social legislations, including Republic Act (RA) 7844, the Export Development Act; RA 7721, the Bank Entry Liberalization Law; RA 7916 creating the Philippine Economic Zone Authority; and RA 7637 creating the Mt. Pinatubo Commission. She filed over 400 bills seeking the protection of women, children, overseas Filipino workers and marginalized sector. After serving as senator from 1992 to 1998, she was elected as the 12th Vice President of the Philippines.

She was installed into the presidency by the EDSA Revolution of 2001 and was sworn in by Chief Justice Hilario G. Davide Jr. on January 20, 2001. She was elected President in the May 10, 2004, polls. She focused on socio-economic development during her presidency. She laid the fundamentals for sustained growth, thus sparing it from the 2007 global recession. After her presidency, she was elected to the House of Representatives on May 10, 2010. She is married to lawyer-businessman Jose Miguel T. Arroyo of Binalbagan, Negros Occidental, and they have three children – Juan Miguel, Evangelina Lourdes, and Diosdado Ignacio.

We greet Former President and now Congresswoman Gloria Macapagal Arroyo on the occasion of her 65th Birthday today and wish her the best and success in all endeavors. Happy Birthday!

Wala nang iba pang programa o institusyon sa kasaysayan ng telebisyon sa Pilipinas ang makakapantay sa unbeatable record ng longest running noontime TV show sa bansa, ang Eat Bulaga, na magdiriwang na ng kanilang ika-30 na anibersaryo ngayong taon.

Sa natapos ng 2008, inere ng Eat Bulaga ang ika 8,817 na episode nito magmula nang magsimula ito noong Hulyo 30, 1979. Naging memorable at napaka-fruitful na taon ng 2008 hindi lamang sa programa at sa mga hosts nito kundi lalo na sa mga Filipino viewers at mga audiences na naabot ng Eat Bulaga dito sa Pilipinas at maging sa ibang bansa.

Para sa taong 2008 lamang, nakapagpamigay na ang Eat Bulaga ng P75 Million in prizes sa studio contestants at text partners sa game portion nitong Taktak Mo or Tatakbo. Mayroon nang 12 winners ng P1 Million sa game segment na ito at ang mga may pinakamalaking naiuwing premyo ay sina Jay-R Rendiza ng Los Baños, Laguna at Ma. Virginia Bacoma ng Tondo, Manila na parehong nanalo ng tig-P1,055,000. Mayroon ding 22 winners ng tig-P500,000 at iba pang nag-uwi ng mga premyong naglalaro sa P20,000 hanggang P100,000 araw-araw.

Eat's all in the name

Joey tells me he coined the phrase "Eat Bulaga." "Bulaga" is the Tagalog slang for "surprise." The word "Eat" was coined for the simple reason that the show would be on the noontime spot, the time when most people are eating their lunch.

"You see, it doesn't have that deep a meaning to it," Joey says when I probe deeper as to the explanation of the name Eat Bulaga. Perhaps the deeper meaning of the title of the show is in the font used in writing Eat Bulaga. Sounding like a feng shui expert, Joey explains that Eat Bulaga is nine letters in all. "Nine is a lucky number that's why there's 'Lucky 9'," he says.

"And if you look closely at every letter of Eat Bulaga," he says while drawing the original and existing font of Eat Bulaga in my notebook, "you will notice that, save for letters 't' and 'l,' all the other letters somehow resemble the number 9. Notice also that the letter 'l' is written like number '1.' So wonder no more if Eat Bulaga is Number 1. It's clearly written in their name.

As for the "t," Joey does not say. He leaves it to my imagination. I think the letter "t," which was drawn like a cross, symbolizes the trio's faith – their faith that in time they would be Number 1. They were correct.

But in the beginning, it was an uphill climb for Eat Bulaga especially so because it was pitted against the then strong leading noontime show Student Canteen which they were once part of. But Tito, Vic and Joey just continued cracking jokes until they cracked open the opportunity to topple Student Canteen in the ratings game.

I risk sounding like a broken record but I will repeat: Tito, Vic and Joey have never lost their grip on the audience. Of the more than 18 shows pitted against them, only two have managed to remain alive. It appears to be a Herculean task for their existing competitors to outdo or outwit the trio's show. After all, Eat Bulaga is the longest running variety show on Philippine television. If this fact and the numerous awards and accolades the show has received from award-giving bodies are not enough to make it land in entertainment history books, what else will? Did I mention that Eat Bulaga's 25th anniversary special won as the Best Entertainment (One-Off/Annual) Special Award at the 10th Asian TV awards held in Singapore? This particular award is the most notable because it beat big entries like MTV's "Tsunami Aid Special."

In its 28 years, Eat Bulaga has also become the launching pad of many stars like Aiza Seguerra and Jericho Rosales to find their own starry niche in tinsel town. The show is also a purveyor of concepts and trends in noontime programming. Included here are talent searches like "Little Miss Philippines," "Mister Pogi," "Macho Men," "Palengke Queen," "Maid in the Philippines" and "Super Sireyna." Because the show is dynamic and pulsating, it has also served as a "home" in the past to about 100 co-hosts of Tito, Vic and Joey. In my book, my favorite past co-hosts of TVJ include Chiqui Hollman (she and Richie D' Horsie were the original co-hosts in 1979), Coney Reyes and the late Rio Diaz for their effortless wit and spunk. The Eat Bulaga family now has more than 20 witty and funny co-hosts, proof, indeed, as the jingle of the show says, that in Eat Bulaga "barkada'y dumarami, silang lahat ay nagbibigay, ligaya sa ating buhay (the gang is increasing, they are everyone will provide, happiness into our lives)." And together, they shower their audience with "saan ka man ay halina kayo, isang libo't isang tuwa, buong bansa (wherever you are let go you are, a thousand and one joys for the whole nation)," be it in the "Bulagaan" or "Itaktak Mo" portion.

Looking back, the mirthful trio of Eat Bulaga can only be thankful for the success of their noontime show. Tito, Vic and Joey are what hilarious madness has made them – whole, complete and free in making their audience happy. I think that's their secret to success. And that analysis is coming from a big fan like me.

The Joyful Mysteries of the Rosary

Sign of the Cross

+ In the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Apostle's Creed

I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Creator of Heaven and earth. I believe in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord. He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit and was born of the Virgin Mary. He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried. He descended to the dead. On the third day He rose again. He ascended into Heaven, and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again to judge the living and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Holy Catholic Church, the Communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting. Amen.

For the intentions of the Holy Father and the Pope:

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen. (Recite 3 times)

Glory Be to the Father

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Fatima Prayer

O my Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those in most need of your mercy.

All For

All for the Sacred and Eucharistic Heart of Jesus; all through the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary; all in union with St. Joseph.

The First Joyful Mystery is THE ANNUNCIATION:

Luke 1:26-38: "In the sixth month of Elizabeth's pregnancy, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth, a town in Galilee, to a virgin pledged to be married to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary. The angel went to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly avored! The Lord is with you. Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary; you have found favor with God. You will conceive and give birth to a son, and you are to call him Jesus. He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over Jacob's descendants forever; his kingdom will never end." "How will this be," Mary asked the angel, "since I am a virgin?" The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God. Even Elizabeth your relative is going to have a child in her old age, and she who was said to be unable to conceive is in her sixth month. For no word from God will ever fail." "I am the Lord's servant," Mary answered. "May your word to me be fulfilled." Then the angel left her.

We ask for the gifts of the Holy Spirit and increase in the Virtue of Humility.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen. (Recite 10 Times)

Glory Be to the Father

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Fatima Prayer

O my Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those in most need of your mercy.

All For

All for the Sacred and Eucharistic Heart of Jesus; all through the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary; all in union with St. Joseph.

The Second Joyful Mystery is The Visitation of the Virgin Mary to Elizabeth. the Mother of St. John the Baptist.

Luke 1:39-45: "At that time Mary got ready and hurried to a town in the hill country of Judea, where she entered Zechariah's home and greeted Elizabeth. When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the baby leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. In a loud voice she exclaimed: "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the child you will bear! But why am I so avored, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? As soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby in my womb leaped for joy. Blessed is she who has believed that the Lord would fulfill his promises to her!"

We ask for the gifts of the Holy Spirit and increase in the Virtue of generosity.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen. (Recite 10 Times)

Glory Be to the Father

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Fatima Prayer

O my Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those in most need of your mercy.

All For

All for the Sacred and Eucharistic Heart of Jesus; all through the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary; all in union with St. Joseph.

The Third Joyful Mystery is The Birth of Our Lord at Bethlehem.

Luke 2:1-14: "In those days Caesar Augustus issued a decree that a census should be taken of the entire Roman world. (This census took place before Quirinius was governor of Syria.) 3 And everyone went to their own town to register. So Joseph also went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to Bethlehem the town of David, because he belonged to the house and line of David. He went there to register with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him and was expecting a child. While they were there, the time came for the baby to be born, 7 and she gave birth to her firstborn, a son. She wrapped him in cloths and placed him in a manger, because there was no guest room available for them. And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby, keeping watch over their flocks at night. An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid. I bring you good news that will cause great joy for all the people. Today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you; he is the Messiah, the Lord. This will be a sign to you: You will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger." Suddenly a great company of the heavenly host appeared with the angel, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace to those on whom his favor rests."

We ask for the gifts of the Holy Spirit and increase in the Virtue of detachment from the things of this world.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen. (Recite 10 Times)

Glory Be to the Father

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Fatima Prayer

O my Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those in most need of your mercy.

All For

All for the Sacred and Eucharistic Heart of Jesus; all through the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary; all in union with St. Joseph.

The Fourth Joyful Mystery is The Presentation of Our Lord in the Temple.

Luke 2:12-35: "When the time came for the purification rites required by the Law of Moses, Joseph and Mary took him to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the Law of the Lord, "Consecrate to me every firstborn male. The first offspring of every womb among the Israelites belongs to me, whether human or animal.") But if she cannot afford a lamb, she is to bring two doves or two young pigeons, one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering. In this way the priest will make atonement for her, and she will be clean.' Now there was a man in Jerusalem called Simeon, who was righteous and devout. He was waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was on him. It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not die before he had seen the Lord's Messiah. Moved by the Spirit, he went into the temple courts. When the parents brought in the child Jesus to do for him what the custom of the Law required, Simeon took him in his arms and praised God, saying: "Sovereign Lord, as you have promised, you may now dismiss" "Sovereign Lord, as you have promised, you may promised, your servant in peace. For my eyes have seen your salvation, which you have prepared in the sight of all nations: a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and the glory of your people Israel." The child's father and mother marveled at what was said about him. Then Simeon blessed them and said to Mary, his mother: "This child is destined to cause the falling and rising of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be spoken against, so that the thoughts of many hearts will be revealed. And a sword will pierce your own soul too."

We ask for the gifts of the Holy Spirit and increase in the Virtue of obedience.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

The Fifth Joyful Mystery is The Finding of Our Lord in the Temple.

Luke 2:41-52: "Every year Jesus' parents went to Jerusalem for the Festival of the Passover. When he was twelve years old, they went up to the festival, according to the custom. After the festival was over, while his parents were returning home, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but they were unaware of it. Thinking he was in their company, they traveled on for a day. Then they began looking for him among their relatives and friends. When they did not find him, they went back to Jerusalem to look for him. After three days they found him in the temple courts, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. Everyone who heard him was amazed at his understanding and his answers. When his parents saw him, they were astonished. His mother said to him, "Son, why have you treated us like this? Your father and I have been anxiously searching for you." "Why were you searching for me?" he asked. "Didn't you know I had to be about my Father's business?" But they did not understand what he was saying to them. Then he went down to Nazareth with them and was obedient to them. But his mother treasured all these things in her heart. And Jesus grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

We ask for the gifts of the Holy Spirit and increase in the Virtue of fear of the Lord- an increase of never losing God because of our sins.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Amen.

All For

All for the Sacred and Eucharistic Heart of Jesus; all through the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary; all in union with St. Joseph.

St. Joseph Prayer after the Rosary

Glorious St. Joseph, spouse of the Immaculate Virgin, obtain for me and all the members of my family and loved ones, a confident, sinless, generous, and patient heart, and perfect resignation to the Divine Will. Be our guide, father, and model throughout life, that we may merit a death like yours, in the arms of Jesus and Mary. Help us, St. Joseph, in our earthly strife, to fulfill our responsibilities and ever to lead a pure and blameless life.

Heavenly Father, please ask the Holy Spirit, Who resides in the innermost recesses of my soul, to help me to call to mind all of my sins and faults. Help me to detach myself from these faults and sins so that I can be a useful instrument in the hands of the Most Holy Family, to achieve Your distinctive plan for my life.

Let me now pause for a few moments to think of my sins, faults, and omissions.

Act of Contrition

O my God! I am heartily sorry for having offended Thee, and I detest all of my sins, because I dread the loss of Heaven and the pains of hell, but most of all because I have offended Thee, my God, Who art all good and deserving of all my love. I firmly resolve with the help of Thy grace, to confess my sins, to do penance, and to amend my life. Amen.

Let us Pray: Heavenly Father, in the Name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, we ask You to release a Poor Soul of one of our loved ones from Purgatory for each of us who have received Your Son in Holy Communion this day, and we ask these souls being released to pray continually that our families and the members and families of the Apostolate do Your will.

Sign of the Cross

Make the Sign of the Cross: In the Name of the Father of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Imagine if R&B superstar Usher stayed in the Philippines all year round to perform night after night for his fans. It was him who actually said he would if he could, to the estimated 30,000 crowd who enveloped the Mall of Asia Concert Grounds last July 9 like a spirited sea for his first concert here in the country. Oh, aren't we honored?

But even if the Philippines wouldn't have Usher nights the whole year, his concert is enough of a treasure for the fans. He was unstoppable in his dancing, his singing...and his playful teasing to the ladies. Usher clearly showed that he wasn't dubbed as the heir to Michael Jackson for nothing.

His 22-song (including those sung in medleys) set was composed mostly of his hits from then until now, opening with one of his hit dance tunes, "Caught Up." Fans yearning to hear his "classics" were not disappointed, as they gamely sang along to "You Remind Me," "Nice and Slow," "Confessions," "You Got It Bad," "Burn," "My Boo," and "Lovers and Friends," and grooving to ditties like "Yeah" and "You Don't Have To Call." Usher was impressed with his audience, clapping his hands and uttering at one point, "You guys are really good singers."

Usher's sexy yet solid vocals were admirable, but the real treat was seeing the dance moves he did in his music videos live. Choreography obviously was inspired by the King of Pop's signature moves. Usher's favorite seemed to be the crotch grab, which was used the most number of times.

His energy was unbelievable, singing and dancing at the same time. Noticeably, though, there were some parts particularly during the second half of his show wherein he wasn't really singing, but recorded vocals can be heard (like how it sounded on his CDs). Perhaps this was done so he could concentrate on his dancing. However, this left us somehow wanting to hear more as much as we were seeing more through his superb dancing.

Usher may not have spiels prior to each and every performance, but he sure took the time to express his love for the fans. "I'm thankful and I appreciate each and everyone of you. I love you," he said, eliciting squeals which can only come from the ladies in the audience.

For someone who has not a few "naughty" songs, the "naughtiness" during the concert was inevitable. Usher, during one number, looked to have "made little love" with his mic stand. He also teased fans with a few abs exposures and even asked them at one point, "do you want me to take it off?" pertaining to his clothing. "There might be a law against it; I don't know if this is the right thing to do," he joked.

What could well be considered as the most special part of the night was the original song Usher performed with his audience. He began with beat boxing, then guided his band and the fans to the melody and lyrics of the song. The recurrent lyrics were: "Alright...I'm having the time of my life!" It was a unique and total performance, with Usher rapping on some parts and dancing as well.

Of course, the night wouldn't be complete if he didn't sing his newer hits "Love In This Club," "Hey Daddy" (which he began with Lionel Richie's "Hello"), and his chart-topping club favorite, the encore "OMG." And to promote his sixth album, "Raymund vs. Raymund," Usher also performed two songs from it, namely "There Goes My Baby" and "She Don't Know."

The whole concert lasted for more than two hours, including performances from front acts South Border, Nina, and Kris Lawrence, who all delivered energized numbers.

Fans screamed "more!" after Usher exited the stage. Although he didn't come back for one more number, he promised before leaving that there is no way he wouldn't come back to the Philippines. We will be waiting.

Postscript: Star-studded!

Usher wasn't the only star who was on the Concert Grounds last Saturday. His show was attended by lots of celebrities. Spotted during the event were the following: Brothers Rayver and Rodjun Cruz, Angel Locsin, Bubbles Paraiso, sisters Ehra and Michelle Madrigal, Sam Concepcion, Luigi Muhlach, Andi Manzano, Janno Gibbs and Bing Loyzaga with daughters, Keanna Valenciano, Robin Nievera, engaged couple Priscilla Meirelles and John Estrada, rumored couple Daiana Menezes and Sam YG, couple Paolo Contis and Lian Paz, Magalona siblings Elmo and Maxene, Nina, soon-to-be married Oyo Boy Sotto and Kristine Hermosa, Lovi Poe, Chavit Singson, Megan Young, Ruffa and Raymond Gutierrez, Georgina Wilson, Solenn Heusaff, Ruby Rodriguez, Pauleen Luna, Vicki Belo, Patrick Garcia, Enchong Dee, and Amy Perez.

Mix a fabulous crowd, the hottest house music and an oasis of sparkling drinks and you got a party! What could be more awesome? How about putting them all in inside a hall full of toys? Yes, toys!

Last March 18, the metro's fashionistas and "it" personalities headed to the Special Exhibition Hall of the newly opened Mind Museum in Fort Bonifacio, Taguig City to share a fun night meant for every kid-at-heart. During this one-of-a-kind gathering, the quirkiest toys of all types, from cars to action figures, humongous rubber dummies to stuffed animals, adorned the place. Mostly collector's items, the unique pieces brought smiles and a tinge of nostalgia among guests.

Further perking up the interiors of the exhibition hall were the surrounding walls, which were fully lit up and transformed into dynamic viewing screens which played visuals from epic runway shows and other related documentaries featuring the world's most famous fashion icons. The stunning set-up was jointly conceived through the combined efforts of Julie Aguila of Saga Events, Marvin Buenaventura of Stage Masters and Lopee DeGuzman of RSL Lighting.

With cute and colorful toys enlivening the place as well as amazing music mixes by Jon Herrera, it was but a night to throw all inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe. The mastermind behind all the awesomeness? Publicist Keren Pascual who incidentally was also celebrating his birthday that same night.

This night to remember wouldn't have been realized without the generous support of Coca-Cola, which provided the overflowing refreshments along with Belvedere, the world's first super premium vodka, who refreshed the night with only the most exciting concoctions. These mixes were of course complemented by sumptuous special entrees by Gaita Fores' Cibo.

Models, TV personalities and dash of the social set came in full force as Keren Pascual blew out another candle of his exciting life, dahlings.

The Special Exhibition Hall of the newly opened Mind Museum in Fort Bonifacio, Taguig was packed with toys—yes toys—for a totally fun happening meant for "every kid-at-heart," said the celebrator.

From toy cars to action figures, humongous rubber ducks and stuffed animals, toys cheerfully adorned the place. My palangga, Liza Ilarde Cuenca told me, "I really feel like a kid again."

The surrounding walls were transformed into dynamic viewing screens playing visuals from epic runway shows and documentaries featuring the world's most famous fashion icons.

The stunning setup was jointly conceived by Julie Aguila of Saga Events, Marvin Buenaventura of Stage Masters and Lopee de Guzman of RSL Lighting. Amazing music mixes were by Jon Herrera.

It was really a time to throw all our inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe in us, palanggas, thanks to the master publicist and our Toy King of the Night, Keren, naturellement.

Coca-Cola as well as Belvedere Premium Vodka provided endless flow of drinks. Cibo provided the excellent to-die-for dinner, palanggas.

SM Signs Deal With RTHK

SM Supermalls, chain of shopping malls in the Philippines, has signed a three-year output deal with Radio Television Hong Kong (RTHK).

In a statement, SM said the deal comprised a minimum of 350 hours worth of locally produced programs and 25 feature films for airing through FOX's cable channels this 2012.

RTHK, which is among BRP's top global partners, is a subsidiary of a global media conglomerate that reaches millions of households worldwide.

Other than FOX, GWI made strong sales in Africa, Brunei, Korea, and China in 2011 with more than 2,000 hours worth of programs to these countries.

According to SMPH President Jeffery C. Lim, GMA's programs do not only appeal to domestic viewers but are steadily gaining interest and popularity among international viewers as well.

In fact, GWI recently made a landmark achievement through licensing an all-original drama production by the GMA Entertainment TV (ETV) Group for the Chinese locals. The production will run for 50 episodes.

Among GMA productions delivered to Hong Kong for airing over FOX's Philippine feed include hit fantasy series Encantadia, Darna, Dyesebel, and Super Twins; Filipino television adaptation of renowned dramas Stairway To Heaven, Trudis Liit, and Babangon Ako't Dudurugin Kita; and News and Public Affairs programs Wish Ko Lang, Pinoy Meets World, and Pinoy Abroad.

GWI also distributed best-selling films like My Best Friend's Girlfriend, When I Met You, Yaya and Angelina, Temptation Island, and the 1998 award-winning biopic film by Marilou Diaz-Abaya, Jose Rizal.

GWI achieved record sales in 2011 on strong syndication of programs and acquisition of canned programs for GMA's two free-to-air channels.

"More blood, more life." This was the global theme for World Blood Day on June 14. This was also the theme adopted by the Department of Health when it observed the National Voluntary Blood Donation Month in July. A few heeded the call in blood letting activities, mostly from coming from the health sector and some from the police and the military. Others were already regular donors and for a few newbies they, shall we say, "forced volunteers." The act of voluntarily donating blood has not exactly crept in the consciousness of Filipinos. Many would only think of donating blood when a member of the family or a close friend is the one in need.

One thing good that happened during the surge of dengue cases in Luzon was the hype media created on the need of blood for dengue patients, mostly children. And for the first time, news on voluntary blood donation reached Healthbeat's countdown of the Top 10 health news.

On August 15, Philippine Red Cross (PRC) Secretary General Gwendolyn Pang urged more people to donate blood as severe dengue cases need blood.

Data provided by PRC show that annual blood collection falls short of what is needed. The PRC has an average collection of 2,500 to 3,000 units of blood daily nationwide.

Pang explained that in 2010, PRC collected a total of 273,000 units of blood, representing 49.6 per cent of the total national collection of 550,000 units from all blood collecting agencies, including the DOH and the Philippine Blood Coordinating Council. But the total collection was still 440,000 units short of the national requirement for 950,000 units last year. The PRC urged the public to "be more resolute in promoting voluntary blood donation" with the rise in dengue cases in mind.

Dr. Lyndon Lee Suy, program manager of the DOH Emerging and Reemerging Infectious Diseases, emphasized the need for donated blood by severe dengue patients. He said, "While only five per cent of dengue patients need blood, we still encourage blood donation."

Quite a coincidence, Enchong Dee, matinee actor, swimmer and a regular blood donor, was scheduled to donate his precious blood in the DOH, the following day, August 16. This donation landed on the news and easily he became a DOH poster boy for the blood program.

Soon after, the Philippine Medical Association, ABS-CBN 2, TV5, among others held their own blood letting activities. The DOH hopes that this good deed would be sustained any day of the year, with or without dengue.

Filipinos have to remind themselves that giving blood is giving the most precious gift to another person: the gift that will extend the life of the sick while at the same time, reinvigorate the giver. As Health Secretary Enrique T. Ona emphasized, "We do not lose blood when we give because as we donate blood, we refill our bodies with new and fresher blood."

It was a most touching gesture when friends and colleagues of former President Joseph "Erap" Ejercito Estrada gifted him with a book on his 75th birthday. Entitled Ito ang Pilipino: A Tribute to Joseph Estrada, the book, written and compiled by former news anchor and Estrada spokesperson Margaux Salcedo, was launched at the Atrium of the Enderun Colleges located at The Fort in Taguig City. Among the guests were prominent figures in politics and the movie industry — Vice President Jejomar Binay, Movie and Television Review and Classification Board chairman Mary Grace Poe-Llamanzares, Erap's former Cabinet members Ronnie Zamora and Ben Diokno, movie producer Marichu Vera-Perez Maceda, actress Boots Anson-Roa and even Erap's high school classmates from Ateneo.

MANILA, Philippines—The curtains go up at 8 tonight (April 24) at the Smart-Araneta Coliseum for a show dubbed as "Sergio Mendes & Brasil 2012 Live In Manila," which will spotlight the bossa nova legend from Brazil as he showcases his wonderful and easy-listening sound and style that made him the most popular musician in South America and an international star in the past 50 years.

Mendes will treat the audience to a string of great bossa nova hits, such as "Mas Que Nada," "Constant Rain (Chove Chuba)," "For Me," "Night And Day," "The Look Of Love," "Fool On The Hill," "Scarborough Fair," "Pretty World," "Never Gonna Let You Go," "Rainbow's End," "Olympia" and many others.

After forming his own group, Sexteto Bossa Rio and recording "Dance Moderno" on the Philips Record label, Mendes moved in 1964 to the US where he organized Brasil '65 and recorded for Capitol Records.

It was as Brasil '66 that his band achieved instant success following the release on A&M Records of its self-titled debut album that featured a mix of light jazz, a bossa nova beat and contemporary soft pop melodies. The LP rose to Number 6 nationally on account of the strong performance of the single, "Mas Que Nada."

Mendes attained mainstream prominence when he performed the Oscar-nominated Burt Bacharach and Hal David song, "The Look Of Love," on the Academy Awards.

From 1968 onwards, Mendes was concededly the biggest star in the world of music, riding on a wave of immense international popularity and performing on a variety of venues, from stadium arenas to the White House, where he gave concerts for both Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon.

"Sergio Mendes & Brasil 2012 Live In Manila!" is presented by Ovation Productions in association with Imarflex, Philippine Airlines, 2nd Avenue on RJTV 29, Diva Universal, Talk TV on SBN 21, Universal Channel, Edsa Shangri-La Manila and RJ 100.3 FM.

It is also supported by Manila Bulletin, The Philippine STAR, BusinessWorld, Crossover 101.5, Monster Radio RX 93.1, Radio High 105.9 FM, Mellow 94.7, 97.9 Home Radio, OptimaSignsolutions and ABS-CBN 2.

Tickets are available at Ticketnet outlets located at SM Department Stores and at the Smart-Araneta Coliseum ticket office.

GMA's Primetime Queen Marian Rivera makes a comeback to comedy via her newest project, "Tweets for my Sweet," which starts airing today, May 6.

The last time we saw Marian in a comedy was when she co-starred with Manny Pacquiao in "Show Me Da Manny."

For this project, certainly another milestone in her career, Marian expresses her gratitude to GMA Network. "Sobra akong natutuwa dahil ibinigay sa akin ang programang ito at magkakaroon ako ng pagkakataon upang makatrabaho ang ilan sa mga taong hinahangaan ko sa industriya."

Also starring in the show is Roderick Paulate, one of the country's established comedians, who returns to comedy after so many years of absence. Roderick plays JB Mercado.

Joining the cast are Kapuso actress Sheena Halili (as Lily), "Kusina Master's" Chef Boy Logro (as Lolo Boy), the most promising tween stars Elmo Magalona (as Dino Mercado), Barbie Forteza (as Adele), and YouTube sensation Mikey Bustos (as Dexter Matibag).

Playing an important role is Ms. Nova Villa (as Domina de los Santos).

I'd like to give her a trip to the Holy Land or Europe with the whole family. As for a gift that money can't buy, I wish her to continue to have good health. On my part, I would strive more to be a dutiful son and spend more time with her.

nope, that karen davila clip on the GMA public affairs anniversary special was from "brigada siete", where she was one of the regular reporters back then, along with jessica soho (who became its last host after tito sotto concentrated on politics), jay taruc and arnold clavio...by the time na "i-witness" was on the air (1999), karen was already co-hosting "extra extra" (the magazine show that was the root of what would later become the hit reality show "extra challenge") with paolo bediones.

and that older clip of howie severino naman must've been from "the probe team", where he had one of his first regular TV stints...sabay sila ni twink macaraig (now with ANC) na naging co-host/reporter ni cheche lazaro, sometime in the late '90s/early 2000s...

Lian Las Pinas edited a doc.

Why it took 8 years to finish the Fitness.Fashion book

The Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion show book that was launched only last Thursday at the PICC in Pasay City took four years to finish. But much of those had long dormant moments in between.

Putting the book together would have been easy, except that it took long for us to get data pertaining to the program. Much as the people from Philippine Daily Inquirer were willing to help, they were all busy putting the Fitness.Fashion show, plus other lifestyle events.

On several instances, we would send the book production coordinator Pia Kraft to Inquirer's Makati office to have photos identified, but it would take forever for anyone of them to identify, for example, a photo with Olympic swimmer Akiko Thompson in it. There really was proper newspaper archiving in this country, which was why it was murder for those involved in putting this book together.

During the launch, I was asked as the book author to talk about how we came up with the book, but I had to be cut short due to lack of time and was unable to share some of the details that went into the completion of the Inquirer Fitness.Fashion book.

That night I also wanted to thank the people involved in the book project, especially Gigi Sarmenta and business partner Sony Jalandoni for their creative and production services.

On a personal level, I also want to thank my Paparazzi family, too, especially, Inquirer Entertainment editor Emmie G. Velarde, for allowing me to squeeze in this book project in between those two major pre-occupations of mine. (I was also still with Cinema Evaluation Board that time and so thank you, Christine Dayrit.)

And so this was the journey we took as we completed the book of Fitness.Fashion, which is now on its 3rd year (2008-2011), going on 4th anniversary (July 31, 2008-July 31, 2012).

Churning out this book on the history of Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung Fashion Show was a history in itself. I was approached for this book in the latter part of 2009. PDI wanted a coffee-table book to commemorate the show's turning 3 years old in 2011.

I accepted the project that time because I can never say no to Inquirer Lifestyle editor Thelma Sioson-San Juan. He is such a good man that I'm willing to take a bullet for him. I even said that on TV.

For Tessa Prieto-Valdes, I will think about it. I also said that on TV and she heard it.

Yes, I was hesitant to accept the project because it was never my wish to have a book. I'm probably the only working journalist who doesn't nurture such dream.

I'm a lazy writer, but writing is the only thing I can do. Had I been given the chance to become another Eric Buhain or Miguel Molina why not?

I also harbored doubts unsure if I was capable of doing a book.

Articles were farmed out to various contributors. Originally, the concept was to have a book intended for academe.

When the manuscripts were submitted, some were brilliantly written, except that these sounded so scholarly even our pesky termites would be bored to tears chewing their way through the pages.

There was also the problem with research. Philippine Daily Inquirer had no old files on either video or paper. All these drowned during the great flood of 1987.

We had a writer named Cheche Moral. She scoured the libraries and came back with a bunch of articles written by Maurice Arcache, Johnny Litton, Anton San Diego, Mons Romulo-Tantoco, Raul Teehankee, Pepper Teehankee and Tessa Prieto-Valdes. He went to interview Becky Garcia to talk about the articles about lifestyle events - the Manila society and Cebu society, but the society columnist also pointed toward my direction.

At that point I realized that only three people bothered to seriously write about TV - Nestor Torre, Edmund Sicam and your columnist. This medium, which is so important in modern life, had been ignored unjustly.

It was only then that it dawned on me that I should really proceed writing the book. I had to do it for newspaper where I had my beginnings doing critiques of political, sports, business, lifestyle and entertainment events, fashion shows, high society events, travel vacations and had come full circle getting panned as an on-cam talent.

But more importantly, I had been fully convinced that the "Fitness.Fashion" deserved a book on its 3rd year (July 31, 2008 – July 31, 2011).

And so we soldiered on, but were met along the way by the event. Do it after the fashion show at the Peninsula Manila in Makati City and the Waterfront Cebu City Hotel and Casino in Cebu City. The fashion show was hugely successful.

Do it if we win in the Consumers Choice Award. It won most deservedly.

Do it if we get elevated to the Anvil Awards. That, too, happened hurray!

How many more achievements were we waiting for? All the good things just kept coming knock on wood.

Then AJ Perez died. Yes, Luis that's AJ to you had to die for this book project to get resurrected.

It had to take another Prieto-Valdes this time to get the book jumpstarted again. He works for Inquirer and must have seen pile of manuscripts intended for the book gathering dust in the office. Jako thought why not come up with something like the Michael Jackson book? I never saw it, but it's supposed to be easy reading.

We all gathered again and said, to heck with being scholarly. Let's just have fun. Fun with photos. But those photos still needed captioning.

I already had an article that I wrote marking the lifestyle event's beginnings, but that was only till the 1st year (2009). We decided to cap the whole thing by the event's 3rd year (2011), but still needed to thread in those missing seven years.

That wasn't easy. The Inquirer Lifestyle staff wasn't always available to provide or even confirm information for us. We can't blame them. Those people don't have lives of their own anymore. All they do is for the show and, not surprisingly, those translate into ratings. It's not all luck. It's a lot of hard work for them.

When Tessa gave birth to her third child, she was so busy she wasn't even aware that she had been pregnant for nine months. How she ever found time to get naughty with her husband that needs a full investigation. Call Mike Enriquez!

But given the very hectic schedules of everyone involved in this book, it was a miracle that we managed to call it a wrap by 2011.

This slice of newspaper history may not be the most accurate. But which one is?

To this day, we are still debating on the extent of Aguinaldo's involvement in the execution of Bonifacio. Or where was the first Mass in the Philippines really said?

Let us just continue acknowledging the contributions of Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion to Philippine lifestyle in newspapers, television, radio, film, music and local pop culture as a whole.

And there is no better way of paying homage to it than by coming up with this book that chronicles the story of this underdog of a program that triumphed in the end.

But this is not the end, but the beginning of another 3 years of continued success for the country's lifestyle event, the Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung.

The "Prayer of Commitment" (Religious Prayer) by A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations aired on TV and radio stations - the Filipino version is aired right after sign-on, and the English version is aired right before sign-off.

Tagalog Version (right after sign-on):

Makapangyarihang Diyos, sinasamba at pinapurihan namin kayo, dahil sa pagpapala kay Maria at sa babaeng lahat, at sa paglikha sa kanya na lubhang pinagpala.

Sa pamamagitan ni Maria tinatanggap naming ang inyong anak na nang isinilang ay naghatid sa amin / Na lubos na pagbabago ang mundo.

Nagpapalimos kami ng biyaya sa pamamagitan ng kanyang mga kamay upang ang kapayapaan ay maghari sa mundo at ang pagkakasundo ay mamayari sa lahat ng bansa.

Nanunumpa akong darasalin ang rosaryo araw-araw hanggang maari ay kasama ang mag-anak para sa lahat ng bansa sa mundo, upang ang digmaan ay magwakas, ang gutom ay magsupo, ang karahasan ay putulin, ang kapayapaan ay maghari at tanging pag-ibig mo at awa lamang ang mamayani.

Nanunumpa akong mamumuhay sa inyong grasya, iiwas sa lahat ng daan ng kasalanan, at tatanggap ng Banal na Komunion, hanggang kaya ng aking katayuan sa bahay, upang ang inyong ngalan ay luwalhatiin, sa inyong harapan, aming Hari ng Kapayapaan, kami ay sasamba, magpuri at magpasalamat, sa iyo ngayon at magpasawalang-hanggan. Amen.

English Version (right before sign-off):
Prayer of Commitment

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise you for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth had made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary everyday, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you God of Peace in worship, adoration and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 99

EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 99 - PRESCRIBING GUIDELINES ON THE PERFORMANCE OF THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

WHEREAS, the musical arrangement and composition of the Philippine National Anthem as set by its author, Julian Felipe, was adopted under Commonwealth Act No. 382 approved by the First National Assembly on September 5, 1938, which was reiterated in Section 13, Book I of the Administrative Code of 1987;

WHEREAS, Commonwealth Act No. 634, approved on June 10, 1941 by the Second National Assembly, amending Commonwealth Act No. 382, imposed a penalty of a fine of not less than twenty five nor more than one thousand pesos, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, for the first offense, and both fine and imprisonment for the second and additional offense, for disrespect to the Philippine National Anthem by utterance in speech, writing or drawing, and any act or omission casting dishonor, ridicule, and contempt upon the Philippines National Anthem as well as its use in places of ill-repute or for purposes involving disrespect;

WHEREAS, there is at present a proliferation inappropriate renditions of the National Anthem with different tempos, melodies, harmonies, embellishments, or syllabication of specific words, and thus, there is a felt need to preserve the arrangement and composition of the Philippine National Anthem as set by its author, Julian Felipe, and to attain uniform performance thereof in the Philippines as a manifestation of national unity, cohesion, nationalism patriotism, and pride of country and people; and

WHEREAS, there is an imperative need to reinforce and expand upon the prescribed rules and guidelines on the performance of the Philippine National Anthem.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FIDEL V. RAMOS, President of the Republic of the Philippines, by virtue of the powers vested in me by law, do hereby order:

Section 1. The performance of the Philippine National Anthem, whether played or sung, shall be in accordance with the musical arrangement and composition of Julian Felipe, as adopted under Commonwealth Act No. 382, and reiterated in Section 13 of Book I of the Administrative Code of 1987, and as made available and distributed by the Department of Education, Culture and Sports.

Sec. 2. Whenever the National Anthem is played at a public gathering, whether by a band or by singing or both, or reproduced through a sound system, the attending public shall be enjoined to sing the National Anthem with feeling and fervor. As a sign of respect, all persons shall be enjoined to stand at attention and face the Philippine flag, if there is one displayed, and at the first note, execute a salute by placing their right palms over their left chests. Those in military, scouting, citizens military training and security guard uniforms shall give the salute prescribed by their regulations. The salute shall be completed upon the last note of the national Anthem. The National Anthem shall not be played and sung for mere recreation, amusement or entertainment purposes.

Sec. 3. All officials and employees of the Government, and any subdivision, agency or instrumentality thereof, including government-owned or controlled corporations and government institutions of learning are hereby directed to comply strictly with the rules prescribed herein for the performance of the Philippine National Anthem, during the opening or start of all state celebrations or gatherings and during other public acts of official or semi-official character and formal ceremonies of civic nature. All heads of said offices are further directed to circularize this Executive Order within their respective areas of influence. Any official or employee who fails to perform his duties under this Executive Order shall be administratively dealt with in accordance with law.

Sec. 4. The Department of Education, Culture and Sports shall ensure that the National Anthem, as adopted by law, shall be committed to memory by all elementary school pupils, public and private, and performed during the flag ceremony conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations issued by the Department. In addition, it shall make available the vocal, piano or band scores of the National Anthem, as adopted by law, to all private and public schools, as well as the general public and concerned entities.

Sec. 5. The playing of the National Anthem for sign-on and sign-off purposes in AM and FM radio stations and free-to-air and cable television channels shall be the joint responsibility of the Office of the Press Secretary under the Office of the President and the Kagawaran ng mga Brodkasters sa Pilipinas, while that for cinema houses shall be the joint responsibility of the Motion Picture and Television Review and Classification Board and the Movie Producers and Distributors Association of the Philippines.

Sec. 6. This Executive Order shall take effect immediately. All executive orders, rules and regulations or portions thereof inconsistent with this Order are hereby repealed or modified accordingly.

DONE in the City of Manila, this 12th day of June in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Ninety-Three.

Candidates hoping to get the coveted blessing of the El Shaddai Catholic charismatic movement will have to reveal their SALN first before they get the backing of the influential sect.

TV evangelist and El Shaddai leader Bro. Mike Velarde said he would make the submission of SALNs (statements of assets, liabilities and net worth) a requirement among politicians seeking his support in the 2013 polls.

"I will require them to submit their SALN, which was the basis of their verdict. As simple as that. Let us see who is telling the truth," said Velarde on the sidelines of the 6th National Catholic Charismatic Congress in Pasay City on Thursday.

The Catholic charismatic group, which has roughly five million members, has been widely perceived to vote as a bloc, which is why many politicians vying for elective seats seek its endorsement.

Velarde disclosed that this early, some politicians have already been sending feelers to obtain his endorsement. One of them was Vice President Jejomar Binay, who paid him a visit in January and hinted at his need for the movement's support, he said.

"He didn't just make his presence felt but he also said it ... he told me not to forget him," Velarde told reporters but did not elaborate.

Asked if the senatorial slate of Binay's UNA coalition would be getting El Shaddai's support, Velarde said they would have to scrutinize the candidates' character, background and most importantly, their SALNs.

Coca-Cola concert

Once again, Coca-Cola made history, dahlings, with the massive "Coca-Cola Concert ng Bayan" to celebrate its awesome 100th year in the Philippines.

ARRAN "Caloy" Sese of the Coca-Cola Happiness campaign enjoys the concert.

The concert drew close to 40,000 viewers at the SM Mall of Asia Concert Grounds and was shown live nationwide at SM malls in Baguio, Lucena, Cebu and Davao, streamed via coca-cola.com.ph, allowing the world to be part of this incredible energizing music festival, palanggas.

"This 'Coca-Cola Concert ng Bayan' is our gift to the Filipino teens whose positive spirit, refreshing creativity and passion for happiness have always been indestructible," said Guillermo Aponte, president and general manager of Coca-Cola Philippines.

"The last 100 years would not have been a success if not for the Filipinos who made Coca-Cola part of their everyday lives."

Some 20 bands and world-class artists performed.

TV hosts Robi Domingo, Jose Manalo and Wally Bayola, Monster RX 93.1 DJ Gino Quillamor and MYX VJs Mike Advincula, Joyce Pring, Chino Lui-Pio and Bianca Roque gave tons of Coca-Cola products and other premium items to raffle winners.

The concert signaled the start of a summer filled with even bigger surprises as the 100th year celebration of Coca-Cola gets to a whole new high.

Kahit takot sa karayom, hindi ininda ni Enchong Dee ang mag-donate ng dugo kanina sa Department of Health.

Ito'y kasabay na rin ng apela ng Red Cross para sa blood donation dala ng paglobo ng may dengue.

Batid ni Enchong ang hirap ng magka-dengue lalo't 2 beses na siyang nagkasakit nito.

"Twice parehong August 15. Since feeling ko naman healthy ako this year at hindi ako magkaka-dengue, mag-give back naman ako ng kaunti para pagbigyan ako ni Lord na huwag ako magkasakit this year," sabi ni Enchong.

Hindi raw biro ang magka-dengue lalo't ito'y nakamamatay.

"Pataas ng pataas ang incidents ng dengue victims so ito, small something for them," sabi ni Enchong.

Ayon kay Dr. Andres Bonifacio ng Philippine Blood Center, kinakailangan ng humigit kumulang 900,000 blood donors sa dami ng dengue victims.

Malapit na raw maabot ang target na ito pero hindi raw dapat maging kampante.

"Since ang shelf life ng ating collected blood doon is only 35 days. Therefore, we need to get involved and therefore we have to be a regular donor," sabi ni Dr. Bonifacio.

Hinihikayat din ni Enchong ang ibang taga-showbiz na magdonate ng dugo.

"Malaki pala ang needle compared sa injection lang. Mas masakit ang kagat ng lamok para sa akin," sabi ni Enchong.

Ikalawang beses na ito ni Enchong at patuloy diumanong magdo-donate ng dugo hanggang makakaya niya.

Enchong Dee, naglibot sa Paris

Kamakailan ay nagpunta si Enchong Dee sa Paris para makapagbakasyon at para na rin makapag-celebrate ng kanyang birthday kasama ang kanyang mga kaibigan at manager na si Keren Pascual.

November 5 ang talagang birthday ni Enchong. "I went to Paris October 31st tapos we stayed until November 7 kaya doon na rin ako nakapag-celebrate ng birthday. Ang saya dahil first time ko in Europe eh," bungad ng binata.

Ano kaya ang ginawa ni Enchong kasama ang mga kaibigan for one week sa Paris? "Noong unang day namin, Arc De Triomphe, tapos nagpunta kaagad kami sa Eiffel tower. Tapos saktung-sakto kasi biglang nag-sparkle 'yung Eiffel tower while we were walking going there. Ang galing dahil parang welcome thing sa amin ni Lord. We went to Notre Dame, tapos noong birthday ko rin ay may pinuntahan kaming church sa taas ng Paris tapos ay doon ako nagdasal, nakaka-amaze. 'Yung eksaktong birthday ko talaga, I went sa Louvre, kay Mona Lisa, nakakatawa kasi may mga nakikita akong Pinoy, pero usually kung saan ako makulit wala dun sila, so takbo ako nang takbo, kuha lang ako nang kuha ng pictures and sobrang memorable," nakangiting kuwento pa ni Enchong. By this time, I was in my home on November 4 to 5, 2010, the "Philippine Daily Inquirer"'s Thursday and Friday's issues was failed to catch its reading because of the 22nd birthday celebration of Enchong Dee in Paris, France and the last week of TV Patrol with Ted Failon, Karen Davila and Julius Babao (on vacation)... Maurice Arcache's "Without Batting an Eyelash" column was not publish on the 5th (first Friday of the November, 2010), he is on assignment.

I really so missed the "Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung" fashion show with Senator Pia Cayetano, Rina Go, Paolo Abrera and himself (Enchong Dee) held at the Rigodon Ballroom of the Peninsula Manila in Makati City on July 31, 2008.

TV anchor Paolo Abrera attacked the hillside legs of the Vaseline Men Xterra Offroad Triathlon Series in the scenic coastal municipality of Liloan, Cebu. The 41-year-old triathlete finished sixth in his age group with a record of 4:07.

While some triathletes set their sights on the Olympic standard—under three hours—Abrera was content to just get enthusiastic about the sport again. He was engaged in it for nearly two decades, but the same activities can get a little stagnant over time.

"There were years when I lost interest and didn't participate. A few years later, I got motivated, I went through cycles. Two years ago, some friends wanted to get started. It sparked my interest in training and participating in the events again. You have to find something fresh to keep you interested," he said. Many triathletes go on because they are eager to test the limits of their endurance and hope to master running, cycling and swimming in their lifetime. Abrera enjoys simply working hard at three sports which provide diversity and balance to his life.

The recent Vaseline Men Xterra Offroad Triathlon Series in a resort town was—figuratively and literally—a breath of fresh air for him. "An offroad triathlon is a new thing here. Normally, triathlons are on the road. The bike and running courses were on mountain trails so it was more challenging for people accustomed to road triathlons," he said. He added that the offroad series raised the bar for triathlons in the country.

Abrera found the mountain bike trial difficult because of the uneven terrain. "You need to expend more energy to control the bike," he said.

Getting rid of baby fat

Abrera first became interested in endurance sports at the age of 14. Wanting to get rid of his baby fat, he took up cycling. "Aside from addressing my weight problem, it gave me a sense of adventure. I discovered many places even if I couldn't drive yet," he said. He joined small groups that took biking trips to Antipolo and Tagaytay.

In the early '90s, he featured triathletes in the now defunct sports show "Game Plan." Intrigued by their intense drive to excel in three sports, Abrera made his foray.

"It was daunting when I started. I didn't have much of a swim. I had to clean up my strokes and get comfortable in water," he recalled.

"Triathlon was in its infancy in the Philippines then. People were discovering the best ways to train, the best nutrition plan. You worked out as much and as often as you could. Everybody was caught up with carbo loading. My idea was eating platefuls of pasta before a race. It never worked," he said.

Today, the training is more scientific, as non-pros and elite athletes are engaging in sports periodization, or changing the training program at regular periods to keep the body working harder, while still giving it enough rest. "Recovery is an important part of the training process," Abrera added.

While competing, he pops a couple of energy gels and eschews the power bars, which he finds difficult to digest. "If you eat well leading up to the race, you don't need much energy pick-ups," he said.

The injuries—low back pain, patellar tendonitis (jumper's knee), inflamed tissues under the foot, sprains, bumps and bruises—were his mementos of the events.

No bonking

His body musculature can trip him up in other sports. Since cycling is his forte, he developed large quadriceps muscles, which a runner doesn't need because it adds extra muscle weight in the legs. A cyclist's torso is light and compact, while a swimmer needs large back muscles and shoulders. Hence, Abrera spends more time training for both.

He trains for 12-14 weeks before a triathlon. Waking up at 5:30 a.m., he does strength training—a combination of traditional weight resistance, TRX suspension workout and plyometrics, a program which involves explosive moments and muscle elasticity.

Trying to be efficient with his time, he runs for five kilometers thrice a week and 10 km on weekends ("It's not long compared with others," he said.) Sometimes he joins his teammates or triathlete friends on cycling rides out of town. Abrera also bikes from his house in Parañaque to ABS-CBN in Quezon City.

"Triathlon is about dedicating the time to meet the minimum requirements. You've got to be religious with your mileage and intervals." His best record is an Olympic distance of 2:40 in a triathlon held in Subic.

"That was a few years ago when I had youth on my side. I was motivated and I focused my time on training," he said.

However, maturity has its benefits. "Your recovery time and anaerobic threshold are higher when you're younger. But as you mature, you can be more disciplined in racing and training. You have increased mental stamina, a better grip and more experience to draw from," he said.

He pointed out that while the younger one has explosive power, a mature athlete builds more slow-twitch muscle fibers which are good for endurance activities like long-distance running or cycling.

Abrera adds that he's got a better sense of pacing. "I know my body's limit. I don't bonk—push too hard that you run out of speed in the middle of the race and end up fatigued. I know how to spread out my strength and endurance. There's no need to prove anything to myself, so I just enjoy the challenge of the race."

Meanwhile, Enchong excitedly talked about his first trip to Europe recently.

Enchong celebrated his 22nd birthday in Paris last Nov. 5. He and his group, composed of friends and manager Keren Pascual, left for Paris Oct. 31.

"We stayed until Nov. 7 kaya doon ako nag-celebrate ng birthday ko. Ang saya kasi first time ko in Europe," he shared.

"Nu'ng unang day namin nagpunta kami sa Arc de Triomphe. Then punta na kami kaagad sa Eiffel tower. Saktong-sakto kasi biglang nag-sparkle 'yung Eiffel Tower. Ang galing. Parang welcome thing sa akin ni Lord," the young actor recalled his first few days in Europe.

The trip was a memorable experience for the actor as it offered him the chance to explore France's famous landmarks.

"We went to Notre Dame. Me pinuntahan kaming church sa taas ng Paris (Madeliene Church). Noong exact birthday ko talaga we went to Louvre, kay Mona Lisa. Nakakatawa kasi may nakikita akong Pinoy pero usually kung saan ako makulit, wala sila. Takbo ako nang takbo, kuha lang ako nang kuha ng pictures. Sobrang memorable."

Prayer of Commitment (A Million Roses for the World Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations)

Almighty God, we adore You and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving now, and forever, Amen.

PANALANGIN SA IKATLO NG HAPON

Pumanaw ka, Hesus subalit ang bukal ng buhay ay bumalong para sa mga kaluluwa at karagatan ng awa ay bumugso para sa sanlibutan. O bukal ng buhay, Walang Hanggang Awa ng Diyos, yakapin mo ang sangkatauhan at ibuhos mong ganap ang iyong sarili para sa aming lahat.

O banal na Dugo at Tubig na dumaloy mula sa Puso ni Hesus bilang Bukal ng Awa para sa aming lahat, ako ay nananalig sa iyo.

Banal na Diyos, Banal na puspos ng kapangyarihan, Banal na walang Hanggan, maawa po kayo sa amin at sa buong sansinukob. (3x) Amen.

O Hesus, Hari ng Awa, Kami ay nananalig sa Iyo.

Cayetano: Naalala ko po noong 2004, humarap ako sayo upang humingi ako ng tulong para sayo sa isang mahirap na desisyon sa aking buhay at ang hindi po ako biguin sa tulong po ng Panginoong Diyos at kayo, binigay po kayo sa akin ang ibinigay niyo rin pagmamahal sa industriya. Dahil dyan, yan po ang gabay hindi kayo biguin, sa pangalawang termino sa Senado noong Hunyo 30, 2010, ako po ay nakiisa sa mga magandang layunin at lumaban at alam ko pong makakasama sa ating bansa. Hindi po madali magiging public servant, laging may batikos, laging may paninira, pero ginaya ko po lahat ng iyon, kahit masakit sa amin at sa aking pamilya. Dahil ako pong naniniwala kayo hindi totoong iyong at kilala mo ako. Hindi rin po ang gawing pag-paalam na ito, nguit hindi alam ko pa-baon ko ang dasal n'yo, walang urungan ito, parang Eat Bulaga ito, laban ng laban walang bawi.

Dito sa Inquirer Lifestyle, maraming pangarap ay natupad, mga sandali ng pagwawagi, tayo din sa pagkakaton ito magtulong-tulong tayo para pambansa natin ang manalo. Salamat Po.

Paolo Abrera: Mula sa Senator Cayetano, kasama ang asawang na si Atty. Arilen Sebastian, nasa bahay sa Ayala Alabang, Muntinlupa

Senator Pia Cayetano: Sa pag-paalam ko po, nais ko iwan kong pangakong ito, si Paolo Abrera, si Marco Protacio sa lahat po dito sa "Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung" at kayo po lahat, Ang Pia sa na kasama po sa halos dalawa at kalahating taon ng puwersa ng masang Pilipino sa pamumuhay at libangan, yan din po ang Pia noon, ang Pia ngayon na maglilingkod sa'yo, ang Pia noon, ang Pia ngayon, siya rin sa darating pang panahon

Paolo Abrera: Mula Batanes hanggang Jolo, saan ka man, nandito ang Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung, para sa inyong lahat at narito kami para sa iyo, Pia Cayetano

Tagalog Version with Theme Song (minus-one) (right after Philippine National Anthem and before the sign-on station notice):

Prayer of Commitment: A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Makapangyarihang Diyos, sinasamba at pinapurihan namin kayo, dahil sa pagpapala kay Maria at sa babaeng lahat, at sa paglikha sa kanya na lubhang pinagpala.

Sa pamamagitan ni Maria tinatanggap naming ang inyong anak na nang isinilang ay naghatid sa amin na lubos na pagbabago ang mundo.

Nagpapalimos kami ng biyaya sa pamamagitan ng kanyang mga kamay upang ang kapayapaan ay maghari sa mundo at ang pagkakasundo ay mamayari sa lahat ng bansa.
Nanunumpa akong darasalin ang rosaryo araw-araw hanggang maari ay kasama ang mag-anak para sa lahat ng bansa sa mundo, upang ang digmaan ay magwakas, ang gutom ay magsupo, ang karahasan ay putulin, ang kapayapaan ay maghari at tanging pag-ibig mo at awa lamang ang mamayani.
Nanunumpa akong mamumuhay sa inyong grasya, iiwas sa lahat ng daan ng kasalanan, at tatanggap ng Banal na Komunion, hanggang kaya ng aking katayuan sa bahay, upang ang inyong ngalan ay luwalhatiin, sa inyong harapan, aming Hari ng Kapayapaan, kami ay sasamba, magpuri at magpasalamat, sa iyo ngayon at magpasawalang-hanggan. Amen.

Prayer of Commitment (A Million Roses for the World Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations)

Almighty God, we adore You and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving now, and forever, Amen.

PRAYER AT THE HOUR OF MERCY:

(The 3 o'clock Prayer with the Chaplet of the Divine Mercy)

+ In the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.
Amen.

You expired, Jesus, but the source of life gushed forth for souls and the ocean of mercy opened up for the whole world.
O Fountain of Life, unfathomable Divine Mercy, envelop the whole world and empty Yourself out upon us.

O Blood and Water, which gushed forth from the Heart of Jesus as a fountain of mercy for us,
I trust in You. (3x)

Our Father in heaven,
Holy be Your Name;
Your kingdom come,
Your will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us our sins,
as we forgive those who sin against us;
and do not bring us to the test,
but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary, full of grace.
Our Lord is with you.
Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus.

Holy Mary, Mother of God,
pray for us sinners,
now and at the hour of our death.
Amen.

I believe in God,
the Father almighty,
Creator of heaven and earth,
I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, he was conceived by the Power of the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary,
He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into the dead;

on the third day he rose again;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of the Father; he will come again to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy Catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen.

Eternal Father, I offer You the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Your dearly beloved Son, Our Lord Jesus Christ, in atonement for our sins and those of the whole world.

For the sake of His sorrowful Passion, have mercy on us and on the whole world. (10x)

(Repeat Eternal...and For the sake...for all five decades).

Conclude with (three times):
Holy God, Holy Mighty One, Holy Immortal One, have mercy on us and on the whole world.

Jesus, King of Mercy, We trust in You!

+ In the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.
Amen. See More

An Asian edition of the show, The 700 Club Asia, originally premiered in the Philippines in the mid-1990s on GMA 7 or Global Media Arts . It was originally produced and hosted by Pat Robertson's son, Gordon Robertson, and co-hosted by broadcaster Mari Kaimo, and Philippine TV personality Coney Reyes.

In 1998, Reyes took over as host and producer of the show, with Tricia Amper Jimenez as co-host. When Reyes left the show in 2000 for medical reasons, it was retooled as The Club, hosted by Jimenez, Peter Kairuz and Carla Martinez.

In 2001, the show reverted to its old format and moved to ABS-CBN 2 (a network unrelated to Pat Robertson's CBN and the arch-rival network of GMA 7) and ABC 5 (a network unrelated to the American or Australian networks), where it aired on its sister station, Studio 23. Kairuz remained as host with veteran singer Maria Teresa "Dulce" Llamado-Cruz and TV personality Chat Silayan-Bailon (1959–2006), who later died of colon cancer.

In 2006, the show moved to GMA's sister station, QTV 11. Kairuz was retained hosts the show, with Reyes returning to co-host. The show also features Sis. Kata Inocencio, Maricel Laxa-Pangilinan, Alex Tinsay and Felichi Pangilinan-Buizon.

Since QTV-11 went off the air, the show was carried over GMA News TV and began airing there on February 28, 2011.

Consistent, top-rating TV shows, a multimillion peso hit movie, a string of big endorsements, a handful of upcoming projects that are surely as huge, a legion of die-hard fans and a wonderful family life; just some of the best reasons why today's it-boy Enchong Dee should be celebrating.

And that's exactly what happened last November 14, 2010 at The Commissary/Whitespace Events Hall, Makati City when he gathered friends and colleagues for a special moment of thanksgiving and celebration for all the wonderful things and opportunities he's been blessed with throughout the year. The young actor's birthday party proved to be a perfect break from an incredibly hectic sked and a relaxing time to hang out with friends who have stood by him as he made his every dream happen.

Some of the personalities with the birthday boy were ABS-CBN Star Magic's Mariole Alberto, vice president for ABS-CBN International Leo Katigbak actors and friends Zanjoe Marudo, Janus del Prado, Sam Concepcion, Rodjun Cruz, David Chua and Joseph Marco among others. The popular leading gorgeous leading ladies Bea Alonzo, Melissa Ricks, Bianca Manalo, Kit-Kat, Phoemela Baranda and Liz Uy were also there to make the night even more special.

Guests were refreshed non-stop by Hennessy, the perfect blend of a venerable cognac and the zing of fruity flavors.

A prized talent of ABS-CBN Star Magic, Enchong was discovered as a champion swimmer for the De La Salle University where he was a three-time most valuable player and seven-time gold medalist in the men's swimming division of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP). He started out appearing in supporting roles in various TV dramas which eventually led him to becoming a sought-after endorser for various brands. Enchong endorses some of the country's most reputable brands such as Bench, Coca-Cola, Real Leaf Green Tea, Lucky Me and Convergys.

It wasn't until the primetime soap Katorse that he was "accidentally" paired up with Erich Gonzales and they clicked as a love team. A string of bigger projects followed such as Tanging Yaman, a political drama launched prior to the May 2010 elections and Magkaribal, dubbed a "fashion-serye" with Bea Alonzo, Derek Ramsay, Angel Aquino and Gretchen Barretto.

It was really a time to throw all our inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe in us, but not before Enchong blew out the candles on his cake for another great, successful and totally happy year. And brought out as everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to greet Enchong. Happy birthday, Enchong Dee!

Prayer of Commitment (A Million Roses for the World Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations)

Almighty God, we adore You and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving now, and forever, Amen.

Remember Saksi 15 Minutes News With Mike Enriquez And Karen Davila

who would've thought that the original "saksi"--that snappy 15-minute newscast as we first knew it--would, among other things, make a household name out of TV "late-bloomer" mike enriquez (who by then already had some 20 years or so of radio experience under his belt before he crossed over to TV)?

TAPE bossman tony tuviera, if i remember right, was the first director of "saksi"...incidentally, at the time the newscast went on the air (october 1995), TAPE-produced programs "eat bulaga" and "valiente" had just been on GMA for about 10 months..."mr. t" would also serve as creative consultant for another GMA news-produced program, "brigada siete" (which EB co-host tito sotto started hosting after louie beltran died)...

if there's one thing that i wished the original "saksi" didn't start doing, though? 'yun 'yung pagpapatugtog ng theme music ng newscast in the background during almost the entire show--kahit habang may binabasang istorya o may naka-play na pre-recorded report. that became a practice that GMA news still continues to do even in the present iteration of "saksi" (and with its other newscasts)...even ABS also started doing that same practice on "TV patrol"...

Magandang gabi, si Vic de Leon-Lima, si senador Pia Cayetano po ito:

Cayetano: Naalala ko po noong 2004, humarap ako sayo upang humingi ako ng tulong para sayo sa isang mahirap na desisyon sa aking buhay at ang hindi po ako biguin sa tulong po ng Panginoong Diyos at kayo, binigay po kayo sa akin ang ibinigay niyo rin pagmamahal sa industriya. Dahil dyan, yan po ang gabay hindi kayo biguin, sa pangalawang termino sa Senado noong Hunyo 30, 2010, ako po ay nakiisa sa mga magandang layunin at lumaban at alam ko pong makakasama sa ating bansa. Hindi po madali magiging public servant, laging may batikos, laging may paninira, pero ginaya ko po lahat ng iyon, kahit masakit sa amin at sa aking pamilya. Dahil ako pong naniniwala kayo hindi totoong iyong at kilala mo ako. Hindi rin po ang gawing pag-paalam na ito, nguit hindi alam ko pa-baon ko ang dasal n'yo, walang urungan ito, parang Eat Bulaga ito, laban ng laban walang bawi.

Dito sa Inquirer Lifestyle, maraming pangarap ay natupad, mga sandali ng pagwawagi, tayo din sa pagkakaton ito magtulong-tulong tayo para pambansa natin ang manalo. Salamat Po.

Paolo Abrera: Mula sa Senator Cayetano, kasama ang asawang na si Atty. Arilen Sebastian, nasa bahay sa Ayala Alabang, Muntinlupa

Senator Pia Cayetano: Sa pag-paalam ko po, nais ko iwan kong pangakong ito, si Paolo Abrera, si Marco Protacio sa lahat po dito sa "Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung" at kayo po lahat, Ang Pia sa na kasama po sa halos dalawa at kalahating taon ng puwersa ng masang Pilipino sa pamumuhay at libangan, yan din po ang Pia noon, ang Pia ngayon na maglilingkod sa'yo, ang Pia noon, ang Pia ngayon, siya rin sa darating pang panahon

Paolo Abrera: Mula Batanes hanggang Jolo, saan ka man, nandito ang Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung, para sa inyong lahat at narito kami para sa iyo, Pia Cayetano

Meanwhile, Enchong excitedly talked about his first trip to Europe recently.

Enchong celebrated his 22nd birthday in Paris last November 5. He and his group, composed of friends and manager Keren Pascual, left for Paris October 31.

"We stayed until November 7 kaya doon ako nag-celebrate ng birthday ko. Ang saya kasi first time ko in Europe," he shared.

"Nu'ng unang day namin nagpunta kami sa Arc de Triomphe. Then punta na kami kaagad sa Eiffel tower. Saktong-sakto kasi biglang nag-sparkle 'yung Eiffel Tower. Ang galing. Parang welcome thing sa akin ni Lord," the young actor recalled his first few days in Europe.

The trip was a memorable experience for the actor as it offered him the chance to explore France's famous landmarks.

"We went to Notre Dame. Me pinuntahan kaming church sa taas ng Paris (Madeliene Church). Noong exact birthday ko talaga we went to Louvre, kay Mona Lisa. Nakakatawa kasi may nakikita akong Pinoy pero usually kung saan ako makulit, wala sila. Takbo ako nang takbo, kuha lang ako nang kuha ng pictures. Sobrang memorable."

The government has put on hold the P9.76-billion LRT (Light Rail Transit) East Extension project pending results of a study that would determine the viability of the railway project.

President Aquino “wanted to make sure that there will be sufficient or enough market to serve the extended railway project,” Transportation Secretary Manuel Roxas II said on Wednesday.

The Department of Transportation and Communications will spearhead the project, which involves a 4.2-kilometer railway system that will extend LRT Line 2 all the way to Masinag in Antipolo City. There will be two additional stations to be constructed: Emerald Station in front of Robinsons Place Metro East in Cainta, Rizal, and Masinag Station at Masinag Junction in Antipolo City.

A source said the study was almost done and that the next step was to get a consultant to prepare the preliminary design and assist in the bidding and in the construction. “The publication of the bidding for the consultant was supposed to take place on June 11 but was put on hold because the Neda [National Economic and Development Authority] was asking for population data,” the source added.

Neda Deputy Director General Rolando Tungpalan earlier said the LRT extension project will provide rapid and reliable mode of transit to the east of Manila and to various strategic commercial, industrial and educational districts in Metro Manila, the National Capital Region.

There are two existing LRT lines. Line 1 spans the Baclaran (Pasay City)-Monumento (Caloocan City) route. Line 2 is a 13.8-kilometer railway that runs from Santolan in Pasig City to Recto Station in Santa Cruz, Manila.

There were also plans for a Line 2 extension by about 1.62 kilometers westward from Recto Station until Delpan Street in front of Tutuban up to Divisoria Mall in Manila’s Binondo district. One additional station will be built in front of Divisoria Shopping Mall.

Prayer of Commitment

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore You and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving now, and forever. Amen.

Johansen Aguilar set a new Philippine record when he captured the gold medal in the backstroke event of the recent UAAP swimming championships held at the Trace Aquatics in Los Baños, Laguna.

Aguilar, a second year De La Salle University student, smashed the 50-meter backstroke record with a time of 27.54 seconds.

The 5-foot-11 Aguilar broke the 27.94 mark set by national team member Ryan Paolo Arabejo in 2008 in a competition held in Speedo, Lauderdale, United States.

In setting the new RP record, the 18-year-old Aguilar also posted a new UAAP record in the backstroke event. He also smashed the UAAP records in the 100m and 200m backstroke events by clocking 59.58 seconds and two minutes and 9.67 seconds, respectively.

The previous record in the 100m was 101.47 seconds while the 200m 2:10.67.

Aside from topping the 50m backstroke in UAAP, Aguilar also ruled 200m individual medley and the 200m butterfly. He also won silver in the 100m butterfly, and bronze in the 100m freestyle.

Swimmers Johansen Benedict Aguilar and Kendrick Uy gave the UAAP-Philippines contingent its fourth and fifth gold medals on Wednesday in the 15th ASEAN University Games in Chiang Mai, Thailand.

Uy, who led University of the Philippines to the men's swim title last September, ruled the 50-meter men's freestyle event while Aguilar, a La Salle standout and a former UAAP Rookie of the Year, took the 200-meter men's backstroke.

Uy posted a time of 23.75 seconds to beat Malaysian star Daniel William Henry Bego by .16 seconds while Aguilar edged another Malaysian in Melvin Chua Bao Quan by clocking 2:10.52 seconds.

Uy and Aguilar are two of the promising swimmers in the country today.

Aguilar, the country's record holder in the 50m backstroke, also accounted for three bronze medals – 50-meter and 100-meter backstroke categories and 200-meter individual medley.

Going to the final day, the PH contingent now have five gold, four silver and 22 bronze medals.

Host Thailand is way ahead in the standings with 51-58-48 tally followed by Indonesia (46-49-48), Malaysia (37-34-43) and Vietnam (33-16-12).

Other winners were bowler Jayson Tubid, swimmer Denjylie Cordero (200-meter breaststroke) and taekwondo jin Jade Zafra (57kg-62kg) It was Uy's second medal in this tourney after winning bronze in the 100-meter men's freestyle.

Broadcast journalist Ted Failon investigates the plight of Pinoy athletes who, after participating in the Palarong Pambansa, end up nowhere due to lack of support from the government this Saturday (May 12) in "Failon Ngayon."

Ted listens to the story of Omar Ladzikan who will join Palarong Pambansa for the first time and compete in the sport Sepak Takraw. Omar depends on playing the said sport to be able to finish his studies.

Jeric Mercado, on the other hand, is on his third time joining the baseball in the Palarong Pambansa, but with his family's lack of financial means to support his needs, he will go to the games using his broken shoes.

They are not alone in this ordeal because there are also many children who have trouble reaching their dreams of becoming athletes because of the lack of cooperation and support from the government. How will they be able to compete in various sports events? How will they finish their studies? What are the actions being taken by the government to solve the problem?

Watch Ted's full report this Saturday (May 12) on "Failon Ngayon", 4:30 pm on ABS-CBN

The National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA) board has given the green light to a super terminal that would connect Metro Manila's elevated railway systems.

In a statement, NEDA said its board, which is chaired by President Noyonoy Aquino \(P-Noy\), approved the endorsement made by the agency's Investment Coordination Committee (NEDA-ICC) on the Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT 1) North Extension Project.

The project was reevaluated to provide for an integrated terminal or the Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal (MMIRT), which will link LRT 1 to the existing Metro Rail Transit Line 3 (MRT 3) and the proposed MRT 7.

The MMIRT, which will be located in front of SM North EDSA Annex, aims to provide a common terminal for easy passenger transfer between the three overhead railway lines.

It also intends to close the MRT 3—LRT 1 loop with a provision for a possible seamless rail operation of the two.

"As such, there will be an alignment of MRT 3, shortening of the LRT Line 1 North Extension guide way and modifying the design of the EDSA North Avenue station of MRT 7," NEDA said.

The total budgetary requirement for the MMIRT amounts to about P777.60 million. The proposal for the common terminal is targeted for completion by May next year, and is expected to begin operations on August of the same year.

Malacañang has ordered the speedy completion of nine ongoing railway projects worth P282.65 billion as well as new roads and bridges this year in a bid to unclog busy highways and crowded city centers particularly Metro Manila.

Presidential Management Staff chief Cerge Remonde said the government's renewed focus on infrastructure development is meant to boost economic growth and create employment in the face of an expected economic slowdown this year.

"We believe that the most urgent challenge the administration is facing right now is finding ways to mitigate and cushion the effects of the global financial crisis on the economy, and sustain the economic gains our country had achieved," Remonde said in an interview.

Remonde said the government is implementing nine modern railway projects across the country, eight of which are located in the Luzon Urban Beltway, as part of its ambitious goal to decongest Metro Manila by 2010 under the "Beat the Odds" program.

He said the new railway systems are expected not only to speed up travel but also to interconnect North and South Luzon and close the Light Rail Transit (LRT) and Metro Rail Transit (MRT) loop.

The Luzon rail projects are the LRT Line 1 North Extension; LRT Line 1 South Extension from Baclaran to Bacoar; LRT Line 2 East Extension Project in Masinag, Antipolo; MRT 3 Capacity Expansion; MRT 7; the Northrail Project; Northrail- Southrail Linkage; and Southrail Project Phase I.

The only railway project outside Luzon is the Southrail Project Phases 1B and 2 in Central Philippines.

"Once these railways are completed, they are expected to provide cheaper and faster alternative mode of transportation," Remonde said.

He said the Northrail Project will reduce travel time from Caloocan to Clark in Pampanga by an hour and 49 minutes. The Northrail-Southrail linkage will make travel from Caloocan City to Calamba, Laguna shorter by an hour and 20 minutes.

On the other hand, travel time from Calamba to Lucena City in Quezon will be shortened from three hours and 21 minutes to 1 hour and 41 minutes once the Southrail project is completed.

The MRT 7 is expected to cut travel time from Caloocan to North Avenue by almost an hour, while the LRT Line 1 North and South extensions will also shorten travel time for commuters, Remonde added.

Remonde said the government will also aggressively implement the construction and improvement of roads and bridges across the country. Majority of the projects are being implemented by the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH).

The C5 Expressway (NLEX-SLEX Link) and the South Luzon Expressway Extension (SLEX) Project are being handled by the Toll Regulatory Board, while the Daang-Hari SLEX Link will be implemented by the National Development Company (NDC).

The EDSA Rehabilitation Project is under the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority while the Metro Manila Skyway Stage 2 is being developed by Citra Metro Manila Tollways Corporation.

He said the DPWH and the Office of the Solicitor General have started work on the right-of-way acquisition for Segment 8.1 (Mindanao Avenue to NLEX) of the C5 NLEX- SLEX Link.

The Toll Road 1 (Alabang Viaduct) of the South Luzon Expressway Project was opened to the public last November, while civil works on Toll Road 2 (Sta. Rosa to Calamba) and Toll Road 3 (Calamba to Sto. Tomas, Batangas) are ongoing.

Advance work is being undertaken on the Metro Manila Skyway Stage 2, while pre-construction activities are being prepared by the NDC for the DaangHari Project.

In another measure to decongest Metro Manila, Remonde said the government is pursuing decentralization through the transfer and establishment of new government centers outside the metropolis.

"These new centers shall serve as catalysts of growth by facilitating the entry of investments and other economic activities and eventually create new hubs for business and housing as counter magnets to the National Capital Region," he said.

He said the operations of some government agencies are gradually being transferred to various regions. These include the Department of Agriculture to Isabela; Department of Tourism to Cebu City; Department of Agrarian Reform (DAR) to Davao City; Department of Transportation and Communications (DOTC) to Clark, Pampanga; DPWH to Bicol; and Department of National Defense to Mindanao or Lucena City.

Due to changes in the plan to simply link the Light Rail Transit (LRT) Line 1 extension to the Metro Rail Transit (MRT) North Avenue station in order to connect two of Metro Manila's major railways its targeted May 2010 opening may have to be pushed back.

LRT Authority (LRTA) Administrator Melquiades Robles said the delay in the project's completion was due to a recent order to build a so-called "grand station" in front of SM North EDSA Mall, which will be in close proximity to the existing MRT's North Avenue station that's connected to Trinoma Mall

The P6.4 billion LRT-MRT Loop Project is intended to connect the Baclaran (Paranaque) -Monumento (Caloocan City) LRT Line 1 system to the Pasay City-Quezon City MRT system by constructing a new 5.4-kilometer viaduct along EDSA with three new stations namely, the Balintawak, Roosevelt and North Avenue stations.

Started in July 2008, the project will connect the north ends of Metro Manila's two busiest train lines which combined presently ferry about a million passengers a day.

When completed some 684,000 commuters are projected to use the MRT everyday from the present 400,000 and the loop will cut traffic congestion on EDSA would be by as much as fifty percent

LRT Line 1's Taft Avenue station is presently linked to the MRT's Taft Avenue station at both systems' southern end in Pasay City.

But the new order calls for the constructing of a grand station that will act as a three-way link between LRT Line 1, MRT and the planned LRT Line 7 which is envisioned to span from Quezon City, passing through North and Commonwealth Avenues, to San Jose Del Monte in Bulacan province.

"SM North EDSA was seen as the best location for the three lines to converge. That's why we had to divert the LRT extension," Robles said.

She stressed that this will affect the Loop's original May opening but not the partial completion with the opening of the Balintawak and Roosevelt stations scheduled end of February.

Running entirely on electricity will make the closed loop train system fast, efficient, safe and environment friendly.

The interconnection will allow seamless travel all over Metro Manila through the LRT Line 1, the MRT and the LRT Line 2 which transports commuters from Pasig City to Quiapo District in Manila passing through Marcos Highway and Aurora and Ramon Magsaysay Boulevards.

Arsenio Balisacan is the new NEDA chief, because the presentation of the project before the NEDA Board, which President Noynoy Aquino (P-Noy) chairs.

Recto said Vice President Jejomar "jojo" Binay has proposed to the transport department the transfer of the planned Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal (MMIRT) to the empty National Housing Authority (NHA) property near TriNoma Mall, operated by Ayala Land Inc. (ALI).

Earlier, the NEDA Cabinet Committee approved the P777.6 million MMIRT project to be constructed in front of SM North Edsa Annex.

The MMIRT aims to provide a common terminal for easy passenger transfer between Metro Rail Transit Line 3 (MRT 3) and Line 7 (MRT 7), as well as the Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT 1), which is being extended from its Monumento terminal.

Ayala, SM groups tussle over MRT grand terminal

By Darwin G. Amojela, Senior Reporter

THE National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA) Board has deferred the approval of the construction of the Grand Central Terminal for the three mass rail transits (MRT) near SM North EDSA as a rival mall operator lobbied to relocate the station close to its area.

Socioeconomic Planning Secretary and NEDA Director-General Cayetano Paderanga, Jr. said the Department of Transportation and Communications (DOTC) suspended the presentation of the project before the NEDA Board, which President Noynoy Aquino \(P-Noy\) chairs.

Recto said Vice President Jejomar "Jojo" Binay has proposed to the transport department the transfer of the planned Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal (MMIRT) to the empty National Housing Authority (NHA) property near TriNoma Mall, operated by Ayala Land Inc. (ALI).

Earlier, the NEDA Cabinet Committee approved the P777.6 million MMIRT project to be constructed in front of SM North EDSA Annex.

The MMIRT aims to provide a common terminal for easy passenger transfer between Metro Rail Transit Line 3 (MRT 3) and Line 7 (MRT 7), as well as the Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT 1), which is being extended from its Monumento terminal.

At the Vice President's instance, Recto met with Antonio Aquino, ALI president, to discuss the proposal.

Recto told reporters after the closed-door meeting on Wednesday that ALI, however, did not give any indication whether it is willing to spend for a portion of the project.

"Ayala Land did not give any indication to that effect. But, clearly, government will be looking at the alternative location because it's near both TriNoma and SM. It will satisfy both malls and be profitable for the NHA. In the end, you'll have a better Grand Central Terminal," the NEDA chief said.

Recto said the Vice President's proposal "is the most pragmatic location for the [Grand] Central Terminal. It is just at the corner of EDSA. But of course, the DOTC will have to decide on it."

Earlier, the government was courting the SM group to infuse capital into the construction of an elevated grand terminal that would be walking distance to commuters of all lines situated near the intersection of EDSA, North Avenue and West Avenue.

Changing the approved location of the MMIRT, another official of NEDA said, would mean another two to four months of project delay.

The common terminal has a target completion date of May 2015 for the viaduct and expected revenue operation by August 2015. The LRT 1 North Extension Project has an original four stations—Monumento, Balintawak, Roosevelt and North Avenue.

The Balintawak station will provide modal interchange with bus and jeepney services entering Metro Manila from the north via the North Luzon Expressway.

Once the extension is complete, the LRT 1 is expected to serve about 800,000 to 1 million passengers.

The LRT 1 North Extension Project, which aims to close the EDSA Loop, will need three additional stations from the existing Monumento Station and ending at the North Avenue Station of MRT 3.

Piolo Pascual, John Lloyd Cruz, Bea Alonzo, Angelica Panganiban, Coco Martin and Kim Chiu are some of the most bankable stars of ABS-CBN today. They are among the network's most prized talents, whose presence can be felt in TV series, commercials, movies and magazines.

This month, YES! looks back on their road to stardom, and pays tribute to 20 years of Star Magic, showbiz's biggest star maker.

YES! offers a comprehensive account of Star Magic's humble beginnings, its history and the science behind its star-making process. It sat down with Star Magic's chairman emeritus Johnny Manahan, also known as "Mr. M," who recounted how the formerly known Talent Center was built from scratch two decades ago.

To resolve the network's reliance on big stars controlled by big film companies, Manahan pioneered its creation, to which he discovered and developed ABS-CBN's own homegrown talents.

Auditions are held where a thousand of aspirants were narrowed down to only 12 or less. The hopefuls will undergo a series of training and workshops, which cover singing, acting, dancing, even makeovers, and styling. Every year, one group is formed and called Star Circle Batch.

Piolo, member of Star Circle Batch 3, recalls his audition 16 years ago. "I remember I was the only one wearing shorts. And I thought I wasn't gonna get in because I was too casual and I wasn't in, parang, my best element. I was 18, 19 then, and kind of unsure and insecure."

This is where a keen eye for discovering talents comes in. A person who does the screening should be able to visualize what a shy aspirant could become. Mr. M. says, "I can see three years in advance or four years in advance... I don't know why, but I got it, you know."

These stars must be able to showcase their talents to ensure that they don't vanish from the public eye. This is what Mariole Alberto, the current head of Star Magic, calls the "succession plan."

Although the creation of stars is a business for Star Magic, the people behind ABS-CBN's talent management arm make sure they take care of their talents and treat them like family. Kim relates, "Sina Mr. M and Ms. Mariole... sila na 'yong family adviser ko talaga. Since wala naman akong mommy and daddy and I live alone dito sa Manila, sila na 'yong mom and dad ko."

Star Magic also helps in managing their talents' finances. A portion of the stars' income goes to a bank account, which will become their fallback once a showbiz career is no longer lucrative.

Manahan also gives his two cents' worth on how a star is made, the rise and fall of talents, and dealing with piracy and negative publicity.

YES! also shares trivia about your favorite stars, and stories about the most memorable love teams.

Also on the special gatefold cover are Shaina Magdayao, Gerald Anderson, Maja Salvador, Erich Gonzales and Enchong Dee.

YES! is available in all newsstands, bookstores and supermarkets nationwide for only P100.

A multitude of Catholics, including clergy, religious communities, lay leaders, students from public and private schools and Catholic religious organizations are poised to stage a "Grand Prayer Rally" to celebrate 200 days of seeking world peace one rosary a day at the Smart Araneta Coliseum tomorrow, June 25.

"One Million Roses for the World," which was launched in October 2011, is a prayer campaign to spur the faithful to pray for one nation a day until May 30. This campaign, spearheaded by the Family Rosary Crusade, is aimed at having at least one million pledges to pray the rosary for the multitude of concerns besetting the world today. The campaign included the more than 3,600 parishes of the Philippines and even spread out to different parts of the world.

"Besides receiving pledges from the schools and institutions, we also received prayer pledges from the United States, Saudi Arabia, Australia and Dubai," said Fr. Roque d' Costa of the Family Rosary Crusade.

Archbishop Soc Villegas added: "The entire Philippine Church responded. The Bishops Conference endorsed the AMROW to all the dioceses and their parishes. Although we collected only 200,000 signed pledges, you can do the math. Two hundred thousand Filipinos were praying the rosary every day, at 50 roses each. This means we were sending 10 million roses to heaven every day for one nation. The beautiful thing was that Filipinos in every country were joining us in prayer for their host country together with their nationals."

"Economic, social, political, moral and spiritual problems abound in the world. The Philippines' greatest asset is not our beaches but our faith. Through prayer of the rosary, we are sharing this asset with the rest of the world," Villegas said. He added that even Pope Benedict XVI has acknowledged and thanked the Filipinos for praying for him at a time when he needed it most. "The Holy Father is now asking the faithful all over the world to pray the rosary with him each day, at 6:45 p.m. Rome time," said Villegas.

AMROW chairperson Loudette Banson adds, "We wanted to target the youth. Not too many of the youth are interested in praying the rosary these days. If we could revive this practice and make them believe in the promise of Our Lady, then we have made a difference in the world."

The celebration tomorrow will kick off at 1 p.m. with a motorcade bearing the image of Our Lady of La Naval from Sto. Domingo Church in Quezon City to Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish Church in Cubao. From there, a group of more than 200 caracol dancers will join the motorcade and escort the image to the Big Dome where more youth representatives and faithful will welcome them.

Banson added, "We want the youth to know that their singing and dancing can be a form of prayer. The youth will praise in their language — cheering, dancing, and singing." Dancers from the Assumption College will interpret the theme song composed by Archbishop Socrates Villegas and maestro Ryan Cayabyab. Dyords Javier will host the program. Other highlights include reflections on the mysteries by Fatima Soriano, Tita Lazaro representing the urban poor sector, Msgr. Dan Santamaria and other representatives from the youth and indigenous sectors. The rosary will be led by endorsers Rep. Lucy Torres-Gomez, Tweetie de Leon-Gonzalez, Christine Jacob and her family, Manny V. Pangilinan, and Judy Araneta-Roxas.

Dapat instead of Signoff sa mga tv & radio stations, dapat CLOSEDOWN na lang. mas ok pa ang closedown kaysa sa sign-off sa TV: Ang closedown ay dapat maganda at may pabati gaya nito:

"THANK YOU FOR WATCHING(INSERT TV NETWORK NAME & CALLSIGN ALSO THE TRANSMITTER POWER) GOOD NIGHT & SEE YOU TOMORROW @ (INSERT TIME). Sa radyo, yung mismong radio jingle ng mga radio stations ang patutugtugin.

Prayer of Commitment

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise you for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth had made all things new for us here on earth. We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the Rosary everyday, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you God of Peace in worship, adoration and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

School is school

By ANGELO G. GARCIA, RONALD S. LIM, JASER A. MARASIGAN (and Kristian Chua, Adamson University)

June 2, 2009, 6:16pm

They are the next generation of young achievers to watch. From the classroom to location shoots, this new crop of teen sensations, who star in the latest ABS-CBN Sunday afternoon youth-oriented program "Boystown," are not only today's most promising young talents – they are also hardworking students who strike up a perfect balance between work and studies, seeing to it that they enjoy every minute that their youth affords them.

Daydream believer

For a TV celeb, juggling work and studies is no easy task. But Enchong Dee is willing to take on all of them - schedule tapings, complete school requirements, even finish an internship at a Makati office. After all, graduation is within his reach.

Enchong will soon finish BS Political Science major in Development Studies at De La Salle University. A competitive athlete, Enchong plans on pursuing a master's degree. "I don't see myself after graduating na wala na akong gagawin. It's such a waste to not use what I've learned. I'm going to get my master's after, in De La Salle also," he reveals.

Enchong plays Arnel in "Boystown," an assignment he is taking to heart after seeing how the real wards in Boystown go through their lives. "It's sad seeing Boystown for the first time, seeing the living conditions these children are in. With Direk (Lino Cayetano), we decided to give a day's salary to buy them proper bed mats,” shares Enchong who has long been thinking of putting up his own foundation to be of help to the needy youth.

His only advice for dreamers like him is to never ever give up. “Even if there are hindrances along the way, your dream can still be reached even if there are negative things happening in your life. You really have to reach for that dream and do whatever you can to hurdle the hardships,” Enchong admonishes. (Angelo G. Garcia)

A changed man

Miracles happen!” Robi Domingo is so certain with his answer when asked how he divides his time between school and showbiz. An incoming second year student at the Ateneo de Manila University, Robi is taking up Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences.

From being a MYX VJ to becoming Vincent in “My Girl,” and now as Arkin in “Boystown,” this 19-year-old Pinoy Big Brother first runner-up cannot contain his excitement over Boystown, where he plays his first major role.

Robi, however, is far from Arkin’s characterization. “Arkin is the kind of guy that takes everything for granted. He has all the money, a good family, a cute girlfriend, B.I. (bad influence) but good friends. Practically everything in the world,” describes Robi, who prepared for the role by watching movies of Aga Muhlach, John Lloyd Cruz and Diether Ocampo.

But like Arkin, Robi admits to being a spoiled brat before. “When I was younger, I used to be a brat. Until the perfect time to change came when I joined Days with the Lord. It’s a “Christ-centered brotherhood that has transformed me,” shares Robi.

Today, Robi is everything that most young people his age would like to be – a young man with a future so bright because he is an achiever both in and out of school. (Kristian Chua)

Model behavior

With her porcelain skin, kind eyes, and soft voice, it’s easy to mistake 16-year-old Jessy Mendiola for a pampered rich girl who never has to lift a finger or do a hard day’s work in her life. But Jessy is really just the opposite – she has known the value of hard work ever since she was a young girl.

“My parents separated when I was three years old. That’s when I started doing commercials,” says Jessy, who plays Karen, the only girl in the main cast of “Boystown.”

Having had to help out with the family finances at such a young age has served Jessy well growing up. Going into high school, she would learn how to balance her time between modeling and academics.

“I had to learn to divide my time well,” she says. “Blurry yung childhood ko. Nakikipaglaro lang ako minsan sa iba, pero hindi ako nag-patintero, nag-luksong tinik. Di ako marunong mag-swimming o mag-bike.”

Entering showbiz at 13, Jessy had to be home schooled for a year.

Today, she is looking forward to going back to regular school and facing all the joys and challenges that come along with it. “It’s more fun and you enjoy school life as a normal kid. There’s going to be conflict, but I have to face it because I’m the one who chose it. Kailangan ko ayusin ang schedule ko, i-budget yung time ko, para maayos ko school life ko.” (Ronald S. Lim)

Young royalty

The grandson of Philippine movie queen Gloria Romero, Chris Gutierrez is determined to make his lola proud, be it with his accomplishments in school or in showbiz. "Because I wouldn't be here if not for my lola," admits Chris, who plays the silent but dangerous Brent in "Boystown."

At an early age, Chris would tag along with his lola to her tapings. "I remember Mr. M (Johnny Manahan) would invite me to be in showbiz but my lola said that I was too young. Finally when I was 13, my mom agreed. It was summer and I wasn't doing anything. Now I'm still here. It's not a job for me, it's more of a hobby, so I don't really get tired," says the 17-year-old, incoming senior at La Salle Greenhills.

Chris makes sure to keep his end of the bargain – to finish school. "School comes first pa rin. And my mom always tells me, everything else is bawal – I can't go out, I can't do anything if my school stuff is not yet done. Luckily, I'm still able to maintain my high grades. My schooling didn't suffer despite the crazy work schedule," he shares.

Chris reveals that he had to give up some of his sports like badminton and frisbee. "I hate it when people say na artista, madali lang 'yan.

That's the usual impression. I do my job, sometimes with no sleep, I go to rehearsals, to tapings and to live shows. But it's all fun. You really have to love it and enjoy what you do," he adds.

He, likewise, makes up for lost time with his friends by helping them with their school projects.

"My friends are in the student council and sometimes I help them out. They also get me for class PRORO because I'm very good daw with people. I could talk especially in soirees. Like in Miriam College, they want me to use my artista powers. They actually think girls are into artista that's why they always get me," he says with a laugh.

Although he is looking forward to graduating from high school, Chris admits that he has yet to decide which course to take when he goes to college. "I'm so confused. Every other month I change my mind. Before I want to be a lawyer, then doctor, engineer, tapos chef. Ang dami! Iba-iba! Siguro I'll just choose on the day that I have to choose," he ends. (Jaser A. Marasigan)

Talent with a mission

Describing Sam Concepcion as talented would be an understatement. He sings, dances, acts. This young actor who loves watching movies and going out with friends, admits that he still prefers to stay at home most of the time, surfing the net or finishing his lessons for his online-based home schooling.

Just recently, Sam has started training in gymnastics to enhance his already amazing dancing skills.

Now, his acting career is going in the right direction, appearing in big projects after another. After playing Andrew Pengson in "I Love Betty La Fea," he is now Bobet in "Boystown," a character whose optimism, he admits, he would like to emulate.

"Bobet is the optimist, who has a very positive outlook in life, he really hopes for a better future. Siya yung nagbibigay ng encouragement sa grupo, he has a positive vibe. I'd like to be like that, sharing positive vibes among my friends," he says.

Sam is also Ambassador for Children of World Vision Philippines, a non-government organization that helps send poor children to school through sponsorship. Sam currently supports two kids and has been actively encouraging others to do so.

"As much as possible I try to inject it in whatever I do, bring it up everytime I can to get more people to support World Vision because more kids need it," he shares. "It really changes, not just their situation but also their outlook in life, their perspective. They see hope and it's very inspiring." (Angelo G. Garcia)

Hardcourt heartthrob

Commercial model-turned-actor AJ Perez has always been a good student – with honors at that!

An incoming junior in La Salle Greenhills, 16-year-old AJ makes sure to still keep his studies a top priority inspite being Ricky, the good boy in "Boystown."

"It's all about time management and a little bit of sacrifice. You have to know your priorities. Because of my work I have to sacrifice my time with friends and less time on the computer," says AJ, who also plays with the basketball varsity team.

It was in a Milo commercial that ABS-CBN discovered AJ. "Initially, I didn't like the idea of showbiz. Nahihiya pa ako. But after doing workshops, I've learned to love to perform, to act, to dance. Napahilig na rin ako sa movies. Once I involve myself into something, I really try my best to be good at it," AJ says.

AJ's first taste of acting came when he was 13 years old and was cast in the youth-oriented show "About Ur Luv." He then starred opposite veteran actors in a string of TV shows and movies.

"A lot of people might think it's easy to be working and studying at the same time, it's really not. First of all you have to keep your grades up. If ever I have to skip classes because I have tapings or commitments to do, I have to do make up assignments and make up tests. It's not that easy. So you really have to put extra effort," he says.

Although coming from a pretty well-off family, AJ didn't grow up getting everything he wanted as he pleases. "My parents taught me well. Like now, I'm already earning at a young age. And akala siguro ng mga tao porke't 16 ako, gastos ako ng gastos, pero hindi. My parents taught me how to save and be wise with my money. I have my own account. But of course, I reward myself from time to time. Like I buy myself shoes or clothes," AJ explains.

Doing "Boystown" has made him realize the value of family, having to immerse himself to his role as an orphan. "We should all feel lucky that we still have our parents. Sometimes we might feel that our parents are overprotective, it is because they love us. Compared sa mga kids in Boystown na how much they wish to be adopted. I hope that one day they'll have a family that they can call their own, so they can have a better future." (Jaser A. Marasigan)

Future thespian

Ever since he was a little boy, Arron Villaflor has always wanted to become an actor. So when the opportunity came to realize his childhood dream, he grabbed it by joining the talent reality show Star Circle Quest. He landed first runner-up and has since appeared in several teen-dramas. Now, he stars as Raul, the newbie in "Boystown."

"Si Raul 'yung tipong madiskarte sa buhay, as in nagnanakaw para may pangkain kasi lumaki siya sa kalye," describes Arron of his role.

Arron admits he sees a sliver of his old self in Raul. "I used to hang out with guys like Raul. Dati kasi sa subdivision namin, tumatambay din ako sa kanto kasama sila, alam mo 'yun, pakikisama lang. Ang pangit kasi if you don't get to know the people around your neighborhood eh," shares Arron.

Today, having been exposed to the real life in Boys' Town, Arron earns a new, perhaps better, perspective in life. "Ang akala kasi ng tao puro negative ang mga bata sa Boys' Town, mga delinquents, puro patapon, pero hindi eh. They are productive, nagtatanim sila, and may disiplina rin sila."

Arron even calls the attention of government officials to do something for these young men. "Nakakaawa talaga sila, as in 'yung pagkain nila kasyang kasya sa palad ko, ganun karami kaya sana marinig ito ng nasa gobyerno para magawan ng paraan."

Last September, Arron was cast as Don Juan in the Gantimpala Theater production of "Ibong Adarna." This gives him the chance to compare acting on TV and in theater.

"They are so different. Sa theater kasi kailangan big acting, sa TV very natural lang. Theater is a very good training ground. Sa TV, ang laki ng sakop, hanggang sa malayong lugar makikilala ka ng tao. Pero ang masarap kasi sa theater, after the whole hard work, sa rehearsals, I mean blood, sweat and tears, pagkatapos ng isang show makikita mo na kaagad 'yung pinagpaguran mo dahil sa palakpak ng tao. Hindi katulad sa TV, magte-taping kayo tapos after a week or two saka pa lang mapapanuod ng tao," explains Arron.

Arron is an incoming second year at Kester Grant College taking up Business Management and he plans to take culinary arts after and put up his own restaurant. (Kristian Chua)

Growing up too soon

There is never a quiet moment when 21-year-old Dino Imperial is around. He's either screaming back at overexcited fans or joking around with his cast mates on the set of "Boystown," where he plays Chad. With his boisterous laughter and cheeky grin, it's easy to think that Dino may not be taking things as seriously as one would hope. But that would be wrong.

The truth is, Dino is very much aware of where he is right now, whether it's about his career or the Multimedia Studies course he's taking up at the De La Salle University - College of Saint Benilde. More importantly, Dino knows where he wants to go.

"I want to graduate so I can finally just focus on one thing. Ang hirap kasi if I have to divide my time," he says. "Before, everyday ang work ko so I had to take leaves of absence. Pero ngayon inayos ko na schedule ko so T-Th na lang ang klase. I don't take full loads, so I'll probably graduate in two years." Dino is toeing the line between adolescence and adulthood. He's still an avid comic book reader (the Amazing Spider-Man crossover series "One More Day" is a current favorite), maintains a Facebook account (good luck getting added, though), and is prone to shouting "Westside!" whether the moment calls for it or not.

But at the same time he's a man who's keenly aware of his responsibilities, who's juggling his studies, a showbiz career, and even a career as a club DJ (he goes under the name DJ Dizzy).

"Kids just stay with their parents and hang out with their friends," he says. "I did commercials when I was 12 and I know how it is to work. I know how it is to balance everything. You can't help it. You just have to mature faster." (Ronald S. Lim)

To celebrate its 65th anniversary this year, Sebago recently launched "Sebago x 65" at The Gallery in Greenbelt 5, an exhibition of the brand's iconic Docksidest transformed into unique works of art and auctioned off for the benefit of Habitat for Humanity.

Using paint as well as unusual materials such as fur, beads, croc skin, gold leaf, the celebrities created an extraordinary collection of footwear art. These included actors Enchong Dee, Joseph Marco and David Chua; TV host Phoenela Baranda; The Dawn vocalist Jett Pangan; top Filipino designers Rajo Laurel, Patrice Ramos-Diaz, Rhett Eala, Joey Samson and Kate Torralba; fashion stylists Noel Manapat and Sidney Yap; fashionista Tessa Prieto-Valdes; architects Gil Coscolluela and Nix Alanon; shoe designer Maco Custodio; Team Manila's Mon Punzalan and Jowee Alviar; columnist Leah Puyat; interior stylist Anton Barretto; fashion editor Liza Ilarde; and artists Martin Honasan, Julianne Tarroja, Nix Puno, Rory Morales, Carlo Ongchanco, Nelz Yumul, Niño Hernandez, Mike Nakayama and Raymond Lauchengco.

Thank you, thank you may God always bless you
Our families and friends again and again
We thank you... From S-O-P!! sabay lead-in to the "SOP" theme while the closing credits roll (at nagbabatyan ng mga sponsors o ng mga "happy birthday" at "happy viewing" ang mga host)...okay...nami-miss ko 'yun...

and speaking of closing credits...nakakapanghinayang nga na almost all TV shows (lalo na yung mga nasa ABS at GMA) rarely get to show live credits in full now...

end credits sa mga news programs, for example, are suddenly cut off by either the station plugs/IDs (e.g., "TV patrol world") or the bumper ng kasunod na programa (e.g., "24 oras" or "saksi"), same thing with soaps...sa mga variety shows o entertainment talk shows naman, ang isa pang sign na alam mong patapos na ang programa is 'pag nag-cue sila to a final commercial break by saying, "magbabalik [b]pa[/b] ang (program title)!" (and next thing you know, at the other end of the break, bumper na ng kasunod na show)...

Paano makasali sa QR code contest ng TV Patrol 25 Balitandaan?

25 taon ng TV Patrol. 25 lugar sa Pilipinas na naging bahagi ng ating Balitaan. 25 Balitandaan. Inilagay natin ang mahahalagang mga detalye na ito sa bawat QR code o quick response code na nakatanim sa bawat TV Patrol Balitandaan. Kumpletuhin ang 25 codes na ito mula sa mga Balitandaan at manalo ng premium items.

Itapat ang iyong telepono o device na may QR code scanner sa mala-barcode na ito sa Balitandaan. Hintayin ang Internet address na ilalabas. Ang bawat address na ito ay magdadala sa iyo sa mga naging makasaysayang news coverage at pagbabalita ng TV Patrol. Kumpletuhin ang ilalabas na 25 Internet addresses mula sa 25 Balitandaan.

Hindi natin ipinagbabawal na ikaw ay makipagbahaginan o makipagpalitan ng iyong QR codes sa iba pang TV patrol enthusiasts. At kapag nabuo na ninyo ang 25 Internet addresses mula sa 25 QR codes sa mga Balitandaan, i-email na iyan sa tvpat25@abs-cbnnews.com.

Ilista ang 25 Internet addresses mula sa QR code, at ilagay ang lugar ng Balitandaan kung saan mo nakuha ang code na ito. Ilagay ang iyong pangalan, contact details, scanned copy ng isang valid ID, at isang litrato mo na katabi ang isa sa anumang 25 na mga Balitandaan.

Handa ka na bang makipag-Balitandaan? Gamitin lamang ang hashtag na #TVPatrol 25 at #Balitandaan para pumasok ang iyong mga tweet sa kanan para makita rin ito ng iba pang mga nais ding makipag-Balitandaan.

Maraming salamat po
by Jaimie Rivera

Maraming salamat po
sa pagmamahal na dulot niyo
Sa aming lahat at sa aming mga anak
Sa bagong landas na aming tinatahak

Maraming salamat po sa di niyo pagsuko sa inyong paglaban sa aming karapatan sa pagsunod sa tama at hindi sa tiwali napawi ang lungkot, nawala ang takot

Naging isa ang buong bansa, mayaman at mga dukha
natutong lumaban ng walang nasasaktan
Ang iyong mga kamay aming naging gabay
sa inyong pagdarasal nakamit ang tagumpay.

Maraming salamat po sa lakas ng loob na inyong pinamalas hanggang sa wakas sa kagandahang asal na inyong pinairal aming tatandaan maging sa walang hanggan

*Naging isa ang buong bansa, mayaman at mga dukha
natutong lumaban ng walang nasasaktan
Ang iyong mga kamay aming naging gabay
sa inyong pagdarasal nakamit ang tagumpay
(repeat *)

Mula sa aming puso, maraming salamat po.

Next In Line Lyrics (Boystown Theme song) Jun 21, '09 8:10 AM for everyone
What has life to offer me
When I grow old
What's there to look forward to
Beyond the biting cold
'Cause they say it's difficult

Yes, stereotypical

What's there beyond sleep, eat, work in this cruel life
Ain't there nothing else 'round here but human strife
They say it's difficult
Yes, stereotypical
You gotta be conventional
You can't be so radical

So I sing this song to all of my age
For these are the questions
We've got to face
For in this cycle that we call life
We are the ones who are next in line
We are next in line

What has life to offer me
When I grow old
What's there to look forward to
Beyond the biting cold
Cause they say it's difficult
Yes, stereotypical
You gotta be conventional
You can't be so radical

So I sing this song to all of my age
For these are the questions
We've got to face
For in this cycle that we call life
We are the ones who are next in line
We are next in line

We are next in line... Oooh... Ohh..
We are next in line

And we gotta work, we gotta feel
Let's open our eyes and do whatever it takes
And we gotta work, we gotta feel
Let's open our eyes...(ooohhh)

And I sing this song to all of my age
For these are the questions
We've got to face
For in this cycle that we call life
We are the ones who are next in line
We are next in line

Despite the pressures of work and their busy schedules, young stars Kim Chiu, Enchong Dee, and Shaina Magdayao managed to squeeze in a little leisure time. All three are currently spreading positive messages for the Filipino youth as the new Coke Smile Ambassadors. And they have another thing in common—a passion for adventure and a love of travel.

Last 2008, Kim experienced her first snowfall in Canada, and Enchong relived his childhood in Hong Kong Disneyland. Earlier, in November of 2007, Shaina had her post-debut celebration in Japan.

"Sabi nga ako, anim. Seven kung i-include mo si FPJ!" sagot niya.

Ang tinutukoy ni Joey ay ang paniwala ng marami, lalo na ngayong naglalabasan ang mga testimonies ng witnesses, na ang talagang nanalo noong 2004 presidential elections ay si Fernando Poe, Jr.

Hindi si Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo.

HAPPY 72nd BIRTHDAY, EL SHADDAI SPIRITUAL LEADER, BRO MIKE VELARDE

MANILA, AUGUST 20, 2011 (BULLETIN) EL Shaddai, a Charismatic Movement, was founded in 1984 by its spiritual leader, Brother Mariano "Mike" Zuniega Velarde. He started it as a radio program, with the holding of once-a-month rallies in the vicinity of the radio station.

As the number of supporters grew, the rallies were moved to bigger venues – from a football field to the Quirino Grandstand, to the Philippine International Convention Center, to the Cultural Center, and to its present home, the Amvel Business Park in Barangay San Dionisio, Paranaque City, now its House of Prayer, inaugurated on August 20, 2009, on Brother Mike's 70th Birth Anniversary.

The group's worship service every Saturday attracts thousands of people coming from various parts of the country, who participate in over 12 hours of activity that include hearing Mass, listening to Brother Mike's inspirational talks, singing and dancing to spiritual songs and having their handkerchiefs, umbrellas and bankbooks, blessed. There is a communal spirit at the gatherings. Followers eat, talk, and sing together. It is broadcast on radio and television.

Twenty-seven years after its founding, the El Shaddai (Biblical name for God) movement counts millions of followers, and the number keeps growing.

They now have sixty-two chapters worldwide – in the United States, Canada, Hong Kong, Macau, Taiwan, India, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand, Guam, Saipan, United Arab Emirates, Oman, Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain, Lebanon, Jordan, Israel, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Germany, United Kingdom, Spain, Greece, Italy, Malta, Cyprus and Libya.

Prior to forming the El Shaddai movement, Bro. Mike Velarde was first involved in the Charismatic movement, and this exposure helped him choose to affiliate his group with the Roman Catholic Church, where he remains a lay person. El Shaddai has a Diocesan Bishop and Spiritual Director from the Catholic Church. Brother Mike is married to Avelina "Belen" del Monte and they have four children – Franklin, Rene, Selina and Michael.

We greet Brother Mike Velarde on his 72nd Birth Anniversary on August 20, 2011, and wish him all the best and success in all his endeavors. Mabuhay!

'TV Patrol' nagbalik-tanaw sa EDSA 2 at 3

"Walang kaibigan, walang kumpare, walang kamag-anak o anak na maaaring magsamantala ngayon. Huwag niyo akong subukan."

Ito ang binitiwang pangako noon ni Joseph Ejercito Estrada laban sa korupsiyon nang manumpa siya bilang ika-13 pangulo ng Pilipinas.

Pero 2 taon pa lamang sa kanyang panunungkulan, parang bombang sumabog ang mga ibinunyag ng matalik na kaibigan ng pangulo na si Ilocos Sur Governor Chavit Singson.

Sa eksklusibong panayam sa "TV Patrol," kinumpirma niyang kumukubra si Estrada ng milyun-milyon sa jueteng kada buwan, bukod pa sa P170 milyon mula sa tobacco excise tax.

Nobyembre 13, na-impeach ng Kamara si Ginoong Estrada.

Nagsimula ang kanyang paglilitis noong Disyembre 7. Pero natigil ito noong Enero 16 matapos magwalk-out ang prosekusyon nang hindi pinayagang buksan ang tinaguriang "second envelope" na magdidiin umano sa pangulo.

Nang gabi ring 'yon, nagtipon at nagprotesta ang mga kontra-Erap sa EDSA shrine at inilunsad ang EDSA Dos.

Lahat pinagbibitiw si Estrada sa puwesto. Nag-atras din ng suporta ang pulisya at militar.

Enero 20, nanumpa bilang pangulo si Vice President Gloria Arroyo.

Sinugod ng taumbayan ang Malakanyang. Para hindi na mauwi sa karahasan, nilisan ni Estrada ang Palasyo.

Abril ng taong iyon, inaresto si Estrada at anak na si Jinggoy Estrada sa kasong pandarambong.

Umalma ang mga maka-Erap. Mayo 1, sinugod nila ang EDSA shrine. Si Arroyo naman ang pinabababa nila sa puwesto.

Pero naging marahas ang tinaguriang EDSA 3 na umabot hanggang Malakanyang.

Pinag-initan ng mga tao ang media, pinuntirya ang mga news team at sasakyan ng "TV Patrol."

Pero hindi nagpatinag ang news team. Tuloy lang ang paghatid ng balita.

Sa araw ding iyon, natapos ang pag-aklas. Anim ang namatay at mahigit 100 ang nasugatan.

Samantala, nanatili sa puwesto si Gloria Arroyo hanggang matapos ang kanyang termino noong Hunyo 2010.

Former Palarong Pambansa champion Gian Berino is making strides in his US training in his bid to represent the Philippines in international competitions like the Southeast Asian Games, the Universiade and the Asian Games.

Philippine Swimming League president Susan Papa said Berino, 17, joined the US Junior Olympic Swimming Meet where he surpassed his personal best after only six months of training.

He placed seventh out of 62 in the 800m freestyle (8:34), 19th out of 66 in the 400m freestyle (4:12), 17th out of 72 in the 1,500m freestyle (17:08), 29th of 51 in the 100m backstroke (1:02) and 13th of 55 in the 200m backstroke (2:11.52).

Berino, a standout of the Philippine Swimming League and endorsed by Diliman Preparatory School and swimming patron former Sen. Nikki Coseteng, belongs to a family of national swimmers.

His parents Dario and Susie Berino sent him to the US in hopes of giving him the best preparation to end the gold medal drought of the Philippines in the Asian Games.

"Gian is training in earnest and he needs the help to continue his training in the US," said Papa. "He is the best to have come out of our PSL grassroots program; he is a homegrown talent with a big potential and with support from the government and private sector, he will be next in line in our quest for an Asian Games medal in the next four years when he will have reached his peak at 21."

Prayer of Commitment

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore You and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving now, and forever. Amen.

The two tollways that will connect the North and South Luzon expressways are viable if the infrastructure will cater to different markets, a Metro Pacific official said.

Corporate competitors San Miguel and Metro Pacific have been asked by the government to discuss a common alignment of the toll roads.

"What we believe is the country can afford two connector roads that are serving different markets," Metro Pacific Tollways Corp. (MPTC) president Ramoncito S. Fernandez said.

"Our connector road, since it is connected to the harbor, serves more the logistics part of business plus the people who travel through and through from north to south and vice versa," he said.

Late last month, the government allowed two proposals to connect the North Luzon Expressway (NLEX) and South Luzon Expressway (SLEX) to proceed.

Metro Pacific Investments Corp.'s project involves a 21-kilometer NLEX-SLEX connector that includes an eight-kilometer harbor link. The tollroad, which will have exits in Quirino, España and 5th Ave., will cost P35.3 billion.

Meanwhile, San Miguel-backed Citra Metro Manila Tollways Corp. plans to build a 14-kilometer, six-lane elevated tollway parallel to the Epifanio de los Santos Avenue (EDSA) with eight exits. The project is worth P25.4 billion.

"Their market, from what I understand, is local travellers from one point to another point that is why they have eight interchanges," Fernandez said.

Citra's project will have exits in Buendia, Quirino, Plaza Dilao, Aurora Blvd., E. Rodriguez Ave., Quezon Blvd., Sgt. Rivera and Balintawak.

Fernandez said there should be an immediate agreement on the common alignment of the two projects.

"We are being asked by the government to talk and agree on the common alignment."

Furthermore, Fernandez said it is better for the government to mandate an integrated toll collection system for the convenience of motorists.

However, the MPTC denied reports that it is in talks with San Miguel for cross ownership of the projects.

It is only after MPTC successfully hurdles the Swiss challenge that the company can proceed with the project.

Fernandez said the awarding of the project is expected late this year.

President Benigno Aquino is hopeful the LRT Line 1 South Extension project will be completed by 2015.

This comes just a week after the National Economic Development Authority (NEDA) board approved the P61.53 billion LRT 1 South Extension project from Baclaran to Bacoor, Cavite.

"The plan is to extend LRT Line 1 by almost twelve kilometers, from Baclaran, through Paranaque and Las Pinas, to Bacoor, Cavite—and, with a little luck, perhaps points further down. I have full faith that Transportation and Communication Secretary Mar Roxas will have this extension operational at the soonest possible time. And if I haven't ridden on it by 2015, I will be very severely disappointed," he said, during the Philippines Investment Forum on Tuesday.

If PGMA didn't intervene with that stupid DOTC plan of the stand alone EDSA North Transit, and MRTC's hold out, we wouldn't even have the LRT1/MRT3 connection by SM North EDSA! And if she stayed in power just a few months longer, people would have been able to take a one seat ride from, say from MRT3's Shaw Blvd Station to LRT1's Monumento station. MRT7 would have begun construction back then...the contract with DMCI and Marebuni was already signed in 2010 for crying out loud!!!

But no.....PNoy had to stop EVERYTHING PGMA started, LRT2 extension is essentially DEAD, and we'd be lucky if LRT1 is operating by 2015....

The so-called Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal (MMIRT) will be located in front of SM North Edsa Annex. It aims to provide a common terminal for easy passenger transfer between the LRT and Metrorail Transit (MRT) lines 1, 3 and 7.

It also intends to close the MRT 3 – LRT 1 Loop with provision for a possible seamless rail operation of Lines 1 and 3.

"As such, there will be an alignment of MRT 3, shortening of the LRT Line 1 North Extension guide way and modifying the design of the EDSA North Avenue station of MRT 7," NEDA said yesterday.

Pinoy Big Brother Drama Specials

Pinoy Big Brother Drama Specials was a mini-series composed of two episodes, which showcased the acting skills of the housemates. This is a deviation from the unscripted nature of the parent show.

The two specials were aired from December 26, 2005 to January 6, 2006.

Franzen actually appears in both specials, though he has a brief cameo at the end of the first one.

The first drama special, entitled The Final Task, sees the first seven evictedhousemates in a trip to a deserted resort in Subic, where lots of surprises are waiting for them. Bob finds out from CB radio that the person who invited them, a woman known only as "Mother" (Gloria Diaz), has been abducted by pirates. They have to both escape from the resort and rescue her before the pirates show up.

The second one, entitled Kay Tagal Kang Hinanap (English: Finding You for So Long), has the last five housemates being called once again by Big Brother to look for fellow housemate Franzen in Baguio.

Although there is a reward waiting for them upon their return to Manila, the six are not satisfied at this offer and demand Big Brother to reveal himself. It also features a cameo appearance by infamous fortune-teller Madame Auring.

Chinese officials are open to reconfiguring the NorthRail project so that the line will be extended from Mabalacat, Pampanga province, where the Clark airport is, to the Makati City central business district, Transportation Secretary Manuel Roxas II said on Thursday.

The NorthRail project was under review even before President Benigno Aquino III went on a state visit to China because its cost had skyrocketed from $503 million to about $2 billion.

"We have problems with that and so we will reconfigure the project itself, not just the contract, so that it will go into the central business district of Metro Manila. Now it just stops in Caloocan City. It will go to the airport itself because now it stops in Mabalacat," Roxas said.

He said a reconfigured NorthRail project would have safeguards for the Philippine government.

In recognition of Chinese financing, Roxas said the accreditation for interested contractors would be among "experienced Chinese rail companies."

"We can't say that they already agreed. What we can say is that they are open and they did say that the ministers would go back to their counterparts and the details would be given attention," Roxas said.

Suspended operations

Asked when he would meet with his Chinese counterpart, Roxas said: "We will write specifically each other and perhaps in a month's time. But right now, we don't have any added expense (in connection with the NorthRail) because its operations are suspended."

Asked what would become of the expenses incurred by the current contractor, Chinese National Machinery Industry Corp., Roxas said, "We will pay for what services and what has been done because we would also need those."

He said the contractor had only worked on a kilometer of the 80-kilometer stretch from Caloocan to Mabalacat.

"In fact, if we would compute what they already finished versus what we gave them in advance, theoretically they would even need to return funds to us," Roxas said.

ang mga artista natin na kasali sa SEA Games sa thailand? I can only count three.

- 1.) Japoy Lizardo - ABS-CBN star magic talent - he is the defending champion in pinweight sa Taekwondo.
- 2.) Enchong Dee - another ABS-CBN star magic talent - we already witnessed what happened to this kid in swimming. finished last in the finals of his two events (100M and 200M butterfly)
- 3.) Andrew Wolfe - parttime actor/model - he a part of rugby team who won the silver medal.

Credit to those FilAms aswell..Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia and Thailand top swimmers are also not trained in their home country except perhaps for a handful. Almost all of them are also enrolled in US Colleges and Universities which has solid swimming reputation. In my humble opinion, if our local swimmers are to stay and compete at the local level or even asian circuits they will have difficulty competing abroad because the competition in this region is not as tough as those that we can find in the US--save for China and Japan almost all asian countries are into the same mess.

Honestly, I dont mind filams swimming for us for aslong as they represent our country in a manner that we could all be proud of. Singapore has naturalize chinese(not even singaporean--a lot Li Tao Zhach Ong etc..so as Malaysia Bego is definitely US trained also. the san berras of indonesia all of these guys wont be at their level if they train here in asia. We simple dont expect the Chinese and the Japanese to tell us their secret for success..secret nga

It's nice that we have landed 2nd overall in medal standings in swimming. But it's still bitter sweet because, yet again, the PhilAm swimmers have overshadowed our locally trained ones. Well they're lucky because they're spared from the politics of PASA. But sad there are many swimmers I know who decided not to compete and take a bow from swimming na, like Liza Danilla and Bonus Bordado to name a few.

To Enchong, my friend, mag artista ka nalang.

ENCHONG DEE powered La Salle to the UAAP men's swimming championship, while the University of the Philippines captured its first women's crown in 10 years Sunday at the Trace Aquatics Center in Los Baños.

Dee picked up a tournament-best seven gold medals to capture his third Most Valuable Player plum.

A part-time actor and model, Dee accounted for 63 of the Green Archers' 240 points after ruling the 1,500-meter freestyle (17:39.69), 800m free (9:14.84), 200m fly (2:13.74), 100m fly (57.38), 50m fly (26.37), 400m individual medley (5:01.09) and 200m IM (2:15.42).

The Lady Maroons, who piled up 257 points, leaned on the winning performances of veteran Marielle Infantado (200m fly, 2:32.80), rookie Claire Adorna (50m fly, 32.19) and the relay team of Infantado, Andrea Belludo, Queenie Lao and Kristine Lapiz (4x100m medley, 4:50.10).

Ateneo's Nikki Santiago secured the women's MVP plum after shattering the league records in three freestyle events at 800m (9:31.22), 400m (4:36.61) and 100m (1:00.65).

The Blue Eaglets bagged their fifth straight boys' title with 375 points to spoil the campaign of the University of Santo Tomas Tiger Cubs, who settled for second at 213 points despite the record-setting feat of MVP Gian Berino.

The University of the Philippines and the University of Santo Tomas retained their men's and women's titles, respectively, in the UAAP swimming championships at the state-of-the-art Trace Aquatics Complex in Los Baños, Laguna.

In the men's competition, the Fighting Maroons captured their fifth title after amassing 204 points in the four-day competition, which ended last Sunday.

The Growling Tigers placed second with 192 followed by the La Salle Green Archers with 189.

In the women's competition, the Tigresses wound up with a cumulative score of 224.50 points to grab its fourth straight title. The Lady Eagles scored 180.50 to get second place followed by the Lady Maroons with 162.50 for third.

Ernest ErLo Dee was named the men's Most Valuable Player (MVP) with 63 points, and Luica Gaudes Dacanay won the women's MVP with 63 points.

Maxim Christopher Quilala of the Archers was named the men's Rookie of the Year with 47 points, and Marvie Borja got 35 points to win the women's ROY.

In the juniors competition, the Maroons topped the event in the girls' division while the Eagles took hold of the boys' division.

Virtually unnoticed in the last weeks that have been dominated by typhoons Ondoy and Pepeng was the outstanding feat of De La Salle University's (DLSU) 21-year old Enchong Dee who led the Green Tankers to the championship of the 72nd UAAP swimming competitions held at the Trace Aquatic Sports Complex, Los Baños. Dee won his third consecutive MVP award and won the gold in all 21 events he swam the past three years. Dee's events were the 50m, 100m and 200m butterfly; 800m and 1500m freestyle; and 200m and 400m individual medley. Dee ends his UAAP career with four records while being a mainstay in ABS-CBN's evening telenovelas. All these while graduating with honors and continuing on his graduate studies in development studies. The UAAP swimming competitions have been organized the past three years by Sports Management Solutions and staged at Trace College, an event partner. Speedo is the other event partner while other sponsors are PAGCOR, Madrigal Dormitories, World Balance and Gatorade.

Typhoon Ondoy's onslaught on the third day of the competition (Saturday, September 26) resulted in the temporary cancellation of that day's finals. After the rain stopped, however, the competition resumed at 4:00 p.m., ending close to 7:00 p.m. The officials decided that the time set by the swimmers during the pre-qualifying heats held that morning would be used as the basis for their time/ranking.

DAY ONE

On the first day of the competition, defending champion Ateneo de Manila High School won three golds, a silver, and a bronze in various junior boys events.

The first gold was won by freshman Duncan Vinluan III for the 800 meter freestyle.

The second gold was for the 100 meter freestyle, won by AHS junior Robbie Villanueva. The last gold won by the swimming Eaglets on day one was for the 4 x 200m freestyle relay, with swimmers Erwin Yaptangco, Duncan Vinluan III, Max Austria, and Micco Pessueña.

The Eaglets took home a silver in the 4 x 50meter freestyle relay, with swimmers Matteo Gancayco, Erwin Yaptangco, Robie Batungbacal, and Carlo Millan.

AHS junior Robie Batungbacal also won a bronze for the 200 meter individual medley.

DAY TWO

Day Two saw three UAAP records being set by two AHS swimmers.

In the morning heats, Robbie Villanueva established a new record in the 50m breaststroke, a record previously held by another AHS student, Sean Paul Tan, who is now a swimmer for the Ateneo's Senior Men's team.

Robbie Villanueva won the gold in the same event in the afternoon. Fellow AHS student Matteo Gancayco took the bronze for the 50m breaststroke.

Villanueva also took home the silver for the 400m freestyle, which Duncan Vinluan III won the bronze for.

Gabe Castelo established a new record in the 100m butterfly heats, breaking his own record from last year. He won the gold medal for the same event later in the day.

At 4:30 p.m. that afternoon, Castelo again broke another record which he had previously set, this one for the 200m backstroke. Third place in the same event was won by AHS junior Robie Batungbacal.

The last event for day two, the 4x100m freestyle, was swept by the Men's, Women's and Boys' teams from the Ateneo. Winning the gold in the junior boys category were AHS students Robbie Batungbacal, Matteo Gancayco, Max Austria, and Duncan Vinluan.

DAY THREE

(Complete info on day three medal haul to follow)

DAY FOUR

Gabe Castelo broke another record during the morning heats on the final day of the UAAP 72 Swimming Championship, this one for the 50m backstroke. In the finals for the same event that afternoon, he again broke his own record (set that morning) by a fraction of a second. Robbie Batungbacal won the bronze for the same event.

Minutes later, Gabe Castelo broke a ten-year UAAP boys' record in the finals for the 200m butterfly. Winning second and third place in the same event were fellow Ateneans Carlo Millan and Jared Mella, respectively.

Matteo Gancayco won the silver for the 200m breaststroke.

Winning the bronze for the 50m freestyle was Matteo Gancayco.

The AHS took home the gold for the 4x100m medley relay, the last event of the day. Swimming for the Ateneo were Rafa Basa, Mat Crespo, Carlo Millan, and Erwin Yaptangco.

Duncan Vinluan III was named Rookie of the Year in the junior boys category.

The Ateneo de Manila High School Swim Team was awarded their trophy as champion of UAAP 72's junior boys' category past 5:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 28.

Consistent, top-rating TV shows, a multimillion peso hit movie, a string of big endorsements, a handful of upcoming projects that are surely as huge, a legion of die-hard fans and a wonderful family life; just some of the best reasons why today's it-boy Enchong Dee should be celebrating.

And that's exactly what happened last November 14, 2010 at The Commissary/Whitespace Events Hall, Makati City when he gathered friends and colleagues for a special moment of thanksgiving and celebration for all the wonderful things and opportunities he's been blessed with throughout the year. The young actor's birthday party proved to be a perfect break from an incredibly hectic schedule and a relaxing time to hang out with friends who have stood by him as he made his every dream happen.

Some of the personalities with the birthday boy were ABS-CBN Star Magic's Mariole Alberto, vice president for ABS-CBN International Leo Katigbak, actors and friends Zanjoe Marudo, Janus del Prado, Sam Concepcion, Rodjun Cruz, David Chua, Joseph Marco and Luke Jickain among others. The popular leading gorgeous leading ladies Bea Alonzo, Melissa Ricks, Bianca Manalo, Kit-Kat, Phoemela Baranda and Liz Uy were also there to make the night even more special.

Guests were refreshed non-stop by Hennessy, the perfect blend of a venerable cognac and the zing of fruity flavors.

A prized talent of ABS-CBN Star Magic, Enchong was discovered as a champion swimmer for the De La Salle University where he was a three-time most valuable player and seven-time swimming gold medalist in the men's swimming division of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP). He started out appearing in supporting roles in various TV dramas which eventually led him to becoming a sought-after endorser for various brands. Enchong endorses some of the country's most reputable brands such as Bench, Coca-Cola, Real Leaf Green Tea, Lucky Me and Convergys.

It wasn't until the primetime soap Katorse that he was "accidentally" paired up with Erich Gonzales and they clicked as a love team. A string of bigger projects followed such as Tanging Yaman, a political drama launched prior to the May 2010 elections and Magkaribal, dubbed a "fashion-serie" with Bea Alonzo, Derek Ramsay, Angel Aquino and Gretchen Barretto.

It was really a time to throw all our inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe in us, but not before Enchong blew out the candles on his cake for another great, successful and totally happy year. And brought out as everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to greet Enchong.

War and roses

The extravagance of England during the renaissance was brought to life in the latest collection of Filipino designer Furne One (pronounced oh-nay) called "War and Roses."

One's new collection was showcased in his very first Philippine gala, "First of One — A Fashion Collection by Furne One" at the Makati Shangri-La Hotel. Dubai-based One took inspiration from Queen Elizabeth I and the Golden Age of England. Each piece from the collection depicted a queenly look defined by ornate finery that were richly decorated.

The creations had intricate details captured on the beadwork, embroidery and symbols of monarchy that were embellished with Swarovski crystals. One says, "When I was conceptualizing 'War and Roses,' what I had in mind was giving the Filipino audience something akin to a cinematic experience. I wanted them to feel totally enthralled as if they're watching an epic period movie. I think I was able to capture that through my latest designs, which truly gave a generous dose of high drama and rich, vivid visuals."

One's road to fashion success started when he joined and won the Mega Young Designer of the Philippines Award in 1994, paving the way for apprenticeship at House of Christian Lacroix in Paris and Josie Natori's boutique in New York. He then joined international competitions in Japan, where he won Japan's Women's Wear Award, the Asian Fashion Grand Prix Contest, and Manila's Fashion Designer Awards.

The show was an annual fashion fundraising event of the Philippine National Red Cross presented by Tessa Prieto-Valdes and Kaye Tinga for the benefit of the Philippine National Red Cross-Rizal Chapter and the Assumption High School Batch 1981 Foundation.

"First of One — A Fashion Collection by Furne One" was directed by Ariel Lozada, fashion styling by Noel Manapat, and hair and makeup by Patrick Rosas. The show was presented by Etihad Airways and Mega magazine in cooperation with HSBC, Makati Shangri-La, Megaworld, Smart, SM and Volvo. It was also supported by BusinessWorld, RJFM 100.3, Philippine Daily Inquirer and The Philippine Star. Special thanks to Belvedere, Luxe by Goldilocks, Mongol, Oishi and S&R.

El Shaddai charismatic leader Bro. Mike Velarde is formally giving his group's "blessing" to the candidacy of President Arroyo, her campaign spokesman Michael Defensor disclosed yesterday.

Defensor said that Mrs. Arroyo, who was invited to the El Shaddai's regular prayer rally tonight at Amvel Park in Ninoy Aquino Avenue in Parañaque City, has definitely gotten the endorsement of the El Shaddai, which boast of two million members, for the May 10 elections.

"The President was invited to that gathering by Bro. Mike Velarde and we expect him to pronounce the words of support of El Shaddai to her," Defensor said.

He told The STAR that Mrs. Arroyo will be the only guest invited to attend the prayer rally at 7 p.m.

The El Shaddai endorsement comes at the heels of the official circular issued by the Iglesia ni Cristo (INC) leadership calling upon its six million flock to vote for Mrs. Arroyo, her vice presidential running mate, Sen. Noli de Castro, and six of their senatorial candidates in the K-4.

Asked by The STAR what may have prompted the INC to throw its support to Mrs. Arroyo, Defensor replied: "She has always heeded the advice of Ka Erdie Manalo."

"Because the President has always asked for guidance and advice of Ka Erdie," he added.

Defensor, who has acted as Mrs. Arroyo's personal emissary to the INC, disclosed that Mrs. Arroyo went to the INC Central Office in Commonwealth Avenue in Quezon City at least five times to seek audience with Ka Erdie.

Defensor insisted that there was nothing wrong if Mrs. Arroyo, like all other candidates, had sought the support of the INC.

Defensor revealed that he was supported by the INC when he ran and won first as councilor in Quezon City and later as congressman.

Detained President Joseph Estrada asked the Sandiganbayan yesterday to grant him a furlough on Aug. 20 to undergo a medical checkup at the Cardinal Santos Medical Center in San Juan and also to attend the birthday Mass of El Shaddai leader Bro. Mike Velarde.

Jay Flaminiano, a member of the defense team, said Estrada was "invited" by Bro. Mike to attend the religious group's regular Saturday Mass at the Quirino Grandstand in Manila's Rizal Park where the birthday of Velarde and El Shaddai's anniversary will be celebrated.

In a two-page motion, defense counsel Jose Flaminiano — Jay's father — sought permission from justices of the anti-graft court for Estrada's regular checkup at 4 p.m. of Aug. 20, after which he would "proceed" to the El Shaddai gathering in Manila.

The defense lawyers assured Justices Teresita Leonardo de-Castro, Francisco Villaruz and Diosdado Peralta that the ousted leader, who is undergoing trial for plunder, "will return" to his Tanay resthouse, where he has been detained since July 2004, immediately after the Mass.

"If request is granted, it is understood that President Estrada will comply with the usual terms and conditions that may be imposed by the honorable court," the former chief prosecutor of Manila said, referring to the "no media interview" policy, among other restrictions.

The last time Estrada was granted permission by the court to undergo a medical examination was on July 4, also at the Cardinal Santos Medical Center in Greenhills, San Juan. He had been complaining of severe pains at that time.

"We will allow him today (to undergo the medical checkup), subject to the same conditions," the court told defense lawyers and government prosecutors, led by Dennis Villa Ignacio, who did not oppose the request provided security arrangements were put in place.

Villa Ignacio told the Sandiganbayan "we have no objection to bringing him to the hospital, but what we are concerned (about) is the security measures. These are among the concerns of the prosecution panel."

Flaminiano earlier said that Estrada's artificial knee replacements required an X-ray examination, adding Estrada should have undergone a medical checkup last March, as per recommendation of Dr. Lorenzo Hocson, but he failed to leave his resthouse.

In mid-February, the 68-year-old former actor was airlifted from his detention place at his vacation house and was confined at the Cardinal Santos Medical Center for four days after he was diagnosed with pneumonia.

Estrada had been under the care of Dr. Cecil Tady, head of the pulmonary medicine division of Cardinal Santos Hospital, during the duration of his stay. One fourth of his lungs had been diagnosed as afflicted with pneumonia.

Hiniling kahapon ni dating Pangulong Joseph Estrada sa Sandiganbayan na payagan siyang makadalo sa misa na idaraos ni Bro. Mike Velarde ng El Shaddai sa Quirino Grandstand sa Agosto 20.

Sa mosyon na inihain ng abogado ni Estrada, nais din ng dating pangulo na payagan siyang magtungo sa Cardinal Santos Medical Center sa kaparehong araw sa ganap na alas-4 ng hapon para sa kanyang regular check-up.

Idaraos sa Agosto 20 ang anniversary celebration ng El Shaddai kung saan ipagdiriwang din ang birthday ni Velarde.

Ipinangako ng abogado ni Estrada na muli itong babalik sa kanyang villa sa Tanay, Rizal pagkatapos ng selebrasyon ng El Shaddai. Isusumite ang kanilang mosyon sa gagawing hearing sa Agosto 15.

Like in 1998 and 1999, the Metropop 2000 was held in the same venue, the AFP Theater in Camp Crame (Quezon City), last Saturday (May 27). And as usual, it was an exciting show, hosted by Ryan Cayabyab and Kuh Ledesma, with the colorfully-dressed The Company interpreting the 12 finalist entries in their own inimitable way. Now, didn't all the songs sound good as The Company did them? (See, the interpreter is a big factor).

What's nice about the Metropop is that the contestants seem happy for everybody -- "There's camaraderie," noted Ryan -- and if they feel competitive at all toward one another, they don't show it. It's a feel-good kind of competition. There might be rivalry, for sure, but, as I've said, it doesn't show.

This year's entries, as Kuh noted, are better than the previous years and it's a good sign. One or two sound like some familiar songs but so what? If it only "sounds like" and not really copied, what's wrong with that? Any artist -- whether a writer, a composer, a painter, etc. -- can be influenced by his role-models, and what's wrong with that?

A study by the DOTC mulls at the possibility of uniting the operations of MRT-3 and LRT-1, to save in maintenance costs and to offer a complete transportation line along EDSA.

The Interagency Investment Coordination Committee-Cabinet Committee (ICCC) of the NEDA Board classified as "national priority" the proposed closing, or linking, of the Light Rail Transit (LRT) Line 1 and Metro Rail Transit (MRT) Line 3 Loop.

"Although the undertaking is now considered a national priority project, we need to wait for the DOTC to submit a proposal before any evaluation by the ICC can commence," Librado F. Quitariano, officer-in charge of the Infrastructure Staff, National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA), said in statement.

The NEDA is the lead agency of the ICC. The link would involve the connection between the existing Monumento station of the LRT Line 1 and the North Avenue station of MRT Line 3.

The existing LRT Line 1 runs from Baclaran in the south to Monumento in the north traversing Taft and Rizal Avenues for a total length of 14.5 kilometers covering 18 stations.

MRT 3, Phase 1, on the hand, traverses EDSA from Taft Avenue in the south to the EDSA North Avenue intersection in the north for a total length of 16.9 kilometers covering 13 stations.

This would put in operation a loop transit network for a seamless interface connection with other

LRT/MRT systems and other modes of transport.

"The riding public would greatly benefit from the project, which is also expected to decongest the whole of Metro Manila," Qutoriano added.

The closing of the loop would proceed under a built-operate-transfer (BOT) scheme through a solicited mode.

This complies with the provisions of the BOT Law, or Republic Act 6957 as amended by RA 7718, and its implementing rules and regulations (IRR), which states, among others, that projects to be implemented under a BOT scheme or variant may only proceed through a solicited mode.

BOT proposals that proceed under solicited mode are proposals that originate from the implementing agencies, which is the DOTC for this case.

On the other hand, BOT projects under unsolicited mode originate from private sector proponents, where proposals are submitted to the implementing agency, which then evaluate and endorse the proposal to the appropriate approving body.

The NEDA official expressed hope that the project could push through as soon as possible, noting that the decentralization of progress around the nation through the development of a reliable transportation network is one of President Arroyo's 10-point development agenda.

"It will not only decongest Metro Manila, it will also help facilitate the implementation of housing projects and the development of new centers for government, business, and housing within the area," the NEDA officials said.

PRAYER OF COMMITMENT

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise you for blessing Mary among all women and for creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus, your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit myself to pray the Rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit myself to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

The late former President Cory Aquino once said in an interview that saying the rosary was her favorite form of prayer. Broadcast journalist Ces Drilon also recounted in an interview in 2008 after she was released by her extremist abductors in Talipao, Sulu after days in captivity that praying the rosary calmed her down amidst her fears and anxieties. My friend and Allure columnist Michelle Dayrit-Soliven, now in "total remission" from her cancer, shared with a group of us that once, when she was in pain and couldn't sleep and a painkiller didn't help, she reached out for her rosary. She awoke refreshed the following day, still on the first bead of the rosary but clutching it tightly. Apparently, the rosary in her palm was more effective than a tranquilizer. It was her balm.

It is said that the rosary is actually a commemoration of Jesus Christ's life as seen through the loving eyes of His mother, who outlived Him. Just recall the Joyful and Sorrowful mysteries and you will know what I mean.

When I was a little girl, one of the nuns at the Assumption told me that every Hail Mary that I pray is like a rose being offered before Mary. And each rosary is like a garland visually, it really is. As I have always said in this column, one's faith is a very personal thing that differs from person to person. I worship God and venerate Mary, the mother of God. And one of my favorite prayers, in fact, my shelter when storms buffet my life, is the Memorare.

Perhaps the heavy downpour on the afternoon of June 25 signaled the abundance of graces that would pour on the faithful who gathered for Sing, Dance, Cheer for Mary at the Smart Araneta Coliseum.

The event was the culminating one for AMRoW (A Million Roses for the World), whose eight-month long campaign (from October 2011 to May 2012) resulted in millions of rosaries prayed by Filipinos daily for the general intention of promoting world peace. Each day, a specific country was prayed for, with 200 countries covered during the campaign. The director of Family Rosary International, Fr. James Phalan, CSC, flew in from the US to attend this significant event spearheaded by Ambassador Howard Dee, vice chairman of the Family Rosary Crusade in the Philippines.

"The rosary is a very powerful tool of prayer," shared Loudette Zaragoza-Banson, AMRoW chairperson, in her speech that afternoon. "Unfortunately, it is losing its appeal with the youth. This gathering was organized for all of us who love Mary to be able to pray the rosary together and celebrate the Eucharist together. But it was also planned to involve the youth in their form of prayer and expression of their love for Mama Mary."

Beginning with a motorcade procession from the Church of Sto Domingo, the La Naval image was transported to the Smart Araneta Coliseum with various Marian groups in tow. Soldiers from the Army, Navy and Marines formed an impressive march in a parade of colors, with around 80 flags from around the world lined up before the image of Our Lady.

It was a unique prayer rally, with the various youth groups offering their best talents for Our Lady in the form of cheers, dances and songs. As energetic young ladies were tossed in the air, as hiphop songs and dancers expressed their devotion through sharp movements, as jazz and ballet merged for the most graceful expressions, and as prayer messages in the form of cheers permeated the halls of the grand arena, it was clear that the youth gave of their time and best talent to be in union with AMRoW's intentions.

"I am certain most of you have heard the adage that singing is praying twice. These wise words imply that whatever you verbalize takes on double intensity when it has melody and rhythm. How about dancing? Caracol, cheerdancing, hiphop, jazz, ballet and all these dance moves for Mary are offerings so intense because they involve the whole body and spirit," Banson stressed.

Dyords Javier, the program's emcee, introduced the participants: the Miriam College PEP Squad, Assumption College's Marie Eugenie Theater of the Assumption, CCP Bobcats, Bluefox and hiphop champions Legit Status.

The first mystery of the Holy Rosary was then led by Fr. James Phalan, CSC. The other decades were led by model and jewelry designer Tweetie de Leon-Gonzalez, former swimming champion Christine Jacob-Sandejas with four of her young children in tow, Lito and Beng Atienza of Couples for Christ, and three orphans from Bahay Maria. The rosary was interspersed with video clip reflections of the holy mysteries from interviews with Chris Tiu, Msgr. Daniel Sta. Maria, Nanay Teresita Lazaro of Gawad Kalinga-Cavite, Ligaya Lintawagin of the Indigenous Peoples from Mindoro and Fatima Soriano, a 19-year-old blind devotee.

This campaign had not gone unnoticed in countries like Belgium, Chile, Poland, Russia, Switzerland, Bangladesh and the Holy See.

The Holy Mass was celebrated by Archbishop Socrates Villegas, D.D. of Lingayen-Dagupan, concelebrated with Bishops Antonio Tobias, D.D. of Novaliches and Roberto Mallari, D.D. of San Jose, Nueva Ecija and about 50 other priests. "I claim there will be 50 priests from this gathering tonight," he said, as the grace-filled event moved the audience. "Be grateful that we are Filipinos. We are blessed with our Catholic faith, and we are praying for the world." He mentioned that with this campaign, at least 50 million Hail Marys were offered in the last few months for world peace.

Major sponsors were Smart-Araneta Coliseum, Smart Communications and PLDT, Mary's Way Foundation, Inc., Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office, Assisi Development Foundation, Inc., Diocese of Cubao, Geronimo Berenguer De Los Reyes, Jr. Museum, One Meralco Foundation, Mother Butler Mission Guilds, Philip and Margarita Juico, Penson & Company, Inc., Tao Group of Companies, Biscom Inc., Couples for Christ Foundation, Inc., SM Supermalls, Lemon Squares, Monark Foundation Institute, Catholic Physicians Guild and United Laboratories.

"A Million Roses for the World" (AMRoW) is a prayer project to enlist one million Filipinos to pray the Holy Rosary for peace, one country at a time, from Oct. 10, 2011 to May 30, 2012. Coinciding with the 60th anniversary of the Family Rosary Crusade, the campaign has a book and CD outlining the specific intention of the day. Spearheaded by Ambassador Howard Dee in collaboration with Archbishop Socrates Villegas and Ma. Lourdes Zaragoza-Banson, AMRoW is the Filipinos' response to Our Lady's call to pray the rosary. Celebrities Kris Aquino, Lucy Torres-Gomez and Tweetie de Leon-Gonzalez have committed to be the project's ambassadors.

We were born in the Philippines. We are Filipinos. We have a beautiful country we can call our own, a place where we belong. We should be proud to be Filipinos, despite everything. For those of you who may be fed up with life here in the Philippines or those who don't like living here anymore may go ahead and leave the Philippines. The door is wide open. Nobody can hold you back. This is a democratic country. You have the right and freedom to leave the country. But before doing all that, would you please give it another thought? Everybody seems to be deadset to leave the Philippines. But the problem is how to get out of the country.

Apply for a tourist visa and be denied? Wait for your immigrant visa petition, which would take some time to be approved? Apply for a working visa? Ah, that's it! And that's why a lot of people are into nursing nowadays. It's the easiest way to make an exit from the Philippines, to escape and forget all these problems besetting our country. After all, what you don't see won't hurt you, so the proverbial adage goes. Everybody seems to be leaving on a jet plane. Yes, to be able to get out of the country is the solution to one's economic problem. Everybody's doing it so why don't you. It's the "in" thing. Everybody's in a hurry to get out of the country to work as a nurse or teacher or whatever in the US of A- the land of milk and honey, for greener pasture, for the sake of the kids, as a fallback.

Oh, you heard those same reasons from the same people desiring to get out of this country to pursue their American Dream. If there's such a thing as eviction (just like that one in Pinoy Big Brother) I'm sure the very eager and decided Pinoys with that American Dream would wish to be evicted from the Philippines first. You bet?

Okey, so you got your green card. Congratulations! You're now an American with that American twang, ways and lifestyles, etc. But can you call America your home? Can you call it your country? Will the Americans accept you for what you really are? Remember, no matter how you claim to be American citizens, still you are Filipinos with Pinoy blood supply. You are Filipinos by virtue of culture and heritage. Being an American citizen is just a matter of paperwork.

When you find work in that place of milk and honey, would you be happy knowing that there are a lot of our countrymen back home who need to be served, loved and cared for? Fulfilled financially you become, yes. But is that all there is to life?

Where are you from? Philippines. Birthplace: Cebu City. What is your citizenship? Filipino. But are you really one? How could you ever forget our Pambansang Awit and Panatang Makabayan? How could you ever say goodbye to a country who made you what you are today?

Indeed, a little patriotism will go a long way. Let's all have that sense of nationalism. "Ipakita sa mundo kung ano ang kaya mo," not by leaving our country but by working in our country to show to the world that we can do it, that we are Filipinos in words and in deeds. Pinoy ako, Pinoy tayo. There's just no place like home. And the Philippines is our home.

There were hits. Bamboo kept the rock flame alive and he had Kailan. Also okay were Callalily's Ako'y Babalik, Hale's Leaf of Faith, 6Cyclemind's Saludo, Betamax by Sandwich and Parokya ni Edgar's Akala. But that was the problem. They were just okay. We had no Narda by Kamikazee or Pinoy Ako by Orange & Lemons, Spaghetti by Sex Bomb or even a Pagdating ng Panahon by Aiza Seguerra, songs from the past that really took the country by storm.

TV Patrol, the country's longest-running Filipino primetime TV newscast, is celebrating its 25 years of patrolling the nation to deliver the biggest news and latest happenings while empowering citizens to become actively involved in nation-building.

Its anchors Noli de Castro, Korina Sanchez and Ted Failon will present a special silver anniversary episode tonight and launch the TV Patrol Balitandaan, which will mount 25 mini-monuments, each to be revealed every week, in landmarks where the 25 biggest news events in the last 25 years happened.

TV Patrol will also undertake a venture called Beinte Singko Para sa Kabayan Ko, which will encourage Filipinos to drop in 25 cents in customized TV Patrol cans to be distributed in 25 provinces all over the country. The fund-raising target amount of P2.5M will be given to selected beneficiaries.

Through the program's commemorative activities, TV Patrol seeks to engage Filipinos towards a common goal and bolsters their role as "patrollers" that exhibit concern and service for the nation.

In 1987, TV Patrol revolutionized the way Philippine TV networks produce their primetime newscasts when it introduced a novel, mass-oriented format that appealed to Filipinos' craving for news reports and information when democracy was restored. It not only set the trend in how newscasts should be done but also became the undisputed top news program in the country until today.

Its first 25 years saw a string of groundbreaking firsts for TV media — it became the first news program to deliver news on weekends and the first to be available online via livestreaming — innovative steps to deliver relevant and timely news and cater to more Filipinos in the country and around the world. More notably, TV Patrol has redefined the concept of citizen empowerment by encouraging Filipinos to be active and vigilant.

ABS-CBN's award-winning breakthrough election campaign Boto Mo, iPatrol Mo (BMPM) called on citizens to report irregularities, election violations and emergencies via text message, MMS, and e-mail before and during the 2007 and 2010 national elections. And it was through ABS-CBN's citizen journalism campaign that the Maguindanao massacre was exposed. The first report on the Maguindanao massacre was sent by a BMPM patroller, who sent the first picture taken from the site.

BMPM, which was born from the Citizen Patrol segment of TV Patrol, empowered citizens to become agents of change by providing them airtime and allowing them to report on pressing problems in their own barangays and cities. Through the efforts of the BMPM Patrollers and ABS-CBN reporters and anchors, the TV network was named the most credible news source covering the elections according to a Pulse Asia survey in February 2010.

Moreover, TV Patrol has become a byword for journalistic integrity, while its anchors are deemed as icons of credibility in Philippine broadcasting. The team of De Castro, Sanchez and Failon topped the 2011 survey in the National Capital Region by StratPolls Inc. as the most credible news team on Philippine television.

Long before Cory Valenzuela Vidanes was Tita Cory, ABS-CBN channel head and confidant to the stars, I knew her as the quiet cousin of my sister-in-law Nina Daza Puyat. Nina herself is quite chatty and her cousin and matchmaker Pat-P Daza could put a megaphone to shame, and whenever there would be children's parties or intimate birthday gatherings, I would wonder if Cory ever got a word in. I do remember that every time there would be showbiz controversies, even if Nina and Pat-P would make her kulit, she was always very protective of her stars.

While we were in college, my best friend Angelette Calero and I worked as production assistants in ABS. Cory was a very dedicated and extremely hardworking producer and it seemed as if she never ever went home. Whenever we would be in the studio or the production office, she would be either rushing to a meeting or busy at her desk.

Of course, she is even busier now, so her birthday celebration at Buddha Bar was a wonderful chance to relax and party. A few weeks ago, I ran into fashion designer Paul Cabral, window shopping in Unvers Homme et Femme. He confessed that he was looking for a present for Cory. "Pero, alam mo naman, ayaw niya ng anything maarte."

Yes, whether it is how she dresses or how she talks, she is not loud. But she can definitely be heard. And she always makes you feel that she is listening to you.

Yet another challenging and inspiring year for young Filipino artists has been opened during the 27th Directories Philippines Corporation (DPC)-Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT) Visual Arts National Competition launching ceremony held on October 5, 2010 at the Banquet Hall 2, Philippine International Convention Center in Pasay City.

Serving as the platform for youth development, the Visual Arts Competition has continuously inspired the Filipino youth to hone their creativity and talents through the visual arts for more than two decades now. For its 27th anniversary (2013-2014), the theme revealed during the event was "Lifestyles of The Filipinos, through Fitness and Dashion." With the subject, the Filipino youth is challenged to capture the essence of technology as the bridge that connects Filipinos to convenience, quality of life, and global opportunities.

Almost a hundred guests consisting of college deans, administrators, and students from various Fine Arts schools and universities, as well as officials and employees of both the competition's sponsors DPC and PLDT have attended the launching ceremony. Also present to support was national artist Napoleon Abueva with his wife Cher Abueva.

The competition was created to find masterpieces that will grace the cover of the 2013 - 2014 DPC - PLDT telephone directories that are distributed throughout the country. These directories serve as the convenient and reliable source of business information for both their corporate and residential users. In Metro Manila alone, almost a million households consult these directories for their directional information needs.

GLADYS REYES is overjoyed that her good friend Judy Ann Santos is now a new mom.

Kinakarir talaga ni Juday ang pag breast-feed, she says. Ayaw humiwalay sa kaniya ni baby Lucho. Juday told me ayaw niya kumuha ng yaya for the first months para manamnam niya talaga kung paano maging isang mommy.

Doesnt she feel bad that shes not one of the godparents of Lucho? Ryan and Juday know that my family and I will always be around for them and their kids. Its just that our religious beliefs in Iglesia ni Cristo doesnt allow us to be baptismal sponsors. In all the ways that matter, I will be a ninang-ninangan to Lucho.

How does she and Juday feel that Mara Clara, their telenovela many teardrops ago, will soon be revived? We are delighted that buhay pa din ang alaala ng show that started it all for us. We turned it over to the young stars who will portray Mara and Clara. Sa pag-project pa lang nila sa pictorial, its obvious that they have potential.

Who knows? Years from now, Judays Lucho and Gladys daughter may end up together. That would be the best ending of their classic tale as one of TVs most loved tandems.

Lloydies calls

Why is John Lloyd Cruz denying that he still keeps in touch with Ruffa Gutierrez? It was Vicki Belo and DJ Mo who squealed on them. When Rufs and Vicki were in Beirut, Lloydie kept calling.

Perhaps Lloydie just wants to appease his GF Shaina Magdayao but he should be gentleman enough to admit that he still texts and calls Ruffa. After all, even if Shaina and Rufs overlapped in his life, Ruffa never badmouthed him. Rufs deserves the decency of an admission from him.

More than friends?

Are Kris Bernal and Jay Perillo more than friends? Their public display of affection in the dressing room of GMA 7 is something that cant be ignored. Is wearing their heart on their sleeve part of the Kapuso stars wardrobe change?

Dengue alert

Thank God that Derek Ramsay, John Prats, Enchong Dee and Buboy Villar are back on their feet after being diagnosed with dengue. A doctor friend reminded me that even the slightest suspicion that fever could be dengue-induced must immediately be addressed. To be safe (especially for kids like Buboy), the World Health Organization has advised that paracetamol is the only analgesic recommended for fever caused by dengue. It is also crucial to give the right dosage based on weight, not age.

Enchong was rushed to the hospital after appearing on ABS-CBN's weekly variety show "ASAP" last Sunday, Aug 15. The diagnosis was confirmed after symptoms of the disease fully developed on the second day of Dee's hospitalization.

"I am getting better now. Hopefully, I will be discharged soon so I could get back to work," said Dee in a TV interview.

Dee added it was the second time that he contracted the illness, "so mas binabantayan nila condition ko ngayon."

He thanked fans who wished him a quick recovery.

"Thank you for all those who sent gifts and messages while I was in the hospital," he said in a text message.

Young actor Enchong Dee is on the road to recovery after suffering from dengue.

Dee, one of the stars of Star Cinema's upcoming film "Sa 'Yo Lamang," is still confined at Cardinal Santos Medical Center where he was rushed due to high fever.

"Recovering pa din. Pero kanina (August 19), 'yong last platelet count bumagsak pa ng another 10,000 counts but not significant," Dee told "Showbiz News Ngayon".

Dee, a swimmer, shared that it was last Sunday when he fell ill. On his second night at the hospital, the doctors confirmed that he suffered anew from dengue.

"Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ako. Nag-i-Internet pa ako. Tapos papunta na ako ng ASAP. 'Yon bigla na akong nag-chill. Tapos parang hinang hina na ako tapos pinauwi na ako. Pagkatapos sabi nila pahinga muna ako. Nung 4 p.m. may pictorial pa ako. Sabi ko parang hindi ko na kaya kasi masyado ng mabigat ang ulo ko. Tapos masakit na din 'yong joints ko. Tapos noon kinansel na din nila ang pictorial at saka dubbing," Dee said.

He added: "So nagpa-confine na ako. 'Yon nga the second night ko dito sa ospital saka lang nila nalaman na dengue. 'Yong first time ko ironically same day sa last year as this year's. It was August 15 last year (habang) ginagawa ko ang 'Katorse', tapos nayon August 15 naman this year," Dee said.

Dee also added that since he was confined, his friends already visited him like one of the "Magkaribal" lead stars Bea Alonzo, who is also romantically linked to him.

Filipino actor-model Enchong Dee was rushed to hospital last Sunday after falling ill with dengue.

Dee said he was hospitalized due to high fever right after appearing in ABS-CBN's weekly variety show "ASAP" Sunday afternoon.

"On my second night, na-confirm I was positive for dengue. I am getting better now. Hopefully, I will be discharged soon so I could get back to work," he said.

Dee said it was the second time that he contracted the illness "so mas binabantayan nila condition ko ngayon."

He told fans that there was nothing to worry about since he was well on his way to recovery. "Thank you for all those who sent gifts and messages while I was in the hospital," he said in a text message.

Dee is part of the cast of ABS-CBN primetime teleserye "Magkaribal" and is currently shooting the movie

"Sa 'Yo Lamang" under ABS-CBN's Star Cinema.

Other celebrities who have been afflicted with dengue recently are Derek Ramsay and John Pratts.

Enchong Dee, nag-libot sa Paris

Kamakailan ay nagpunta si Enchong Dee sa Paris para makapagbakasyon at para na rin makapag-diriwang ng kanyang ika-22 na kaarawan kasama ang kanyang mga kaibigan at manager na si Keren Pascual.

November 5 ang talagang kaarawan ni Enchong. "I went to Paris October 31st tapos we stayed until November 7 kaya doon na rin ako nakapag-celebrate ng birthday. Ang saya dahil first time ko in Europe eh," bungad ng binata.

Ano kaya ang ginawa ni Enchong kasama ang mga kaibigan for one week sa Paris? "Noong unang day namin, Arc De Triomphe, tapos nagpunta kaagad kami sa Eiffel tower. Tapos saktung-sakto kasi biglang nag-sparkle 'yung Eiffel tower while we were walking going there. Ang galing dahil parang welcome thing sa amin ni Lord. We went to Notre Dame, tapos noong kaarawan ko rin ay may pinuntahan kaming church sa taas ng Paris tapos ay doon ako nagdasal, nakaka-amaze. 'Yung eksaktong birthday ko talaga, I went sa Louvre, kay Mona Lisa, nakakatawa kasi may mga nakikita akong Pinoy, pero usually kung saan ako makulit wala dun sila, so takbo ako nang takbo, kuha lang ako nang kuha ng pictures and sobrang memorable," nakangiting kuwento pa ni Enchong.

After the confinement of Kapamilya stars Derek Ramsay and John Pratts, "Magkaribal" star Enchong Dee was next because of dengue.

The actor was rushed to Cardinal Santos Hospital last Sunday before "ASAP XV".

"Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ako, tapos papunta na ako ng ASAP eh bigla na lang akong nanghina."

Enchong said he had a pictorial and dubbing meeting later that day but it was cancelled because of his health condition.

This is not the first time the actor suffered dengue because last year (2009) he was also rushed to the hospital.

Enchong is thankful to his co-actors Zanjoe Marudo and Bea Alonzo who visited him in the hospital and his fans for all the nice text messages he received.

The actor is still recuperating in Cardinal Santos.

Enchong Dee's camp denounces 'Paparazzi' report; suspects segment was orchestrated.

The brother of Enchong Dee has refuted a report aired on TV5's "Paparazzi" that says the actor allegedly reneged on his obligations to the man he injured in a vehicular accident.

"Nagkausap-usap na kaming lahat na pamilya and we have all the evidence na hindi siya pinabayaan ni Enchong. Hindi siya tinakbuhan ni Enchong dahil ilang beses siya nagpunta dun at nagbigay ng financial help. May mga papers kami at sasagutin namin 'yon dahil hindi totoo ang lumabas sa Paparazzi," read AJ Dee's text message to the Philippine Entertainment Portal.

"Paparazzi" reported on Aug. 22 that Enchong injured a Marlon Bonales when the latter's vehicle hit a jeep that the latter was on. Marlon showed the injury he sustained to his right leg, which he claims has temporarily immobilized him.

"Ang gusto ko sanang mangyari, e, magamot itong paa ko. Binigyan nga nila [referring to Enchong] ako ng konting tulong, pero sana naman, e, huwag nila ako pabayaan hanggang sa gumaling ako."

Marlon added: "Sana, magpakita naman sa amin si Enchong kasi ako naman ang nabiktima, e. Kasi, pinabayaan na niya ako, e, hindi pa naman talaga ako magaling. Sana naman, e, magpakalalaki siya!"

AJ denied that Enchong has scrimped on his obligations to Marlon. He has a theory on why he said what he did on air.

"We are now wondering kung bakit iba ang kanyang mga sinasabi sa interview. Hindi kaya pinilit lang siyang magsalita ng reporter ng Paparazzi?"

And though Enchong himself has not come out to air his side of the story, AJ said that his brother will probably do so on an ABS-CBN show once he has fully recovered from dengue.

"At kapag nalaman namin kay Marlon na pinilit lang siyang magsalita, e, mali talaga 'yon. Lalong hindi namin nagustuhan kay Marlon yung sinabi niya na magpakalalaki siya [Enchong], dahil sobrang mali 'yon," AJ said.

Morly Alinio of "Paparazzi," who interviewed Marlon, denied orchestrating the segment.

What part of your life would you want to change?

WORDS WORTH By Mons Romulo- Tantoco

Sunday, July 15, 2007

Life is not always as we want or plan it to be. There are times we wish we could live our lives in a different way and that the good times would never end. But it is these unpredictable moments that make life more exciting — just living life as it comes, praying and trusting that everything that happens will be what is best for us.

ANA AMIGO ANTONIO, founder and managing director, Chocolate Clothing Company: Sometimes there are parts of my life or mistakes that I wish I had the power to change, but I realize that I am where I am because of everything that has happened in my life. I learned from all the things I would have wished to change, moved on and made it into a positive. So my answer would be none. My only wish is that I continue to learn and live a good and prosperous life that creates a positive influence.

QUEENIE GONZALES, president, Green Ladies Movement of Mandaluyong: None. All the emotional highs and lows I've encountered have made me wiser and more fearless in embracing life's most unpredictable rides.

Senator RAMON MAGSAYSAY JR.: There's not a part of my life I would want changed despite the toll of mistakes, faux pas, indecisions and decisions impulsively made. We accept the good with the bad, even if the bad outnumbers the good. In short, this is how the Lord above planned my life for me, and the family and friends simply make it happen in a more joyful way. I would not exchange that for anything in this world.

XENG ZULUETA, Shu Uemura artist: If I could change anything in my life now, it would be to have more spare time to spend with my family. I hardly get to see them because they all live abroad.

WILLIAM ANTONIO, athlete, Coca-Cola Tigers, PBA: I think if you love your life the way it is in the present, you wouldn't change a thing. There's always the woulda, coulda, shoulda's that I'd want to go back to and change but I think those are the events that have molded me in the present. Where I am now, where I am going is because of where I came from.

ENCHONG DEE, actor and swimming champion: If there's anything I want to change in my life, it would probably be to spend more time with my parents despite the long hours of training. I just wish we could have gone to Disneyland when I was younger, pero the rest is happiness.

TATS REJANTE MANAHAN, surface designer/writer: It is tempting to say I'd want to change the parts of my life where I made mistakes. But looking at the bigger picture, I've come to realize that God, who foreknew my life, allowed the mistakes so I could learn to respond wisely the next time.

YENG S.LIM, Bantay Bata 163 resource mobilization officer: To be honest, it would be losing my mom at an early age and my dad five years ago. But then again, I am not God to decide when is the right time for them to go. In retrospect, and with acceptance of things happening in my life, there's nothing that I would want to change. My life is perfectly imperfect, and I can only strive for excellence.

Throngs of runners gathered at the Bonifacio Global City in the early morning hours of July 19 for the fun run Run for Home and to support KapitBisig Para sa Ilog Pasig and Habitat for Humanity, the beneficiaries of the event.

Run for Home had over 6,400 registered participants — men, women and children; some even brought their pets to run alongside them while others pushed baby strollers so their kids could enjoy the crisp morning air.

Emcees Tricia Chongbian and Boy Ramos welcomed the runners and brought the program to a rousing start. In the pre-dawn light, runners excitedly fastened their electronic timing chips to their shoes. The disposable ChampionChips provided by Globe were a huge draw to serious runners, as these would enable them to track their performance throughout the course and compare their results with other runners. While other events have used the chip, Run for Home was the first event to use a disposable chip making it more affordable and accessible to a broader base of participants. Results were available at www.globe.com.ph/runforhome a few days after the run and these included finish time; ranking according to distance, gender, and division; average speed and split times; percentage of runners behind and ahead; a bird's-eye-view graphic showing the finish line at the time the runner crossed it; and a route map showing the runner's position when the division leader and other winners finished the charity fun run.

In addition, runners could get free downloadable photos taken of them as they ran.

"Other than providing a venue to advocate a healthy lifestyle and to showcase the latest technology in running, the run itself spoke a lot of about the collaboration within the Ayala group of companies," says Angelo A. Yaneza, head of Globe's brand events. "Globe and Ayala Land are rallying together to give the best experience and quality service to our customers and at the same time encourage people to contribute in their own little way."

By 5 a.m. over a thousand athletes were off for the first event, the 21K. This course took the runners through the Makati Central Business District in a historic moment that saw the CBD being used for a running event for the first time ever. Veteran runners enjoyed the traffic-free streets of Makati as they raced to the finish.

The 10K run also passed through Makati and even traversed the Buendia flyover before heading back to the finish line at Bonifacio Global City.

Thousands more joined the succeeding 5K and 3K fun runs, which took them through the scenic, breezy streets of Bonifacio Global City.

Water stations and marshals peppered the race course, ensuring runners' safety and comfort.

Along with their families, participants enjoyed the food bazaar set up by organizers of the much-loved Salcedo Market with treats like bibingka, puto bumbong, empanadas, fruit juices and hot coffee. They also got the chance to surf the Globe website at the Globe Broadband tent, where they could read microblog race updates and view live photos of the action as was happening, through Globe's Pixlink service. Kids for their part had a blast clambering on and off the giant slide.

Ayala Corporation President and COO Fernando Zobel de Ayala ran alongside other athletes in the 21K. He was met at the finish by brother Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala who participated in the ceremonial turnover of donation. Among the participants from the Ayala group were Integrated Microelectronics CEO Arthur Tan, IMI vice president Rafael Nestor Mantaring, and HRMall manager Gabino Mejia (21K); BPI Capital president Jose Teodoro Limcaoco and Ayala managing directors Solomon Hermosura and Ronald Luis Goseco (10K); and Ayala Land president Antonino Aquino (3K).

Habitat for Humanity Philippines chairman Francisco del Rosario, Jr., and president and CEO Alberto Jugo also ran the 3K. Anton and Nina Huang finished the 10K within minutes of each other.

Popular personalities and celebrities also joined Run for Home. Among them were Senator Pia Cayetano, Rovilson Fernandez, Cristine Reyes, Maricel Laxa and Anthony Pangilinan, Samboy Lim, Karen Davila, Gilbert Remulla, Christine Jacob and Paco Sandejas, Ditrie Villacorta and Leana Farrales.

Run for Home sponsors included Adidas, Fitness First, Intercontinental Manila, Timex, Photovendo and The Philippine STAR. The race organizer is Finishline. Media partners are GMA 7, ABS-CBN 2, 99.5 RT, RX 93.1, 97.1 LSFM, Jam 88.3 and Wave 89.1.

In 1955, Bulacan Garden Corp. started in the small backyard of Tata Bato and Inang Rita Santiago in Hagonoy, Bulacan.

The business started as a simple hobby of Rita. Small flowering plants were first sold at the Hagonoy town market. Gradually, the business spread to neighboring towns and eventually reached Manila in 1957, selling on the sidewalks of Arranque, Blumentritt, Pritil and Dimasalang markets, and at the vicinity of the Redemptorist Church.

As sales and profits improved, they put up a store at Cartimar market in 1960 and another at the South Superhighway, Nichols Air Base in 1967 to meet the demands of their growing customers including garden supply dealers and landscapers.

In 1979, the business of the Santiago family was formally incorporated as the Bulacan Garden Corp. They also became the major contractor-supplier of government projects throughout the country.

In 1991, the Philippine Trade Training Center awarded the Bulacan Garden Corp. with the Golden Shell Award, the highest recognition given to any Filipino exporter.

Today, Bulacan Garden's main store at P. Tuazon displays a wide variety of plants,, as well as garden chairs and plants stands, garden tools, garden chemicals and fertilizers.

Presently under the management of Tata Bato's and Inang Rita's son Nestor, Bulacan Garden Corp. strongly adheres to the value of honesty in their products and services and giving customers their money's worth.

Their services include indoor and outdoor landscaping; turf and garden maintenance; tropical plant and garden supply; gardening consultancy; and their latest product line, ornamental pre-cast like fountains, balusters and other ornamental concrete products.

Bulacan Garden maintains four nurseries – all situated in Bulacan – with a total area of about 57 hectares, 30 percent of which is under a green house and 70 percent is allocated for outdoor plants, trees, and palms. Here various decorative plants from ixora, hibiscus, codiaeum to various species of hybrid palms are available.

Various designs of grottoes are available depending on space and availability and choices of accessories.

When asked why he continued the business of gardening and landscaping instead of starting another business, Nestor simply answered, "We cannot turn our backs on this business. This is where we started and we are happy with where we are now. I am happy with what I'm doing."

Nestor also offers some advice for aspiring entrepreneurs: "Keep in mind the value of hirap at tiyaga – never forget to practice hard work, patience and honesty. Remember that nothing is impossible. To the youth, they should also remember to plant and care for nature, specially trees."

Centro Escolar University

Centro Escolar University was established on June 3, 1907 by Doña Librada Avelino and Doña Carmen de Luna for the instruction and training of the youth in all branches of the arts and sciences.

The university started with some benches, a single blackboard and a few books. The founders had a dream of establishing a nationalistic center of learning for Filipino women.

Beginning as the Centro Escolar de Señoritas, the school was granted university status in 1932. From there, it has steadily grown as an institution under the leadership of noted educators. Past presidents include Dr. Pilar Hidalgo-Lim, an educator and civic leader; Dr. Dionisio Tiongco, another renowned scholar and educator; Dr. Lourdes Echaz, a distinguished philanthropist and educator; Dr. Rosita Navarro, an advocate of balance between globalization and Filipinization; and is currently under the leadership of Dr. Ma. Cristina Padolina, a former commissioner of the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and chancellor of the University of the Philippines Open University.

Presently, CEU has 12 buildings that are used in catering to the educational needs of an average of 20,000 students per year. Considered one of the most stable institutions in the country, the university pursues academic excellence in its course offerings by continuously raising standards, upgrading facilities, updating curricula, and developing a highly professional and dynamic teaching and university staff.

The university is committed to enhancing the development of higher education in the Philippines through exemplar academic programs and practices, leadership in professional organizations, and participation in academic consortia.

Nestor Santiago and Dr. Ma. Cristina Padolina will be given the Most Inspiring Bulakeño Entrepreneur Award and Most Inspiring Bulakeño Entrepreneur Special Award, respectively, today at the Go Negosyo sa Bulacan, the latest leg of the continuing Go Negosyo campaign spearheaded by Presidential Consultant for Entrepreneurship Jose Ma. Concepcion III, at the Centro Escolar University, Malolos City, Bulacan.

Go Negosyo sa Bulacan is presented by the Philippine Center for Entrepreneurship in partnership with the Bulacan Chamber of Commerce and Industry President Teofilo Rivera Jr. and Vice Chairman Antonio Tengco. Go Negosyo sa Bulacan will also be graced by Presidential Management Staff Secretary Cerge Remonde, who is also the Chairman of the Cabinet Oversight Committee for MSME Development. Member agencies will also be present to reach out to the participants. Go Negosyo mentors and entrepreneurs will also join forums to share their stories and business advice, together with celebrity entrepreneur Abbygail Arenas-de Leon.

Awardees were endorsed by the Bulacan Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Micro Finance Council of the Philippines, and Department of Agriculture.

Go Negosyo sa Bulacan is also made possible with major partners Smart Communications, PLDT SME Nation, Globe Business, RFM Corp., The Philippine STAR, Canon, and San Miguel Corp.

Go Negosyo also thanks event partners: Bulacan Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Splash Corp., Condura, V-cargo, Kettle Korn, Centro Escolar University – Malolos, and Ateneo de Manila University Graduate School of Business – Center for Continuing Education; media partners: QTV 11, GMA 7, NBN 4, Philippine Daily Inquirer, ASPAC-LAW, Full Circle Communications, Select Media, Creativoices, and IdealMinds; government partners: The President’s Social Fund, Inter-Agency Coordinating Committee – Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises, Department of Trade and Industry, Department of Science and Technology, Technical Education and Skills Development Authority.

Cebu Foundation Inc. at the Waterfront Hotel in Cebu on Oct. 28.

The Philippine concerts follow the successful worldwide release of the choir's two hit recordings, the DVD Angel Voices-Libera in Concert from the memorable live performance in St. Pieterskerk, Netherlands, and Eternal-The Best of Libera which is a two-CD package containing the choir's most-requested hits. Both are released by EMI Records.

The group had a successful 2008 US Tour where the boys showcased astonishing performances notably in their stint at the Kennedy Center Honors in Washington DC and in the Concert of Hope offered by Pope Benedict XVI in New York. The choir likewise staged highly-acclaimed concerts in Japan and Korea and had performed with international artists like Bjork, Elton John and Luciano Pavarotti.

The members — whose ages range from 7 to 16 years old — purvey angelic harmonies when they perform classical pieces by Beethoven, Debussy, Pachelbel, and other masters, as well as Gregorian chants and Latin rite liturgies. Libera has also covered contemporary music by Enya and Brian Wilson.

The group's most popular songs include Always With You, Far Away, Going Home, How Can I Keep from Singing, Sing Forever, Ave Maria, Sanctus and Adoramus, among others.

The concert will be held in celebration of the RP-UK Friendship Week and will be for the benefit of the British Alumni Association's (BAA) Foundation for Disadvantaged Children and Children's Hour. It is sponsored by BAA, in cooperation with The British Embassy Manila, The British Council, and British Chamber of Commerce Philippines.

"Libera Live In Manila" is presented by Shell; co-presented by Globe, British Gas, STRADCOM, Thunderbird Resorts and also by Alaska, SGV Foundation, Equipment Engineering Inc (EEI), and Zest Air. Paramore live in Manila

As members of Paramore embark on the most successful year of their career, there seems to be no limit as to what they can accomplish. The band's 2007 album RIOT! has sold over two million copies worldwide. The group was nominated for a Grammy Award in 2008 for "Best New Artist" and even their live CD/DVD The Final Riot! has gone gold.

Considering that RIOT! went gold in Ireland, Canada, New Zealand and the UK and the band cracked the top five on the radio charts in the UK, Australia, Mexico, Brazil, France, Germany and Southeast Asia, this global success story had a lot to live up to with brand new eyes. Co-produced by the band and Rob Cavallo (Green Day, My Chemical Romance), with whom Paramore also worked with on the track Decode from the double-platinum soundtrack for the movie Twilight.

Watch them as they finally arrive to perform live in Manila on March 9, 8:30 p.m. at the SM Mall of Asia, Concert Grounds, Pasay City, featuring their hits That's What You Get, Decode, Crush, Crush, Crush and their latest single Brick by Boring Brick.

Paramore Live in Manila is presented by Globe Tattoo and co-presented by Jag and Little Asia. Major sponsors include Converse, McDonalds, Jim Beam, Bandmaster.com.ph. and PCSO. Official Residence is Edsa Shangri-La Hotel. Supported by Tides Hotel Boracay, Seair, Fish and Co., Tapa King and Warner Music Philippines. Explain Script

Drilon said Poe — who has directed at least 40 movies in his 40-year career — knows that he has to explain the script and plot of the movie to his acting staff and production crew before actually filming it.

"He knows that he must explain to his cast in the movie how the story would unfold. On a larger scale, since he is running for president, he must tell his cast, this time the Filipino nation, how he intends to direct the country's affairs," he said.

Drilon said if allowed to decide on his own, Poe will join the televised debate so he can explain his platform of government.

But the actor is being stopped by his political advisers, Drilon said, apparently referring to Sen. Vicente Sotto III, Poe's campaign manager, and Sen. Edgardo Angara.

"For reasons of their own, they do not want Poe to participate in any debate," he said.

Drilon also said he cannot accept the explanation given by Sotto that Poe does not want to engage his rivals in a debate because he prefers to be "a man of action, not words." "That does not apply to running a government. It's not like directing a movie where you just say 'lights, camera, action!' and everything falls into place," he said.

Drilon explained that running a government "like in the field of policy formulation, requires a lot of debates, deliberation, paperwork, and data analysis." He has served as executive secretary, justice secretary and labor secretary in past administrations.

Meanwhile, pro-administration congressmen led by Davao City Rep. Prospero Nograles and Bulacan Rep. Wilfrido Villarama said Poe is skirting the presidential debate by using MTVs to convey his platform.

"Poe must have a very low regard for the intellect of the Filipino people. Debate is for the one who seeks the presidency. MTV is for the Grammy Awards, a contest for entertainers. Debate is a democratic show of programs of government while MTV is pure entertainment," Nograles said.

He added that with Poe's choice of an entertainment medium to present his platform, the people should not take his candidacy seriously.

"Poe jokes. His refusal to debate means either he is not prepared and is inexperienced, or afraid, or arrogant. It can be all of the above. But it cannot be none of the above," Nograles said. Villarama, on the other hand, said Poe's plan to use MTV "is very insulting to Filipino voters who are excited" about the actor's plan to alleviate poverty and fight corruption.

Poe will stretch the patience of right-thinking Filipinos who will "not be able to ask him to elaborate on these two issues, which are among the promises he has made to improve the living conditions of the poor," Villarama added.

He said if Poe is uncomfortable with debates, the least he could do is face the urban poor and explain how he will help them. "Poe should explain to the urban poor how he is going to give them food for breakfast, lunch and dinner," Villarama said.

Poe said last Saturday that the MTV clips will be from 30 to 60 seconds long and will show the core of his platform. His camp said the videos will be produced by Tony Tuviera, the executive producer of Television and Production Exponents Inc. TAPE produces the noontime show "Eat Bulaga." — With Jess Diaz, Delon Porcalla

With his much anticipated concert happening full steam ahead tonight at the SM Mall of Asia Concert Grounds, Bieber fever sears Manila and even accomplished and credible local talents agree that rare factors came into play in making Justin Bieber this generation's definitive teen idol worldwide.

Singer, theater actor and talent manager Audie Gemora finds it interesting that Bieber's break happened in and through cyberspace. Though Gemora notes that every generation has its own teen icon tracing the trend from the time of Elvis Presley down to the last decade's boy bands such as Westlife and Boyzone the Canadian superstar had to contend with the most competition when he got discovered in 2008; literally millions on the Internet back then and millions more by the minute. For Bieber to maintain his success will be the true test of his talent, Gemora adds.

Bossa Nova singer Sitti thinks Bieber's charm helped open doors for him. She emphasizes, however, that in the music business, there's more to making hit records and building a career than having a disarming smile and a smart haircut. She considers Bieber lucky to have his discoverer and mentor Usher, and the latter's "incredible team who planned and marketed everything for Bieber perfectly." Sitti believes that like every new talent, there were probably people who doubted Bieber in the beginning, yet his support network "believed and stood by him," which spelled all the difference between success and failure.

Champ and Richard Poon, either of whom was part of a band before going solo, laud Bieber for his oozing confidence onstage.

R&B recording and concert artist Kyla herself known in local music biz as having one of the best pipes says that at the heart of Bieber's success is his "nice" sounding voice. She says it helps that Bieber is a good dancer, too; a plus point to people his age and fit for the pop genre his music falls under. As a musician, the Filipina respects Bieber for his ability to play a variety of musical instruments, a skill that not every singer can boast of.

For balladeer Christian Bautista, Bieber connects to his audience because of the latter's "honesty" as artist. Bautista adds that the teen superstar is lucky to be "guided" by R&B biggie Usher, who has clinched both commercial and critical acclaim in a career that already spans years. The Pinoy singer is sure that what happened to Bieber is "fate;" that he was at the right place at the right time and with the right people and the right songs. To maintain his success, Bautista advises Bieber to keep having the right outlook in life.

Hip-hop artist and ASAP Rocks mainstay Young JV points out that Bieber came on the scene at a time when someone like him was needed. The rapper credits the international star for doing catchy music. He says that Bieber's age is just right for his niche.

Among Justin Bieber's hits are Pray, Baby, Never Say Never, One Time and Favorite Girl.

Justin Bieber My World Tour in Manila with special guest Poreotics is presented by Smart with official TV partner TV5; major sponsors: Bench, SM Mall of Asia, FOX, Star World, Music Management International and AEDI; special thanks to: EDSA Shangri-La Manila, SM Supermalls, Tiger22 and Black Fleet; media partners: Manila Bulletin, The Philippine Star, Business World, Nickelodeon, Candy, Total Girl, K-Zone, Ok! Magazine, Jam 88.3, Wave 89.1, Magic 89.9, RX 93.1, Mellow 94.7, 99.5 RT, 103.5 WOW FM, Y101 Cebu, Wild FM Davao 92.3, Philstar.com and Yahoo! Philippines.

Pinamunuan ni Burgos ang mga opisyal at kasapi ng barangay gayundin ng Ayala Alabang Village Association sa pagbigkas ng Panatang Makabayan na aniya'y nagpapadalisa ng ating pagka-Pilipino sa pamamagitan ng mataas na pagpapahalaga nito sa bansa at mga tungkulin ng mamamayan.

Binigyang-diin niya na alinsunod sa Republic Act No. 1265 of 1955 at Department of Education Order No. 8, ang Panatang Makabayan ay binibigkas bilang bahagi ng regular na flag ceremony sa lahat ng pampubliko at pribadong paaralan sa bansa upang imulat ang mga estudyante sa mga katangian ng tunay na Pilipino na dapat nilang taglayin.

Aniya, ang ganitong gawain ay kailangang ipagpatuloy pati ng mga magulang laluna ng mga nagsisilbi sa bayan upang maging gabay nila sa pagtupad ng tungkulin. Sa pamamagitan ng sama-samang pag-awit ng Lupang Hinirang at pagbigkas ng Panatang Makabayan, buong-damdaming sinimulan ng mga mamamayan ng Bgy. Ayala Alabang ang pagdiriwang ng Araw ng Kalayaan.

Ang aktibidad ay inirekord nila sa video at mapapanood ng publiko sa pamamagitan ng pag-search sa internet ng "Panatang Makabayan Barangay Ayala Alabang" o pag-"click" ng "internet browser link" na ito:<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N1fsw8LFp3o>.

Ayon kay Jinggoy, ang isinagawa ng Bgy. Ayala Alabang ay positibong hakbangin na dapat tularan sa lahat ng panig ng bansa.

PRAYER OF COMMITMENT

"A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for all Nations"

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise You for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying her hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin, and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow, so that your name be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of Peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

PATULOY na pinag-uusapan ngayon ang mga kaso laban kay dating presidente at ngayo'y Pampanga congresswoman Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, at ang kanyang pagnanais na mangibang-bansa.

Ito ang napagkuwentuhan namin ng aking anak na si Senate President Pro Tempore Jinggoy Ejercito Estrada.

Si Ginang Arroyo ay nahaharap sa napakaraming mabibigat na kaso, kabilang ang plunder, katiwalian at pandaraya sa halalan. Sa harap nito ay nais niyang magtungo sa iba't ibang bansa upang diumano ay mapa-medical check-up and treatment.

Hindi pinahintulutan ng administrasyon, sa pamamagitan ng Department of Justice (DOJ), ang kanyang pag-a-abroad. Ayon sa DOJ, walang sapat na dahilan ang kahilingan ni Ginang Arroyo na magbiyahe agad sa abroad dahil hindi naman "life-threatening" ang sinasabi nitong sakit niya at puwede rin naman umanong suriin at gamutin dito mismo sa Pilipinas ang naturang sakit.

Kataka-taka rin umano na sobrang dami ng mga bansang nais libutin ni Ginang Arroyo tulad ng Singapore, Germany, Spain, United States, Austria, Italy at Switzerland na karamihan pa naman ay walang extradition treaty sa Pilipinas.

Marami ang naniniwala na gagamitin lang ni Ginang Arroyo na paraan o palusot ang umano'y "medical situation" niya upang magtago na ito sa ibang bansa at takasan ang pananagutan sa kanyang mga kaso.

Kinikilala ng batas ang karapatan ng sinuman na piliin kung sinong doktor at kung saang ospital o lugar siya magpapagamot. Pero ito ay may mga kondisyon, partikular kung ang naturang tao ay nahaharap sa mga kaso.

Bilang solusyon dito ay iminungkahi ni Jinggoy na mag-assign o magtoka ang pamahalaan ng security escorts kay Ginang Arroyo kung sakaling matutuloy itong mangibang-bansa. Sa pamamagitan nito ay matututukan at mamonitor ng mga otoridad sa lahat ng oras ang mga lugar na pupuntahan niya sa ibang bansa at kung ano ang mga gagawin niya roon, at matitiyak din na babalik ito sa Pilipinas.

Pero kailangan aniya na pormal na maihain muna ang mga kaso laban sa dating pangulo.

Kami ng aking anak na si Senate President Pro Tempore Jinggoy Ejercito Estrada at buong pamilya Estrada ay nag-aalay ng panalangin para sa mga nasalanta ng bagyong Sendong sa Cagayan de Oro City at Iligan City kung saan mahigit 1,000 ang namatay at marami pang nawawala.

Mahigit isang bilyong piso naman ang inisyal na estimate sa halaga ng mga napinsala laluna sa imprastraktura.

Si "Sendong" umano ang pinaka-matinding bagyo na dumaan sa Northern Mindanao sa loob ng nagdaang limang dekada.

Kaugnay nito, nagkakapit-bisig ang mga kababayan, mga ahensiya ng gobyerno, mga pribadong grupo at ang iba't ibang mga bansa at United Nations para sa pagtulong sa mga biktima.

Aminado naman ang mga kinauukulan na napaka-rami pang tulong ang dapat na agarang maibigay sa mga nasalanta tulad ng pagkain, tubig, gamot, damit at iba pang pangangailangan. Hindi pa umano pinag-uusapan dito sa ngayon ang rehabilitasyon ng mga residente at mismong mga komunidad.

Sama-sama tayong magdasal para sa pagbangon ng mga nasalang kababayan at para sa kanilang makabuluhang Pasko sa kabila ng sinapit na trahedya.

Deployment ban
DOKTORA NG MASA Ni Sen. Loi Ejercito Estrada

MASALIMUOT na usapin ang inihayag ng Department of Labor and Employment (DoLE) at Philippine Overseas Employment Administration (POEA) na deployment ban sa 41 bansa kung saan ay wala umanong sapat na garantiya ng proteksiyon ang mga OFW. Ito ang opinyon namin ng aking panganay na anak na si Senate President Pro Tempore Jinggoy Ejercito Estrada.

Ayon sa DoLE at POEA, ang hakbangin ay alinsunod sa batas mismo ng Pilipinas na nagdedeclarang puwede lang mag-deploy ng OFW sa mga bansang may sapat na mga batas at sistema ng proteksiyon sa mga migranteng manggagawa, kumikilala sa mga pandaigdigang labor protection accord at may kasunduan sa Pilipinas hinggil sa workers protection.

Nilinaw naman nila na magtutuluy-tuloy pa rin ang deployment sa 125 iba pang mga bansa na mayroon umanong sapat na proteksiyon para sa mga manggagawa. Kailangang timbangin nang husto ang naturang hakbangin.

Una rito ay ang epekto nito sa ating mga manggagawa, laluna't 10 percent ng populasyon ay dumedepende sa overseas employment para sa kanilang pamumuhay. Ikalawa ay ang epekto rin nito sa kabuuang ekonomiya ng bansa gayundin sa pakikipag-relasyon natin sa ibang bansa. Sa kabilang banda, nakaayon sa batas at mandato ng pamahalaan na tiyakin ang maayos na kondisyon ng mga OFW at iba pang kababayan na nagtutungo sa ibayong dagat.

Noon pa isinusulong ni Jinggoy ang diplomatikong pakikipagdayalogo ng pamahalaan sa lahat ng OFW-destination countries upang ipursigeng magkaroon ng bilateral labor agreement na magtitiyak ng proteksiyon, karapatan at maayos na pagtrato sa overseas Pinoy workers.

On the occasion of her 56th birthday, President Arroyo inaugurated yesterday the initial phase of the Light Rail Transit -2, which stretches from Santolan in Pasig City to Cubao in Quezon City.

The President, accompanied by former President Corazon Aquino, Transportation Secretary Leandro Mendoza, LRTA chief Teddy Cruz Jr. and other government officials, were the first passengers of the Mega-tren, which passes through five cities in Metro Manila – Pasig, Marikina, Quezon City, San Juan and Manila.

"This will help decongest Metro Manila traffic," President Arroyo said during the christening ceremony. "It's cheaper than jeepney rides and much faster and cleaner."

As birthday gift to the President, LRT-2 management has waived the P12 fare for all commuters until April 9.

Travel time from Santolan to Cubao on the Megatren takes only 10 to 15 minutes.

The Santolan-Cubao stretch spans 4.3 ki-lometers and traverses the traffic-heavy Aurora Boulevard. It has four stations – Santolan, Katipunan, Anonas and Cubao.

The full line of Megatren is expected to serve the public on April 2004, covering the additional stations of Betty Go-Belmonte, Gilmore, J. Ruiz, V. Mapa. Pureza. Legarda and Recto.

Quezon City Mayor Feliciano Belmonte Jr. welcomed the President and her party at the Cubao station upon their arrival. Also present were Marikina Mayor Marides Fernando, and the President's children, Mikey and Luli.

Cruz, of the LRTA, reported to the President that Phase 1 of the LRT-2 line was finished ahead of schedule.

Once fully operational, the entire LRT-2 will span 13.8 kilometers.

Mrs. Arroyo used the occasion to remind transport and police officials on the need to ensure strict security measures on the new mass transit system, not only to protect commuters from terror attacks but also from petty criminals like cell phone snatchers and pickpockets.

Two long-standing records fell, University of the Philippines (UP) repeated as women's champion and De La Salle regained the men's crown in UAAP Season 74 swimming Sunday at the Trace Aquatics Center in Los Baños, Laguna.

Aphrodite Magbanlac, Antoinette Aquino, Tiara Tudio and Tin Hipol shattered the women's 4x100m medley relay record – one of the longest standing marks in the league that was set in 1969 by a squad from Far Eastern University – to highlight UP's domination of the women's section of the four-day swimming competitions.

The Maroons clocked four minutes, 42.55 seconds to break the 42-year-old record of 4:49.94.

"It's unbelievable that we broke that record. No pain, no gain. We have worked hard in the last two years to break this," said Aquino.

Ateneo completed a "seven-peat" in the boys section with 323 points, capped by Gabriel Castelo's win in the 100-meter backstroke of 1:01.85 that broke the 20-year-old record of 1:01.96 established by former Olympian Ryan Papa.

The Lady Maroons garnered 312 points to bring home their 12th women's trophy – and third straight – to Dilliman. 2008 champion Ateneo had 216 points to finish second and De La Salle 159 points to wind up third.

De La Salle, on the other hand, amassed 262 points to wrest the crown – its 11th overall – it won in 2009. UST finished second with 201 points and Ateneo ended up third with 135.

The Green Archers dedicated their victory to Janina Sedilla, a breaststroker, who died in a fire last March.

De La Salle's Johannsen Aguilar, the Makati Skipjacks standout, bagged two gold medals on the final day of competition – in the 50-meter backstroke in 27.52 that broke the meet record of 27.54 he himself set last season, and in the 200-meter butterfly in 2:13.62.

Aguilar was named MVP and Xavier Ilustre of UST was the season's top rookie.

The other men's gold-medal winners were Miggy Carandang of UST in the 50-meter freestyle (25.44), Ajirulla Jaitulla of University of the East in the 200-meter breaststroke (2:31.38) and Ateneo's 4x400 meter medley relay (4:18.07).

Castelo emerged as boys' MVP and Christine Joy Mendoza the MVP in the girls' section, which UE topped with 300 points.

Viva Concerts and Events present The Greatest Hits at the Newport Performing Arts Theater of Resorts World Manila starring Hajji Alejandro, Marco Sison and Rico J. Puno at 8 p.m. on Aug. 3.

One of the most successful and long-running shows in local showbiz history, Greatest Hits features balladeers from the '70s And '80s eras performing their enduring hit songs.

Rico J. Puno, known as the Total Entertainer, played a major part in the Manila Sound explosion of the '70s era and made a lot of hits. Among these were Kapalaran, Buhat, Damdamin, Sorry Pwede Ba, Together Forever, Lupa, May Bukas Pa, Macho Guwapito, Ang Tao'y Marupok, Ganyan Pala Ang Magmahal and others. He also became a star in the films Bawal Na Pag-ibig and Silang Mga Mukhang Pera; and of television, The Rico J. Puno Show. He remains one of the biggest draws in concert circuits, both here and abroad.

Dubbed as the Kilabot ng mga Kolehiyala during his heydays, Hajji Alejandro still cuts a striking figure on stage. He started his career as one of the vocalists of the famed Circus Band. He launched his solo career in 1976 with the hit songs Panakip Butas and Tag-araw. These were later followed by May Minamahal, Nakapagtataka, Ang Lahat Ng Ito'y Para Sa 'yo and Ryan Cayabyab's Kay Ganda Ng Ating Musika, the first winner of the Metro Manila Popular Song Festival in 1978.

Marco Sison, the Romantic Balladeer, was the winner of a talent contest in the variety show Student Canteen. His good looks and smooth singing style resulted in motion picture and television appearances and lots of hit songs. Among these are Make Believe, My Love Will See You Through, Always, I'll Face Tomorrow, Mahal, Ibigay Mo Sa Akin Ang Bukas and Si Aida, Si Lorna at Si Fe.

Rico J, Marco and Hajji will perform all their hits in the show and will also dish out lots of duets and trios featuring timeless favorites.

Plans are underway for the creation of a sculpture in honor of Philippine STAR founding publisher Maximo Soliven, who is described by Manila Mayor Alfredo Lim as one of the best journalists in the country.

Lim yesterday said the Manila City Hall (MCH) would take on the project and Soliven's statue would likely become one of the attractions along the Baywalk area on Roxas Boulevard.

"We are already talking about putting up a statue of Max Soliven along the Baywalk. He is one of the best journalists and a known fighter for freedom and rights of the citizenry," said Lim.

But he said he would have to consult first with Soliven's wife Preciosa regarding the location of the sculpture and the nature of the pose.

"Initially, Preciosa said that if a sculpture would be made in Max's honor, she requests that it be placed within the vicinity of the Aristocrat restaurant because it was where they used to go when Max was still courting her," he said.

Lim said they might hire the services of Ed Castrillo to make Soliven's statue, which is hoped to be unveiled before the year ends.

Soliven started The Philippine STAR along with founding chairperson Betty Go-Belmonte and Art Borjal on July 28, 1986. His column titled "By The Way" was one of the most widely read newspaper columns.

He was born in Manila on Sept. 4, 1929. At age 20, he was appointed as associate editor of the Catholic newspaper The Sentinel and later transferred to the Manila Chronicle where he covered police and political beats.

For three years, he was the business editor of The Manila Times. When he was 27 years old, he became publisher and editor of The Evening News.

For more than 12 years, he worked as a foreign correspondent and covered several historical events, among them the Vietnam War, the 1968 Tet Offensive, the Gestapu Coup in Indonesia and the detonation of the first atomic bomb in the People's Republic of China.

Soliven was recognized locally and internationally. He was named Journalist of the Year by the National Press Club, a Chevalier (knight) of the National Order of Merit of the French Republic, and was given by King Juan Carlos the rank of Encomendero de la Orden Isabel la Catolica.

During the declaration of Martial Law, former President Ferdinand Marcos ordered Soliven's arrest but he was later released on probation for three months. He was also barred from leaving the country and writing for seven years.

On Nov. 24, 2006, Soliven suffered a fatal cardiac arrest at the Narita Airport in Tokyo, Japan. He died at the age of 77.

SM Group to partially pay for terminal to connect three rail systems

MANILA, Philippines - The SM Group has committed to partially shoulder the cost of the terminal which will connect the capital's three train systems.

Sources said the government has confirmed the approval of the inter-agency Investment Coordination Committee for the proposed project by the Light Rail Transit Authority to put up the Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal across SM North Edsa mall. SM will be extending P200 million for the project.

SM's financial assistance will bring down cost of the terminal from P778 million to P578 million. As a condition for the financial assistance, the station will be called the SM-Trinoma station. While SM will be shouldering portion of the cost for the terminal, Ayala Land, which owns and operates Trinoma mall, will fund the construction of the pedestrian walkway that will connect the SM-Trinoma station to Trinoma.

The LRTA, meanwhile, assured Malacanang that the agency will finish the construction of the LRT Line North Extension by December 2009.

The government has earlier deferred the approval of the terminal following a proposal from Vice President Noli de Castro, who is also chairman of the National Housing Agency (NHA), to locate the facility at the vacant NHA property beside Trinoma.

The facility, which may cost P1.5 billion, will connect MRT 3, which runs from Pasay to Quezon City; LRT 1, which stretches from Monumento to Baclaran; and MRT 7, which will span Commonwealth Avenue to Bulacan.

LRT1 and MRT 3 will soon be connected, allowing commuters to travel from Pasay to Caloocan City

The burial today of STAR publisher and board chairman Max V. Soliven at the Libingan ng mga Bayani was postponed due to super typhoon "Reming."

Soliven's ashes will instead be brought to his home in North Greenhills, San Juan after the necrological Mass at 8 a.m. today. The Mass will be celebrated by Fr. James Reuter. New burial arrangements at the Libingan ng mga Bayani will be announced later.

Following the Mass, President Arroyo will posthumously confer the Order of Lakandula on Soliven, whose remains lie in state at the St. Ignatius Cathedral at Camp Aguinaldo.

Palace officials said Mrs. Arroyo will give the citation to Soliven's widow, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization Ambassador Preciosa Soliven.

Soliven, whom the President earlier described as an "icon of freedom," would be bestowed the Order of Lakandula with the rank of Grand Officer, 3rd Degree or Marangal na Pinuno.

The Order of Lakandula is an order of political and civic merit awarded in memory of Lakandula's dedication to the responsibilities of leadership, prudence, fortitude, courage and resolve in the service of one's people.

The first degree in the order is the Grand Collar or Supremo for former heads of state or government. The second degree is the Grand Cross or Bayani, which is for crown princes and the like.

Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye said the Order of Lakandula with the rank of Grand Officer is among the highest awards given by the President to a civilian.

The award is for Soliven's "lifelong dedication to (the) civic welfare of society," he said. Mrs. Arroyo earlier said Soliven fought alongside the "forces of enlightenment in the struggle against despotism and wrong."

"Soliven has been fighting for the rights of the downtrodden and for the restoration of democracy and he was even imprisoned for his beliefs (during the martial regime of the late dictator Ferdinand Marcos)," Presidential Chief of Staff Michael Defensor earlier said.

He said Soliven's decades of service to the Filipino people, even as a private citizen, deserve recognition from the government.

After conferring the award, Mrs. Arroyo will proceed to the National Disaster Coordinating Council building in Camp Aguinaldo for a briefing on typhoon Reming.

STAR's heaven edition

STAR columnist Babe Romualdez said Soliven, with his passing, brought along with him his old portable typewriter to write his columns in heaven.

"Even now as I speak, I can see him putting together The Philippine STAR Heaven Edition. He is getting ready to write his columns, persuading saints and angels to continue looking after this nation," Romualdez said in his eulogy Wednesday evening.

He added that Soliven was also known for his stubbornness, not resting until he gets stories from the most evasive sources — the President of the country included.

Romualdez said Soliven called him from Japan two days before his death.

"Brother, keep the home fires burning," Romualdez quoted Soliven's last words to him.

On the second day of Soliven's wake, people came in droves to pay their last respects to the man who devoted his entire life to defending press freedom in the country.

Aside from students, teachers, nuns, and retired military officials, those who came to pay their last respects to Soliven were Supreme Court Chief Justice Artemio Panganiban, Sen. Edgardo Angara, former Sweepstakes chairman Manuel Morato, several congressmen led by Ilocos Rep. Salacnib Baterina, Cabinet members, and two former Southern Command military chiefs, retired lieutenant generals Alberto Branganza and Edilberto Adan.

"Without sounding too presumptuous, I would like to believe that Max wanted to give a message to all of us — that we must let the light of hope shine for this country and continue to burn in our hearts. For he always believed that the Philippines would be able to overcome its many challenges and difficulties, and rise above the mire," Romualdez said in his tribute to Soliven.

Romualdez added that "the light of hope that Max kindled will continue to shine and will be passed through generations to generations but the first recipient of this torch would be his daughter Sara."

During the last few months of his life, Soliven would talk about Sara Soliven de Guzman and how lucky he was to have her for his daughter, Romualdez said.

"Sara, he loved you and your mother very much and I remember how proud he was when you started to write regular column for The STAR," Romualdez told Soliven's daughter.

In paying his last respects to Soliven, Sen. Alfredo Lim declared: "Max is dead, long live Max."

Having known Soliven for 26 years, Lim said Soliven "has been an inspiration to his peers and the effective motivation among the young journalists of his time, having been acclaimed, as always, to be a prolific writer whose yielded works, as incurable traveler around the continent, were excellent pieces of learning from history to current events, involving aspects of life and fields of human endeavors, replete with his well-researched literary and political doctrines."

Lim, a member of the Tuesday Club to which Soliven also belonged, described him as warm and loyal to friends and strict but considerate as an employer.

"As a journalist he was at the peak... yet, he was human... only his heart was ironclad with principles... principles of goodness, honesty and integrity... principles that were never submissive to any feigned commitment or false persuasion, from those who imposed subservience," Lim said.

Further describing Soliven as a legend in his own time, Lim said he left a legacy of undying love for press freedom, which death failed to wrest from him.

"Indeed, the chivalry, humility and magnanimity of Max, along with his extraordinary accomplishments, as an outstanding Filipino journalist, gained him the prestige of being laid to rest with honors at the Libingan ng mga Bayani in Fort Bonifacio, Taguig, Metro Manila," Lim declared.

On the other hand, Biznews Asia's Tony Lopez said Soliven was able to restore the Manila Overseas Press Club to its old glory when he was at the helm.

"He defined his legacy and wanted others to write it," Lopez said.

He also said Soliven often told him that life is a too short a journey and advised him to make the fullest use of it.

GMA approves P777-m rail terminal at SM North Edsa
By Joyce Pangco Pañares

President Arroyo has approved the P777-million Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal where three major transport routes will converge in front of SM North Edsa.

Light Rail Transit Authority Administrator Melquiades Robles said the approval was made during yesterday's National Economic and Development Authority Board-Cabinet meeting at the Palace.

He said the project would link Metro Rail Transit line 3, which runs from Taft Avenue, Pasay City to North Edsa, Quezon City; LRT 1, which stretches from Monumento, Caloocan City to Baclaran; and MRT 7, which will traverse Commonwealth Avenue to San Jose City in Bulacan.

"The three train lines will converge in one station and there will be seamless transfer from one line to another. This will be operational by June 2010," he said.

The common station, which was supposed to be constructed in front of the Trinoma mall in Quezon City for P1.5 billion, will now be located across SM North Edsa.

"The net effective cost is about P777 million. The Development Bank of the Philippines has committed to make funds available for this project," Robles said.

He said the physical infrastructure to close the loop between LRT 1 and MRT 3 will be put in place by December 2009. By February next year, two additional stations within the loop, namely Balintawak and Roosevelt, will be operational.

The MRT-LRT loop is estimated to cost P6 billion, Robles said.

Linking the Light Rail Transit (LRT Line 1) with the Metro Rail Transit (MRT 3) is only a station away with Friday's opening of Roosevelt Station at the corner of Roosevelt Avenue and Epifanio De Los Santos Avenue (EDSA) in Quezon City.

The Roosevelt Station, the second part of LRT 1's three-part North Extension Project, is the last station before the LRT 1 and MRT 3 merges in a Common Station that is set to rise in front of SM North EDSA by the last quarter of 2011.

Undersecretary for Rails Glicerio Sicat and Undersecretary for Public Information Dante Velasco of the Department of Transportation and Communications will grace the Roosevelt Station's ceremonial opening, which will be presided over by LRT Administrator Rafael Rodriguez and Deputy Administrator Engr. Emerson Benitez.

Evelyn Paragas of the LRT Administration Public Information Division said the opening ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m. but the station's maiden operation will start by noon.

"It will only cost you P20 to get to Roosevelt from Baclaran Station in Pasay," she added.

Before Friday's opening of the Roosevelt Station, the Balintawak Station commenced its first commercial operation on March 22, 2010.

Since then, it has an average daily ridership of 14,670.

The LRT 1 North Extension Project entails the construction of three stations – Balintawak, Roosevelt, and Common – to link LRT 1 and MRT 3. The loop involves the construction of a 5.7-kilometer elevated railway from Monumento Station of LRT 1 and the North Avenue Station of MRT 3.

hat's why there's a greater focus on transport-oriented developments to help speed up the development of areas near LRT and MRT lines. For example:

- * North Avenue: SM City North EDSA development and Grand Central Terminal
- * Quezon Avenue: Eton Centris
- * Araneta Center-Cubao: Araneta Center
- * Ortigas: Ortigas Center CBD
- * Ayala: Ayala Center and Makati CBD
- * Doroteo Jose/Recto: possible gentrification of inner Manila (hence the construction of the Manila Grand Opera Hotel)
- * Araneta (MRT-7 terminus): Tala/San Jose del Monte CBD
- * Fort Bonifacio (MRT-5 terminus/Northrail Phase III): Fort Bonifacio CBD and Manila City Air Terminal

It just so happens that unlike Bangkok, Manila didn't realize the benefits of TODs until recently. In addition, lower land prices in areas such as inner Manila are a major plus for the Manila LRT corridors because land prices in Makati and Ortigas are now too high to justify building new buildings for many developers.

What I think though was the major mistake of the LRT when it was planned was that it was not placed in the correct position. For example, had EDSA station been placed on top of EDSA when it was first built, we could have seamless connectivity with MRT-3 today without needing to go through Metropoint Mall.

The Light Rail Transit (LRT) Line 1 extension from Caloocan to Quezon City will start operating next month, the Department of Transportation and Communications (DOTC) said Wednesday.

Mar Roxas, Transportation and Communications secretary, said the Balintawak and Roosevelt stations of the LRT 1 North Extension Project were opened in February and October 2010

The project, which costs about $1.8 billion, has four stations: Monumento, Balintawak, Rosevelt and North Avenue. This will close the EDSA Loop as this would be connected to the Metro Rail Transit (MRT) Line 3 North Avenue Station.

The DOTC said the Balintawak station will provide modal interchange for bus and jeepney services entering Metro Manila from the north via the North Luzon Expressway.

The project would also involve the construction of the P777-million Grand Central Terminal, which could connect the existing MRT Line 3, the proposed MRT 7 and the LRT Line 1.

University of the Philippines' (UP) tankers dive into the Trace Aquatics Center pool in Los Baños starting today with the goal of keeping the men's and women's swimming crowns in UAAP Season 74.

The Fighting Maroons scored a double last season, their first in 13 years, and are hoping to annex a 12th women's title and a 17th men's crown in the four-day swimming competitions that end Sunday.

The Lady Maroons have remained intact for Season 74, with Jackie Juinio, Claire Adorna, Bea Grabador and Tin Hipol returning to complete a potential back-to-back conquest. Also on the roster is Whitney Dy, the former Immaculate Conception Academy ace and a standout in the Palarong Pambansa.

Standing in UP's way is 2008 titlist Ateneo, which will rely on rookie Kim Uy who is expected to fill the void left by Season 73 MVP Denjylie Cordero, as well as De La Salle, which will parade four-time high school MVP Ingrid Ilustre.

The Fighting Maroons, on the other hand, has ASEAN University Games veteran Ken Uy, Kim's elder brother, in its roster, although the Green Archers are expected to give the Dilliman swimmers a tough fight behind Johansen Aguilar, the Season 73 Rookie of the Year.

Six people were killed when their home burned down in Quezon City Monday morning, a Radyo Inquirer report said.

According to the report, Doctor Elson Sedilla and his wife Doctor Susan Liwag-Sedilla, including their two children Janina Nicole Sedilla and Patricia Anne Sedilla, and two house helpers Ana and Len de Leon died, trapped inside their burning house at 36-A Marunong Street, Barangay (village) Central, Quezon City.

The report quoted authorities saying that the fire may have started from the family's van at past 2 a.m. and spread to the second floor of the house. The fire only affected the Sedilla residence and reached third alarm before being put out at around 4 a.m.

The victims' bodies have been brought to a funeral home and there is an ongoing arson investigation.

Two doctors, their two children and their two maids were killed in a fire that police believe was deliberately started before dawn yesterday at their house in Barangay Central, Quezon City.

Neighbors of the Sedilla family were awakened by cries for help coming from the burning house on Marunong street. Moments later, the shouting stopped and there was an explosion from the garage.

By the time firefighters put out the flames at around 4 a.m., they found the bodies of all six members of the household huddled in the master's bedroom. Firefighters identified them as cardiologist Dr. Elson Sedilla, 50; his wife, Susan, 50, a non-practicing pediatrician; daughters Janina Nicole, 20, and Patricia Ann, 17; and househelpers Lenlen de Leon, 27, and Anna de Leon, 30.

Police Officer 3 Venirando Trago, who was among those who went upstairs when the flames were put out, said some of the victims were in an embrace while one of them was on top of another, in an apparent attempt to shield the one beneath.

Neighbor Mila Anige, who lives across the street, said she heard a female voice shouting for help.

"It lasted for just a few seconds. Then the voice faded. Then there was an explosion," Anige said in Filipino.

The sound of what seemed to be an explosion came from a Hyundai Starex van parked in the family's garage. Arson investigators believe the van was the source of the fire that enveloped the entire house.

Senior Fire Officer 2 Fortunato Alde said the fire broke out at around 2:55 a.m. and reached third alarm before the fire was placed under control at 3:26 a.m.

Arson investigators are looking into the possibility of foul play since the cover of the gas tank of the Starex van was opened and the steel cap missing. This was also the case with an Isuzu Trooper parked in the garage.

Elson's cousin, Manny de los Santos, who drives for the two daughters, doubts that the cause of the fire was faulty electrical wiring in the van. He said both vehicles are relatively new – the van is a 2005 model, while the Trooper is a 2002 model – and are regularly brought to auto repair shops for checkups.

De los Santos said he did not go to the house yesterday.

Investigators found that the gate's padlock was not locked and hanging on an elevated grill after the fire. Members of the household could not have gone down the stairs to escape the flames since it was the ground floor that was first to burn. The windows on the second floor had steel grills. There was also no exit at the back of the house.

There were three doors on the ground floor, but all these lead to the main gate. Of the two vehicles that were lined up along the garage, it was the Starex van – the source of the flames – that was near the gate.

The other side of the duplex, which the Sedillas were renting out but presently unoccupied, was damaged by the flames. De los Santos said the Sedilla couple bought the duplex in the late 1990s.

De los Santos could not think of anyone who may have an axe to grind against the Sedillas. He noted that the couple were kind, sending his own children to school and helping out other scholars.

La Salle mourned the death of one of its foremost swimmers who did the school proud in the Universities Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP) competitions.

The school yesterday lost Janina Nicole Liwag-Sedilla, a noted breastroker who died along with her parents, a sister and two households in a fire that struck their townhouse in Quezon City.

Only 21, Sedilla helped the Archers finish a fighting third behind University of the Philippines and Ateneo in the UAAP Season 73 women's swimming tournament.

Before her death, Janina was also a member of the school's water polo squad.

But even winners can get wounded in the fight

People say that I'm amazing
Strong beyond my years
But they don't see inside of me
I'm hiding all the tears

They don't know that I go running home when I fall down
They don't know who picks me up when no one is around
I drop my sword and cry for just a while
'Cause deep inside this armor
The warrior is a child

Unafraid because His armor is the best
But even soldiers need a quiet place to rest
People say that I'm amazing
Never face retreat
But they don't see the enemies
That lay me at His feet

They don't know that I go running home when I fall down
They don't know who picks me up when no one is around
I drop my sword and and cry for just a while
'Cause deep inside this armor
the warrior is a child

They don't know that I go running home when I fall down
They don't know who picks me up when no one is around
I drop my sword and look up for a smile
'Cause deep inside this armor
Deep inside this armor
Deep inside this armor

Naging mahaba ang pakikipag-usap ng PEP.ph (Philippine Entertainment Portal) kay Jako de Leon sa launching ng coffee table book na Eat Bulaga! Ang Unang Tatlong Dekada noong October 6 sa Whitespace sa may Chino Roces Ave. Extension, Makati City.

Si Jako, 26, ang ikalawa sa tatlong anak ng isa sa mga host ng Eat Bulaga! na si Joey de Leon sa misis nitong si Eileen Macapagal; ang dalawa pa ay sina Jocas at Jio.

May dalawa ring anak si Joey sa aktres na si Daria Ramirez—sina Cheenee at Keempee de Leon.

Malaki ang kinalaman ni Jako sa naturang coffee table book na nagbabalik-tanaw—sa pamamagitan ng mga larawan at salita—sa unang tatlong dekada ng longest-running show sa Pilipinas.

Si Jako ang tagapamahala ng kabuuang design concept ng libro, na isinulat naman ng columnist at TV host na si Butch Francisco.

THE FIRST THREE DECADES. Ayon kay Jako, dalawang taon inabot ang masinsinang pagbuo ng coffee table book.

Nagsimula raw ang lahat nang mapanood ni Jako ang tribute para sa King of Pop na si Michael Jackson, na sumakabilang-buhay noong June 25, 2009.

Kuwento niya sa PEP, "I saw the Michael Jackson tribute and I said, like, 'You know what, it's about time Eat Bulaga! did something for their 30th year.

"And me and my dad are kinda coining the term 'Tatlong Dekads From Dabarkads.'

"And I was like, okay, it's good to have a full year of celebration rather than just one day. They've done that before with the 25th [anniversary].

"And I wanted parang a full year of celebration, and to encapsulate it, we'd like to have a coffee table book.

"I call it a photo biography, a photo biography of Eat Bulaga! through thirty years—Unang Tatlong Dekada, the first 30 years, the book.

"So, that's why I titled it like that."

Pero ang hindi alam ni Jako, habang sinisimulan na niyang sulatin ang libro, meron na palang libro na ginawa ang mga nasa likod ng Eat Bulaga! para sa silver anniversary ng show, na isinulat nga ni Butch.

"I started writing it, and then I realized, 'You know what, I'm writing from their material anyway, let's get Butch back in the project.'

"So, I had Butch write the material na. And then we both collaborated.

'Bulaga' memories

Without an ounce of irony, TV host Ryan Agoncillo noted that he is as old as the noontime show "Eat Bulaga."

"I was born in April 1979; the show premiered three months later, in July," related Ryan, who joined the show two years ago. "My earliest memory of the show is watching child star Aiza Seguerra." Former and present cast and crew members attended the recent launch of the coffee table book, "Eat Bulaga: Ang Unang Tatlong Dekada," at White Space in Makati City.

Allan K, who was a budding comedy-bar performer in the late 1980s, also counted Aiza as a favorite. "I worked nights and usually got home right before dawn, but I would make sure to wake up at noon to catch 'Eat Bulaga,'" said Allan, who got on board in 1995.

Noontime habit

Before Ryan and Allan became part of the "Dabarkads" (the show's mainstays) "Eat Bulaga" was a daily noontime habit for them—just like generations of televiewers.

The secret of the show's longevity, noted Aiza, who was present at the launch, is the sense of family it has fostered for the past three decades, not only among the hosts, but also with the viewers.

"Though I now work with other networks, I know that my 'Eat Bulaga' family will welcome me anytime," Aiza said.

Former cohost Chiqui Hollman-Yulo left the show on May 17, 1982, but has remained in touch with the "Bulaga" family as well.

"I used to baby-sit Keempee (son of Joey de Leon) and Apples (daughter of Tito Sotto and Helen Gamboa). Now every time I'm in the mall and someone calls out, 'Tita!' it will have to be one of the children of Tito, Vic or Joey," said Chiqui.

The show has outlasted countless rivals (plus three channel changes and at least five Philippine presidents) precisely because of this sense of familiarity and family, said current cohost Julia Clarete.

"We have lunch together every day. From Monday to Saturday, I get to learn from the geniuses of comedy and hosting," explained Julia.

Malou Choa-Fagar, senior vice president and chief operating officer of Tape, Inc. (producer of "Eat Bulaga"), recounted that people have remained loyal to the show because main hosts Tito, Vic and Joey have remained just as devoted to the program, which is currently aired on GMA 7.

Tough times

"Even during the tough times—the first 10 years—Tito, Vic and Joey never gave up. Even when we couldn't pay them, they never complained," said Malou who started as a production assistant when the show debuted on RPN 9 on July 30, 1979.

"We never imagined the program would come this far," said Tito. "For the past 32 years, it has evolved constantly. From a noontime variety show it has turned into a public-service program."

"There's always something new. If someone leaves, someone new joins naman," Jimmy Santos said. Not even their sudden departure from ABS-CBN in 1995 and the challenge posed by "Wowowee" from 2005 to 2010 distracted them, said Tito. "We never looked at competition. We focused on our work and how we could constantly improve the show," he said.

"For me, every day is a new day," Vic Sotto said. "We went through some really hard times together. That was part of the growing pains."

The roller-coaster ride that was the past 32 years is chronicled in the book.

Joey, whose son Jako served as book designer, contributed lots of personal photos. The book was written by honorary Dabarkads Butch Francisco.

One black-and-white photograph from the early days, featuring Tito, Vic and Joey, Chiqui and Richie D'Horsey, forming the initials TY (or Thank You), was re-created for the book launch. It was Joey's idea, Richie said.

Ces Quesada, another former cohost (April to October 1989), said the book is a fun read, and more: "Reading about the show's beginnings reminded me of my own 'growing-up' years in the biz. It's a valuable reference book for students who are doing research on the history of Philippine television."

Tony Tuviera, head of Tape Inc., regards the book as a fitting celebration of the show's journey.

"My dream is to build a museum and maybe our own studio in the future," he said.

For copies, interested parties may call the Tape office, 426-6423 to 28. Proceeds will go to the book drive for students from Typhoon "Pedring"-ravaged areas in Bulacan, Pampanga and Nueva Ecija.

"ABS-CBN News and Public/Current Affairs in the Service of the Filipino" (1986–2002) This slogan was based on the network's corporate slogan.

"Karangalan Po Naming Maglingkod Sa Bayan" (2002)

"Kahit Saan, Kahit Kailan, Maaasahan" (2003)

"Maaasahan, Hindi Lamang Sa Salita, Subok na sa Gawa" (2004)

"Naglilingkod Sa Inyo, Saan Man Sa Mundo" (2004–2005) This slogan was inspired by the reformat of TV Patrol to TV Patrol World.

"Panig Sa Katotohanan, Panig Sa Bayan" (2006–2010) This current slogan was translated in various local languages.

"Panig Sa Katotohanan, Panig Sa Pagbangon ng Bayan" (2010–present)

"Galaw Galaw sa Tag-araw"

pap-pap-para-pap-pap-pap
para-pap-pap-pap para-pap-pap (2x)

Vhong:
Sa pag tingin mo ako'y na uuhaw.

Luis:
Sa init ng yakap mo ako'y ma tutunaw.

Billy:
May magic ang kupas ng iyong kamay, sa kilos mo parang sayaw higit ko hihiyaw.

All:
Umaagos ang pag-mamahal sa iyong bawat GALAW

Chorus:
Tayo na at Gumalaw-Galaw sa Tag-Araw, Gumalaw kana, Gumalaw kana, GALAW-GALAW sa Tag-Araw.
Let us SPREAD our LOVE and CARE, Everyday and Everywhere. Gumalaw kana, Gumalaw kana, Galaw-Galaw
Sa Tag-Araw, tayo na at Gumalaw-Galaw sa Tag-Araw.
Gumalaw kana, Gumalaw kana, Galaw-Galaw sa Tag-Araw.

(pap-pap-para-pap-pap-pap
para-pap-pap-pap para-pap-pap 2x)

John Lloyd:
Ang bawat kilos mo ay makabuluhan,
We can make a better way for Everyone.

All:
Pag-ibig na itatanim,
Ligayang aanihin, wala
Ng mag-kukulang, wala
Ng away.

So kung pwede lang

I-tuloy ang Galaw-Galaw

(repeat chorus)

(pap-pap-para-pap-pap-pap para-pap-pap-pap para-pap-pap 2x)

Bridge:
Tag-araw o tag-ulan
At kahit na kailan pa man
Kayang-kaya natin to KAPAMILYA, KAPAMILYA AHHHHH....

(repeat chorus except last line)

GUMALAW NG GUMALAW SA TAG-ARAW!!!

Nung malaman mong mamamatay ka na, pinasa mo saken si Nene para maging malaya kayo ni Marissa at dahil mahal ko si Nene. Nung malaman mong di ka na mamamatay narealize mo na mahal mo pa pla si Nene so binawi m sya saken! Trinaydor mo pa nga ako e! Lumaban ako pero di ako nanalo. Alam mo kung baket? Dahil kahit anung gawin ko, ikaw ang tatay ng anak nia. Gabby nakatali si Nene sa yo! Dalawang taon, dalawang taon hindi ko kayo inistorbo! Dalawang taon kayong magkasama Gabby! Bat hindi ka niya minahal sa dalawang taon na yon? Ngayon ako pa ang salot? O ikaw?

Just asking: Why are contests in the Kapamilya station, specially PGKNB and Wowowee, ask their contestants na ilagay sa dibdib ang kamay nila? Kapuso pala sila. Welcome to GMA!

Just noticed: Wowowee is no longer a competition in the noontime slot. It starts at one o' clock. Therefore, it is now an afternoon show. We will miss you.

Just me read: Last week, I read somewhere that Wowowee was supposed to do a Pera O Bayong game in Lebanon for the Pinoys still trapped in that war-torn part of the world. It didn't push through. Anak ng push, ano ba'yan? Sino naman ang may bright idea n'yan? Hindi ba para kang naglagay ng dance party sa gitna ng lamay ng patay n'yan? Ano title n'yan? Gera O Bayong?! Ganon pala eh, bakit hindi kayo mag-Pera O Bayong sa ilalim at paanan ng Mayon Volcano ngayon? Suggested title: Pera O Mayong?!

Somebody asked me what Laban O Bawi is in English. Nabigla ako. Then I shot back, "Deal or No Deal?" Then I remembered the very first Laban O Bawi type of game we did when Eat Bulaga started in 1979. It was called Kaserola Ng Kayamanan. It was then hosted by Vic Sotto and Richie D'Horsey. If Laban O Bawi gives a million as jackpot prize, Kaserola ng Kayamanan's jackpot was a thousand pesos!

The mechanics was the same as the present LOB—the contestant rearranges the kaserolas (now we use boxes... others use attaché cases) and hopes to position the container with the number "one" first on left. When we had our very first thousand winner, as soon as Richie opened the jackpot kaserola and revealed the number one, he couldn't hold back his excitement and he exclaimed, "Anak ng pus... Misis, nadali mo!"

And speaking of the very early years of Eat Bulaga, I would like to make tsismis some trivial things about us during those early days. Do you know what Vic Sotto bought with his first Eat Bulaga paycheck? He bought a Toyota car. Hulaan n'yo kulay... Yellow! As yet, I really haven't asked him why that color.

And do you know that at the same time, we were all sporting identical Penthouse Magazine "key" pendant given by one of our pokermates from Café Valenzuela in Bulacan? I lost mine in Vic's yellow Toyota car.

I am not sure where Tito spent his first Eat Bulaga paycheck. Si Tito may kotse na nuon. Ako? I think I bought a lot of clothes and shoes. Si Richie D'Horsey? I think he got his first paycheck only after one year!

"Teka Mona," don't forget that TEKA MONA is back on Wow Maling—Mali's slot every Saturday at seven in the evening on ABC-5. But tonight, it's Balakubak time once again on Nuts Entertainment.

Kapamilya actor Joseph Marco is glad to be part of the joint project of shoe brand Sebago and Habitat For Humanity—a non-profit organization founded to help provide decent and affordable housing to the less fortunate.

He was one of the celebrities tapped by the Michigan-based shoe company to design the brand's world-famous Docksidess model for auction.

Other names who participated in the project were actor Enchong Dee and David Chua, TV host and model Phoemela Baranda; The Dawn vocalist Jett Pangan; top Filipino designers Rajo Laurel, Patrice Ramos-Diaz, Rhett Eala, Joey Samson, and Kate Torralba; fashion stylists Noel Manapat and Sidney Yap; society columnist-socialite Tessa Prieto-Valdes; architects Gil Coscolluela and Nix Alanon; shoe designer Maco Custodio; Team Manila's Mon Punzalan and Jowee Alviar; columnist Leah Puyat; interior stylist Anton Barretto; fashion editor Liza Ilarde; and artists Martin Honasan, Julianne Tarroja, Nix Puno, Rory Morales, Carlo Ongchanco, Nelz Yumul, Niño Hernandez, Mike Nakayama, and singer Raymond Lauchengco.

The shoes were unveiled on June 23 at The Gallery of the Greenbelt 5 in Makati City. The exhibit is ongoing.

Proceeds of the auction will go directly to Habitat For Humanity, and will be used to fund the organization's projects.

Few brands can boast of a long and rich heritage, and fewer can gather the top names in showbiz, fashion and arts to celebrate an important milestone. New England-born footwear brand Sebago® is one of the exceptional few. In celebration of its 65th anniversary this year, it launched Sebago x 65, an exhibition of its iconic Docksidess® transformed into unique works of art and auctioned for the benefit of Habitat for Humanity.

Using paint as well as unusual materials such as fur, beads, croc skin, gold leaf, a stellar line-up of the country's most prominent individuals had delivered the most extraordinary and unexpected collection of footwear art. These design masters include actors Enchong Dee, Joseph Marco and David Chua; TV host Phoemela Baranda; band vocalist Jett Pangan; top Filipino designers Rajo Laurel, Patrice Ramos-Diaz, Rhett Eala, Joey Samson and Kate Torralba; fashion stylists Noel Manapat and Sidney Yap; columnist and fashionista Tessa Prieto-Valdes; architects Gil Coscolluela and Nix Alanon; shoe designer Maco Custodio; Team Manila's Mon Punzalan and Jowee Alviar; columnist Leah Puyat; interior stylist Anton Barretto; fashion editor Liza Ilarde; and artists Martin Honasan, Julianne Tarroja, Nix Puno, Rory Morales, Carlo Ongchanco, Nelz Yumul, Niño Hernandez, Mike Nakayama and Raymond Lauchengco.

Miguel Molina and Daniel Coakley, currently the best and the brightest of Philippine swimming, made waves yesterday at the start of the 2010 Pan Pacific Championships in Irvine, California.

The 26-year-old Molina broke the 19-year-old Philippine record in the 100m breaststroke with his time of one minute 3.89 seconds, surpassing the 1:04.18 set by Eric Buhain during the 1991 Manila Southeast Asian Games.

Coakley, a Filipino-American, shone in the 50m butterfly where he did 25.32 seconds. It was enough to break the old RP record of 25.81 established by Ernest Dee in 2007.

SM Prime Holdings Inc. (SMPH) will open on Friday its 44th mall in the country.

In a statement, the SMPH said SM City San Fernando is "strategically located right at the heart of the city in line the heritage district." The 7-story mall is only a few meters from the city hall and the Metropolitan Cathedral of San Fernando.

In October 2000, SMPH opened its first mall in Central Luzon at the boundary of this city and Mexico town, while another mall is in Clark, Angeles City.

SM Pampanga is about six kilometers away from SM City San Fernando.

Gov. Lilia Pineda and mayor Oscar Rodriguez, who supported the establishment of the third Sy-owned mall in Pampanga, are expected to lead the blessing and inauguration of the mall on Thursday afternoon, along with the month-long celebration of the Inquirer Lifestyle Series: Fitness.Fashion with Samsung's fourth anniversary with lead personality senator Pia Cayetano, and guest models entrepreneur Rina Go, TV host Paolo Abrera,Professional Models Association of the Philippines \(PMAP\) president Phoemela Baranda and actor and swimmer Enchong Dee as guest accompanied by Pampanga governor Pineda and Mayor Rodriguez.

The SMPH said the high-rise mall has a total land area of 7,835 square meters (sqm) and 28,753 sqm of floor area. Major tenants are SM Department Store and SM Supermarket which will occupy 8,189.39 sqm and 2,578.01 sqm, respectively.

"The mall and its exterior heritage design will please every shopper to its convenient, secured, and fun-loaded worry-free shopping. Anchor tenants like the SM Department Store, SM Supermarket, SM Cinema plus fashion, electronics, beauty wellness shops, vital services and restaurants with three levels of parking will provide the best shopping experience that everyone is looking for," said the SMPH statement.

This development came as the SMPH started in January the rehabilitation of the SM Clark in Angeles City. The work reportedly worth at least P.5 billion is expected to be completed by March 2013.

Ana Datu, SM Clark assistant mall manager, said site development had been completed and new and additional parking lots are now ready for use. "We are in the process of connecting the new expansion building with the main mall. This is the reason we have to temporarily close the meeting place area and reroute traffic," said Datu.

The expansion at the SM Clark branch opened in 2006 will be for its additional retail stores and business process outsourcing offices. It sits on a 16-hectare area at boundary of Angeles City and Mabalacat.

Maria Aragon is serious about singing the Philippine national anthem right at the fight of Manny Pacquiao and Juan Manuel Marquez in November.

The 11-year-old Filipino-Canadian considers it a big honor to be chosen to sing the anthem at the event, so she wants to make sure that nothing goes wrong. That's why she's consulting officials of the National Historical Institute for the proper rendition of Lupang Hinirang.

Other top singers like Martin Nievera got into big trouble with the NHI for singing the anthem in a way that was not prescribed by the institute. Maria doesn't want to fall into that trap.

"I want to make the Filipinos proud when I sing the national anthem. I'm practicing and we are going to NHI to make sure that I'm singing the national anthem right," she said in an interview on ANC.

She also said she wants to shake off the "Baby Gaga" label that has been pinned on her. It's true that Lady Gaga was instrumental in making her a YouTube sensation, but Maria wants to get away from the shadow of her idol.

"Being called Baby Gaga, it's a really fun name but hopefully if I start getting serious in the industry I won't be called Baby Gaga but Maria Aragon," she said.

Given a chance, she wants to follow in the footsteps of Miley Cyrus or Taylor Swift.

Still, Maria finds Lady Gaga "passionate about her music. She's not serious. She's always having a fun time."

The Department of Education (DepEd) is open with the idea of amending the law regarding the proper way of singing the National Anthem in a way that it would be easier for students to sing it during events and flag-raising ceremonies.

Jonathan Malaya, DepEd Assistant Secretary for Special Concerns, said the department wants some changes in the fast tempo of the anthem.

"It was meant to be a marching song that's why it is difficult for the students to sing it," Malaya said in an interview today.

Lupang Hinirang, the country's national anthem, has a two-fourths beat.

Malaya, however, noted that lawmakers may not approve such amendments because the current manner of singing the anthem "reflects certain historical essence."

Asked if the National Historical Institute was harsh or over-reacting in filing a complaint against singer Martin Nievera for rendering it in his own version during the Manny Pacquiao-Ricky Hatton fight, Malaya said it is up to the court to decide on the matter.

"Martin might not be aware of the law," Malaya said.

Personal na pinabulaanan sa amin ng isang executive ng GMA-7 na mawawala na sa kanila ang top-rating noontime show na Eat Bulaga na produced ng TAPE sa pamumuno ni G. Tony Tuviera.

Ayon sa source, malapit na umanong mag-expire ang kontrata ng TAPE, Inc. sa GMA-7 kaya nasa stage sila ngayon ng re-negotiation o renewal ng kontrata sa magkabilang party.

KEREN PASCUAL, president, Keren Pascual Public Relations Services: I wouldn't consider the Philippines as the next big thing, since we have already been the big thing since the Marcos era. We could work on being the best. Each country has something beautiful and unique to be proud of; it's a matter of highlighting it. The Department of Tourism has been doing a good job of this abroad, promoting the Philippines as the ideal destination with thousands of sights, sounds and experiences.

All I have to do is support their efforts, complementing whatever strategy they have. With their efforts and the Philippines' innate wonders, our country will stand above the rest. We will be the FAMOUS Philippines!

Game Channel launched

Wireless Service Asia (WSA), dahlings, a provider of cutting-edge value-added services in mobile entertainment, marked another industry milestone when it launched the first Game Channel in Asia at Dreambar.

Game Channel is an interactive game show that lets you participate in any of five TV-video games armed only with your mobile phone, which acts as your game pad. With this innovation, WSA brings the world of interactive TV to a whole new level.

The host that evening was fun, exotic looking GJ Iya who just happens to be the first game jock in Asia. She definitely got the crowd in the gaming mood.

The event gathered WSA's gang from the corporate world, media and advertising, palanggas, who eagerly sampled the games and got hooked. Seen completely engrossed with texting were Bates Licensing & Entertainment's Ito Feliciano; Optimedia's Raymond de Vera; Campaigns & Grey's Irene Choa; Corplan's Anton Cura; One Manila's Tonton Cadiz; McCann-Erickson's Mar Alfaro; BBDO's Joyce Sulit; Nestle's Maya Navarro; PLW's Zeny Polovorosa; Summit's Treena Cueva; Meg's Pierra Calasanz and Mabel David; Chemical Magazine's Annie Allejo; IBC 13's lawyer Renato Bello; and Joey Ramos.

No one was prouder that swinging-partying night than WSA president Ed Limon. He congratulated the WSA team led by Manny Fernando; Rainer Leinonen; Ardie Balderrama; Eiko Raquel; Mai Mai Limon; Jay Adevosos; and Miguel Peralejo.

Stay cool! See you, dahlings!

Dengue alert

Thank God that Derek Ramsay, John Prats, Enchong Dee and Buboy Villar are back on their feet after being diagnosed with dengue. A doctor friend reminded me that even the slightest suspicion that fever could be dengue-induced must immediately be addressed. To be safe (especially for kids like Buboy), the World Health Organization has advised that paracetamol is the only analgesic recommended for fever caused by dengue. It is also crucial to give the right dosage based on weight, not age.

Young actor Enchong Dee is on the road to recovery after suffering from dengue.

Dee, one of the stars of Star Cinema's upcoming film "Sa 'Yo Lamang," is still confined at Cardinal Santos Medical Center where he was rushed due to high fever.

"Recovering pa din. Pero kanina (August 19), 'yong last platelet count bumagsak pa ng another 10,000 counts but not significant," Dee told "Showbiz News Ngayon".

Dee, a swimmer, shared that it was last Sunday when he fell ill. On his second night at the hospital, the doctors confirmed that he suffered anew from dengue.

"Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ako. Nag-i-Internet pa ako. Tapos papunta na ako ng ASAP. 'Yon bigla na akong nag-chill. Tapos parang hinang hina na ako tapos pinauwi na ako. Pagkatapos sabi nila pahinga muna ako. Nung 4 p.m. may pictorial pa ako. Sabi ko parang hindi ko na kaya kasi masyado ng mabigat ang ulo ko. Tapos masakit na din 'yong joints ko. Tapos noon kinansel na din nila ang pictorial at saka dubbing," Dee said.

He added: "So nagpa-confine na ako. 'Yon nga the seond night ko dito sa ospital saka lang nila nalaman na dengue. 'Yong first time ko ironically same day sa last year as this year's. It was August 15 last year (habang) ginagawa ko ang 'Katorse', tapos nayon August 15 naman this year," Dee said.

Dee also added that since he was confined, his friends already visited him like one of the "Magkaribal" lead stars Bea Alonzo, who is also romantically linked to him.

THEY WERE to appear on stage almost four hours apart, narrowing the chance they would meet for a symbolic and potentially controversial handshake.

Their respective close aides reportedly dissuaded President Macapagal-Arroyo and her detained predecessor, Joseph Estrada, from sharing the same time slot last night at the marathon prayer rally marking the birthday of El Shaddai leader Mike Velarde.

A source in the Estrada camp said the two leaders were "willing" but their closest allies had second thoughts about allowing the duo to be seen together greeting the influential Brother Mike, their common ally.

A source close to Ms Arroyo told the Inquirer that the reconciliation talks with Estrada had been put on hold because of how the back-channel efforts had been leaked to the media.

"The President is angry, [Speaker Jose] De Venecia is angry, and Estrada is angry. Nobody is interested to continue with the talks so far," said the source, a top official of a leading business group.

This could explain why Ms Arroyo suddenly ordered the Office of the Press Secretary to bar the Malacaang press corps from covering her meeting last night with El Shaddai's Velarde.

The OPS announced Friday night that a bus would ferry the press corps to the Quirino Grandstand at 7:30 p.m. last night. But it canceled the press coverage before lunch yesterday.

Yesterday, Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye told dzXL radio that "only the Sandiganbayan" could decide on Estrada's release.

The former President had asked to be released from detention as a condition for reconciliation.

"The only thing we can do is expedite the process because we all know that justice delayed is justice denied," Bunye said.

"The President has always treated the Sandiganbayan as an independent body and has never interfered in its affairs," he said.

GMA 'ploy'

Senate President Franklin Drilon said Ms Arroyo and her political lieutenants had no business talking about Estrada's being released on recognizance.

"[Plunder] is a non-bailable crime," Drilon said. "[Estrada] is under the jurisdiction and custody of the court... There should be no intervention from Malacaang."

Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Pimentel Jr. said it would be to Ms Arroyo's "advantage" to reconcile with Estrada.

"But I don't think he will fall for that because it's very clear it's just a ploy for her self-interest," Pimentel said.

Program of activities

That the lieutenants had prevailed over their chiefs could be gathered from the program obtained by the Inquirer at 5 p.m.

Ms Arroyo was to arrive for the 8:30 p.m. concelebrated Mass at the Rizal Park's Quirino Grandstand in Manila and then address the crowd after the two-hour service.

Estrada's turn to speak was scheduled at 11:40 p.m., by which time Ms Arroyo would have already left. Reconciliation was nevertheless to be a recurring theme for other speakers, according to the program, a highlight of which was to be the candle-lighting peace and unity ceremony following the President's speech.

No compromise

The El Shaddai gathering, which actually kicked off as early as 2 p.m. and was expected to end before dawn today, was also to mark the 21st founding anniversary of the Catholic Church-backed movement. Environment Secretary Michael Defensor told Inquirer editors and reporters on Thursday night reconciliation talks had begun between the Arroyo and Estrada camps, with Estrada seeking his release from house arrest in Tanay, Rizal, on recognizance as a condition.

Recognizance involves the release of an accused without bail to someone of high moral standing in the community.

Ms Arroyo and Estrada last came face to face on May 29, 2001, when she visited him at his then detention suite at the Veterans Memorial Medical Center in Quezon City, in the early stages of his plunder trial before the antigraft court.

In a phone interview earlier yesterday, Estrada confirmed that he and Defensor had discussed the possibility of his being released on recognizance. But he said the discussion of the possibility was based on the merits of his plunder case, not on reconciliation.

"[All this talk of reconciliation] is not true. I've been detained for four years already. I think I just have to see this through," Estrada told the Inquirer.

"They don't have a strong case against me," he added.

Rejection

As if to further dispel talk of reconciliation, Estrada said his requests to see his mother at her residence in North Greenhills, San Juan, and to visit the tomb of his late best friend and opposition standard-bearer Fernando Poe Jr. had been rejected.

He pointed out that Cardinal Santos Medical Center, where he was to have a brief checkup, was "just a few minutes away from my mama's house."

"I wanted to have lunch with her but I was not allowed to," he said. "I also wanted to drop by [Poe's] tomb in Manila because the [El Shaddai gathering] is not until 9 p.m. They also didn't allow me to do so." Estrada said that after Edsa II in 2001, then Justice Secretary Hernando "Nani" Perez made him an offer of exile.

"There were still no charges against me at that time. Nani Perez [said I could] go to a country of my choice," Estrada said, adding:

"If I didn't take their offer at that time when there were still no charges against me, why would I take it up this time?"

Not a flight risk

Estrada said his lawyers had discussed with him the possibility of being released through recognizance or on bail.

His lawyers have since filed for bail on the basis that he was no longer a flight risk.

"In fairness to Mike [Defensor], he must have also seen that I've been detained for quite some time already, even if the case against me is not that strong," the ex-President said.

Estrada said Defensor, a troubleshooter of Ms Arroyo's and one of the first movers for his impeachment in 2000, was an old friend, as was Defensor's father, Quezon City Rep. Matias Defensor.

Asked if he'd shake Ms Arroyo's hand should they meet during the El Shaddai gathering, Estrada said: "Why not? I'm not a boorish person. I'll greet her, but there wouldn't be any talk of reconciliation."

Estrada insisted that his lawyers had effectively demolished the major evidence against him at his trial. He said they had established that, among other things, the P130-million payoff from excise tax proceeds could not have happened at his North Greenhills house, as alleged by Ilocos Sur Gov. Luis "Chavit" Singson.

"I'm also not a flight risk. Remember, I went to Hong Kong [last year for knee surgery], and I returned on the date they set for my return," Estrada said.

Helicopter

Estrada's trip to the Cardinal Santos Medical Center was delayed by a few hours because it was raining in Tanay.

The helicopter bearing him landed at 3:28 p.m. at the Crisanta Towers, where he was met by family and supporters, including members of the FPJ Volunteer Movement.

Estrada was granted permission by the Sandiganbayan on Thursday to undergo a medical checkup before proceeding to the El Shaddai gathering.

The Inquirer gathered that the Philippine National Police had rejected Estrada's initial plan of staying at the Manila Hotel across from the Rizal Park because this was not stated in the permit issued by the court. The Sandiganbayan had ordered the PNP to return Estrada to his detention at his vacation estate in Tanay immediately after the El Shaddai prayer rally.

Estrada was not allowed to talk to the media or use a mobile phone during his furlough.

Some 500 members of the Manila Police District, backed by K-9 units and members of the Special Weapons and Tactics division, were deployed to ensure security at the prayer rally.

Plainclothesmen were also deployed in the area, said Senior Supt. Rafael Corpuz, deputy district director for administration.

'Worst mistake'

Chavit Singson said Defensor's efforts to have Ms Arroyo reconcile with Estrada were "making the government look weak" and might "push" the President into "committing what could very well be the worst mistake in her life."

Singson, who had accused Estrada of accepting "jueteng" protection money and P130 million in excise tax proceeds, said the government appeared to be "pleading" for reconciliation.

"I am all for national reconciliation, especially in these times of crisis. I've repeatedly said this before. But I must continue to stress that such reconciliation should be anchored on justice and respect for our laws," Singson said in a statement.

He added: "We don't want to send the wrong signal to law-abiding citizens and even to the lawless elements that it is all right to violate the law with impunity as long as you have power, influence and money."

Two of Ms Arroyo's allies in Congress, House Majority Leader Prospero Nograles and Baguio Rep. Mauricio Domogan, said Estrada's reported condition of recognizance before reconciliation was "impossible" to meet because it was only the courts, and not Ms Arroyo, that can order his release. With reports from Tina G. Santos, Gil Cabacungan Jr., Juliet Labog-Javellana and Philip C. Tubeza

El Shaddai 17th Anniversary Celebration (August 17-18, 2001)

President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo yesterday called for unity as she urged the people to pray for the nation's healing. The President made this call during the 17th anniversary celebration of the El Shaddai-DWXI Prayer Partners Foundation International at the Quirino Grandstand, Rizal Park, Manila, Philippines. The group had previously backed her predecessor, deposed president Joseph Estrada.

Leo Consul, ang pinoy host ng Eat Bulaga Indonesia

The Indonesian franchise of "Eat Bulaga", which airs daily from 4 to 5:30PM on Jakarta's SCTV, has already caused quite a stir among social media networks just six days after its pilot broadcast.

And one of the reasons for the show's immediate impact is the lone Filipino among its 14 hosts – Leo Consul. A native of Bolinao, Pangasinan, Leo is a Communication Arts graduate of UP Baguio who has been carving out a career in Indonesia since 2011.

He tried his luck in Jakarta after deciding that the entertainment industry in the Philippines was too crowded for him.

"Sa kabilang network (ABSCBN Regional Group) po ako dati. Local tv host po sa Baguio. Di po ako confident sa tindi ng competition dyan satin eh," Leo tweeted in response to numerous inquiries from fans who want to know his background.

Given that Indonesia has become a second home for celebrities like Christian Bautista and acoustic singer Sabrina, it is a logical destination for any Filipino entertainer who wants to make a name for himself.

In Leo's case, it does look like he has found his niche there. Aside from being a TV host, Leo has also recorded an album as a member of the dance/R & B vocal trio RiS3 (pronounced as "rise"). Determined to make it to the top, the group lives by the motto, "Success doesn't go to you, you go to it. RiS3 and chase the dream!" which is included in their Twitter profile description.

But hosting seems to be Leo's primary calling as his inclusion in the "Eat Bulaga" "dabarkads" (called "bulagang") has generated a lot of responses from Twitter where he now has 1,086 followers.

Among other inquiries that he patiently and repeatedly answers is whether he is 100 percent Pinoy and can speak Tagalog, which he both answered in the affirmative. "Medyo natuto din po ako ng Ilocano," he volunteered in another tweet.

To a fan who compared him to "Eat Bulaga" Philippines' Paolo Ballesteros, Leo replied, "naku wala po tayong panama sa mga stars natin dyan. Ok na po ako dito. Nahihiya na nga ako kay paolo, kapal ng muka ko. LOL"

PRAYER OF COMMITMENT

A Million Roses for the World - Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise you for blessing Mary among all women and for creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus, your Son whose birth has made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit myself to pray the Rosary every day, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit myself to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you, God of peace, in worship, adoration, and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

Ateneo narrowly won over perennial favorite University of the Philippines to bag the school's first women's championship in the swimming competitions of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines Sunday at the Trace Aquatics Center in Los Baños, Laguna.

University of Santo Tomas won in the men's category.

Ateneo took the ladies' side via 216-213 score over UP. Ian Banzon, Bianca Uy, May Decena and Mia Crespo only placed third in the 4x100 relay but it was enough to propel them to the championship.

The Lady Eagles secured the title after UP, which needed to finish first in the 4x100 to take the crown, could only muster second place.

Luica Dacanay of UP was awarded the MVP, while teammate Jackie Junio was named Rookie of the Year.

The UST women completed the top three overall.

In the men's division, UST snared the title for the first time in 19 years. La Salle and UP placed second and third respectively.

Enchong Dee of La Salle won his second MVP award, while Timothy Vincent Yap brought home Rookie of the Year.

Ateneo also sealed the junior boys' crown, while UST the girls' crown.

Gabriel Castelo of Ateneo and Gian Berino of UST were awarded the boys' MVP and Rookie of the Year, respectively.

In the girls' division, Ingrid Ilustre of UE and Maria Kristina Bartolome of UST were given MVP and Rookie of the Year

VIVA CINEMA

STAR TV's 24-hour Filipino language encrypted movie channel

STAR's fourth encrypted movie service, VIVA Cinema, launched on 6 May 1996. VIVA Cinema, a joint venture between STAR TV and the Manila-based VIVA Communications, is the world's first Filipino-language movie channel. It is a digitally encrypted, subscription film channel available on the STAR TV ASiaSat 2 platform.

Pulling from VIVA's film library, the largest in the Philippines with over a thousand titles in stock, VIVA Cinema offers at least 300 Filipino films a year, many of which are television premiers. The channel provides viewers with round-the-clock high-quality Filipino film entertainment, seven days a week.

VIVA Cinema showcases the motion pictures which, throughout VIVA Films' 15-year history, have made the company synonymous with quality filmmaking and vast box-office appeal. These titles include blockbusters, current and all time favourites, plus new movies from great award-winning Filipino directors like Eddie Garcia, Joel Lamangan and Lino Brocka providing unlimited choice from action to drama, comedy, romance, fantasy and thrillers.

Each month viewers can enjoy specially designed "thematic packages" focusing on a particular actor, director or genre. Fans of box-office draws such as Sharon Cuneta, Philip Salvador, Alice Dixon, Andrew E., and Robin Padillia can enjoy a season of these stars' films, as well as many others featuring popular Filipino stars.

VIVA Cinema produces much of its own interviews, played in between each movie, bringing viewers up-to-date on what is happening in the industry, who is currently popular at the box-office and what films are in production.

VIVA Cinema can be seen throughout the Philippines, across the Middle East, Brunei, USA and Guam, and continues to expand its coverage.

ITO ANG PINOY!

The Green Tankers started the season by giving DLSU its first championship crown in the UAAP Season 74 Swimming Meet last September.

The Green-and-White Tankers out swam the UST Tigersharks and the Ateneo Blue Tankers on the rally towards the top spot.

The Tankers eyed the prize, delivered, and did not disappoint.

One tanker exceeded expectations, breaking records and even a win that DLSU witnessed two years ago by an all too familiar Ernest Lorenzo "Enchong" Dee.

Green Tanker Johansen Aguilar finished all his events on a high note, making him a vital part of the Tankers' triumph, and earning him the rightful title as the season's Most Valuable Player.

Aguilar topped the 50, 100, 200 meters backstroke, 50, 100, 200 meters butterfly, and 200 meters individual medley accumulating 63 points for the over-all team tally as well.

On top of that, he also broke the UAAP 50 and 100-meter backstroke records, and set a Philippine Record for 50-meter backstroke.

As part of the National Swimming Team, Aguilar also represented the country in the international arena, the most recent being the Southeast Asian Games, where he set another national record.

With Aguilar only on his third season, the Green Tankers will continue to dominate the sport in the following seasons as they prove that they are the lords of the deep.

The year 2012 seems good news for Bulakeños because the Northrail system, a modern railway that will run from Caloocan City to the Clark Economic Zone in Pampanga, is expected to be operational in two years.

Zoilo Andin, president and chief operating officer of the North Luzon Railways Corporation (Northrail), said the test run on its tracks in the Caloocan portion of the project is expected to be made this June before President Arroyo steps down from office.

He said all civil works could be completed by the middle of 2011.

Northrail is a government entity tasked to build, manage and operate the railway project that is divided into four phases. Phase 1 is from Caloocan to Clark and is divided into two sections, with Section 1 running from Caloocan to Malolos, Bulacan and Section 2 from Malolos to Clark.

Phase 2 of the project will cover a branch line to the Subic Bay Freeport, Phase 3 will go southward from Caloocan to Fort Bonifacio in Taguig City, and Phase 4 is an extension line from Clark to San Fernando, La Union.

"We have gained momentum in our undertaking to build a modern day railway system from Caloocan to Clark in Pampanga. Based on our 2009 performance and lessons learned, we are now certain, more than ever, of having our trains running on the 82-kilometer track from Caloocan to Clark in the next two years or so," Andin said here.

"After surmounting recurring difficulties encountered in previous years, our physical achievements for Section 1 in 2009 have even surpassed cumulative accomplishments since construction work commenced in 2007," Andin explained.

The Northrail executive said their accomplishment rate in the coming months is expected to rise dramatically because Northrail has already attained a higher degree of functional synergy among contractors, engineers, technical and support personnel that translated to faster and effective application of engineering and construction approaches.

He said preliminary work of some tedious and critical undertakings, such as construction design and drawings, has either been completed or are already being implemented.

Mindanao rail planned

Germany, Saudi Arabia to put money in Cagayan-Cotabato phase

Germany and Saudi Arabia are investing over P18.1 billion to partially finance the construction of an 82.5-kilometer mass transit system that will link the cities of Iligan, Cagayan de Oro, Gingoog, Marawi, and Cotabato in Mindanao by 2018.

This project, estimated to cost $520 million or over P28 billion, is expected to benefit 60,000 to 90,000 commuters daily in the Iligan-Cagayan de Oro "Industrial Corridor."

Transport Undersecretary Guiling A. Mamondiong told BusinessWorld yesterday that Germany would invest 220 million euros or P15.4 billion this year for the railway's electronics and mechanicals.

Through German technology company Siemens, it will also provide 12 trains with travel speeds of 80-150 kilometers per hour. It will also put up ticketing, signaling, and communication systems.

Saudi Arabia will also lend $40 million and donate another $10 million, or a total of P2.705 billion, for the project.

The official said the government would also seek funding from Kuwait, United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Oman, Libya, Brunei, and Thailand, which would do the feasibility study on the railway. Civil works will start in 2014. Project completion is scheduled for 2008.

"This will be the first major railway system outside Metro Manila, something that is well in line with the decongestion of the metro. After these rail projects are finished, we think we can have 40% reduction in our oil import," he said.

The government is proposing to build the Mindanao Railway System, a six-phase, 2,000-kilometer circumferential railway system.

Its first phase will connect Iligan and Cotabato. Phase two will connect Gingoog, Butuan, and Surigao. Phase three will connect Butuan, Monkayo, and Davao. Phase four will connect Davao, General Santos and Cotabato. Phase five will connect Iligan, Aurora, Dipolog, Liloy, Ipil and Zamboanga, and phase six will connect Cagayan de Oro, Malaybalay, Damulog, and Davao.

CAGAYAN DE ORO CITY -- For Mindanao to be competitive, the government must establish the Mindanao Railway System (MRS).

This was recommended by Thailand-based company Thaipicon and Industry Co., Ltd. In particular, the system's first phase covering the Cagayan de Oro-Iligan Corridor, the industrial zone of Northern Mindanao, should be started soon.

The recommendation is contained in a feasibility study made pursuant to a memorandum of understanding on May 15 between the Philippine National Railways and the Thai firm.

The city council and officials 10 coastal municipalities in Misamis Oriental (Lugait, Manticao, Naawan, Initao, Libertad, Gitagum, Laguindingan, Alubijid, El Salvador and Opol) have endorsed the project to the regional office of the National Economic and Development Authority.

The estimated total cost of the railway project is "P29.039 billion, excluding taxes and debt service, which is equivalent to $518.544 million at an assumed conversion rate of $1 to P56."

The study said that "based on the overall economic cost streams as derived and the expected benefit streams, the relevant economic indicators for the proposed project are computed as follows: economic internal rate of return, 23.78% and net present value at 15% of $537.455." The project's 23.78% internal rate of return exceeds the government's prescribed rate of 15%.

FAST-TRACK

Meanwhile, Northern Mindanao shippers, during a recent meeting in the city, urged the National Government to fast-track the MRS, which would provide an efficient transfer of goods.

The feasibility study was made in collaboration with China Railway Engineering Corp., an engineering construction group under the Chinese government's Ministry of Railways; IRCON International Ltd., a public sector undertaking under the Indian Ministry of Railways; PT Industri Kereta Api of the Indian government; Team Engineering Consulting and Management Co., Ltd. of Thailand and the State Railway of Thailand.

The study noted that the MRS will be circumferential and will traverse cities and provinces to form a Mindanao-wide network.

The project will involve the construction of modern railroad tracks, operation of rolling stocks and the construction of terminals in strategic areas along the railroads where trading posts will be established.

"The development of a railway system for Mindanao is justified from historical, economic, technical and environmental perspectives," the study said.

It said the historical development of cities showed that railway systems around the world played a vital role in accelerating regional growth; while from the economic perspective, it said, "there is no doubt that moving passengers and freight by rail is more economical compared with most road-based transport modes."

The study added that from a technical viewpoint, the railway system is suited to the geography and terrain of Mindanao.

Railway system will make Mindanao competitive

Conclusion

From an environment viewpoint, a railway system can provide a much more environmentally friendly technological mode due largely to realization that automobile and other road-based transport modes cause considerable environmental degradation, consume huge amounts of energy, and are choking city centers with traffic congestion.

Railway: generating opportunities

The establishment of the line from Cotabato City to Gingoog City, Misamis Oriental constitutes the phase 1, which is divided into four segments.

The first segment will cover 82.5 kilometer (km) for the Cagayan de Oro-Iligan Corridor, covering Iligan City on the westbound and Cagayan de Oro on the east-bound, and will traverse 10 coastal municipalities in Misamis Oriental.

The Iligan-Cagayan de Oro was chosen to be prioritized due to the following:

- * the area is a major industrial, processing and trade center;
- * it has a large number of ridership, it is the site of the country's biggest international seaport; and
- * it is the most peaceful part of Mindanao.

The railway system will feature diesel multiple units consisting of four cars per set run by diesel electric power in both ends; passenger rail cars will all be air-conditioned; and a 16-hour operation is envisioned with maximum and average travel speeds of 120 km and 80 km to 100 km, respectively.

The rail will be parallel to the Iligan-Cagayan de Oro-Butuan road. Tunnels will be constructed measuring a total of about 25 km and about 45 bridges and overpasses designed for a double track with a total span of 2.4 km, which is equivalent to the number of existing highway bridges/overpasses, will be constructed along the rail line.

The project will require the acquisition of about 360 hectares of land which will be used for the construction of formation and rail tracks with the right of way measuring about 30 meters in width and about 60 meters at stations; and for the location of the depot and terminal stations.

The magnitude of the railway project will "result in limited economic variability and disruption, i.e., the demolition of permanent structures, a relocation of appropriately 1,000 household units and a permanent conversion thereof of about 30 hectares of farmlands, coconut lands, fish ponds, rice paddles, orchards into a built up area," said the study

The study said the project "will surely create new jobs during the construction period up to its operation and will certainly generate more business opportunities for the local residents arising from increased economic activities."

Among the recommended mitigating measures on the socio-economic-environment impact are the relocation of households, cash compensation, replacement of agricultural land, and updating of land use plan and strict implementation of zoning regulations.

Narito po ang tula ko na ginawa ko para sa Eat Bulaga! at kay Pangulong Aquino

Tayong lahat ay sinalubong,
Ng isang selebrasyong dumadagundong,
At ng isang pamamaalam na kahit na batid,
Sakit at hinagpis pa rin ang hatid.

Ikatlong Dekada sa telebisyon,
Sa Eat...Bulaga! ito ang selebrasyon,
Sa lahat ng nakibahagi, mula Batanes hanggang Jolo, Handog po nila'y Maraming Salamat Po!

Sam mga sumali sa iba't ibang pakulo,
Lottong Bahay, Kaserola at pati Pinoy Henyo,
Pinasasalamatan din ng 3 hari ng tanghali,
Kilala bilang Tito, Vic and Joey.

Kinuha na ni Bro, si Ginang Aquino,
Ang babaeng isinigaw sa buong mundo,
Na sya ay proud to be a Filipino,
Kya mga Pinoy sya ang idolo.

Kay Pangulong Aquino, kumagat na ang dilim,
Kaya buong Pilipinas, nagdasal ng taimtim,
Ang babaeng demokrasya't laging naka dilaw,
Ay tuluyan na ngang pumanaw.

Si Cory daw gagawing santa,
St. Cory of the People Power sana,
Parang si Joey, also nominated,
Sa pagka National Artist syang aking bet.

Tunay ngang may global warming,
Masaya ngayon, malungkot mamayang evening,
Happy 30th bati ko sa EB,
My condolences sa pamilya ni Tita Cory.

The newly reinvented Sulo Riviera is now one of the most chic hotels in the metropolis. This boutique hotel like no other shines like a refreshingly modern landmark in Quezon City.

With the new ownership led by executive director Cristina Cuevas, Sulo Riviera had its grand relaunch last Dec. 3 together with the birthday of the Cuevas family patriarch Ambassador Felimon Cuevas. Guests were treated to The Sulo Riviera's offerings of sumptuous food, great music, excellent service and modish ambience.

Fire breathers and pole dancers welcomed guests at the driveway together with the hotel's hospitable staff. Sulo's cozy Divino Lounge offered guests an urbane yet cozy ambience while other guests chose to stay by the pool with chill-out music at the Aqua Lounge.

The evening's highlight was the ceremonial toast led by former President Joseph Estrada who congratulated the Cuevas family for the success of the reinvented hotel. He was joined by Vice President Jejomar Binay, Miss World 2011 1st Princess Gwendoline Ruais, and Ching Cruz, alongside Cristina Cuevas and her father Felimon Cuevas.

Joining the celebration were Senators Loi Ejercito and Jinggoy Estrada, Congressmen Roman Romulo, Valenzuela Councilor Shalani Soledad, Abet Garcia, Governor Tet Garcia, Governor L-Ray Villafuerte and his wife Lara. Showbiz celebrities Enchong Dee, Joseph Marco, David Chua, Albert Martinez and Phoemela Baranda joined fashion celebrities Inno Sotto, Paul Cabral, JC Buendia, Joey Samson, Ivar Aseron, TC Alvarez, and Natori creative director Ian Giron, photographer Sara Black, and model/photographer Jo Ann Bitagcol.

Celebrity doctor Vicki Belo enjoyed the music in the ballroom with guests from the business world Philip Cruz, Jack Tuazon, Eddie and Merle Pineda with children Eman and Jaime, Fe Rodriguez, Therese Santos, Maritel Nievera, Rikki and Beng Dee, Ruby Roa, Agnes Huibonhoa and Mike Toledo.

Sports celebs were led by Paolo Trillo with model-wife Rissa, William Antonio, RJ Rizada, Sean Anthony and Chris Banchemo.

The new Sulo Riviera has 71 superior deluxe rooms and suites. Each room boasts modern interiors accentuated with works by Asian artists, forming a contemporary design.

66th UAAP Season

In the summer of 2003, when the Ateneo Varsity Swimming Program was reorganized, the team ranked sixth in both the men's and women's divisions of the UAAP.

The high school division, however, was fortunate to have Ateneo student-swimmers produced by swimming clubs in the vicinity, thus helping the juniors win the over-all boys' divisions for a couple of seasons. Unfortunately, it was a feat that did not last due to lack of support. The Ateneo seniors' team has not won an individual gold medal nor made it to the top three team overall positions in the UAAP. The recent three seasons hauled only first and second runner-up finishes for the juniors' team.

The year was 2003, the 66th UAAP season, and the Ateneo Varsity was about to make a major breakthrough by garnering its very first Ateneo swimming gold medal through the heroics of Karen Angela Tiambeng. Tiambeng was a freshman from St. Scholastica's College, Manila who was recruited by Edward Borja, Ateneo swimming program head.

Against strong competition from top swimmers of La Salle, UP and UST, Karen, under pressure for being the first Ateneo swimming scholar, took control of the 400-meter individual medley for a breakaway win in one of the hardest events in UAAP swimming. She complemented her feat with two silvers (200-meter butterfly and 200-meter breaststroke) and two bronze medals (200-meter individual medley and 800-meter freestyle), and anchored the Ateneo women's team with a silver and bronze in the 4x100 and 4x50 medley relay events, respectively.

Another medal-winning tanker in this same season was Hiyas Karidad Adviento, also a freshman but who graduated from St. Paul's College, Pasig. Garnering two silvers in the 100- and 200-meter backstroke events, and a bronze in the 100-meter breaststroke event to complement Karen's medal hoard, Hiyas was also a member of the winning relay teams.

That season, the women's team improved their ranking from sixth to fifth place. The men's team, on the other hand, just did their best damage in the relay events by winning a bronze in the 4x200-meter freestyle relay event. They retained their sixth place overall team finish.

The juniors' team had proven that they could still perform even with the low number of representatives. Led by team captain Raem Puno, a former UAAP MVP in the juniors' division, they made a gallant charge by dominating three out of five relays, with Puno sweeping all seven individual golds he was entered in. In spite of the medal haul, the team still fell short and finished first runner-up in the overall team standings after UST, which had used the number more than the quality of its medal wins to gain the overall championship.

67th UAAP Season

During the UAAP's 67th season, opponents thought that the Ateneo could only shock them in the previous year with Tiambeng and Adviento at the helm of the women's team. They were gravely mistaken, and eventually paid the price, with Ateneo's recruitment of Sherylin Nicole Santiago and Nhemia Velasco. Both armed with their own stints in the national team, they proved too awesome for their opponents, who knew the two's capabilities. Nicole Santiago, a graduate of St. Theresa's College, QC, took to the pool and conquered four golds in the 800-, 400-, 200-, and 100-meter freestyle, breaking UAAP records in the first three. One of the records she erased – the 800-meter freestyle – had stood since 1989, when the UAAP was still the NCAA.

Nhemia Velasco, a graduate of Reedley International School, and a former national standout, took the silvers in three of Santiago's events for the 800-, 400-, and 200-meter freestyle. She also took a silver in the 400-meter individual medley, where fellow Atenean Tiambeng, took the bronze.

Santiago and Velasco combined their winning talents with sophomores Adviento and Tiambeng and established two more golds in the women's 4x200 freestyle and 4x100 medley relay events, both new UAAP records. Never has the Ateneo won as many golds, or broken as many records in swimming or any other individual sport, as in that UAAP season.

The men's team also made some breakthroughs by ending their silver medal drought of eight years, since Joseph Brimer won Ateneo's last silver in the 200-meter freestyle in 1996. This they did through the heroics of Ateneo's top male recruit, Puno, the previous season's UAAP juniors MVP, who won two silvers in the 200- and 100-meter butterfly, and two bronze medals in the 100- and 50-meter freestyle. The men's team also won its first relay silver in a team led by Puno, along with team captain Mark Sui, Andrew Leong and Raj Olympia for the 4x100 freestyle relay. The team consisting of Jose Man Ortega, Olympia, Leong and Sui won the battle against rival La Salle for the bronze in the 4x200 freestyle relay after UST and UP.

The juniors' team descended to a second runner-up finish that season with the disadvantage of low numbers and the absence of the services of graduated MVP Puno. They made some ripples by winning two golds in the 4x200 and 4x100 freestyle relays. The only significant achievement by an individual Ateneo swimmer was the UAAP-record-breaking gold medal of Michael Contreras, a high school sophomore who bagged the 50-meter butterfly, upsetting three-time gold medalist John Mark Miranda of UPIS. Mike bagged the silvers in Miranda's golden events in the meet.

68th UAAP Season

In the upcoming 68th UAAP season, the Ateneo has a lot to look forward to. Recent efforts of the Ateneo to bring up its swimming program include the establishment of a grass-roots development system to establish a regular grade school swimming center, the recruitment of top grade school graduates to the high school juniors team as Ateneo's first high school swimming scholars, and the aggressive recruitment of national swimmers for collegiate swimming, all of which would drive Ateneo closer to its main objective of garnering the top spot in UAAP swimming. The swimming program will also be rewarded with a new swimming facility, to be constructed this school year, through a generous donation made by the program's main benefactor, Mr. Cecilio K. Pedro, CEO of Lamoian Industries.

Setbacks have occurred recently in the Ateneo's quest for the swimming crown, particularly in the women's division. Since a bulk of our recruits are national team candidates, six of our freshmen have been selected by the national training program to train in China in preparation for the SEA Games Selection Try-outs slated in September, 2005. Faced with a tough decision on priorities, one freshman and a sophomore opted to take a leave-of-absence from the program and will thus be excluded from our campaign this season.

Ateneo, therefore, would have to settle for improving its standing and finally entering the top three overall team standings, a feat never before done by the Ateneo in the UAAP swimming league. UST will be defending its women's crown, and since its share of national athletes will not go to China, its team will be in "full-force." UP, which has a couple of national athletes in its roster, will be neck-and-neck with Ateneo for second place and, if predictions are correct, we can finally unseat La Salle from the top three. The men's division may go the same way.

The juniors' division paints a better picture. Our three new recruits, Julius de Guzman, Sean Paul Tan(both Ateneo Grade School graduates) and Narciso Theodore Sandico (a graduate of Temple Hill International School), combined with last season's juniors' hero, Mike Contreras, pose a major threat to defending champion UST and last season's first runner-up La Salle-Zobel. Who knows what we can achieve this season? Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam; what we achieve will all be for the greater glory of God.

The dream Mindanao rail project is just a step away from realization after the Philippine National Railways (PNR) turned over yesterday the P55-million feasibility study to leaders in the region to complete the final phase of preparations for the historic Cagayan de Oro-Iligan City rail line.

The turnover is the final gesture indicating that the start of the construction on the first of four planned new rail lines that will criss-cross Mindanao will push through as scheduled.

It came on the heels of the groundbreaking two weeks ago of the Chinese government-financed North Luzon Railway Project, which runs north from Caloocan City to San Fernando City, La Union.

Considered as the first rail project in the South in over a hundred years, the Cagayan de Oro-Iligan City rail line will be built by a consortium, backed by the Thai and German governments.

House Speaker Jose de Venecia Jr., the highest government official who witnessed the turnover, said the $1-million feasibility study is a gift of Thaipicon Industrial Co., a major rail developer in Thailand, at no cost to the Philippine government.

Thaipicon's Mindanao rail project will be financed by the Thai Export-Import Bank owned by the Thai government.

The project is also supported by the German Siemens Group, which is backed by the German government's KfW soft-loan financial institution.

Mayors Vicente Emano of Cagayan de Oro City and Franklin Quijano of Iligan City received the feasibility study from the PNR and the coordinator of the Mindanao Railways, Gene Mamondiong.

President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, who gave the go-signal in mid-2009 to build the long-awaited rail line that would extend to the Misamis Oriental Export Processing Zone, had appointed Mamondiong for the project.

Also on hand to witness the turnover were Congressmen Constantino Jaraula of Cagayan de Oro City, Alipio Badelles and Abdullah Dimaporo of Lanao del Norte, and Oscar Moreno and Augusto Baculio of Misamis Oriental.

De Venecia and Baculio were instrumental in promoting the 2,000-kilometer Mindanao rail, whose first phase is the Cagayan de Oro-Iligan line.

The Speaker had proposed for the modernization of the country's rail system, including the Mindanao Rail and Luzon North Rail projects, while Baculio witnessed the signing of the Mindanao-wide rail agreement in New Delhi, India last month.

"This will open Mindanao to a whole new era of economic development and social transformation," De Venecia said.

THE government wants a detailed feasibility study done first on the viability of the Mindanao railway system project before it can be offered to interested private investors.

"We will outsource the feasibility study. We have to establish the viability of the project. If the viability gap can't be afforded then we will not pursue it," said Transportation Undersecretary Ruben Reinoso Jr.

The Department of Transportation and Communications official said the project, envisioned to link urban centers like the cities of Cagayan de Oro (CDO), Iligan, Zamboanga, Pagadian, Dipolog, Marawi, Cotabato and Davao, will be included in the Public-Private Partnership (PPP) program of the Aquino administration.

"We just have to make sure that the private sector will be able to recover its investment and the support of the government is affordable. So, we really need to see the study done first," said Reinoso.

The project is estimated to cost P66 billion. It was first conceptualized during the Estrada administration.

Based on initial studies, the project would be constructed in phases. First phase will be from Laguindingan to CDO. The second phase will be from Laguindingan to Iligan City; the third from CDO to Phividec area in Tagoloan, Misamis Oriental; and the last phase from Iligan City to Linamon town, Lanao del Norte. The proposed rail will span the entirety of Mindanao with a total length of approximately 2,000 kilometers.

Once established, the railway system is expected to cut travel time by 15-20 minutes from the present 90-minute travel time between CDO and Iligan.

The Cagayan de Oro-Iligan route is being prioritized since the covered stretch is an industrial gateway and a key trade center for the southern Philippine island group.

The railway system is envisioned to be implemented in four phases: initially from Laguindingan to Cagayan de Oro City; second from Laguindingan to Iligan City ; third from Cagayan de Oro to Phividec area in Tagoloan, Misamis Oriental; and the fourth phase from Iligan City to Linamon town, Lanao del Norte. The project aims to cut the present 90-minute travel time by bus between Cagayan de Oro and Iligan to 15-20 minutes.

The Mindanao railway system project aims to provide "a sage and economical transport alternative for moving goods and people in Mindanao," which in the long run, will help in the socioeconomic development of the island, said Reinoso.

Mindanao rail planned

Germany, Saudi Arabia to put money in Cagayan-Cotabato phase

Germany and Saudi Arabia are investing over P18.1 billion to partially finance the construction of an 82.5-kilometer mass transit system that will link the cities of Iligan, Cagayan de Oro, Gingoog, Marawi, and Cotabato in Mindanao by 2008.

This project, estimated to cost $520 million or over P28 billion, is expected to benefit 60,000 to 90,000 commuters daily in the Iligan-Cagayan de Oro "Industrial Corridor."

Transport Undersecretary Guiling A. Mamondiong told BusinessWorld yesterday that Germany would invest 220 million euros or P15.4 billion this year for the railway's electronics and mechanicals.

Through German technology company Siemens, it will also provide 12 trains with travel speeds of 80-150 kilometers per hour. It will also put up ticketing, signaling, and communication systems.

Saudi Arabia will also lend $40 million and donate another $10 million, or a total of P2.705 billion, for the project.

The official said the government would also seek funding from Kuwait, United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Oman, Libya, Brunei, and Thailand, which would do the feasibility study on the railway. Civil works will start in 2006. Project completion is scheduled for 2008.

"This will be the first major railway system outside Metro Manila, something that is well in line with the decongestion of the metro. After these rail projects are finished, we think we can have 40% reduction in our oil import," he said.

The government is proposing to build the Mindanao Railway System, a six-phase, 2,000-kilometer circumferential railway system.

Its first phase will connect Iligan and Cotabato. Phase two will connect Gingoog, Butuan, and Surigao. Phase three will connect Butuan, Monkayo, and Davao. Phase four will connect Davao, General Santos and Cotabato. Phase five will connect Iligan, Aurora, Dipolog, Liloy, Ipil and Zamboanga, and phase six will connect Cagayan de Oro, Malaybalay, Damulog, and Davao.

Gov't eyes two railway projects in M'danao & Panay

MANILA (PNA) – The proposed construction of two railway projects for Mindanao and Panay Island will be financed from a US$300 million loan from Austria.

Railway Undersecretary Guiling A. Mamondiong said part of the amount would be spent for the 35-kilometer tunnel and portion for the Mindanao Railway.

"The others will be spent for the pronouncement of rails, switches and civil works for the Panay Railways," Mamondiong said.

Earlier, Speaker Jose de Venecia Jr. led a delegation to visit the railway firm in Austria. The delegation is composed of Representatives Augusto Baculio, Janette Garin, Ferjenel Biron, Monico Puentevella, Rolex Suplico and Philippine Ambassador to Austria, Victor Garcia III.

The group visited the railway steelworks of Austrian company Voest-Alpine Stahl Donawitz Co. GmbH in Leoben, Syria.

A memorandum of agreement (MOA) was signed by the Department of Transportation and Communications (DoTC) and the Austrian Bundesministerium fur Verkehr, Innovation and Technologies (BMVIT).

Signatories were Mamondiong for DoTC and Mag. Eduard Mainoni, State Secretary, Republic of Austria.

According to the agreement, the Austrian government will provide the Philippines with knowledge and technology in the railway industry and will help establish a Philippine National Railways Academy.

It also calls for the intensification of the scientific, academic and cultural relation between the two countries specifically in the area of railway development.

The MOA would also pave the way for Austria to identify the contractor for the construction of railway tunnels, as well as supply the rails and switches for the network.

Mamondiong also signed two MOA's with German consultants for the development of the Master Plan of the Philippine National Railway System and the Draft Railways Act.

The Master Plan includes the basic implementation concept and standards for the development of the Philippine National Railway system and its operations.

Once implemented, the railways development program in Mindanao and Panay is expected to increase the trade volume between the Philippines and Austria presently pegged at only 150 million euros.

RP pushing multi-billion nationwide railway project

The Philippines is pushing an ambitious 6,500 kilometer railway project that will connect the entire archipelago by train.

"In order to push for the project, we are thinking of enacting a National Railway Act (NRA) that will seek for tax exemptions for rail infrastructure projects," according to Transportation and Communications Undersecretary for Railways Guiling Mamondiong.

"The sources (funding) will come possibly from the increase in real property tax, road user's tax and 'sin' taxes like cigarette, liquor, and others," he said.

Mamondiong said the railway system still remains the most efficient mode of transportation since it can move people and goods at reasonable cost and it only occupies one-sixth of what will take for the vehicles in the roads.

He also said the backbone of any national transport system has always been railway.

Mamondiong cited the countries that are extensively using train as its main public transport as Japan, the United States and many European countries. Railways will address the needs of long distance passengers and cargo transport.

Senate Minority Floor leader Tito Sotto welcomed the plan of the DoTC to negotiate with local and foreign firms keen on undertaking the projects using creative funding schemes.

Mamondiong said the first on the list is the establishment of the Mindanao Railways System (MRS) that is expected to enhance the prime investment in Mindanao as site in the East Asian Growth Area (EAGA), a growth polygon composed of Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines (BIMP).

"The MRS is long overdue even before the start of the present administration," he said.

Mamondiong said that Germany and Saudi Arabia will invest R18.1 billion in the first phase of the mass transit system which will link the cities of Iligan, Cagayan de Oro and Gingoog covering a total of 82.5 kilometers.

Phase 1 of the railways project is estimated to cost R28 billion and would benefit between 60,000 and 90,000 commuters daily in the Iligan-Cagayan de Oro Industrial corridor.

Based on DoTC's timetable, civil works for the railway project will start in 2006 and is set to be completed 2008.

The MRS will consist of six phases, covering a total length of 2,000 kilometers.

Phase 1 is from Iligan-Cagayan de Oro-Gingoog-Marawi-Cotabato; Phase 2, from Gingoog-Butuan-Surigao; Phase 3, from Butuan-Monkayo-Davao; Phase 4, Davao-General Santos-Cotabato; Phase 5, Iligan-Aurora-Dipolog-Liloy-Ipil-Zamboanga; and Phase 6, Cagayan de Oro-Malaybalay-Damulong-Davao.

Earlier, a Malaysian government-controlled consortium is eyeing for the construction of the long-delayed MRS on a build operate-transfer (BOT) scheme.

At the same time, the DPWH is also hammering out a plan to build the 1,436 single-track railway system that would connect key cities on the island.

It has invested R40 million for various infrastructure projects in Mindanao, including the railway to spur inter-regional economic activities.

In 2001, there was a plan to construct a railway system between Indonesia's South Kalimantan province and Mindanao.

The Antara News Agency has been quoted that the project would be implemented based in economic cooperation of the BIMP-Eaga.

The railway is projected to be constructed in 20 years at a cost of US$36 billion. Technical details have already been made by German consultants at a total cost of US$30 million.

However, the DoTC disclosed that the Philippine government has its own railway projects in Mindanao, which is the MRS.

In 2004, the new Delhi-based Ircon International Ltd. has expressed interest in the MRS, prompting the government to revive the project.

According to the Philippine National Railway (PNR), Ircon was interested in the development of the Iligan-Zamboanga segment of the MRS.

Ircon is an infrastructure giant that has been involved with projects including railway development in India as well as in parts of Asia and Europe.

For Mindanao to be competitive, the government must establish the Mindanao Railway System (MRS).

This was recommended by Thailand-based company Thaipicon and Industry Co., Ltd. In particular, the system's first phase covering the Cagayan de Oro-Iligan Corridor, the industrial zone of Northern Mindanao, should be started soon.

The recommendation is contained in a feasibility study made pursuant to a memorandum of understanding on May 15 between the Philippine National Railways and the Thai firm.

The city council and officials 10 coastal municipalities in Misamis Oriental (Lugait, Manticao, Naawan, Initao, Libertad, Gitagum, Laguindingan, Alubijid, El Salvador and Opol) have endorsed the project to the regional office of the National Economic and Development Authority.

The estimated total cost of the railway project is "P29.039 billion, excluding taxes and debt service, which is equivalent to $518.544 million at an assumed conversion rate of $1 to P56."

The study said that "based on the overall economic cost streams as derived and the expected benefit streams, the relevant economic indicators for the proposed project are computed as follows: economic internal rate of return, 23.78% and net present value at 15% of $537.455." The project's 23.78% internal rate of return exceeds the government's prescribed rate of 15%.

FAST-TRACK

Meanwhile, Northern Mindanao shippers, during a recent meeting in the city, urged the National Government to fast-track the MRS, which would provide an efficient transfer of goods.

The feasibility study was made in collaboration with China Railway Engineering Corporation, an engineering construction group under the Chinese government's Ministry of Railways; IRCON International Limited, a public sector undertaking under the Indian Ministry of Railways; PT Industri Kereta Api of the Indian government; Team Engineering Consulting and Management Co., Ltd. of Thailand and the State Railway of Thailand.

The study noted that the MRS will be circumferential and will traverse cities and provinces to form a Mindanao-wide network.

The project will involve the construction of modern railroad tracks, operation of rolling stocks and the construction of terminals in strategic areas along the railroads where trading posts will be established.

"The development of a railway system for Mindanao is justified from historical, economic, technical and environmental perspectives," the study said.

It said the historical development of cities showed that railway systems around the world played a vital role in accelerating regional growth; while from the economic perspective, it said, "there is no doubt that moving passengers and freight by rail is more economical compared with most road-based transport modes."

The study added that from a technical viewpoint, the railway system is suited to the geography and terrain of Mindanao.

The party turned awkward.

President Benigno Aquino III criticized former Vice President Noli De Castro during the 25th anniversary celebration of TV Patrol. De Castro anchored the newscast since its creation in 1987, out of the scene from 2001 to 2010 during his political stint. The President minced no words even if De Castro, known as Kabayan, was also present in the event.

Aquino graced the celebration at the Manila Hotel on Friday, July 27, but the bulk of his speech was not focused on ABS-CBN's flagship primetime newscast.

Instead, Aquino used the occasion to criticize De Castro for supposed baseless speculation, and commentaries against the administration despite his own stint in government.

The President did not name De Castro but referred to a TV Patrol anchor who is an ex-government official.

"Napaisip nga po ako: 'yung nagkomento nito, hindi ba't anim na taon ding tumangan sa renda ng gobyerno? Sabihin na po nating minana lang din nila ang problema; 'di hamak mas luma naman ang ipinamana nilang problema sa amin."

(It made me think. The one making the comment, wasn't he holding the reigns of government for 6 years? Let us say that they also just inherited the problem; the problem they left us was even older.)

"Anim na taon ang ipinagkaloob sa kanya para tumulong sa pagsasaayos ng mismong inireklamo niya. Pero ngayon, tayo na nga ang may bitbit na problema, tayo na nga ang tutugon dito, pero masakit nga ho, may gana pang hiritan ng nagpamana?"

(He was given 6 years to help fix his very own complaint. But now, we are already carrying the burden, we are the ones responding to this but what is painful is that, the one who passed on the problem still has the gall to criticize.)

De Castro started his career as a broadcast journalist. He became senator in 2001, and was the vice president of former President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo from 2004 to 2010. After his stint in politics, De Castro returned to media, reclaiming his spot as the top anchor of TV Patrol.

Aquino has blamed the Arroyo administration for corruption in government.

The President criticized De Castro in front of ABS-CBN executives including Chairman and CEO Gabby Lopez, some Cabinet officials, and ABS-CBN employees.

This is not the first time Aquino lambasted a person in his presence. In December 2011, the president took a swipe at then Chief Justice Renato Corona, who was sitting only a few steps away from him during a summit on the criminal justice system.

Magandang gabi bayan?

Aquino started his speech by congratulating TV Patrol, commending its growth from the Radyo Patrol days of his youth.

"And here we are today, celebrating the Silver Anniversary of one of the strongest institutions in broadcasting: TV Patrol," Aquino said in Filipino.

The President then talked about the gains under his administration. Yet he went on by critiquing the news reporting of the show and citing instances where he said De Castro voiced "raw opinions and speculation."

Aquino said that in an October 2011 story on TV Patrol, a reporter talked about the increase in passenger arrivals in the Ninoy Aquino International Airport Terminal 3. The President said that De Castro then retorted, "Nasa NAIA 3 ka kasi; kung nasa NAIA 1 ka, doon malala." (That's because you're in NAIA 3. If you're in NAIA 1, it's much worse there.)

The president said that in another instance, the same anchor insinuated that a rescue operation of the National Bureau of Investigation was just a set-up and the kidnappers were paid ransom to release the foreign child.

Aquino said, "Sabi nga ho ng nanonood kong kasama, 'Naman.' Kami pa po mismo ang magagalak kung makakapaghain kayo ng kapisasong ebidensya ukol dito." (My companion said, 'Wow.' We will be happy if you can show a piece of evidence about this.)

At this point, Aquino alluded to De Castro's signature opening line.

"May naitutulong po ba ang mga walang-basehang spekulasyon? ... Kung alam mong opinion-maker ka, alam mo rin dapat na mayroon kang responsibilidad. Sana po, sa tuwing sasabihin nating and I quote, 'magandang gabi, bayan,' ay totoong hinahangad nating magandang ang gabi ng bayan."

(Does baseless speculation do anything to help? If you know you are an opinion-maker, you should also know that you have responsibility. I hope every time you say and I quote, 'good evening, nation,' you truly want the nation to have a good evening.)

'Pardon me for being frank'

In the second half of his speech, Aquino reiterated his call for media to be balanced in reporting, and stop what he called "daily negativism."

The President said media plays a major role in presenting an image of the Philippines to foreigners and Filipinos overseas. Aquino even likened the news to a horror film series.

"Kung isa po kayo sa 10 milyon nating kababayan na nagsasakripisyo sa ibayong-dagat, gaganahan kaya kayong bumalik dito kung mas nakakasindak pa sa Shake, Rattle and Roll ang balita sa telebisyon?" (If you are one of 10 million Filipinos sacrificing abroad, would you be encouraged to return here if the news on TV is scarier than Shake, Rattle and Roll?)

After minutes of awkward silence from the audience, Aquino capped his speech by asking for understanding.

"Ako po'y pagpasensyahan ninyo kung masyadong prangka nagsalita ngayong gabi. Maganda na ho siguro 'yung totoo ang sabihin para magkaunawaan tayo nang maliwanag. Muli po, binabati ko ang TV Patrol sa inyong ika-25 kaarawan." (Pardon me if I was too frank this evening. Maybe it's good to say the truth so that we understand each other clearly. Again, I greet TV Patrol a happy 25th anniversary.)

Ito ay pagbibigay linaw sa espekulasyon na si Dennis Trillo ay magiging kapamilya. Matatandaan na si Dennis Trillo ay pumirma ng 3-year exclusive contract sa GMA 7 noong nakaraang taon (May mga balitang nagkakahalaga ito ng Php 45 million). Ibig sabihin may dalawang taon pang tatapusin si Dennis upang makompleto ang kanyang kontrata sa GMA 7.

Sumabog ang intriga ng makitang dumalo ng premiere night ng The Healing si Dennis. Napag alamang dumalo si Dennis upang magpahayag ng suporta dahil sa kanilang manager na si Popoy Caritativo. Nakatakdang gumawa ng isang epicserye si Dennis, ito ang PULANG ARAW na ipapalabas sa susunod na taon Newsmakers and newsmen, some of whom are also bigwigs in politics, government and show business, gathered Friday for a night of music and memories as TV Patrol celebrated its silver anniversary at the Manila Hotel.

President Aquino addressed the crowd of about 500 government officials, celebrities, news production crew and journalists who have been or are part of TV Patrol's 25 years.

Leading the pack of ABS-CBN officials at the event were Chair and CEO Eugenio Lopez III and President Charo Santos-Concio, while News And Current Affairs head Ging Reyes spearheaded recognition of the last two and a half decades' biggest newsmakers, and the ABS-CBN men and women behind the news.

The celebration will be shown over ABS-CBN Channel 2 on August 5, 2012 at around 11 p.m. after Magandang Gabi Vice.

Here are photos of VIPs and other guests who joined the celebration.

We dream of a world at peace.
We dream of a world of love.
We dream of a world at prayer.
A world at peace, in love with God!

I have a mother in heaven
I have a queen in my heart.
My mother's name is Mary
Blessed handmaid of God!

We pledge to pray her rosary
That peace may reign supreme
A million roses of prayer
A million roses for peace!

We pledge to pray her rosary
That peace may reign supreme
A million roses of prayer
A million roses for peace!

We pledge to pray her rosary

Enchong still in hospital (11:17 a.m.)

After the confinement of Kapamilya stars Derek Ramsay and John Prats, young actor Enchong Dee was next because of dengue.

The actor was rushed to Cardinal Santos Medical Center in San Juan City, Metro Manila last Sunday after appearing on ABS-CBN's weekly variety show "ASAP" last Sunday, August 15.

"Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ako. Nag-i-Internet pa ako. Tapos papunta na ako ng ASAP. 'Yon bigla na akong nag-chill. Tapos parang hinang hina na ako tapos pinauwi na ako. Pagkatapos sabi nila pahinga muna ako. Nung 4 p.m. may pictorial pa ako. Sabi ko parang hindi ko na kaya kasi masyado ng mabigat ang ulo ko. Tapos masakit na din 'yong joints ko. Tapos noon kinansel na din nila ang pictorial at saka dubbing."

Enchong said he had a pictorial and dubbing meeting later that day but it was cancelled because of his health condition.

This is not the first time the actor suffered dengue because last year (2009) where they were taping for the pre-primetime drama series "Katorse" was also rushed to the hospital.

Enchong is thankful to his co-actors Zanjoe Marudo and Bea Alonzo who visited him in the hospital and her fans for all the nice text messages he received.

The actor is still recuperating in Cardinal Santos Medical Center.

"It is currently being studied by engineers because it is not really included in the original plan," Transportation Secretary Manuel A. Roxas II told BusinessWorld in a chance interview last week, referring to the Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal or "common station" initially targeted by the earlier administration to be completed by May 2010.

This was supposed to link the Metro Rail Transit Line 3 (MRT-3), Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT-1) and the planned MRT-7 for seamless travel.

SM Prime Holdings, Inc., the operator of SM malls, had earlier given the Light Rail Transit Authority P200 million for "naming rights" over the project.

In the meantime, rival Ayala Land, Inc.'s TriNoma mall solely enjoys direct connection to the train station in the area.

A new station near SM City North EDSA, in between LRT-1's Roosevelt Station and MRT-3's North Ave. Station, might cause complications to the train loop, Mr. Roxas said.

"The last station of LRT-1 and the last station of [MRT-3] in TriNoma is roughly 600 meters apart only," he said. "So it will disrupt the trains' loop timing."

Mr. Roxas said that in the event that the project will no longer push through, the government might return SM Prime's money.

"We may return [it]," he said. [But] I don't know if we can return it... I am not familiar with the terms."

"We will do what is right. We cannot just proceed... There is no provision for [a common terminal] in the original design of the MRT-3," Mr. Roxas added.

SM Investment Corp., the parent firm of SM Prime, declined to comment.

The 16.95-kilometer (km) MRT-3 runs along EDSA (Epifanio de los Santos Ave.) from North Ave. in Quezon City to Taft Ave. in Manila.

The 20.7-km LRT-1, meanwhile, runs from Baclaran Station in Pasay City to Roosevelt Station in Quezon City.

Construction for the third line that would have been linked to the central terminal, MRT-7, has yet to secure "financial closure" from Japanese lenders, earlier reports show.

The project proposal was reportedly referred back to the National Economic and Development Authority from the Finance department for reevaluation, previous reports showed.

Nevertheless, San Miguel Corp. -- which controls Universal LRT Corp. (BVI) Ltd., the concessionaire of the MRT-7 -- has firmed up a deal with D. M. Consunji, Inc. last May for the construction of the railway.

The MRT-7 project involves the construction of a 22-km train line with 14 train stations from San Jose del Monte in Bulacan to the corner of North Ave. and EDSA in Quezon City, linking up with the LRT-1 and MRT-3.

Shares of SM Prime Holdings rose by 4.29% to P13.60 apiece while shares of San Miguel also went up by 1.33% to P114 apiece when the stock market closed on Friday.

Ayala Land shares rose by 0.49% to P20.45 apiece on Friday.

The fatality, identified as Ramon Igaña Jr., died after he fell off his bike and hit his head on the gutter along the South Coastal road in Cebu City. A marshal who saw the incident immediately called the medics.

Igaña was rushed to Chong Hua Hospital but doctors pronounced him dead on arrival.

Igaña registered for the relay category of the Cobra Energy Drink Ironman 70.3 Philippines, along with his wife, Humility Igaña (run), and Benjamin Balaoro Jr. (swim). Their team was named TTB Extreme.

Sunday's Ironman 70.3 had two categories: individual and relay. TTB Extreme's race number was R399.

Organizers of the race have not yet issued any statement on the incident, which is not the first time in the history of Ironman 70.3 Philippines.

In 2009, Ironman 70.3 competitor Miguel Vazquez also died while swimming in the first leg of the triathlon held in Camarines Sur. His body was found in the second lagoon and medics tried to revive him but failed.

The Ironman is a series of long-distance triathlon races organized by the World Triathlon Corporation. It consists of a 2.4-mile (3.86 kilometer) swim, 112-mile (180.25 km) bike and 26.2-mile (42.2 km) run.

The race on Sunday is also known as Half-Ironman. The "70.3" refers to the total distance in miles covered in the middle distance triathlon race – 1.2-mile (1.9 km) swim on an open sea in Mactan, a 56-mile (90 km) bike ride, and a 13.1-mile (21.1 km) run. (Sunnex)

Official Statement from Sunrise Events, Inc:

Despite the resounding success of the recently concluded Ironman 70.3 event on Sunday, there was a fatality involving Ramon Igana, Jr, 44 years old, Cebuano and a relay participant on the bike segment.

The autopsy revealed that the cause of death was acute pulmonary embolism leading to his bike fall.

The entire Ironman community expresses its deepest sympathies to Ramon's family and loved ones.

One man didn't make it back from the Cobra Ironaman 70.3 triathlon yesterday.

Ramon Igaña, a relay team member, died minutes after he fell off his bicycle and hit his head on a concrete gutter in the South Coastal Road in Talisay City.

The 44-year-old airline load controller of Cebu Pacific and resident of barangay Capitol Site, Cebu City, was declared dead at the Chong Hua Hospital at 10 a.m yesterday.

Igaña was a member of the Cebu-based relay team TTB-Extreme.

Marshalls and rescue personnel said they saw Igaña wobbling on his bike shortly before he fell near the turn-around point in Talisay City.

His wife Humility, a doctor and relay teammate, was waiting for him with family friend Tony Galon, president of the Cebu Ultra Runners Club to arrive back at the transition area in Shangrila to continue with the run segment of the relay.

But Ramon never arrived by the end of the bike cut-off at 11:55 AM.

Galon said they only learned that Ramon was in trouble when a rider-less bike bearing his race bib number R-399 arrived at the transition area.

Rescuers then informed Dr. Igaña that Ramon was rushed to Chong Hua Hospital.

Ramon Igana Jr., a load controller at Cebu Pacific at Mactan Cebu International Airport, died yesterday after reportedly crashing to the ground and hitting his head on a concrete gutter during the bike stage of the Cobra Ironman 70.3 Philippines here yesterday.

The official cause of his death has yet to be known pending an autopsy but witnesses said Igana was cruising on the South Road Properties when he fell.

Igana was the designated biker of Team Tights Bugdo-Extreme, a Cebu-based team, in the endurance race.

After Benjamin Balaoro Jr. finished the 1.9-km swim, Igana took over and was bent on finishing the 90.1-km bike covering the cities of Lapu-Lapu, Cebu, Mandaue, and Talisay through the South Road Properties.

But, according to witnesses, he crashed and hit his head on a concrete gutter on the Talisay side of SRP.

Marshalls and rescuers said they earlier saw Igana struggle with his bike shortly before he fell.

Rescuers from the Talisay Rescue Emergency Assistance Team (TREAT) rushed to Igana and brought him to the Chong Hua Hospital in Cebu City. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

Cebu Ultra Runners Club president Tony Galon confirmed Igana's death but organizers has yet to comment on the incident.

Galon, a close family friend of Igana said he along with Igana's wife Dr. Humility "Mitty" Igana were waiting for him to arrive at the transition area back in Shangri-La Mactan. But Ramon never came back even after the cut-off time at 11:55 a.m.

Dr. Igana, an OB-Gyne and an ultra-marathoner who was also set to do the 21-km run, was later informed that her husband has been rushed to Chong Huas Hospital.

"The uneven repairs on the asphalt road in many portions of the SRP and the North Reclamation area made the bike course dangerous especially if you're on a road bike running 40-45kph," said Lorz Echavez who did the bike segment for the relay Team Matteo.

The incident was the second in the annual endurance race as one participant suffered cardiac arrest during the swim event in the 2009 edition in Camsur.

On this day, we would like to thank the Good Lord for bringing you here into this world! And we promise that we will always cherish every memory that we had with you.

We love you CHONG!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

We will be always here for you,

FOREVER and ALWAYS! – as our name speaks for it.

FOREVER and ALWAYS ENCHONG DEE!

Much love from your FAED, FAED TC, and FAED International Families!

I try not to miss Sunday Mass. However, I am the type of Catholic who only hears Mass (I attend the anticipated Saturday Mass, actually) because school and family taught me that it is a sin (mortal) to skip it.

I don't appreciate church choirs either because I feel that all that singing only prolongs the Mass (something is really seriously wrong with my sense of spirituality — that much I admit). The only time I enjoy listening to choirs is when they sing either Tanging Yaman or Sa 'Yo Lamang.

Futuristic is the theme of the Bench Denim and Underwear Fashion Show this year. Titled Uncut: A Bold Look at the Future, this much-anticipated fashion event of the year was held last night, July 2, at the Araneta Coliseum.

Bench, which celebrates its 23rd anniversary this 2010, is already gearing up for 2020 where it aims to introduce the brand to a broader demographic and on a more global scale.

Uncut is divided into five segments featuring the exquisite cultures of five different countries/continents—the Philippines, Far East, Brazil, Africa and Russia. Each segment features a top fashion designer who created the costumes of the models and celebrities who participated in the fashion show. They are Cary Santiago (Pinoy Lab), Furne One (Far East), Val Taguba (Brazil), Ezra Santos (Africa), and Michael Cinco (Russia).

But, of course, the main attraction of the night were the celebrities who walked down the ramp wearing almost nothing.

PINOY LAB. The Pinoy Lab segment opened up the fashion show with matinee idol Dingdong Dantes waving the Philippine flag. Dingdong, who stripped to his underwear in the Bench Blackout fashion show two years ago, was very much covered this time. But that was enough to excite the fans inside the Big Dome and set the tone for the evening.

Aside from Dingdong, the other celebrities who walked down the ramp during the Pinoy Lab segment were Pinoy Big Brother Double Up ex-housemates Sam Pinto and Tom Rodriguez; Are You The Next Big Star? runner-up and commercial model Alex Castro; model-actor Joseph Marco; and Star Magic talent Rodjun Cruz.

Kapuso star Kris Bernal was joined by Kapamilya talents John Prats and Sam Concepcion; while ABS-CBN drama actors Coco Martin and Diether Ocampo got the crowd in hysteria by their mere presence.

FAR EAST. Part 2 was the Far East segment with China's top male model Ji Huan Bo leading the pack.

He was soon followed by hunks Ron Morales, John James Uy, Jon Avila, John Hall and Andrew Wolff; singers Karylle and Christian Bautista; StarStruck graduates Paulo Avelino, Steven Silva, Sarah Lahbati, Enzo Pineda, Diva Montelaba and Rocco Nacino; Survivor Philippines castaways Shaun Rodriguez and Suzuki Sadatsugu; actor AJ Dee; teen heartthrobs Robi Domingo and David Chua; sexy stars Iwa Moto, Iya Villania and Zanjoe Marudo.

The loveteam of Kim Chiu and Gerald Anderson, wearing elaborate costumes, closed the segment.

BRAZIL. The show reached its peak during the Brazil segment.

Kapuso sexy actress Katrina Halili, who was gratifyingly well-received by the crowd inside the Big Dome, was the first celebrity to appear.

She was immediately followed by Be Bench winner Carl Guevara; Eurasian model Benjamin Tang; returnees Rafael Rosell and Andrew Wolff; Wowowee girls RR Enriquez, Saicy Aguila, and April "Congratulations" Gustilo.

Wendell Ramos remained to be one of the biggest attractions in the Bench fashion shows. The 31-year-old actor wore the skimpiest underwear of all the celebrities last night, showing his flawless buttocks to the delight of the crowd.

Meanwhile, comedienne Pokwang almost stole the show with her grand entrance. Wearing a feathery gown which covered almost all parts of her body, the Wowoweeco-host passed through a sea of almost naked gorgeous Caucasian models lying on the floor on her way down to the ramp.

Pokwang was followed by Kapuso actress Carla Abellana and Kapamilya heartthrob Enchong Dee.

AFRICA. The next segment was Africa, where a line of naked men paraded on stage.

Joining in this part of the fashion show were beauty queen-actress Margaret Wilson, comebacking actor Railey Valeroso, Prince of R&B Jay-R, actor-model Victor Aliwalas, young comedian Thou Reyes, and actor-singer Nico Antonio.

One of the highlights of this segment was the appearance of the PBB Double Up Big 5 housemates: Paul Jake Castillo, Johan Santos, Tibo Jumalon, and the funny pair of Jason Francisco and Melai Cantiveros.

Kapuso hunk Aljur Abrenica, on his first appearance as a Bench model, was the finale of this segment.

RUSSIA. The last part was the Russia segment.

Print and commercial model Georgina Wilson came out in a Cinderella-like carriage with male models in their undies escorting her on her way down.

Gerald Anderson and Enchong Dee both returned in this segment, as well as Jon Avila, Rafael Rosell and Andrew Wolff. The other celebrities who appeared on this segment were TV5 hunk JC de Vera; Are You The Next Big Star? winners Frencheska Farr and Geoff Taylor; StarStruck's Prince Stefan and Dex Quindoza; and Kapamilya young stars Ejay Falcon, Rayver Cruz and Shaina Magdayao.

Jake Cuenca, one of ABS-CBN's top leading men, was the finale. He entered the stage with a crown and a massive blue robe like a Russian czar. Two female models accompanied him in removing his crown and robe, revealing Jake in his almost-naked glory.

But Jake was not yet finished. He walked back to the far end of the stage, turned his back, took off his white brief, until only a supporter was left to cover his private parts. That certainly brought the house down.

Each segment was incorporated with elaborate musical numbers to show the history and culture of the featured countries. Marc Abaya, Vina Morales and Robert Seña provided the song numbers while the L.A. Dancers and local dance groups took care of the dance numbers.

After this, all the models, performers and celebrities returned to the stage for the curtain call. The five fashion designers and Bench big boss Ben Chan also took the stage to be acknowledged.

Uncut was directed by Johnny Manahan, with Robbie Carmona as the fashion and stage director, and Joane Laygo as choreographer.

TILI METER. One of the most interesting parts in a Bench fashion show is finding out which stars would get the loudest cheers and applause from the audience. This also becomes a useful tool to gauge how popular or hot a celebrity is.

The response of the crowd also depends on the gimmick that a celebrity does onstage to get attention-like touching their crotches, showing their butts, etc.-and we saw some of these moments last night. But in most cases, star power was enough to elicit a response from the audience.

Based on last night's Uncut, it was quite obvious that Kapamilya stars were more popular than their Kapuso counterparts-at least to the people who trooped to the Big Dome.

The ABS-CBN stars who elicited the loudest cheers were Coco Martin, Diether Ocampo, Zanjoe Marudo, Kim Chiu, Gerald Anderson, Rafael Rosell (by doing a back flip and putting his hand inside his underwear), Pokwang, Enchong Dee, Jason Francisco and Melai Cantiveros, and of course, Jake Cuenca.

On the other hand, Dingdong Dantes was the top crowd-drawer among the Kapuso stars. Wendell Ramos and Aljur Abrenica also got overwhelming response from the people. The Araneta crowd also gave Katrina Halili, she of the sex-video controversy, a very warm reception.

As for the others, either the background music was just too loud for the cheers to be heard or they simply went unnoticed.

STARS IN THE CROWD. The number of stars who walked down the ramp almost equaled the number of celebrities who watched the fashion show inside the Big Dome.

PEP (Philippine Entertainment Portal) spotted the following: Richard Gomez and wife Cong. Lucy Torres and her family, Anne Curtis with boyfriend Erwan Heussaff, Jomari Yllana, Maricar Reyes, Chynna Ortaleza, Bing Loyzaga, Pooh, Borgy Manotoc, Isabelle Daza with her foreigner boyfriend, Annabelle Rama and son Raymond Gutierrez, Bettina Carlos, JM Rodriguez, Carlo Concepcion, Tim Yap, Rajo Laurel, and Tessa Prieto-Valdes.

We also saw ABS-CBN executives Cory Vidanes and Deo Endrinal; Star Magic's Mariole Alberto; GMA-7 executives Wilma Galvante, Marivin Arayata, Lilybeth Rasonable, Ida Henares, Bang Arespacochaga and Joey Abacan; Regal's Mother Lily Monteverde and daughter Roselle Monteverde-Teo; talent managers Wyngard Tracy, Manny Valera and Perry Lansigan; and director Joel Lamangan.

After four months of airing, afternoon Kapamilya teleserye "Tanging Yaman" is set to air today, Friday, its last episode.

Topbilled by Erich Gonzales, Enchong Dee, Ejay Falcon, Matt Evans, and Melissa Ricks, the series received good reviews for discussing issues that are very timely for the elections.

The show even invited Commission on Elections (Comelec) Commissioner Gregorio Larazabal to demonstrate to the viewers the proper way of voting using the Precinct Count Optical Scan (PCOS) machines.

"Tanging Yaman" will be replaced by "Momay", which will feature female child wonder Xyriel Anne Manabat, starting this Monday before TV PatrolWorld.

Sunrise Events, Inc., organizer of the Cobra Ironman 70.3 Philippines in Cebu last weekend, yesterday said the relay biker who passed away during the race died of natural causes and not by accident.

In a statement, Sunrise said that Ramon Igana Jr., a load controller at Cebu Pacific at Mactan and the designated biker of Team Tights Bugdo-Extreme in the swim-bike-run race, died of acute pulmonary embolism that led to his spill.

"Despite the resounding success of the Ironman 70.3 event last Sunday, there was a fatality involving Ramon Igana, Jr, 44 years old, Cebuano and a relay participant on the bike segment," said Sunrise.

"The autopsy revealed that the cause of death was acute pulmonary embolism leading to his bike fall.

"The entire Ironman community expresses its deepest sympathies to Ramon's family and loved ones," it added.

After Benjamin Balaoro Jr. finished the 1.9-km swim, Igana took over but took a spill while tackling the 90.1-km bike covering the cities of Lapu-Lapu, Cebu, Mandaue, and Talisay through the South Road Properties. Witnesses said he hit his head on a concrete gutter.

Marshalls said they earlier saw Igana struggle with his bike before he fell.

He was pronounced dead on arrival after rescuers from the Talisay Rescue Emergency Assistance Team (TREAT) rushed him to the Chong Hua Hospital in Cebu City.

It was the night when the UAAP's best shared the limelight – at least on stage.

But beyond the dimly lit podium that revered Season 72's outstanding athletes, young actor and swimming sensation Ernest Lorenzo "Enchong" Dee merited extra – and "unexpected" – attention from spectators and fellow awardees that mobbed him at the sidelines of the UAAP Awards Night on Thursday last week at the FEU Auditorium.

"Medyo nagulat po ako," said Dee, who was swarmed by a phalanx of fans and on-lookers asking for a photo with the lead star of the soap opera Tanging Yaman after receiving his third MVP award for leading De La Salle University to its first men's swimming title since 2002.

Dee was among four La Sallians that include Reyne Thraitscka Des Calimlim (women's badminton), Samantha Nierras (women's football) and Trudy Gine Amoranto (women's tennis) to obtain the highest individual award in their respective sports.

The current National Team standout reaped seven gold medals for La Salle during the 72nd UAAP swimming championship in September last year. He topped the 1, 500-m and 800-m freestyle, 400-m and 200-m individual medley, 200-m, 100-m and 50-m butterfly events.

Fellow awardees took time to meet and greet the former Katorse top-biller, admiring his good looks and athletic prowess.

"Mas gwapo siya sa personal," said softball MVP Aiza dela Torre of UST, who would religiously followed Dee's character as Jojo in Katorse after training. "Nakakabilib siya kasi hindi lang siya magaling na student-athlete, artista pa. Ang i-manage lang ang time n'ya para gawin lahat 'yon is already an achievement in itself."

Women's taekwondo MVP Richelle Dinolan of FEU who represented the Philippines along with Dee in the 2009 Summer Universiade in Belgrade, Serbia, described the La Salle tanker as "humble" and "friendly".

"Hindi maiiwasan na maraming magpapakilala at pupuri sa kanya dahil magaling siya, pero despite that hindi mo siya makikitaan ng ere o susupladuhan ka," Dinolan said, adding that Dee never forgets to congratulate fellow Filipino athletes who did well in Belgrade.

Katrina Tatad, head of the ushers' committee that whisked Dee away from the crowd of fans trailing him, observed the matinee idol's "star appeal" unarguably stole the thunder from his fellow awardees and disrupted audience decorum.

"Most of the audience got fixated to see him (Dee) that they forgot to stay on their seats while the awarding ceremonies were still on-going. There was a lot of loitering and unnecessary shouting among the audience," Tatad said.

Downplaying his "show-stealer" tag in the awards night, Dee bared he too was "unexpectedly caught" by the "warm reception I got from UAAP fans and fellow athletes."

He then thanked the ABS-CBN management for allowing him to attend the awarding rites despite the hectic shooting schedule of his latest soap opera.

"Nagpapasalamat po ako sa production at pinayagan nila akong um-attend dito kahit may taping pa kami sa Tanging Yaman," Dee said.

DRESSED in their triathlon orange and black jerseys, athlete friends of Ramon Igaña yesterday carried his coffin to his final resting place in the Cebu Memorial Park in Cebu City, six days after Igaña's death during a bike race in the Cobra Ironman 70.3 Philippines competition.

At a funeral mass in Redemptorist church, his wife and triathlon partner, Humility, recounted memories of their life together

"He was the wind beneath my wings. He encouraged me to do my best. We had our share of difficulties but we were always together. We were there for each other. He's my refuge and my best friend," said Humility, a physician.

The couple loved to run, and trained had for the Ironman 70.3 held on Aug. 5.

Igaña fell from his road bike in Talisay City after suffering an acute pulmonary embolism, a sudden attack caused by blood clots that reached his lungs.

"There is so much emptiness in my heart. (But) I saw him smile. He died doing what he loved to do. I know he will always be with me and Niña. She will continue to be the wind beneath my wings," Humility said, referring to their 15-year-old daughter.

"We will surely miss you. We wish you a good bike ride to heaven."

Runners and bikers joined the Mass before bidding Igaña goodbye.

Fr. Elvin Miraflor, who delivered the homily, urged the family and friends not to despair.

"Yes, we weep because we send him off. Ours is not sending him off to a race but sending him home. How good it is to be home. We now entrust him to the loving embrace of Jesus," Miraflor said.

Igaña was a 44-year-old airline load controller of Cebu Pacific and and member of the Cebu-based relay team TTB-Extreme.

He was the lone fatality in the Ironman 70.3 Philippines, the biggest international sports event in Cebu this year, which drew 1,700 Filipino and foreign athletes, who tested their endurance in swimming, biking and running.

Noli De Castro, kakalabanin si Herbert sa QC

Si Noli de Castro ang makakalaban ni Herbert Bautista sa pagka-mayor sa Quezon City.

Mismong si Herbert ang nangsabi nang mag-guest siya sa morning show ng ANC kahapon.

Naungkat ang tungkol doon dahil tinanong siya ng morning news program anchor na si Pinky Webb kung ano ang posisyong tatakbuhan niya, kung mayor pa ba at sino ang makakalaban niya.

Mayor pa rin daw kasama si Vice Mayor Joy Belmonte at buong team nila ayon kay Bistek, sabay sabi kay Pinky na sana raw ay pigilan niya si Kabayan sa pagkandidato. philstar.com

CONSISTENT, TOP-RATING TELEVISION SHOWS, A multi-million peso hit movies, a string of big endorsements, a handful of upcoming projects that are surely as huge, a legion of die-hard fans and a wonderful family life; just some of the best reasons why today's it-boy Kapamilya actor Enchong Dee should be celebrating.

And that's exactly what happened last November 14, 2010 at The Commissary and Whitespace Events Hall in Makati City when he gathered friends and colleagues for a special moment of thanksgiving and celebration for all the wonderful things and opportunities he's been blessed with through- out the year. The young actor's birthday party proved to be a perfect break from an incredibly hectic schedule after a one week vacation in Paris, France he turned 22 on November 5 and a relaxing time to hang out with friends who have stood by him as he made his every dream happen.

Some of the personalities with the birthday boy were ABS-CBN Star Magic's Mariole Alberto, vice president for ABS-CBN International Leo Katigbak, actors and friends Zanjoe Marudo, Janus Del Prado, Sam Concepcion, Rodjun Cruz, David Chua and Joseph Marco among others. The popular leading gorgeous leading ladies actresses Bea Alonzo, Melissa Ricks, Bianca Manalo, comedians Kit-Kat and Vice Ganda, model Phoemela Baranda and hair stylist Liz Uy were also there to make the night even more special.

Guests were refreshed non-stop by Hennessy, the perfect blend of a venerable cognac and the zing of fruity flavors.

A prized talent of ABS-CBN Star Magic, Enchong was discovered as a champion swimmer for the De La Salle University where he was a three-time most valuable player and seven-time swimming gold medalist in the men's swimming division of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP). He started out appearing in supporting roles in various TV dramas which eventually led him to becoming a sought-after endorser for various brands. Enchong endorses some of the country's most reputable brands such as Bench, Timex, Speedo, Adidas, Coca-Cola, Real Leaf Green Tea, Lucky Me, Jollibee and Convergys.

It wasn't until the primetime soap Katorse that he was "accidentally" paired up with Erich Gonzales, with EJay Falcon and Xian Lim and they clicked as a love team. A string of bigger projects followed such as Tanging Yaman, a political drama launched prior to the May 2010 Philippine automated national elections with Gonzales, Falcon, Matt Evans, Melissa Ricks and Magkaribal, dubbed a "fashion-serye" with Bea Alonzo, Derek Ramsay, Angel Aquino and Gretchen Barretto.

His Star Cinema movie I Do, which he starred in with Erich has also garnered good praise from critics and was notably a blockbuster hit. He will soon be hitting the boob tube once again in an afternoon youth and kiddie-oriented variety entertainment show entitled Shout-Out directed by his father in the showbiz, Johnny "Mr. M." Manahan.

It was really a time to throw all our inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe in us, but not before Enchong blew out the candles on his cake for another great, successful and totally happy year. And brought out as everybody sang "Happy Birthday" to greet Enchong, palanggas.

The Philippine television Vandal has been vandalizing Wikipedia articles since 2008. Since this anon have not created a user account yet created his first user account last July 22, 2011, almost three years after he started vandalizing here (see User:Bertrand101), it is very difficult to create a WP:SPI for this one because if his IP address will be blocked via WP:AIV, the next day, he will use a new IP address and continue to his activities. The anon is very easy to spot, for the past two years, he is using the following IP ranges: 222.127.0.0/16, 124.6.0.0/16, 112.198.0.0/16, 120.28.0.0/16, and just recently, 180.194.0.0/16 (the first two IP range belongs to Globe Telecommunications, the last 3 IPs belong to Digitel Philippines). As recommended by User:Dabomb87, I have created this subpage for administrators to compare if the edits of this vandal matches to any of the IP addresses reported to AIV.

THE ANGELUS

(During Ordinary, Advent, Christmas, and Lenten Season)

Sa ngalan (+) ng Ama, at ng Anak, at ng Espiritu Santo. Amen.

V- Binati ng Anghel ng Panginoon si Maria,

R- At siya'y naglihi lalang ng Espiritu Santo.

Aba Ginoong Maria...

V- Narito ang alipin ng Panginoon,

R- Maganap nawa sa akin ayon sa wika Mo.

Aba Ginoong Maria...

V- At ang verbo ay nagkatawang-tao,

R- At nakipamayan sa amin.

Aba Ginoong Maria...

V- Ipanalangin mo kami, O Santang Ina ng Diyos,

R- Nang kami ay dapat makinabang sa mga pangako ni Cristo.

Manalangin Tayo:

Panginoon naming Diyos, kasihan Mo nawa ang aming mga kaluluwa ng Iyong Mahal na Grasya, at yayamang dahilan sa ipinamamalita ng Anghel ay nakilala namin ang pagkakatawang-tao ni Hesu-Kristong Anak Mo. Pakundangan sa Mahal Niyang Pagpapakasakit at Pagkamatay sa Krus ay papakinabangan Mo kami sa Kanyang Pagkabuhay na Mag-uli, sa kaluwalhatian ng Langit, alang-alang kay Hesu-Kristo ring Panginoon namin. Siya nawa.

V- Luwalhati sa Ama, at sa Anak, at sa Espiritu Santo, R- Kapara noong unang-una, ngayon at magpakailanman, at magpasa-Walang Hanggan. Amen (Three times).

Sa ngalan (+) ng Ama, at ng Anak, at ng Espiritu Santo. Amen.

THE LORD'S PRAYER (MALOTTE)

Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy Name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory. Forever. A.....men... A.....men....

AWIT NG PAGTITIWALA SA DIYOS SALMO 91

1. Siyang naghahangad ng pagkukup ng kataas-taasan, at nananatili sa kalinga niyong makapangyarihan.
2. Makapagsasabi sa kanyang Panginoon, "Muog ka't tahanan; ikaw ang aking Diyos, ang Diyos na tangi kong pinagtiwalaan
3. Ikaw'y ililigtas niya sa panganib sa umang na bitag, at kahit ano mang mabigat na salot di ka magdaranas.
4. Lulukuban niya sa lilim ng kanyang malabay na pakpak, sa kalinga niya ay natitiyak mo na ikaw ay ligtas; iingatan niya't ipagsasanggalang pagkat siya'y tapat.
5. Pagsapit ng gabi, di ka matatakot sa anumang bagay maging sa gagawing biglaang paglusob pagsapit ng araw.
6. Ni sa ano pa mang darating na salot pagkagat ng dilim, di ka matatakot sa kasamaan mang araw kung dumating.
7. Kahit na mabuwal sa iyong harapan ang sanlibong tao sa iyong paligid ang bilang ng patay maging sampung libo di ka matatakot at natitiyak mong di ka maaano.
8. Ikaw'y nagmamasid at sa panonood iyong mamamasdan yaong masasama ay makikita mong pinarurusahan.
9. Sapagkat si Yahweh ang iyong ginawang tagapagsanggalang at ang pinili mong mag-iingat sa iyo'y kataas-taasan.
10. Di mo aabuting ikaw'y mapahamak, at walang daratal. Kahit anong uring mga paghihirap sa iyong tahanan.
11. Susuguin niya ang maraming anghel, silang susubaybay kahit saang dako ikaw maparoon, tiyak iingatan.
12. Sa kanilang palad ay itatayo ka't sila'ng magtataas, nang hindi masaktan ang mga paa mo sa batong matalas.
13. Kahit ang tapakan mo ay ang mga leon, ahas na mabagsik di ka maaano sa mga serpiyente't leong mababangis.
14. Ang sabi ng Diyos, "Aking ililigtas ang tapat sa akin, at iingatan ko ang sinumang taong ako'y kikilanlin.
15. Pag sila'y tumawag, laging handa ako na sila'y pakinggan aking sasamahan at kung may hilahil ay sasaklolohan, aking ililigtas at ang bawat isa ay pararangalan.
16. Sila'y bibigyan ko't gagantimpalaan ng mahabang buhay at nakatitiyak na ang tatamuhin nila'y kaligtasan!"

Prayer of Commitment

A Million Roses for the World: Filipinos at Prayer, Peace for All Nations

Almighty God, we adore you and we praise you for blessing Mary among all women and creating her full of grace.

Through Mary, we received Jesus your Son whose birth had made all things new for us here on earth.

We seek your blessing through her praying hands, so that peace may reign in the world and harmony may be established among all nations.

I commit to pray the rosary everyday, as much as possible with my family, for each and every nation on earth so that war may end, famine may cease, terrorism may stop, justice may reign and only your love and mercy may prevail.

I commit to live in the state of grace, to avoid all occasions of sin and to receive Holy Communion as frequently as my situation may allow so that your name may be glorified and all peoples may kneel down before you God of Peace in worship, adoration and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.

With the entry of TV Patrol's main anchor Noli de Castro to the Senate and the "Allegro" theme re-mixed, the program returned to the multiple-host, panel format it had during its initial debut. The program now has a formidable news team with anchors Korina Sanchez, Henry Omaga-Diaz and Aljo Bendijo.

Marami na sa mga artistang kasama sa ID na ito ay lumipat na sa ABS-CBN. Anyway, I miss this Christmas Station ID. "Kapuso, kayo ang star ng aming Pasko", that slogan reminds me of something. Yup that's right, ABS-CBN's present Christmas slogan of '09, Bro, ikaw ang Star ng Pasko. hehe, peace, ayaw ko makipag away.

World-renowned Brazilian flip-flop brand Ipanema took style animals to an unforgettable experience out in the wild when it transformed Bonifacio High Street into a mystical urban jungle where Ipanema's sassy new collection was paraded.

True to the happy and exotic vibe of the beaches of Brazil the brand has been known for since it established itself back in 1971, the Ipanema Urban Jungle Runway Show designs featured a refreshingly distinct mix of bright colors adorning striking and bold prints as well as vibrant and unique design patterns.

The runway event witnessed a gathering of the fiercest go-getters in the land. Popular celebrities and top models like Enchong Dee, Phoemela Baranda, Ornussa Cadness, Mia Ayesa, Peter Norrdell and others, graced the occasion and spiced up the night, channeling their inner fashion animals. The night was dedicated to unraveling the fabulous "fauna" of new Ipanema flip-flop styles through a storytelling fashion show featuring jungle creatures that embodied the diverse tastes and characters of today's stylists.

The roaring runway show features a jamboree of mystical animals, which included the playful and graceful dolphin and the sleek and agile "Jacob" of the land, the wolf. Also making his regal presence felt were the king and queen of the jungle, the lion and lioness, exuding their matchless might and power. Completing the fashion soiree was the vibrant and sophisticated peahen; the soaring eagle with its potent sexual energy; the meek and mild gazelle that represents those with laid-back taste; the sexy and imperial snake; the eye-catching ostrich; the zebra which dons its uniqueness in every possible way; and the funny and quirky caterpillar, which longed for a grand metamorphosis but was instead caught within a mystical turn of events. At the finale, all the animals strutted their way down the ramp, headed to the urban jungle, a place where there is freedom to express one's flair and need for comfort.

Ipanema's long history speaks not only of reliability and high quality performance and service, but of innovation in designs as well. These sandals offer supreme ease and comfort, with soles that are soft and perfectly padded.

Ipanema products are available at Bambu stores located at Glorietta, TriNoma, Marquee Mall, Abreeza, Harbor Point and the newly opened store Bonifacio High Street, B3 branch. Visit this store from May 8 to June 9, 2012 and buy a pair of Ipanema flip-flops to avail of their "Spoil You, Spoil You Some More" promo.

For more information, visit the Ipanema Philippines official Facebook fan page (www.facebook.com/IpanemaPhilippines).

coney reyes would be that "latest member of the eat bulaga family" that they introduced on that first nationwide-via-domsat telecast...if i'm not mistaken, 1982 'yan.

RPN was, back then, the only broadcast network that aired some of its programming nationwide via satellite...i said "some" because, due to satellite technology being expensive at that time, primetime programming pa lang (then eventually, "eat bulaga" during the noon hour) ang naipapalabas nila simultaneously on all their stations...

that "eat bulaga" ad also has the list of RPN stations at that time...some of these relay/translator stations are no longer on the air--'yung cebu, davao, zamboanga, bacolod, iriga, baguio and cagayan de oro stations na lang yata ang meron sila...

Since walang intention ang GMA 7 na muling buhayin ang That's Entertainment ni Kuya Germs, mauunahan sila ngayon ng ABS-CBN na maglu-launch ng isang teen variety show na pinamagatang Shout Out na magsisimula ngayong November 29 (Monday) mula alas-5:00 ng hapon hanggang alas 6:00 ng gabi, Monday thru Friday.

Ang teen heartthrob na si Sam Concepcion ay kabilang sa programa kasama ang ibang young talents ng Star Magic.

Nagluluksa na naman ang buong entertainment industry sa maagang pagpanaw ng isa sa maituturing na haligi ng industriya, isang matapat na kaibigan at talent manager na si Wyngard Tracy na sumakabilang buhay nung Martes (Nov. 16) ng 3:40 a.m. matapos siyang sumailalim ng brain surgery sa Makati Medical Center may ilang linggo na ang nakakaraan.

Isang mass ang ginanap nung Nov. 16 ng hapon sa chapel ng La Salle - Greenhills, San Juan matapos siyang i-cremate.

Ito'y dinaluhan ng kanyang mga mahal sa buhay at mga kaibigan sa loob at labas ng industry.

Paalam, kaibigan!

Mara Clara (2010)

It all starts when Alvira ends her relationship with Gary after she gets accepted in a university scholarship program abroad. Gary turns to Susan for comfort, thinking that his first love would never come home again. But when Alvira does, it is evident that Gary is still in love with her. The problem is that she is already engaged to Amanthe. Both couples moved on with their lives but Gary takes his revenge by attempting to kidnap Alvira's newborn baby.

In an unexpected turn of events, Alvira and Susan give birth at the same time, and the infants were switched at the hospital. The details of this event were recorded by Karlo – Gary's brother who works at the hospital, and the man who was responsible for the switch – in his diary.

Mara lived as the daughter of the poor couple, Susan and Gary David, while Clara was brought up by the rich couple, Amanthe and Alvira del Valle. The good-natured Del Valles take in Mara as a household helper and agrees to send her to school, not knowing that she is their real daughter. Gary uses this as an opportunity to extort money. Their living situation proves to be no picnic when Clara makes a habit out of making Mara's life unbearable.

Will justice be served once Mara and Clara are old enough to discover their real identities?

Palos

"In these troubled times when evil runs rampant, one name still has the power to strike fear among criminals."

Palos is a legendary secret agent renowned for his exemplary fighting skills and his ability to escape from dangerous situations. Hence, the pseudonym Palos (eel) from the expression "slippery as an eel".

Fabio used to be Neptune's top operative until someone sets him up to endure years of torture in a remote prison. True to form, Fabio breaks out of his incarceration. His goal is to find the mole that framed him so he could clear his name.

Meanwhile, Giancarlo is one of the Neptune's smartest recruits. He joined the organization to hone his skills in preparation for the day he will put down his mother's killer. He blames her death on Palos and vows to do whatever it takes to avenge her death.

Both out to find justice, Fabio and Giancarlo will cross paths to discover the one truth that they have been searching for all long.

Cast: Cesar Montano, Jake Cuenca, Roxanne Guinoo and Jomari Yllana

Year of Production: 2008

MANILA, Philippines - ABS-CBN sets the stage for brilliant Filipino composers to share their music to the world as it launches the Philippines' biggest multimedia songwriting competition Himig Handog with the theme Pinoy Pop (P-POP) Love Songs.

Now on its fifth year, Himig Handog makes music history once again as it continues to search for musical talents with uniquely Pinoy love songs that can transcend generations and stand out in the world like some of today's OPM classic love songs which were popularized through Himig Handog including Hanggang which was interpreted by Wency Cornejo; Kung Ako Na Lang Sana by Bituin Escalante; Kung Ako Ba S'ya by Piolo Pascual; Bye Bye Na by Rico Blanco; and This Guy's In Love With You Pare by Parokya ni Edgar.

Himig Handog: P-POP Love Songs is open to any Filipino composer (Filipino citizen or Filipino descent); here and abroad, amateur or professional; an individual composer and/or lyricist, or up to three individual composers and/or individual lyricists collaborating for one entry. An individual composer may submit a maximum of two entries. Entries may be written in Filipino, English or Taglish, and in any popular music genre or a fusion of known genres.

Filipino songwriters worldwide can start submitting their best original love songs online via the official website of Himig Handog at <http://himighandog.abs-cbn.com/> and its official Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/HimigHandogPPop>. Deadline of submission of entries is on June 30.

For more details, visit the Himig Handog Secretariat at Star Creatives Group, 2/F ABS-CBN Broadcasting Corporation, ELJCC Bldg., Eugenio Lopez Drive, Quezon City 1100, Philippines; call 415-2272 locals 3423, 3437, 3415 and 3621 or follow @PPopLoveSongs on Twitter.

The Reunion lead stars Enchong Dee and Kean Cipriano (photo) recently joined the roster of millionaires in the hit game show Kapamilya Deal or No Deal (KDOND) when they bagged the jackpot after an intense game last Aug. 18.

Enchong and Kean were left with only two briefcases, one containing the million and one containing only P10. The two decided to leave it to fate and based their pick on the result of playing rock-paper-scissors or bato bato pick. Since Enchong won, they opted to say 'no deal' to the Banker's offer which was the right choice since their chosen briefcase No. 21 contained P1M.

Enchong and Kean are the first millionaires of the show this season. Enchong will donate his winnings to Boystown while Kean will use some to aid his aunt for treatments and the rest for Gawad Kalinga. Who will be the next millionaire in KDOND? Kapamilya Deal or No Deal, with Luis Manzano as host, airs every Saturday, after TV Patrol Weekend on ABS-CBN. Tweet your thoughts and reactions via Twitter using the hashtag #KapamilyaDOND.

The relationship between the Dee and Robredo families goes a long way back, when the Interior Secretary was still the mayor of Naga City, the young actor's hometown.

In an interview with ABS-CBN News on Wednesday, Dee recalled "good memories" with the late public servant, whose remains were found last Tuesday in the ill-fated plane that crashed in the waters off Masbate.

"Naging family friend namin siya when I was still in Naga, competing for swimming," Dee said, who was a competitive swimmer before he joined showbiz.

"Natutuwa si Tito Jesse 'pag may nagdadala ng honor sa Naga City noon. Everytime na nagko-compete kami, may nadadala akong gold medals. Tapos nakakapag-international competition pa ako, tapos nakakapagdala ako ng honor for the Philippines," said the young actor, who was in the same swimming team as one of Robredo's daughters for a time.

Humble mayor

Because of Dee's contributions to Naga, Robredo, who served as the city's mayor for six three-year terms, even granted the actor a scholarship in recognition of his achievements in the swimming pool.

"Nag-decide siya na gawin akong scholar sa Naga, ng government of Naga City. [But] he was very quiet [about his kindness], ayaw niya na bino-broadcast lahat nung ginagawa niya," Dee said, noting that unlike most public servants today, Robredo never "announced" his accomplishments.

"Kami sa Naga, nasanay kami na si Tito Jesse wala siyang, 'This project was done by mayor ganito, ganyan.' Wala siyang ganun," Dee said.

Tito Jesse's last advice

Instead, it was through his words and actions that Robredo motivated others to contribute to their community, Dee said.

Dee said Robredo advised him to never forget his roots as a Nageño, in spite of his accomplishments as an athlete and now as an actor.

"The last time I saw him, sabi niya sa 'kin, 'Enchong, kahit anong mangyari sa 'yo, kahit saan ka mapunta, huwag na huwag mong kakalimutan na Nageño ka, na Bikolano ka, at bumalik ka sa Naga, at tulungan mong mapabuti ang kabuhayan ng mga Nageño.

"Nung narinig ko 'yun -- parang an gсар din maging public servant kung ganun 'yung nakikita mong role model. That's why I'm going to try my best na masunod 'yung inutos niya," Dee said.

"Ang daming good memories na sana marami pang ma-inspire dun sa ginagawa niya," he added.

Dee said his family has extended their condolences to the Robredos. The young actor also hopes to visit the wake of the well-loved public servant, whose remains will be brought to Manila on Friday.

"Noog una kong nalaman ['yung nangyari], sabi ko, 'Bakit siya?' Bilang na lang natin 'yung talagang matatawag natin na public servant, tapos siya pa 'yung nawala," Dee said of Robredo's passing.

"Nakakalungkot, nakakapang-hinayang. Hindi pa rin ako makapaniwala," he added.

Boto Patrollers of ABS-CBN's election campaign "Boto Mo, iPatrol Mo: Ako ang Simula" ran with the biggest and the brightest Kapamilya stars in the first ever "Run for Change" fun run held recently at Fort Bonifacio, Taguig City.

About 80 Boto Patrollers joined more than 150 Star Magic artists like Piolo Pascual, Gretchen Barretto, Diether Ocampo, Shaina Magdayao, Pokwang, Zaijian Jaranilla, Jake Cuenca, Nikki Gil, Carmen Soo and Zanjoe Marudo in this event which aims to call for change and encourage honest and clean elections in May.

Celebrities competed in 5k and 3k race categories. "Tanging Yaman" leading men Enchong Dee topped the 5k run male category followed by Nico Antonio and Carlos Agassi. Maricar Reyes took home the gold medal for the 5k run female category with Gem Ramos and Cheska Ortega finishing at 2nd and 3rd place respectively.

Gigger Boy AJ Perez, on the other hand, finished first in the 3k run male category followed by Jon Avila and Robi Domingo, while Heidi Riego emerged victorious in the female category followed by Pinoy Big Brother Season 2 housemates Beatriz Saw and Gee-Ann Abrahan at third.

Famous personalities who graced the event included Roselle and Mother Lily Monteverde, Phoemela Barranda, Cristine Reyes, Isabelle Daza, and Georgina Wilson.

The "Run for Change" fun run was organized by Star Magic in support of ABS-CBN News and Current Affairs' "Boto Mo iPatrol Mo: Ako ang Simula," which aims to encourage Filipinos to take an active role this coming elections by patrolling their votes.

Patuloy ang pagdagsa ng mga kaibigan, tagasuporta at mga dating kasamahan sa burol ng yumaong Interior Secretary Jesse Robredo.

Sa ikalawang araw ng burol sa Malakanyang, agad nagbigay-pugay ang bagong talagang chief justice na si Maria Lourdes Sereno.

Matapos ang kaniyang oath-taking sa Rizal Hall ng palasyo, nagpunta si Sereno sa Kalayaan Hall kung saan kasalukuyang nakalagak ang labi ng kalihim.

Kasama nitong dumalaw sa burol si Justice Secretary Leila De Lima at iba pang mahistrado ng Korte Suprema.

Namataan ding dumalaw si dating Pangulong Fidel V. Ramos at dating senador Nikki Coseteng.

Dumalaw din ngayong araw si ABS-CBN News and Current Affairs Head Ging Reyes, The World Tonight anchor and Bantay Bata 163 head Tina Monzon-Palma, dating Metropolitan Manila Development Authority (MMDA) Chairman Bayani Fernando, actress Rosa Rosal and STAR MAGIC talent actor Enchong

Dee.

Dumagsa rin ang mga miyembro ng diplomatic corps para magbigay-pugay kay Robredo gaya nina Canadian Ambassador Christopher Thornley, Honorary Consul of Gabon Ed De Guzman, Spanish Ambassador Jorge Domecq, US Political Counselor Joy Yamamoto, asawa ni Polish Honorary Consul Fernandino Lising, Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Mahmoud Maher Abbas, Angolan Chargé d'Affaires Fernando Miguel at Saudi Arabian Ambassador Abdullah Al Hassan

Sa labas naman, dagsa pa rin ang mga ordinaryong mamamayan na nagnanais magbigay-pugay kay Robredo.

Star ng Pasko.

Performed by: ABS-CBN Artists

Kung kailan pinakamadilim
Ang mga tala ay mas nagniningning
Gaano man kakapal ang ulap

Sa likod nito ay may liwanag

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Tayo ang ilaw sa madilim na daan
Pagkakapit bisig ngayon higgitan
Dumaan man sa malakas na alon
Lahat tayo's makakaahon

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Kikislap ang pag-asa
Kahit kanino man
Dahil ikaw Bro, dahil ikaw Bro
Dahil ikaw Bro
Ang star ng pasko

Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw

May simoy na mapayapa, at tunog ng kampana
Liwanag na natatanaw, kasamahan, kasayahan
Buksan ang inyong puso at liliwanag ang mundo
Maging isang pamilya sa diwa ng pasko... (isang pamilya sa diwa ng kapaskuhan) Think of your fellowman, Lend him a helping hand
Put a little love in your heart.
You see it's getting late
OK, please don't hesitate
Put a little love in your heart.
And the world will be a better place.
And the world will be a better place.
For you and me, just wait and see.
Another day goes by And still the children cry.
Put a little love in your heart
You want the world to know. We wont let hatred go.

Put a little love in your heart
Take a good look around. And see if you're not looking down.
Put a little love in your heart
I hope when you decide. Kindness will be your guide.
Put a little love in your heart. Put a little love in your heart
Put a little love in your heart, Put a little love, in your HEART!!

SABAY TAYO

Lyrics: Robert G. Labayen

Music: Jessie Lasaten

(Martin)

Sa 'yo ko lang naranasan, ang lambing na totohanan

(Zsa Zsa)

ngiti mong di nagpapanaw, ano pa man ang pagdaanan

(Kuh)

Walang malungkot na araw, pag ang kasama ay ikaw

(Gary V)

At sa pinag-isang damdamin, malayo ma'y, magkapiling pa rin

(Vina)

Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso

(Sarah G)

Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo

(Eric Santos)

Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya

(Christian & Mark Bautista)

Sabay nagsisikap sa iisang pangarap

(Frenchie, Rachel, Shreyn)

Magkaramay sa lumbay, magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

(Gloc9 Rap)

Makinig, manginig masdan ang aking bibig,
May sasabihin akong talagang nakakakilig
Matagal ko na itong sa sarili nabatid
Napaka-swerte ko at ikaw ay aking kapatid.
Lahing malupit, lahing astig, matinik, magaling,
Malikot ang isip kahit saang dako ng daigdig
Kapag ikaw at ako'y magkasabay, may malaking bagay
Itigil na natin, alitan at ano mang away
Yabangan, bangayan, tama na ang paligsahan
Mas gusto ko pa na tayong lahat ay magyakapan
Isang pamilya sama-sama, ating lahi bigyan ng kulay
Bandila'y iwagayway, buong mundo ay magpupugay
Sama-sama, lahat ay mag-hawak-kamay
Bawat isa sa atin ay magsi-silbing gabay
Sama-sama, lahat ay mag-hawak-kamay
Bawat isa sa atin ay magsi-silbing gabay

(Hail Mary the Queen Choir)

Sa pinag-isang layunin

Sa pinag-samang galling

Saan man dito sa mundo
Ikaw at ako'y mag-niningning
Kapag kamay mo'y aking hawak
Para akong may pakpak

(Madrigal Singers)
Pagsubok man ay umapaw
Ikaw at ako'y mangingibabaw

(All)
Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso
Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo
Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya
Sabay nagsisikap sa isang pangarap
Magkaramay sa lumbay
Magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

Sabay tayo, sa bawat pagtibok ng ating puso
Sabay tayo, sa lahat ng nais ako'y kasama mo
Sabay tayong lumuha, sabay tayong magsaya
Sabay nagsisikap sa isang pangarap
Magkaramay sa lumbay
Magkasama sa lahat ng tagumpay!

WRITTEN IN THE SAND

The Philippine Millennium Anthem

(Music: Danny Tan/ Lyrics: Sicam Caballa)

Regine Velasquez

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

The love that's in your heart
As child of God and Man
Will burn and light your way until the end
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's home for you and me

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's still for you and me

Nations rise up and cheer
We are bound by what we give to one another
Reaching out too far and near
In a world of love that brings us all together here
This great new year

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's home for you
A world that's home for you
A world that's home for you and me yeah..
and me.....

Actor Enchong Dee on Saturday afternoon visited the wake of Interior and Local Government Secretary Jesse Robredo.

Dee was seen visiting the Kalayaan Hall in Malacañang, where Robredo's wake in Manila is being held.

The relationship between the Dee and Robredo families goes a long way back, when the Interior Secretary was still the mayor of Naga City, the young actor's hometown.

During his career as a competitive swimmer, Dee represented Naga as well as the country in local and international competitions.

Because of Dee's contributions to Naga, Robredo, who served as the city's mayor for six three-year terms, granted the actor a scholarship in recognition of his achievements as a swimmer.

In an earlier interview with ABS-CBN News, Dee said Robredo had advised him to never forget his roots as a Nagueño in spite of his accomplishments as an athlete and now as an actor.

"The last time I saw him, sabi niya sa 'kin, 'Enchong, kahit anong mangyari sa 'yo, kahit saan ka mapunta, huwag na huwag mong kakalimutan na Nagueño ka, na Bicolano ka, at bumalik ka sa Naga, at tulungan mong mapabuti ang kabuhayan ng mga Nagueño," Dee said.

"Nung narinig ko 'yun -- parang ang sarap din maging public servant kung ganun 'yung nakikita mong role model. That's why I'm going to try my best na masunod 'yung inutos niya," he added.

Not even the intermittent heavy rains, the long line, nor two security inspections could dampen the spirits of supporters, including ordinary folk, who wished to pay their last respects to Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) Secretary Jesse M. Robredo.

Those on queue to get a glimpse of the former DILG Secretary had to pass through two security inspections before they are allowed to get through Gate 7 for a long walk to the Kalayaan Hall, where Robredo lies in state.

T-shirts – mostly in yellow color and some in white or black, bearing the picture of Sec. Robredo as well as the words, “We love you, Jesse” or “Paalam, Jesse” – were sold at P150 outside the Palace. Some shirts even bear quotes from the DILG himself such as: “A true public servant is like a candle; it consumes itself for the sake of others.”

Umbrellas were likewise sold for P150 for the big ones and P120 for the small umbrellas.

Metal pins and key chains with Sec. Robredo’s picture were sold at P30 each. Fans to beat the heat were pegged at P30.

Some of the vendors admitted they also sold memorabilia during the wake of the late Comedy King Dolphy, former President Corazon Aquino, and Master rapper Francis M.

In Naga City, vendors from Metro Manila are selling Robredo shirts and other souvenir items like hot cakes.

The vendors admitted they are the same group which cashed in money during the wake and funeral of comedy king “Dolphy” last month.

“This may appear to be more of a business, but we believe that we are helping somehow in making this to be more memorable, more special,” 39-year-old vendor Ruby Provideo told the Manila Bulletin in an interview.

Aside from the shirts, the products items range from photo pins, key chains, and even nail cutters.

The shirts bear the picture of Robredo and messages like “We Love Sec. Jesse Robredo” and the year of his birth and death. There are at least six colors for shirts which are sold at P150 each.

Provideo said it is the yellow color which is the best seller, noting that they even requested for more pieces that are expected to be delivered on Sunday.

She said the items are printed in Manila and are delivered through the passengers buses that ply the Manila to Bicol route.

Alex Pillone, for his part, said they have already earned some P8,000 for just the photo pins, nail cutters, bottle openers, and key chains alone since they arrived Thursday last week.

The photo pins and nail cutters are sold at P35 but are offered for three for P100 bargain price. The key chains, on the other hand, are sold at P50 each.

“These are actually the second batch of these souvenir items. We sold more than half of what we brought here on the first day,” said Provideo.

“We are waiting for the third batch. That would be the last delivery that will be sold until the burial,” said Provideo.

“We expect that all of them will be bought, just like what happened during Dolphy’s wake,” said Pillone, for his part.

Back in Malacañang, University of Santo Tomas (UST) Faculty of Engineering professor Arne Barcelo said the rains did not stop people from coming over to pay their last respects to Robredo.

Men, women, and children, students in groups, and even the disabled, beat the heat and sudden downpour as they waited for their turn to enter the Malacañang gate for a last glimpse of the DILG chief.

Barcelo, a native of Naga City, said Robredo is a true public servant and had instilled good governance and real leadership among the people of Naga. She said Robredo is truly being admired by his fellow Nageunos.

She said Robredo personally helped her family when her parents died and Robredo was still mayor of Naga City.

Barcelo also said that Robredo, whom they call "Pogi" in Naga, was very humble and down to earth, and would be the first to greet people whom he would pass by when he goes to Church, adding that Robredo's character would be surely missed.

"Ang mga taong pumunta dito, talagang walang halong pulitika. Kahit ang haba ng pila, organized sila [People who came here did not come because of politics. They did not mind the long lines and remained organized]," she added.

Barcelo said she hopes that Robredo's legacy would live on.

"It starts with the character," she said. "Sana mga leaders natin gayahin siya, hindi lang yung makikibisita [I hope our leaders would emulate him and not merely visit his wake]," she said.

Eric Juanillo, who also hails from Naga City, brought along his wife Tryll, and children Sebastian Miguel, 6; and Helene Estrella, 2, amid the long queue because he wants his children to be part of history.

Juanillo said their family now lives in Antipolo but he still vividly remembers how Robredo turned Naga City to a better place. He said that before Robredo's term as mayor, crime was high and corruption was rampant in Naga.

"Dati, Third Class Municipality ang Naga [Naga used to be a 3rd class municipality]," Juanillo said.

Naga then became a 1st class municipality and much later a city. Juanillo said Naga City is now a tourist spot and a commercialized area.

For Kagawad Hermie Guevarra of Pasay City, she will never forget how approachable Robredo had been when she attended the Disaster Preparedness Seminar in 2011.

"Napatunayan naming malapit siya sa tao [We proved that he was really close to the masses]," Guevarra said, recalling how Robredo approached the seminar attendees one by one after he finished his lecture.

As for Monina Casama of Parañaque, she had not personally encountered Robredo but would not miss a chance to see him for the last time.

"Second siya kay Ninoy [For me, he is next to Ninoy]," Casama said, referring to President Aquino's father, the late Sen. Benigno S. Aquino Jr., who was killed on the tarmac of the then Manila International Airport in 1983.

"Di ako matatahimik kung hindi ako pumunta dito [I will feel restless if I did not come here]," Casama said.

Robredo's remains were in the Kalayaan Hall of Malacañang for a two-day state funeral after which, his remains will be brought back to Naga City. His cremation is set for Tuesday, August 28, 2012.

Among those who visited the wake yesterday include former President Fidel V. Ramos, former Senator Nikki Coseteng, newly sworn in Chief Justice Maria Lourdes Sereno, veteran actress turned Philippine National Red Cross volunteer Rosa Rosal, actor Enchong Dee, who was a scholar of Sec. Nangako ang Kapamilya heartthrob na si Enchong Dee na gagawin ang lahat ng kanyang makakaya upang matupad ang tila inihabilin sa kanya ni Interior and Local Government Secretary Jesse Robredo.

Nabatid na isa si Enchong sa mga bumisita sa burol ng kalihim sa Kalayaan Hall sa Malacañang kahapon.

Naging inspirasyon umano ng aktor si Robredo noong alkalde pa ito ng Naga City, na siyang hometown ni Enchong.

Hinding hindi raw makakalimutan ng aktor kung paano siya binigyan ng scholarship ni Robredo kapalit ng kanyang pagiging magaling na atleta sa larangan ng swimming.

Pinayuhan daw siya ng namayapang kalihim na huwag talikuran ang pinagmulan sa kabila ng kasikatang tinatamasa ngayon sa mundo ng showbiz.

"The last time I saw him, sabi niya sa 'kin, 'Enchong, kahit anong mangyari sa 'yo, kahit saan ka mapunta, huwag na huwag mong kakalimutan na Nagueño ka, na Bicolano ka, at bumalik ka sa Naga, at tulungan mong mapabuti ang kabuhayan ng mga Nagueño," kuwento ni Dee. "Nung narinig ko 'yun -- parang ang sarap din maging public servant kung ganun 'yung nakikita mong role model. That's why I'm going to try my best na masunod 'yung inutos niya."

All systems go for $503-million Northrail project

All systems go for the construction of the $503-million North Rail Transit that will initially cover Caloocan to Malolos, Bulacan but eventually reach up to Ilocos.

North Luzon Railways Corporation (Northrail) President Jose L. Cortes, Jr. said the first phase of the project spans 32.2 kilometers from from Caloocan to Malolos.

It will have six stations namely: Caloocan, Malabon, Valenzuela (main depot), Bocaue, Marilao and Malolos.

For the first time in Philippine railway history, the country will have a double track system.

"This will result in simultaneous rail operations in both the north and south bound tracks," he said.

The project also includes reviving the Philippine National Railway (PNR) Main Line North which has been non-operational for more than 25 years.

The Northrail will have a diesel powered train capable of a top speed of 120 kph but will cruise at speeds of 80 to 100 kph.

The maximum travel time from Caloocan to Malolos will be 45 minutes which compared to buses which average 145 minutes of travel time for the same route.

Cortes said the initial fare rate will be R10 boarding fare plus R1 for every kilometer for a total fare of R42 from Caloocan to Malolos. "This is very much cheaper than other land-based transportation averaging R70," he pointed out.

The Northrail project is part of the Strong Republic Transit System composed of various railway projects around the country.

At the start of Northrail's initial operations, passengers would be able to interconnect with the Southrail and eventually with LRT-1 and MRT3 without having to get out of the common terminal in Caloocan.

Of the $503 million, $421 million will be funded by the Chinese Government through the ExportImport Bank of China under very concessional terms.

The terms include 20 years repayment period inclusive of a five-year grace period at three percent interest rate. "This is the first of its kind from China," noted Cortes.

The remaining $82 million will be funded by the Philippine government as counterpart fund which would already incorporate expenses for squatter relocation.

Target completion date for the project is on 2007. The Northrail is expected to spur economic growth in both Central Luzon and Metro Manila with the faster delivery of goods and services, alleviate traffic congestion in Metro Manila and improve Metro Manila's environmental condition.

BAGONG UMAGA

Mike Villegas - Composer

Bayang Barrios - Lyricist

Interpreter: Bayang Barrios (courtesy of Universal Records)

Arranger: Mel Villena & Mike Villegas

REFRAIN:

May bagong umagang parating!

May bagong umagang parating!

Bagong umaga, bagong umagang/pag-asang parating!

I.

Gaano man kabigat ang dinadala

Gaano man ang hirap na nadarama

Sa buhay mo, kaibigan ko

Walang pasanin na hindi gumagaan

Walang pagsubok na hindi nalalampasan

Repeat Refrain

II.

Bawa't buhay ay may patutunguhan

Bawat pangarap ay may katiyakan

Sa puso mo, huwag mabibigo
Nasa iyo ang kapangyarihan
Nasa iyo ang pagkakataon at tagumpay!

Repeat Refrain

BRIDGE:

Halina kayo't gumising
Salubungin ang bagong silang
Halina kayo't tumulong lipulin ang dilim!

III.

Ang bawa't tao ay may patutunguhan
Bawat problema ay may kalutasan
Sa isip mo, huwag malilito
Nasa iyo ang kinabukasan
Nasa iyo ang pagkakataon at tagumpay . . . tagumpay!

Repeat Refrain

SHINE

Composer & Lyricist : Trina Belamide
Interpreter: Sweet Plantado
Arranger: Marvin Querido & Arnold Buena

I.

There I was Alone in the shadows
Couldn't find my way
Then you walked in
And brought along the sunshine
Now you're here to stay

REFRAIN:

(And/Yes) You make me/ see how I
Shine, shine like the stars in the heavens
Shine, shine -- you keep me shining through Shine, shine with the love that you've given
It's true
I'm shining on all because of you

II. So watch me glow

A light shines within me
People ask me why
And I just smile
And tell them you're the reason
I've cast the darkness aside

REPEAT REFRAIN

BRIDGE:

Like a ray of light
Cutting through the night
Bright as the sun in the sky

Repeat Refrain except first line

With the love that you've given
It's true
I'm shining on all because of you

The 1996 Antonio C. Barreiro Awardee

MR. RYAN CAYABYAB

The Festival Management Committee of the 1996 Metropop Song Festival has chosen MR. RYAN CAYABYAB to be its first recipient.

Cayabyab was born on May 4, 1954, the third of four children. He grew up in an environment of music having a music professor and an opera singer for a mother and ten UP music majors boarding at their Quezon City residence. From elementary to college, he was enrolled in the University of the Philippines. Trying out a different path, he took up Business Administration and after two years shifted back to his first love, Music, where he graduated Bachelor of Music major in composition.

Shortly after high school, he frequented music stores hoping for someone to discover him. Indeed he succeeded when his cousin took notice of his skill in playing the piano. He auditioned as pianist for a bank choir where he stayed for three years. His biggest break, however, was joining Madrigal singers as a trainee, presenting Broadway excerpts with the Manila Symphony Orchestra where he met Cocoy Laurel, the lead singer of the show. The latter made him a musical director and an arranger, marking his entry to the industry. He was given the opportunity to arrange songs for big stars like Pilita Corrales, Celeste Legaspi, Basil Valdez, Jose Mari Chan, etc.

His career as songwriter started when he won the Grand Prize in the First Metro Manila Popular Music Festival in 1978 for his composition "Kay Ganda ng Ating Musika." The same song won the Grand Prize in the Korea Song Festival that same year, the highest achievement of a Filipino in the international music scenario at that time.

Cayabyab has done over 300 songs. The compositions he considers important to him are "Kay Ganda ng Ating Musika", for it became the spring board to his career as composer; "Paraisong Parisukat", the first commercial song he made which won Best Theme Song in the FAMAS; "Kailan", which he considers his most successful song; and "Tunay na Ligaya," one of the first compositions he dedicated to his wife, Emmy.

Wanting to prove that the Filipino artist can make it internationally, he formed "Smokey Mountain", a group of young people who can sing and dance like other popular performers, but with an objective to present circumstances of the present through their songs. Cayabyab was not mistaken. "Smokey Mountain" was accepted internationally, proving that the Filipino has what it takes to be launched into international stardom.

Two of his most unique projects are "One" and "One Christmas". These albums contain a capella songs of sixteen voices all done by the master himself. His compositions and arrangements provide a more exciting taste to pop a capella singing, breaking free from the usual metered timing and tempered chords.

Ryan Cayabyab has established himself as a major contributor in the Philippine music. He is currently a musical director, songwriter, and arranger of music for film, ballet, theater, piano, pop, choral, and commercial jingles. He also had stints as a TV host as well as an educator and overseer of his very own music studio. Years may pass and trends in music may change but Ryan Cayabyab's name will remain and institution in the Philippine music industry.

MANILA, Philippines - It's going to be another night in showbiz history to remember as ABS-CBN Star Magic celebrates its 20th year of gifting the local entertainment with world-class artists and performers in the annual Star Magic Ball.

Tomorrow, Sept. 1, the magic ball will be held at the Rizal ballroom of Makati Shangri-La Hotel and will be hosted by Piolo Pascual, John Lapus and John Lloyd Cruz. The stars will be dressed to the nines in black and white ensembles. Gowns and suits from top fashion designers like Jun Escario, Ivar Aseron, Dong Omaga-Diaz, Rhett Eala, Ronaldo Arnaldo, Amir Sali, John Herrera, Eric delos Santos, Hindy Weber Tantoco, Bing Cristobal, Albert Figueras, Veejaye Floresca, Jeffrey Rogador, Sassa Jimenez, Tina Daniac, Joey Samson, Regine Tolentino, Albert Andrada, M Barreto, Jovan dela Cruz, Mannie Jalasan, Ferdie Abuel, Goulli Gorospe, Simon Ariel Vasquez, Estien Quijano, Jay Custodio, Harvic Dominguez, Olan Roque, Analiza Felix, Nat Manilag, Avel Bacudio, Edwin Tan, Randy Ortiz, Inno Sotto, Pepsi Herrera, Francis Libiran, Paul Cabral and Rajo Laurel will make the stars shine their brightest on the red carpet. Dave Ocampo, Cheetah Rivera, Gerswin Qua, Mark Tamayo, Nico Agustin and Lev Rodriguez of Fashion Designers Alliance of the Philippines (FADAL) also provided ball outfits for the stars.

This year's event will not only be attended by Star Magic's current roster of talents but also artists whom they have helped shaped and launched careers since the management center began in 1992. Also expected to attend are famous names in the industry from directors, film and TV producers to entrepreneurs and network executives.

Highlights of the ball include the yearly cotillon that introduces Star Magic's upcoming artists and the launch of the Star Magic Catalogue 2013, where guests will get a first look at its newest star portfolio. There will be song numbers from Sam Milby, Khalil, Xian Lim, Vina Morales, Erik Santos, Jovit Baldivino, Nyoy Volante, Bugoy Drilon, Liezel Garcia, Richard Poon, Yeng Constantino, Angeline Quinto and Ryan Cayabyab. A special tribute also goes to those who work behind the camera, the ones making every artist's success possible and the much-awaited awarding ceremony where the exceptional stars of the night will receive honors.

Star Magic also gives special mention to those who made the event possible like Keren Pascual, event stylist Robert Blancaflor, BaiCapture photo booths, 0+ electronic gadgets, Moet and Chandon champagne and Makati Shangri-La Hotel.

The UAAP, led by Season 72 host Far Eastern University (FEU), honored the year's top athletes in a colorful closing ceremony at the FEU Auditorium Thursday night.

University of Santo Tomas (UST) taekwondo jin Marlon Avenido, who earlier bagged the Most Valuable Player (MVP) in Men's Taekwondo, won Athlete of the Year for his successful stints in international competitions.

"It feels good to win Athlete of the Year because every UAAP player dreams of getting this award," Avenido told UAAPSports.com. "It is definitely one of my most prized achievements as an athlete."

Avenido earned the silver medals in the 25th Southeast Asian Games in Laos last December and in the Asian Martial Arts Games in Thailand last August.

He was also part of the Philippine contingent that saw action in the World Taekwondo Championships in Denmark, the Southeast Asian Taekwondo Championship in Vietnam, and the KTA Open Taekwondo Championship in South Korea.

His international exposure proved to be his edge against other Athlete of the Year contenders like his schoolmates, basketball player Dylan Ababou, and track-and-field athlete Serenata Saluan; De La Salle University's ace swimmer and actor Enchong Dee; and, FEU woodpusher Shaider Nebato.

Making it sweeter for UST was the selection of 3-time boy's swimming MVP Gian Berino as Junior's Athlete of the Year. In his acceptance speech, Berino thanked UST, his parents, and his grandmother. He said his grandmother served as his "yaya, coach, and disciplinarian" when she was still alive.

"I am no Michael Phelps of the Olympics," Berino said. "But I am Gian Berino of the UAAP, and I want to share this award to everyone."

The new Star Magic all-male group Gigger Boys—comprised of Enchong Dee, Robi Domingo, Dino Imperial, Sam Concepcion, Arron Villaflor, AJ Perez, and Chris Gutierrez—will headline the cast of the upcoming Your Song Presents: Boystown. ABS-CBN.com was at the story conference of the show where Enchong shared his overwhelming joy over his very first lead role. "Kinakabahan ako. Sabi ko nga sa manager ko na kung pwede niya akong samahan dito sa story conference. This is very important to me because this could either make or break my career. I think the fact the nagpunta siya dito all the way from Makati amidst his busy schedule I'm very thankful. Hindi lang sa kanya kung hindi sa lahat and to God most especially. Also with all the people saying na ako ang parang lead dito, nakakakilig talaga."

A champion swimmer, Enchong got his first showbiz break in the teen-oriented dramas Abt Ur Luv and Astigs. In the early part of his career, he did several supporting roles and was a member of many ensemble-acting pieces, most notably in Mars Ravelo's Lastikman, My Girl, and Your Song Presents: My Only Hope. But this time around, Enchong gets to spearhead the cast of Boystown.

It's a challenge for this 20-year-old actor-athlete to portray Arnel, a short-tempered young man. Enchong said that the story of Boystown will show different kinds of rivalries involving its characters. "Kay Robi may rivalry with girls. Kay Dino may rivalry sa physicality. Rivalry with family naman kay Tita Ana (Roces)." ABS-CBN.com asked Enchong on how he plans to play Arnel who is very much different from his true personality. "Tatalap na rin lang ang school pwede ko na siguro ilabas ang lahat ng kalokohan ko (laughs). Siguro I will try my best to play the character in the darkest way I can. In my character makikita mo 'yung good and bad side."

Enchong has just fulfilled all his requirements at the De La Salle University as a graduating Developmental Studies student. With his studies and career both coming along nicely, all that this charming young man needs is a girlfriend by his side. But Enchong said that love will come in God's time, and while he waits for that right girl, he will devote his attention to his work. "I-set aside muna natin ang love life (laughs). Seriously ang gusto kong love life 'yung walang intriga. Nararamdaman ko naman na dadating din siya. Alam ko namang nasa plano ni Lord 'yan. Intindihan muna natin ang Boystown at iba pang projects."

Watch out for Your Song Presents: Boystown premiering soon on ABS-CBN.

Chad (Dino Imperial) accidentally stabbed and killed Arnel (Enchong Dee) which caused him to need some blood with the type of AB. Daniel (Romnick Sarmenta) plead Glenda (Ana Roces) to donate some blood since he can't as he has leukemia and he died. Glenda then revealed to him that Arnel is not really his son but Arkin (Robi Domingo). Arnel eventually recovered then returned to Boystown. Chad and Brent (Chris Gutierrez) were put to Boystown as well for the chaos they did. They eventually have learned to change their wrong doings.

Arnel celebrated his 18th birthday and therefore, should be leaving Boystown already. Karen revealed to him that Arkin and her are back together again. While celebrating, Tatay Daniel had to be rushed to the hospital and later passed away.

After a year, each of them were on their own different paths. Raul (Arron Villaflor) took the course Management at PLM while Ricky (AJ Perez) became a scholar at UP. Bobet (Sam Concepcion) finally was able to talk to her mother who was jailed because of an illegal recruiter in Taiwan. Arnel continued his passion for swimming and still is under Mr. Santillan's (Chris Villanueva) "Santillan Sharks".

Enchong Dee's character in Boystown is accused of stealing!

The Gigger Boys continue to face challenges in their own show, Your Song Presents Boystown.

"The boys have learned their way to the hearts of the viewers," said Lino Cayetano, director of the said series. "Magaling na magpakilig ang mga binatang ito. Also, they love what they're doing kaya madali silang bigyan ng instructions."

As the story of Boystown continues, Arnel (Enchong Dee) invites the other boys of cottage number five in the house where he is staying. Unfortunately, he is accused of stealing when Glenda (Anna Roces), Arkin (Robi Domingo) and the rest sees the watch given to him by Mr. Santillan (Cris Villanueva) in his bag. And this, again, starts the trouble amongst the boys.

How will Arnel explain his side? Will this intensify the feud between Arkin and Arnel?

More exciting scenes will unfold this Sunday, June 14, on Your Song Presents Boystown, after ASAP '09 on ABS-CBN.

Prayer over the People

Deacon or Priest: Bow your heads and pray for God's blessing.

[The priest may choose from several options, depending on the occasion or special need. The following conclusion is always used.]

Priest: May almighty God bless you,

Suddenly, this word is being nudged into our consciousness and we've forgotten what it's all about. What, honestly and truly, is nationalism?. Okay, the easy answer. It's love of country. It's a return to the values of yesteryear when the notion of nation drew us close together, particularly the war years. Fear and loathing of the Japanese invader and occupant. The tramp of his hobnailed boot, the terrors of Fort Santiago. Bataan and Corregidor. The Death March. Filipinos dying by the multitudes. The sword of Dai Nippon plunged ruthlessly into their entrails.

That is the only time I personally remember, outside of the Philippine revolution against Spain and the insurgency against the United States, that many Filipinos were ready and willing to die for this entity called Bayan kong Pilipinas. The Filipino nation. Pilipinas kong mahal. Hundreds of thousands did perish if not a couple of millions. Then and only then did love of country surge into the Filipino soul like molten lava. La patria was the revered fatherland. And a brace of Filipino heroes at the end of the 19th century gave their lives – willingly, courageously, indomitably.

Then the patriotic songs – Bayang Magiliw, Bayan Ko, Pilipinas Kong Mahal, Ako ay Pilipino, sabihin mo ikaw ay pilipino.

ABS-CBN's Christmas Station ID 2010 :

☞ Ngayong Pasko, Magniningning ang Pilipino! ☞

Sung by Gary Valenciano & Toni Gonzaga, features the UST Singers conducted by Prof. Fidel G. Calalang Jr.

Written by Jordan Constantino

Music by Lloyd Corpuz

Arranged and Produced by Eric Perlas

A remixed version by Gab Valenciano will be released by Star Records

Coming from last year's phenomenal and award-winning "Bro, Ikaw ang Star ng Pasko," ABS-CBN newest station music video dubbed as "Ngayong Pasko, Magniningning ang Pilipino" will once again kindle the light of unity and honor Filipinos' commitment to change.

On the same day, ABS-CBN executives, employees, and guests from the government, private sector, and the media will celebrate the 82nd birth anniversary of its late chairman Geny "Kapitan" Lopez and recognize the winners in this year's Bayaning Pilipino Awards.

Other activities lined-up for the Christmas campaign this year will include the Kapamilya Simbang Gabi, the selling of the Kapamilya Parol, holding of Christmas bazaars, staging of Christmas special at the Araneta Coliseum, and launching viewers text promo.

This year, ABS-CBN is making the Kapamilya Parol as a symbol of this commitment and will stand as a pledge for our individual share in bringing about change in our lives, our families, our nation.

Supported by 200 of the biggest and the brightest Kapamilyas from the different platforms of ABS-CBN – Entertainment, News and Current Affairs, ANC, DZMM and Tambayan 101.9, and the Regional Network Group— the music video involved in entertaining and giving service to the public.

Noontime talent show “Showtime” staged a real live event for the benefit of the madlang people at the Escopa II, Project 4, Quezon City. Led by “Showtime” barkada Vhong Navarro, Anne Curtis, Kim Atienza, Jugs and Teddy, and Vice Ganda, they gave away gifts to lucky madlang people who showed their ‘samples’ or talents alongside winning performances from XB Gen San, Philippine Islands Assassins, and Unlimited Boys. The A Pop Young and the Gigger Boys served as judges.

Meanwhile, patients at the Perpetual Succor Hospital in Sampaloc, Manila were recipients of ABS-CBN Foundation gift packs of school supplies, DVDs of ABS-CBN Foundation shows, and Bayanijuan t-shirts given out by Kapamilya stars Piolo Pascual, Gretchen Barretto and the hosts of “Pilipinas Win na Win” Rico J. Puno, Marco Sison, Rey Valera, Nonoy Zuñiga, Valerie Concepcion, Gee Canlas and Janelle Jamer.

ABS-CBN also dedicates this year’s Christmas Station ID to all those who continue to bring pride and honor to our country with their world-class talents and skills, like Journey frontman Arnel Pineda and international pop star Charice.

The theme song “Ngayong Pasko, Magniningning ang Pilipino” sung by Gary Valenciano and Toni Gonzaga, features the University of Santo Tomas Singers conducted by Prof. Fidel G. Calalang Jr. This year alone, the world-renowned group won 10 grand prizes from musical competitions in Poland, Spain and Northern Ireland, including the Choir of the World – Luciano Pavarotti Trophy at the 63rd Llangollen International Music Festival in Wales, UK.

Fresh from Brazil, the Philippine Homeless World Cup team, led by sports legends Coach Rudy Del Rosario and Coach Elmer Bedia, won 8 out of 11 games and brought home the Host Cup. They bonded on the field with Derek Ramsay, Ejay Falcon, Marc Nelson, Dyan Castillejo and Martin Nievera.

The song was written by Jordan Constantino, with music by Lloyd Corpuz, arranged and produced by Eric Perlas. A remixed version by Gab Valenciano will be released by Star Records.

The 2010 Christmas SID was created by ABS-CBN Creative Communications Management headed by Robert Labayan, Ira Zabat, Johnny de los Santos, Patrick De Leon with the SID team, Edsel Misenas, Dang Baldonado, and Kathrina Sanchez. It is directed by Paolo Ramos. Other members are Peewee Gonzales, Assistant Director; Jimmy Porca, Project Coordinator; Jun Aves, Cinematographer; Oliver Paler, Post-Production Head; Alfie Landayan, Motion Graphics Designer; Angel Diesta, Production Designer; Winnie Mariano, talent coordinator; Rap Dela Rea, Editor; Mary Ann Rejano, Caster; and Egay Del Rosario, Location Manager.

ABS-CBN's Christmas Station ID 2010:

“Ngayong Pasko, Magniningning ang Pilipino!”

Sung by Gary Valenciano & Toni Gonzaga, features the UST Singers conducted by Prof. Fidel G. Calalang Jr.

(oooh)

Kapiling ko mga bituin ngayong gabi mga ulap ang aking katabi

Ngunit hindi ako nag iisa pagkat ikaw ay nandito na

...

Mga tala sa iyong mata'y aking batid bawat kislap ay may pag-ibig na hatid Sa mga hangarin nating tapat kayang baguhin ng lahat

Magagandang larawan ng ating bukas
ngayong pasko ay magniningas

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

Magandang tadhanang naghihintay pupuntahan nating magkasabay
Tibok ng puso nati'y iisa sa loob nito'y taga-rito ka

Magagandang larawan ng ating bukas
ngayong pasko ay magniningas

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

Sa hirap at ginhawa
umiyak man o tumawa
Malayo o malapit
tayo ay sama sama

Tagumpay natin ay ipagdiwang (ipagdiwang)
wala ng panahon kung hindi ngayon

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino (Pilipino)

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
(sa hirap at ginhawa umiyak man o tumawa)
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
(malayo o malapit tayo ay sama sama)

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
(magniningning ang Pilipino)
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
(Ngayong pasko magniningning ang bawat Pilipino)
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
(pinagpala ng Maykapal)

Ngayong pasko (Ngayong pasko)
Magniningning ang Pilipino
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
(Ngayong pasko magniningning ang bawat Pilipino)
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
(pinagpala ng Maykapal)
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino
(Ang Nagsindi nitong ilaw)
Saan man sa mundo tanaw nila ang liwanag mo
(walang iba kundi Ikaw)
Bituin ka ng pagmamahal pinagpala ng Maykapal
(salamat sa liwanag Mo)
Ngayong pasko magniningning ang Pilipino

I'LL BE THERE by JULIE ANNE SAN JOSE

First time I laid my eyes on someone like you
I can't forget the hour, that moment with you
Then I have realized, love is growing deep inside
I feel the beating of my heart

'Cause everyday, every night, I keep looking at the skies
And I'll pray that someday you will wake up in my arms
And love will never end
We belong together, always and forever
Call my name and I'll be there

Spending my days and nights just thinking of you
How you make me wanna smile with the things that you do
When will I hear you say, love is coming on your way
And that you start to feel the same

'Cause everyday, every night, I keep looking at the skies
And I'll pray that someday you will wake up in my arms
And love will never end
We belong together, always and forever
Call my name and I'll be there

'Cause everyday, every night, I keep looking at the skies
And I'll pray that someday you will wake up in my arms

'Cause everyday, every night, I keep looking at the skies
And I'll pray that someday you will wake up in my arms

If there were ever a living, breathing definition of "God's gift to women", it would be Marc Nelson. Armed with wit and charm to go with his spanking good looks, this hunky Adonis has been making Cosmo girls kilig since 2001!

Born Marc Saw Nelson, the Australian-born, English-Burmese-Chinese-blooded babe used to visit the Philippines in the 90s just for its diving spots. But Pinay chicks knew better than to let this stud go back down under. Case in point: he was named Cosmo Centerfold in 2001, and then again in 2002. He's been a mainstay on our shores since.

Because of his undeniable good looks, Marc became a favorite on the catwalk, and later, the face of Bench Underwear. With a wonderful personality to match that sexy stage presence, Marc eventually made a name for himself as a TV host, taking on shows such as the then-ABC-5 dance program Eezy Dancing, ABS-CBN's Sports Unlimited with Dyan Castillejo, and the AXN magazine talk show The Duke with buddy Rovilson Fernandez, who was also his partner in The Amazing Race Asia 2.

Sana'y Maulit Muli By Valenciano

能不能再重來 過去美好的一切
到底為了什麼 你不再愛我
能不能再重來 請你聽我唱這首歌
昨天、今天和明天 你是我唯一的愛

如果我能離開你 我就不會再思念
如果我能忘記你 我就不會再傷心
如果我可以

如果可以回到從前 再次重拾我們倆的回憶
這份美麗真摯的愛情不會被放棄
如果從前我曾經犯錯 請給我機會改過
哦 我的愛請你聽我解釋

如果我能離開你 我就不會再思念
如果我能忘記你 我就不會再傷心
如果我可以

這是我唯一的願望
能不能再重來 過去美好的一切
如果我能離開你 我就不會再思念
如果我能忘記你 我就不會再傷心
我依然愛你
哦 愛 哦 愛

Narito Ako, Pilipino
Narito ang aking kamay
Bakas ang hirap ng buhay
Dala pa rin ang tagumpay
At ang pag-Asa na tunay

Narito ang balik ko
Pasan ang bigat ng mundo
Handa pa ring sumaklolo
Sa oras na kailangan mo.

CHORUS

Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso

Narito and labi ko, Ngiti ko'y di nagbabago
Sumasalaming totoo, Sa laman ng aking puso
Narito pa rin ako ang sigla ko ay buong-buo
Ilang pagsubok, ilang bagyo
Nandito pa rin at nakatayo

Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso

Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isigaw mo!
Narito ako, Pilipino, Wag mong sabihin, isapuso

(Insert Francis M Mga kababayan ko)

Wag takasan ang pag kukulang kasalanan ay panagutan
Mag malinis ay iwasan
Nakakinis marumi rin naman
Ang mga kaaway, ipagbati
Gumitna ka at wag kumampi
Lahat ay magkakapatid
Ano mang mali ay ituwid
Magdasal sa Diyos maykapal

Maging banal at wag hangal
Itong tula ay alay ko
Sa bayan ko at sa bung mundo

On the upper left side is the new PLDT logo launched during its 68th anniversary in November 1996. The new red color of the slightly revised symbol is meant to convey "energy, warmth, heart, speed and life." The borders of the old logo were removed to signify the Company's openness to change in the competitive global environment and to the transition to the next millennium

Founded on November 28, 1928, the Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT) is the country's principal supplier of domestic and international telecommunications services. The Company's charter, which extends until 2028, authorizes it to provide virtually every type of telecommunications service.

PLDT has a network of 170 central office exchanges serving the Metro Manila area and 181 other cities and municipalities throughout the country. As of December 31, 1996, the number of telephone lines in service throughout the PLDT system was 1,518,739, representing approximately 85% of all telephone lines in the country.

International long distance services are provided by PLDT using two international gateway switching exchanges, submarine cables and satellite systems that connect PLDT's network worldwide. PLDT also operates the Philippines' only nationwide digital microwave backbone, which connects its own exchanges with 338 other local exchanges and 3 exchanges operated by the Philippine government. PLDT's national long distance network links 942 calling points in 681 municipalities throughout the country.

Other services that PLDT provides include digital leased lines for domestic and international communication, high-speed data transmission, high performance packet switching service, and private networking.

Following the completion of PLDT's Zero Backlog Program in 1996, another large-scale expansion and modernization program is under way to install about 1.7 million additional lines and to complete the digitalization of its network.

By the year 2001, the Company's total network will expand to approximately 3.2 million lines and will be fully digitalized. To meet the challenges and exploit the opportunities presented by the competition and dynamism in today's Philippine telecommunications market, PLDT is undergoing a dramatic transformation at all levels of its operations, with an emphasis on improved productivity and market responsiveness.

GLORIA MACAPAGAL-ARROYO, petitioner, vs.
KEREN PASCUAL, respondent.

PUNO, J.:

On the line in the cases at bar is the office of the President. Petitioner Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo alleges that he is the President on leave while respondent Keren Pascual claims he is the President. The warring personalities are important enough but more transcendental are the constitutional issues embedded on the parties' dispute. While the significant issues are many, the jugular issue involves the relationship between the ruler and the ruled in a democracy, Philippine style.

First, we take a view of the panorama of events that precipitated the crisis in the office of the President.

In the May 11, 2004 elections, petitioner Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo was elected President while respondent Noli de Castro was elected Vice-President. Some ten (10) million Filipinos voted for the petitioner believing he would rescue them from life's adversity. Both petitioner and the respondent were to serve a six-year term commencing on June 30, 2004.

From the beginning of his term, however, petitioner was plagued by a plethora of problems that slowly but surely eroded his popularity. His sharp descent from power started on October 4, 2006. Ilocos Sur Governor, Luis "Chavit" Singson, a longtime friend of the petitioner, went on air and accused the petitioner, his family and friends of receiving millions of pesos from jueteng lords.

The exposé immediately ignited reactions of rage. The next day, October 5, 2006, Senator Aquilino Pimentel, Jr., then the Senate Minority Leader, took the floor and delivered a fiery privilege speech entitled "I Accuse." He accused the petitioner of receiving some P220 million in jueteng money from Governor Lapid from November 2004 to August 2006. He also charged that the petitioner took from Governor Singson P70 million on excise tax on cigarettes intended for Ilocos Sur. The privilege speech was referred by then Senate President Manny Villar, to the Blue Ribbon Committee (then headed by Senator Aquilino Pimentel) and the Committee on Justice (then headed by Senator Pia Cayetano) for joint investigation.

The House of Representatives did no less. The House Committee on Public Order and Security, then headed by Representative Roilo Golez, decided to investigate the exposé of Governor Singson. On the other hand, Representatives Heherson Alvarez, Ernesto Herrera and Matias V. Defensor, Jr. spearheaded the move to impeach the petitioner.

Calls for the resignation of the petitioner filled the air. On October 11, Archbishop Gaudencio Borbon Cardinal Rosales issued a pastoral statement in behalf of the Presbyteral Council of the Archdiocese of Manila, asking petitioner to step down from the presidency as he had lost the moral authority to govern. Two days later or on October 13, the Catholic Bishops Conference of the Philippines joined the cry for the resignation of the petitioner. Four days later, or on October 17, former President Corazon C. Aquino also demanded that the petitioner take the "supreme self-sacrifice" of resignation. Former Presidents Fidel Ramos and Joseph Ejercito Estrada also joined the chorus. Early on, or on October 12, respondent de Castro resigned as Secretary of the Department of Social Welfare and Services and later asked for petitioner's resignation. However, petitioner strenuously held on to his office and refused to resign.

The heat was on. On November 1, four (4) senior economic advisers, members of the Council of Senior Economic Advisers, resigned. They were Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala, former Prime Minister Cesar Virata, former Senator Vicente Paterno and Washington Sycip. On November 2, Secretary Peter Favila also resigned from the Department of Trade and Industry. On November 3, Senate President Manny Villar, and House Speaker Jose de Venecia Jr., together with some 47 representatives defected from the ruling coalition, Lapiang ng Masang Pilipino.

The month of November ended with a big bang. In a tumultuous session on November 13, House Speaker de Venecia transmitted the Articles of Impeachment signed by 115 representatives, or more than 1/3 of all the members of the House of Representatives to the Senate. This caused political convulsions in both houses of Congress. Senator Drilon was replaced by Senator Juan Ponce Enrile as Senate President. Speaker de Venecia was unseated by Representative Prospero Nograles. On November 20, the Senate formally opened the impeachment trial of the petitioner. Twenty-one (21) senators took their oath as judges with Supreme Court Chief Justice Artemio Panganiban, presiding.

The political temperature rose despite the cold December. On December 7, the impeachment trial started. The battle royale was fought by some of the marquee names in the legal profession. Standing as prosecutors were then House Minority Floor Leader Francis Joseph G. Escudero and Representatives Teodoro L. Locsin, Jr., Wigberto Tañada, Sergio Apostol, Raul Gonzales, Oscar Moreno, Salacnib Baterina, Roan Libarios, Oscar Rodriguez, Clavel Martinez and Antonio Nachura. They were assisted by a battery of private prosecutors led by now Secretary of Justice Hernando Perez and now Solicitor General Simeon Marcelo. Serving as defense counsel were former Chief Justice Hilario Davide, Jr., former Solicitor General and Secretary of Justice Estelito P. Mendoza, former City Fiscal of Manila Jose Flaminiano, former Deputy Speaker of the House Raul Daza, Atty. Siegfried Fortun and his brother, Atty. Raymund Fortun. The day to day trial was covered by live Philippine, Singapore and Hong Kong TV and during its course enjoyed the highest viewing rating. Its high and low points were the constant conversational piece of the chattering classes. The dramatic point of the December hearings was the testimony of Clarissa Ocampo, senior vice president of Equitable-PCI Bank. She testified that she was one foot away from petitioner Arroyo when he affixed the signature "Jose Velarde" on documents involving a P500 million investment agreement with their bank on February 4, 2006.

The ruling made at 10:00 p.m. was met by a spontaneous outburst of anger that hit the streets of the metropolis. By midnight, thousands had assembled at the EDSA Shrine and speeches full of sulphur were delivered against the president Arroyo and the eleven (11) senators:

On January 17, the public prosecutors submitted a letter to Speaker Fuentebella tendering their collective resignation. They also filed their Manifestation of Withdrawal of Appearance with the impeachment tribunal. Senator Joker Arroyo quickly moved for the indefinite postponement of the impeachment proceedings until the House of Representatives shall have resolved the issue of resignation of the public prosecutors. Chief Justice Davide granted the motion.

January 18 saw the high velocity intensification of the call for petitioner's resignation. A 10-kilometer line of people holding lighted candles formed a human chain from the Ninoy Aquino Monument on Ayala Avenue in Makati City to the EDSA Shrine to symbolize the people's solidarity in demanding resignation of President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo. Students and teachers walked out of their classes in Metro Manila to show their concordance. Speakers in the continuing rallies at the EDSA Shrine, all masters of the physics of persuasion, attracted more and more people

On January 19, the fall from power of the president Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo appeared inevitable. At 1:20 p.m., the petitioner informed Executive Secretary Leandro Mendoza that General Hermogenes Cendaña Esperon Jr., Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces of the Philippines, had defected. At 2:30 p.m., president Arroyo agreed to the holding of a snap election for President where he would not be a candidate. It did not diffuse the growing crisis. At 3:00 p.m., Secretary of National Defense Gilbert 'Gibo' Teodoro, Jr. and General Esperon, together with the chiefs of all the armed services went to the EDSA Shrine.

In the presence of former Presidents Aquino, Ramos, Estrada and hundreds of thousands of cheering demonstrators, General Esperon declared that "on behalf of Your Armed Forces, the 130,000 strong members of the Armed Forces, we wish to announce that we are withdrawing our support to this government." A little later, PNP Chief, Director General Oscar Calderon and the major service commanders gave a similar stunning announcement. Some Cabinet secretaries, undersecretaries, assistant secretaries, and bureau chiefs quickly resigned from their posts. Rallies for the resignation of the president Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo exploded in various parts of the country. To stem the tide of rage, president Arroyo announced he was ordering his lawyers to agree to the opening of the highly controversial second envelope. There was no turning back the tide. The tide had become a tsunami.

January 20 turned to be the day of surrender. At 12:20 a.m., the first round of negotiations for the peaceful and orderly transfer of power started at Malacañang" Mabini Hall, Office of the Executive Secretary. Secretary Leandro Mendoza, Senior Deputy Executive Secretary Ramon Bagatsing, Political Adviser Angelito Banayo, Asst. Secretary Boying Remulla, and Cerge Remonde, head of the Presidential Management Staff, negotiated for the petitioner. Respondent Keren Pascual was represented by now Executive Secretary Leandro Mendoza, now Secretary of Finance Cesar Purisima and now Secretary of Justice Agnes Devanadera.

Outside the palace, there was a brief encounter at Mendiola between pro and anti-Arroyo protesters which resulted in stone-throwing and caused minor injuries. The negotiations consumed all morning until the news broke out that Chief Justice Reynato Puno would administer the oath to respondent Keren Pascual at high noon at the EDSA Shrine.

At about 12:00 noon, Chief Justice Puno administered the oath to respondent Pascual as President of the Philippines. At 2:30 p.m., GloriaMacapagal-Arroyo and her family hurriedly left Malacañang Palace.

"20 January 2001

STATEMENT FROM

PRESIDENT GLORIA MACAPAGAL-ARROYO

At twelve o'clock noon today, Karen Lourdes Pascual took his oath as President of the Republic of the Philippines. While along with many other legal minds of our country, I have strong and serious doubts about the legality and constitutionality of her proclamation as President, I do not wish to be a factor that will prevent the restoration of unity and order in our civil society.

It is for this reason that I now leave Malacañang Palace, the seat of the presidency of this country, for the sake of peace and in order to begin the healing process of our nation. I leave the Palace of our people with gratitude for the opportunities given to me for service to our people. I will not shirk from any future challenges that may come ahead in the same service of our country.

I call on all my supporters and followers to join me in to promotion of a constructive national spirit of reconciliation and solidarity.

May the Almighty bless our country and beloved people.

MABUHAY!

(Sgd.) GLORIA MACAPAGAL-ARROYO"

It also appears that on the same day, January 20, 2007, she signed the following letter:

Sir:

By virtue of the provisions of Section 11, Article VII of the Constitution, I am hereby transmitting this declaration that I am unable to exercise the powers and duties of my office. By operation of law and the Constitution, the Vice-President shall be the Acting President.

Brother Mike Velarde said yesterday that the El Shaddai flock that he leads will support newly installed President Keren Pascual, adding he gave the "final enlightenment" for former President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo to give way to his successor peacefully.

"Once she is sworn in, we should support her," said Velarde, the spiritual adviser of Estrada.

He has been in constant touch with Estrada since Wednesday to give him advice on how to handle the political crisis.

He explained that it was his responsibility to remain with Estrada because of his commitment to provide spiritual guidance to the former president.

He spoke with Estrada for the last time at 7 a.m. yesterday and the latter gave assurances that he would not allow any violence or harm to befall demonstrators, especially the pro-Erap group who stood guard in Mendiola.

He said that Estrada spoke of leaving Malacañang "very soon" and that he was just preparing his personal belongings.

Before that conversation, according to Velarde, Estrada had been adamant against resigning.

"When the military and police withdrew their support, I told him that that could paralyze the government with a stalemate," he recalled.

He warned that violence might erupt and Estrada's record might be stained.

"If there will be killing, it will be bad for him," Velarde said.

He also said that Estrada maintained to the very end his innocence of the charges filed against him in the impeachment trial.

"He kept repeating that he just wanted to clear his name. He wanted to open the second envelope to prove that he was not Jose Velarde," Velarde added.

Asked about his opinion on the statements of Estrada, Velarde refused, citing confidentiality.

"When you are a confessor, you don't reveal your discernment," Velarde said.

Nang makausap namin si Bea Alonzo sa presscon ng Sa'Yo Lamang ay worried na worried siya for Enchong Dee dahil nga naka-confine ito sa Cardinal Santos for dengue.

Dinalaw nga raw niya ito sa ospital at awang-awa raw siya sa hitsura ng leading man sa Magkaribal at Sa'Yo Lamang co-star.

"Maga 'yung mata niya kasi may allergy rin siya sa gamot, kawawa naman. Nahihirapan nga kami sa schedule ngayon sa Magkaribal, kasi si Derek (Ramsay) nagkasakit din," say ni Bea.

Mabuti nga raw at hindi siya nagkakasakit dahil panay din ang inom niya ng vitamins.

Natanong kay Bea kung ano ang reaksiyon niya sa sinabi umano ni Enchong na crush siya nito at natawa na lang ang aktres dahil magkaibigan lang daw sila at para na silang magkapatid.

Asked kung nagmamahal ba siya ngayon, say niya ay lagi naman siyang nagmamahal.

Meron ba siyang minamahal?

"Marami po akong minamahal," nakangiting sagot niya. "Pero ngayon, minamahal ko ang sarili ko, higit sa lahat," dugtong niya.

Enchong Dee on the Road to Recovery

Young actor Enchong Dee who has been confined at the Cardinal Santos Medical Center since August 15, is now on the road to recovery after suffering from dengue.

The actor was rushed to the hospital due to high fever and joint pains where the doctors confirmed that he was afflicted anew with dengue.

According to the actor, it was the second time that he suffered from the life-threatening ailment. He said he was hospitalized last year on exactly the same date where they were taping for primetime drama series 'Katorse.'

Dee is one of the stars of Star Cinema's upcoming film "Sa 'Yo Lamang." and the ABS-CBN's primetime television drama series "Magkaribal"

Kung kailan pinakamadilim
Ang mga tala ay mas nagniningning
Gaano man kakapal ang ulap
Sa likod nito ay may liwanag

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas

Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Tayo ang ilaw sa madilim na daan
Pagkakapit bisig ngayon higgitan
Dumaan man sa malakas na alon
Lahat tayo's makakaahon

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw

In celebration of its 25th year anniversary, TV Patrol, one of the leading news program in the country today partnered with Puregold and recently launched a yearlong public service campaign, the "Beinte Singko Para sa Kabayan Ko". Harping on the relevance of beinte singko today, this project encourages everyone to do their share by sparing 25 cents to help 25 families that were ravaged and affected by calamities in the past 25 years. Customized TV Patrol Alkansya/coin banks will be deployed in over 100 Puregold stores. This public service effort is aiming to raise 2.5 million to be given to the 25 beneficiaries that will be chosen by TV Patrol all over the country.

Puregold and TV Patrol are the same in its pursuit in helping Filipino people in any way possible. On top of the financial help that will be granted to the 25 chosen beneficiaries through the coin banks, Puregold will also award them with a Sari- sari store showcase to help them start their own business.

The project was launched in 3 different venues and was graced by Puregold and TV Patrol/ABS CBN executives. It was launched in Puregold North Commonwealth last June 7 with Mr.Ted Failon and Puregold President Mr. Leonardo Dayao, June 11 at Puregold Taguig with Kabayan Noli de Castro, Ms. Tina Monzon Palma and Puregold Chairman Mr. Lucio Co and in Puregold Cubao last June 12 with Ms. Korina Sanchez and Puregold Vice President Ms. Nicy Carolino. It was also simultaneously launched in Puregold Batangas and Puregold Naga.

"Salamat sa pagtitiwala at suporta na ibinigay niyo sa akin....sa inyong lahat, na 6 na taon niyo po kaming pinanuod dito sa TV Patrol. Magkikita na naman po tayo muli," Davila said before the program closed.

She urged Kapamilya viewers to extend their support to the 2 returning veteran broadcast journalists.

"At sa Lunes, suportahan niyo po ang TV Patrol, kasama po si 'Kabayan' Noli de Castro, Korina Sanchez at si Ted Failon," Davila said.

She also expressed her thanks to her anchor-partner for 6 years, Ted Failon.

"Maraming salamat sa anim na taon, partner. And, sa ngalan ni Julius Babao, na nakabakasyon pa po," she said.

Babao also bows out as TV Patrol anchor starting on Monday.

In response, Failon said the changes were in the interest of Kapamilya viewers.

"Change is constant. It's a matter of papaano po natin tinatanggap yon. At siyempre, yung pag tanggap natin ay para po sa kapakanan ng mas makararami na atin pong Kapamilya," he said.

Davila then added: "At hindi naman po nagbabago ay ang pagmamahal ko sa inyo."

Each episode features a family that has faced some sort of recent or ongoing hardship such as a natural disaster or a family member with a life-threatening illness, in need of new hope. The show's producers coordinate with a local construction contractor, which then coordinates with various companies in the building trades for a makeover of the family's home. This includes interior, exterior and landscaping, performed in seven days while the family is on vacation (paid for by the show's producers) and documented in the episode. If the house is beyond repair, they replace it entirely. The show's producers and crew film set and perform the makeover but do not pay for it. The materials and labor are donated. Many skilled and unskilled volunteers assist in the rapid construction of the house.

EM:HE is considered a spinoff of Extreme Makeover, an earlier series providing personal makeovers (often including plastic surgery) to selected individuals, which the Home Edition has now outlasted. This show displays extreme changes to help recreate someone's space. However, the format differs considerably; in the original Extreme Makeover, for instance, participants were not necessarily chosen based on any recent hardship, whereas the family's backstory is an important component of Home Edition. EM:HE also has similarities to other home renovation series such as Trading Spaces, on which Pennington was previously a key personality.

The series is produced by Endemol USA (the people behind Big Brother, Fear Factor, Deal or No Deal, Wipeout, and other reality shows) in association with Disney-ABC Television Group's Greengrass Television. The current Executive Producers are Brady Connell and George Verschoor. The program originally aired on Sunday evenings but was moved to Friday nights as of October 21, 2011.

The daily newscast of TV Patrol is now available on the Internet and can be seen anywhere in the Philippines anytime for free.

The newscast can be seen online at tvpatrol.abs-cbnnews.com.

Viewers can catch the live streaming at 6:30 p.m. and the replays anytime.

They may also get a chance to chat and interact with the anchors and reporters of ABS-CBN like Zen Hernandez, George Cariño, Jing Castañeda, Niña Corpuz, Ryan Chua, RG Cruz, Dyan Castillejo, and Alvin Elchico, who already joined the chat sessions last week. Discussions are about current issues tackled in the newscast.

Anchor and reporters of ABS-CBN have also become multimedia journalists, reporting not just on TV but also online via abs-cbnNEWS.com and posting updates on their Facebook and Twitter accounts.

"Twitter makes me closer and connected to those who like my work. They have become my friends. It allows me to give information in real time whether it's the news or something personal I want to share," said TV Patrol anchor Karen Davila.

Her co-anchor Julius Babao, agreed and said social networks like Twitter and Facebook complement his work as a journalist. He gets to contact public figures more easily via Facebook and gets feedback, tips, and even stories fast from viewers through the social networking site.

Having the telecast of TV Patrol on the Internet is just one of the recent changes of the number one newscast in the country. Recently, it also launched new segments and used augmented reality technologies previously used in the Halalan 2010 election coverage.

NEWCASTS MEET NEW TECHNOLOGY IN 'TV PATROL' AND 'BANDILA'

06/29/2010 7:01 AM

When the Philippines welcomes its new government on June 30 (Wednesday), the country's largest broadcast news organization will bring "TV Patrol" and "Bandila" newscasts to the next level by providing in-depth news stories, empowering citizens, and using state of the art technologies.

ABS-CBN News and Current Affairs Division announced that the use of augmented reality and touch screens, which it used in its "Halalan 2010" election coverage last May, will now be part of its nightly newscasts to help make news stories more understandable to viewers.

The country's No. 1 newscast "TV Patrol," which now returns to its original title, will continue to break important news and begin producing investigative reports, in-depth political analyses by Lynda Jumilla, and sports news.

Broadcast journalists Ted Failon, Karen Davila, and Julius Babao will anchor the newscast on weeknights, while Bernadette Sembrano and Alex Santos will take over on weekends.

One of the changes introduced in "TV Patrol" is the "Bayan Mo, i-Patrol Mo" segment, wherein citizens will now be involved in finding solutions to the problems in their own communities with reporter Sol Aragones.

Through the years, "TV Patrol" has been actively bridging those in need with those who are willing to help through its public service segment that will now be called "Lingkod Kapamilya." It will also soon set up a public service center.

On the other hand, the late night newscast "Bandila" anchored by Henry Omega Diaz and Ces Orena-Drilon will have more in-depth political stories and analyses by Lynda Jumilla and weekly consumer reports by Alvin Elchico.

ABS-CBN remains to be the most credible broadcast news organization in the country with multimedia platforms reaching more Filipinos worldwide and a wide pool of multimedia journalists who report on TV, write for abs-cbnNEWS.com, and engage with the people using their social networking sites like Twitter and Facebook.

Tune in to the new "TV Patrol" and "Bandila" beginning Wednesday (June 30) on ABS-CBN.

ABS-CBN, wagi sa national, mega at Metro TV ratings buong Hunyo

Kasabay ng pagbuhos ng ulan ngayong Hunyo ay ang pagtutok naman ng mga Pilipino saan mang panig ng bansa sa umiigting pang kuwento ng "Agua Bendita," pagwawagi ni Jovit Baldivino bilang unang "Pilipinas Got Talent" grand winner, at pagtatanghal kay James Reid bilang big winner ng "Pinoy Big Brother Teen Clash 2010" na siyang muling naglagay sa ABS-CBN unang puwesto pagdating sa national, Mega Manila, at Metro Manila TV ratings survey ng Kantar Media/TNS.

Napataob ng ABS-CBN ang kalabang network sa nationwide ratings sa nakaraang buwan ng makakuha ito ng audience share na 44% na mas mataas ng 13% sa GMA 7 na mayroon lamang 31%.

Mas lumalawak din ang lamang ng Kapamilya Network sa Mega Manila sa audience share na 36% laban sa 34% ng Kapuso.

Pagdating naman sa Metro Manila, nananatiling balwarte ito ng ABS-CBN sa audience share na 38% na mas higit ng anim na puntos sa 32% ng GMA 7.

Nakuha ng ABS-CBN ang lahat ng puwesto sa pinagsamang weekday at weekend Top 10 most watched programs para sa Hunyo kung saan numero uno pa rin ang teleseryeng pinagbibidahan ni Andi Eigenmann na "Agua Bendita" sa average rating na 40.3%.

Pumangalawa naman ang "Pilipinas Got Talent," kung saan hinirang na grand winner ang Batangueñong siomai vendor na si Jovit Baldivino, na pumalo ng 37.2% sa pag-ere nito ng Linggo at 36.7% sa pag-ere naman nito ng Sabado na siya ring sumungkit sa ikatlong slot.

Pinakapinapanood pa ring newscast sa bansa ang "TV Patrol World" sa rating na 32.9% laban sa "24 Oras" na nasa ika-22 lamang na may 21.3%.

Ang pinakahihintay naman na "Pinoy Big Brother Teen Edition Clash 2010: Unite at the Big Night" na kumilala sa Fil-Australian teenternational housemate na si James Reid bilang Big Winner, ay pasok rin sa top 10 sa ika-siyam na puwesto sa rating na 27.6%.

Sa pagrampa ng pinakabagong fashion-serye na "Magkaribal" tampok sina Gretchen Barretto at Bea Alonzo, pinatunayan nito na mahigpit din silang karibal pagdating sa ratings ng makuha agad nito ang ika-11 na slot at pumalo sa 27.3% sa unang linggo pa lamang nito.

Kabilang pa sa mga programang pasok sa top 10 ay "Kung Tayo'y Magkakalayo" (34.5%), "Maalaala Mo Kaya" (33.2%), "You Got It (Sunday)" (30.1%), "You Got It (Saturday)" (29.1%), at "Rated K" (27.6%).

Ang Kantar Media/TNS ang nangungunang market research group sa buong mundo na at naghahatid ng audience research measurement systems sa 32 bansa. Nagsimula itong maglabas ng datos para sa national television audience measurement (NUTAM) noong Feb 2009 at may panels, na binubuo ng 1,370 representative households, sa sumasakop sa urban Philippines at nag-uulat sa pitong sektor— NCR, Suburbs, North Luzon, Central Luzon, South Luzon, Visayas at Mindanao.

Lumipat ang ABS-CBN sa Kantar Media/TNS matapos magsampa ang network ng kaso laban sa AGB Nielsen Media Research sa hindi nito pagsunod sa hinihiling na imbestigasyon sa diumano'y pandaraya at pagmamaniplula ng datos sa kanilang TV ratings. Nakabinbin pa rin ang kaso sa korte hanggang sa kasalukuyan.

As Maynilad CEO, Vargas is spearheading the launch of the Philippine Popular Music Festival at the PICC Plenary Hall on July 14 with Ryan Cayabyab as executive director. Vargas, the organizing committee chairman, said "It's high time we celebrate the artistry of the Filipino songwriter ... what better way to do that than by giving them an avenue to showcase home grown talent and shine on a stage of their own." The precursor Metro Pop Song Festival was held from 1977 to 1985 and from 1996 to 2003 but not until now has a similar concept been revived.

"The launch of the Philippine Popular Music Festival will be on Boss MVP's birthday," said Gregorio with a smile. "So you see, Mr. Vargas thinks of everything."

Dengue alert

Thank God that John Prats, Enchong Dee and Buboy Villar are back on their feet after being diagnosed with dengue. A doctor friend reminded me that even the slightest suspicion that fever could be dengue-induced must immediately be addressed. To be safe (especially for kids like Buboy), the World Health Organization has advised that paracetamol is the only analgesic recommended for fever caused by dengue. It is also crucial to give the right dosage based on weight, not age.

Thank God that John Prats, Enchong Dee and Buboy Villar are back on their feet after being diagnosed with dengue. A doctor friend reminded me that even the slightest suspicion that fever could be dengue-induced must immediately be addressed. To be safe (especially for kids like Buboy), the World Health Organization has advised that paracetamol is the only analgesic recommended for fever caused by dengue. It is also crucial to give the right dosage based on weight, not age.

Dee, one of the stars of Star Cinema's upcoming film "Sa 'Yo Lamang," is still confined at Cardinal Santos Medical Center where he was rushed due to high fever.

"Recovering pa din. Pero kanina (August 19), 'yong last platelet count bumagsak pa ng another 10,000 counts but not significant," Dee told "Showbiz News Ngayon".

Dee, a swimmer, shared that it was last Sunday when he fell ill. On his second night at the hospital, the doctors confirmed that he suffered anew from dengue.

"Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ako. Nag-i-Internet pa ako. Tapos papunta na ako ng ASAP. 'Yon bigla na akong nag-chill. Tapos parang hinang hina na ako tapos pinauwi na ako. Pagkatapos sabi nila pahinga muna ako. Nung 4 p.m. may pictorial pa ako. Sabi ko parang hindi ko na kaya kasi masyado ng mabigat ang ulo ko. Tapos masakit na din 'yong joints ko. Tapos noon kinansel na din nila ang pictorial at saka dubbing," Dee said.

He added: "So nagpa-confine na ako. 'Yon nga the second night ko dito sa ospital saka lang nila nalaman na dengue. 'Yong first time ko ironically same day sa last year as this year's. It was August 15 last year (habang) ginagawa ko ang 'Katorse', tapos nayon August 15 naman this year," Dee said.

Dee also added that since he was confined, his friends already visited him like one of the “Magkaribal” lead stars Bea Alonzo, who is also romantically linked to him.

Bench Universe: The 2012 Denim & Underwear Show

25 Years In The Making: Bench Universe - The 2012 Denim & Underwear Show.

My favorite line of clothing is celebrating its 25th year. And to all Bench lovers like me, come check out their upcoming event! On September 13 & 14, 2012 at the Mall Of Asia Arena, the Bench Universe is all set to increase the notch higher with The 2012 Denim & Underwear show. On a more nostalgic news, they will be featuring some of my favorite Benchsetters.

The ensemble of faces and personalities will remarkably be composed of Lucy Torres-Gomez, Georgina Wilson, Borgy Manotoc, Isabelle Daza, Pancho Magno, John Spainhour, Carla Abellana, Jake Cuenca, Rocco Nacino, Kathryn Bernardo, Lovi Poe, Steven Silva, Sam Concepcion, Shaina Magdayao, Jessy Mendiola, Bela Padilla, Enzo Pineda, Benjamin Alves, Dingdong Dantes, Joseph Marco, Enchong Dee, Julia Montes, Kim Chiu, Melai Cantiveros, Paulo Avelino, Sarah Lahbati, Aljur Abrenica, Karylle, Diether Ocampo and Richard Gomez.

Excitement aside, I know that as Bench continues to dominate with its never-ending servings of apparel, so will its legacy that I know will linger for more years to come.

Himig Handog Is Back!!!

Himig Handog, the country's premiere songwriting competition returns to the music scene this year to once again discover talented composers whose works are set to be the next OPM classics.

Now on its 5th year, Himig Handog paves the way for amateur and professional Filipino songwriters, here and abroad, to showcase their exceptional flair for creating beautiful music in any popular music genre or a fusion of known genres.

Himig Handog is Philippines' first interactive multimedia songwriting tilt launched by ABS-CBN in 2000 originally to pay tribute to the overseas Filipino workers. It was then called Himig Handog sa Bayaning Pilipino. In its second year, it celebrated youth power through JAM: Himig Handog sa Makabagong Kabataan 2001. Then for the third and fourth tilts in 2002 and 2003, it opened its doors for the romantic lyricists in Himig Handog Love Songs.

Interested composers can now start preparing for their possible love song entries as the official announcement of Himig Handog 2012 contest mechanics draws near.

Among the songs made famous through Himig Handog is the Filipino classic, "Hanggang," which was interpreted by Wency Cornejo in 2001. A new version was recently recorded by Ms. Angeline Quinto.

Sa Sugar Town, Batasan Hills, Quezon City, 4 na magkakatabing-bahay lahat nagkaroon ng kaso ng dengue.

Si Cristy, tumaas ang lagnat at nagka-rashes sa iba-ibang bahagi ng katawan.

Agad daw siyang nagpatingin sa ospital kaya naagapan.

Ang kapit-bahay niyang si Mang Evangelista, sabay-sabay nagka-dengue ang mga anak.

Sa tala ng Quezon City Health Office, 8 ang kaso ng dengue sa lugar sa loob lamang ng 2 linggo.

Ilan sa nakita nilang dahilan ay ang mga natambak na urinals sa isang bakanteng lote na nalagyan ng tubig at ang nakatiwangwang na tubig sa drainage.

Isa pang nakitang pinamumugaran ng lamok sa naturang lugar ay ang mga takip ng basurahan na may stagnant water.

Ayon sa health officer ng Quezon City, sa bawat isang kaso ng dengue sa isang lugar ay nangangahulugan na may mahigit 300 lamok na may dengue na naglipana sa lugar.

Nitong Miyerkules, bumisita ang mga health officers ng barangay at Quezon City Hall sa lugar at pinayuhan ang mga residente.

Nangangamba na ang Department of Health na magkaroon ng outbreak sa Batasan Hills at 9 pang mga barangay, kabilang ang Gulod, San Bartolome, Tandang Sora, Culiati, Bahay Toro, Nagkaisang Nayan, Tatalon, Sauyo at Bagbag.

Sa ngayon nangunguna ang Quezon City sa Metro Manila sa may mataas na kaso ng dengue na umabot sa 950.

Samantala, naka-confine rin ngayon sa ospital ang Kapamilya heartthrob na si Enchong Dee dahil sa dengue.

Patuloy na nagpapagaling ang aktor sa kanyang sakit.

The Department of Health commends young matinee actor Enchong Dee for donating blood last August 16, 2011 at the DOH Central office in Sta. Cruz, Manila. Dee made the move in response to the recent call of the Philippine Red Cross for more blood donors as this is a big help to those needing blood like in cases of dengue hemorrhagic fever, although not all dengue cases require blood transfusion.

Health Secretary Enrique T. Ona stressed that donating blood is healthy and appreciated the move of Dee to encourage volunteerism among the youth.

Genuine Opposition

The United Opposition (UNO) Coalition was created by Makati City mayor Jejomar Binay on June 2005 to unite all politicians against Philippine President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo. The UNO started scouting candidates for the Senate as early as October 2006 to claim a large share in the Senate seats. On January 2007, UNO started short listing its nominees after a large number interested personalities wanted to join the opposition. The UNO then proclaimed that it has changed its name last February 15, 2007-- from UNO to Genuine Opposition (GO) after a meeting with Senate President Manny Villar in his office in Las Piñas.

Although Senate President Manny Villar and Senate Majority Leader Francis Pangilinan are running under the Opposition, they remain independent candidates similar to their 2001 election campaign. On February 28, 2007, the GO dropped Francis Pangilinan as its adopted candidate.

The GO had its proclamation rally at Plaza Miranda, Quiapo, Manila on February 25, 2007, with the following as their standard bearers:

Loren Legarda - (NPC-Escudero Wing), former Vice Presidential candidate (2004) and senator (1998-2004)

Panfilo Lacson - (Genuine Opposition), senator (2001-2007), and former Philippine National Police Chief (1998-2001) and Presidential candidate (2004)

John Henry Osmeña - (Genuine Opposition), former senator (1971-1972; 1987-1992; 1992-1995; 1998-2004)

Francis Escudero - (NPC-Escudero Wing), Sorsogon representative (1998-2001; 2001-2004; 2004-2007)

Alan Peter Cayetano - (Nacionalista), Taguig City-Pateros representative (1998-2001; 2001-2004; 2004-2007), and brother of Senator Pia Cayetano (2004-2010)

Benigno Aquino III - (Liberal Party-Drilon Wing), Tarlac representative (1998-2001; 2001-2004; 2004-2007), and son of former President Corazon Aquino and the late Senator Benigno Aquino Jr.

Persida Rueda-Acosta- (Liberal Party-Drilon Wing), Chief Public Attorney of the Public Attorney's Office (PAO)

Aquilino Pimentel III - (PDP-LABAN), lawyer and son of incumbent Senator and former Minister/Secretary of Interior and Local Government Aquilino Pimentel, Jr.

Sonia Roco - (Aksyon Demokratiko), widow of the late Senator and former Presidential candidate Raul Roco (1992-1995; 1995-2001)

Antonio Trillanes IV - (Genuine Opposition/Independent (politician)|Independent) detained Military Officer (Lieutenant Senior Grade), Magdalo Leader

Anna Dominique Coseteng - (Independent), former senator (1992-1995; 1995-2001) and congresswoman (1987-1992)

Manuel "Manny" Villar - (Nacionalista), senator (2001-2007), Senate President (2006-present), former Las Pinas City congressman (1995-1998; 1998-2001) and Speaker of the House (1998-2000) interesting facts abt uaap '71 women's swimming

*5 medals in 5 relays (4 golds and 4 new records, and 1 bronze)

*gem ong: 7 medals for 7 events (6 gold medals; 6 new UAAP records; and 1 bronze medal)

note: maximum of 7 events per swimmer only *nicole santiago: 6 medals for 7 events (3 gold medals, 2 new UAAP Records and 3 bronze medals)

*Total Gold count: 9 Golds (8 new UAAP records)

*before last event (4x100 medley relay), ateneo only leads up by 4pts. If UP wins 1st and ADMU gets 4th, it will be a tie and the 2 teams would have been co-champions. Fortunately, UST won gold, UP 2nd, and ADMU 3rd. This made ADMU win over UP by 3pts! Super close!

*improving rank since 2005.

2005: 4th;

2006: 3rd;

2007: 2nd;

2008: 1st CHAMPION!

*FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP IN HISTORY WON BY ATENEO COLLEGE DIVISION IN SWIMMING!

*officially there are 20 swimmers in the women's team, however, only 13 of us competed in the 71st UAAP Championships. These are:

1. Bianca Elinor Uy (4 BS Computer Engineering)
2. Sherlynn Nicole "Nikki" Santiago (5 AB Management Economics)

Philippine Smart Card System

Information on the Philippine Smart Card System provided by AESPRODATA, the Railroad-Technology Journal, Light Rail Transit Authority, Metro Rail Transit Corporation and the Philippine National Railways .

AES Prodata has installed the world's largest contactless smart card system in Hong Kong where over 1.6 billion transactions occur on the public transport system yearly. This system incorporates all modes of transport including bus, rail and ferry. The first multi-modal smart card system of its kind in Hong Kong. Since the roll out of the Hong Kong system in September 1997, 2.5 million smart card transactions per day have taken place. Over four million cards have been issued with a further 3.6 million still being rolled out. The system is able to handle up to 10 million transactions per day across all modes of public transport.

The smart cards (known as the CEPAS system) can be used across six transport operators which have joined together in a joint venture called Creative Star Limited. The joint venture includes the Light Rail Transit Authority, Metro Rail Transit Corporation, the Philippine National Railways, bus companies and shipping lines.

The flexibility of the system including the central clearing house means that the card can also operate in applications outside transport such as parking, retail and telecommunications. The scope of the system is already being expanded into applications such as pay telephones and photo booths - a world first for automated transit fare collection systems. AES Prodata is responsible for the design, build, operation, maintenance and financing of automated fare collection and card based systems for public transport, ranging from simple fareboxes to advanced multi-modal smart card based ticketing systems. The Philippine system is recognized internationally as one of the most advanced smart card systems in the world, having won the 1998 Sesames Award for best smart card application at Cartes 98.

The CEPAS card was introduced for fare payment on the LRT-MRT and PNR initially, but the use of the card quickly expanded to other retail businesses in the Philippines. The card is now commonly used in most, if not all, major public transport, fast food restaurants, supermarkets, vending machines, convenient stores, photo booths, parking meters, car parks and many other retails business where small payment are frequently made by customers.

Notable businesses that started accepting CEPAS cards at the very early stage include:

Ang Misa ng Sambayanan (Misa sa Filipino, Mass in English, Misa sa Sinugboanon), Mga Awiting Filipino, English Songs, Mga Awit sa Sinugboanon, Adbiento, Pasko (Filipino), Advent, Christmas, Pasko (Sinugboanon), Traditional

Price: PHP225.00

Bayan Umawit is a praise book, with the line up of songs updated and expanded to include liturgical songs released by the Jesuit Music Ministry since 1991, including many new Mass responses composed by Fr. Manoling Francisco, SJ and Fr. Arnel dC. Aquino, SJ. An added feature is that all the songs by Filipino Jesuits that have been recorded or published in musical score books are identified. Accompanying the lyrics and chords of every such song is the information as to which musical album contains the recorded version of the song. This will hopefully serve as an aid for individuals and choirs to learn new songs.

The 18th Birthday of Nene played by Erich Gonzales and the death of John Joseph "Jojo" Wenceslao in the 2013 Movie Version of Katorse, both scenes in the 2009 TV series.

When Arcangel refused, he get mad.

At this point, Wenceslao (Enchong Dee) was shot three times in the left side of his chest.

Naalala ba ang eksenang ito? (from the 2009 TV series)

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Jojo: Pare anong problema mo?

Gabby: Huwag na huwag mo akong matawag na pare dahil hindi kita kaibigan. Ikaw ang salot sa buhay ko.

Jojo: Eh tanga ka pala. Kung salot ako sa buhay mo bakit mo ako inimbata? Anong ginagawa ko sa'yo?

Gabby: Inagaw mo sa akin si Nene!

Jojo: Binigay mo sa akin si Nene!

Gabby: Dahil sa'yo kung bakit hindi nya ako kayang mahalin!

Jojo: Dahil sa'yo kaya hindi kanya kayang mahalin!

Gabby: Ano bang meron ka na wala ako ha?

Jojo: Ano bang meron ako na wala ka?

Gabby: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene kung bakit hindi ka nya makalimutan?

Jojo: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene at hindi ka nya kayang mahalin? Sukang suka sya sa'yo na hindi ka nya kayang pakasalan!

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

CONSISTENT, TOP-RATING TELEVISION SHOWS, A multi-million peso hit movies, a string of big endorsements, a handful of upcoming projects that are surely as huge, a legion of die-hard fans and a wonderful family life; just some of the best reasons why today's it-boy Kapamilya heartthrob Enchong Dee should be celebrating, palanggas.

And that's exactly what happened last November 14, 2010 at The Commissary and Whitespace Events Hall in Makati City when he gathered friends and colleagues for a special moment of thanksgiving and celebration for all the wonderful things and opportunities he's been blessed with through- out the year. The young actor's birthday party proved to be a perfect break from an incredibly hectic schedule after a one-week vacation in Paris, France he turned 22 on November 5 and a relaxing time to hang out with friends who have stood by him as he made his every dream happen.

Some of the personalities with the birthday boy were ABS-CBN Star Magic's Mariole Alberto, vice president for ABS-CBN International Leo Katigbak, actors and friends Zanjoe Marudo, Janus Del Prado, Sam Concepcion, Rodjun Cruz, David Chua and Joseph Marco among others. The popular leading gorgeous leading ladies actresses Bea Alonzo, Melissa Ricks, Bianca Manalo, comedians Kit-Kat and Vice Ganda, model Phoemela Baranda and hair stylist Liz Uy were also there to make the night even more special.

Guests were refreshed non-stop by Hennessy, the perfect blend of a venerable cognac and the zing of fruity flavors.

A prized talent of ABS-CBN Star Magic, Enchong was discovered as a champion swimmer for the De La Salle University where he was a three-time most valuable player and seven-time swimming gold medalist in the men's swimming division of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP). He started out appearing in supporting roles in various TV dramas which eventually led him to becoming a sought-after endorser for various brands. Enchong endorses some of the country's most reputable brands such as Bench, Timex, Speedo, Adidas, Coca-Cola, Real Leaf Green Tea, Lucky Me, Jollibee and Convergys.

It wasn't until the primetime soap Katorse that he was "accidentally" paired up with Erich Gonzales, Ejay Falcon and Xian Lim and they clicked as a love team. A string of bigger projects followed such as Tanging Yaman, a political drama launched prior to the May 2010 Philippine automated national elections with Gonzales, Falcon, Matt Evans, Melissa Ricks and Magkaribal, dubbed a "fashion-serye" with Bea Alonzo, Derek Ramsay, Angel Aquino and Gretchen Barretto.

His Star Cinema movie I Do, which he starred in with Erich has also garnered good praise from critics and was notably a blockbuster hit. He will soon be hitting the boob tube once again in an late-afternoon youth and kiddie-oriented variety entertainment show entitled Shout-Out directed by his father in the showbiz, Johnny "Mr. M." Manahan.

It was really a time to throw all our inhibitions away and bring out that playful vibe in us, palanggas, but not before Enchong blew out the candles on his cake for another great, successful and totally happy year. And brought out as everybody sang "Happy Birthday" to greet Enchong, palanggas.

Star ng Pasko.

Performed by: ABS-CBN Artists

Kung kailan pinakamadilim
Ang mga tala ay mas nagniningning
Gaano man kakapal ang ulap
Sa likod nito ay may liwanag

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Tayo ang ilaw sa madilim na daan
Pagkakapit bisig ngayon higgitan
Dumaan man sa malakas na alon
Lahat tayo's makakaahon

Ang liwanag na ito
Nasa 'ting lahat
Mas sinag ang bawat pusong bukas
Sa init ng mga yakap
Maghihilom ang lahat ng sugat

Ang nagsindi nitong ilaw
Walang iba kundi ikaw

Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

Kikislap ang pag-asa
Kahit kanino man
Dahil ikaw Bro, dahil ikaw Bro
Dahil ikaw Bro
Ang star ng pasko

Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko
Salamat sa liwanag mo
Muling magkakakulay ang pasko

For Matteo Guidicelli, life is a race.

"I started racing when I was 11," said Matteo who turned 18 last March 26 (Aries), and he has been winning awards since then, including from the 2002 Philippine Cadet 85 Class (champion); 2003 Asian Championships, ICA Jr. (first runner-up); 2004 Philippine Open Class and 2004 Philippine Rotax Max Jr. (champion in both); 2005 ICA Superkart Series Championship (first runner-up); and 2006 Philippine 125 Open (champion). Those are just veryfew of the races Matteo has competed in.

Of mixed parentage (his father, Gianluca Guidicelli, is Italian; and his mother, Glenna Fernan, is Filipino; former Chief Justice Marcelo Fernan was Matteo's lolo, brother of his grandfather), Gianmatteo Vittorio Fernan Guidicelli was born in Cebu, one of three siblings. He has spent extended vacations in Italy where he also competed in races.

"I started racing in Cebu where I also finished primary school and started high school (at Cebu International School)," added Matteo who's also racing his way to showbiz stardom (introduced in the ABS-CBN sport show Go Kada Go! and then in Kung Fu Kids; now cast in the ABS-CBN Roxanne Guinoo-topbilled soap Ligaw na Bulaklak). "I first tried it in Italy when I was there for a vacation. When I came home to Cebu, my titos called me, saying, 'Matteo, we are building a go-cart track here.' I told my father, 'Can I try?' He said yes. Soon, my dad bought a go-cart for me and that started me off on the tracks."

Now enrolled at the Brentville International School (in Mamplasan, Laguna), Matteo has also appeared in commercials (for Zed, Penshoppe, Petron, Smart, Gift Gate Swatch, Pepsi and Animax). In school, he acted in musicals (playing the lead role in Pippin where he sang almost 10 songs "live" for three consecutive nights).

Female Tigersharks now four-time champions

By Ana Mae G. Roa

LOS BAÑOS, Laguna - Carve four on the UAAP shore.

Employing the same grit and passion that fueled their "three-peat" championship romp last season, the UST Female Tigersharks again made fish-food out of the opposition to capture their fourth straight swimming title even as their male counterparts mustered another bridesmaid finish last September 20-23 at the state-of-the-art Trace Aquatic Complex.

The España-based female tankers swam to supremacy anew with two golds, 10 silvers and 10 bronzes for a neat 224.50 point-finish, comfortably ahead of Ateneo de Manila's 180.50 points and the University of the Philippines' (UP) 162 points.

The Female Tigersharks got a head start in the first two days of battle, churning out 97 points for a six-point advantage against Ateneo de Manila University.

"The women's team is a complete package. Most of them can score and contribute," coach Cyrus Alcantara told the Varsitarian.

Sophomore Liane Marquez spearheaded the Female Tigersharks' blitz, fishing out the gold in the 100-meter butterfly at 1:08.70, on top of four silvers in the 200-meter individual medley (2:35.18), 50-meter butterfly (00:31.06), 50-meter backstroke (00:32.55), and 100-meter backstroke (1:09.90). Marquez won the bronze in the 200-meter backstroke at 2:38.13.

Echoing Marquez's sterling feat was Season 68 Rookie of the Year and old reliable Josephine Pilapil, who took the gold in the 200-meter breaststroke (2:54.25), coupled with two silvers in the 50-meter breaststroke (00:37.00) and 100-meter breaststroke (1:21.38) and three bronze in the 200-meter IM (2:37.53), 50-meter freestyle (00:29.18) and 200-meter freestyle (2:20.16).

Newcomer Marvie Borja also figured in UST's medal drive, reaping two silvers in the 100-meter (1:10.17) and 200-meter (2:33.25) butterfly events, and a bronze in the 400-meter individual medley (5:35.99), to clinch the Rookie of the Year award. Meanwhile, sophomore Edzen Dinglasan notched a silver in the 200-meter breaststroke (2:57.32) and a bronze in the 100-meter breaststroke (1:21.64), while veteran Apryl Herrera pocketed a bronze in the 100-meter butterfly (1:10.63).

UST also got a silver in the 800-meter freestyle relay, clocking 10:24.26, and three bronzes in the 200-meter freestyle relay (2:05.42), 200-meter medley relay (2:19.09) and 100-meter medley relay (5:16.08).
Last-minute chase

In the final day of competition, the Tigersharks managed to bag four golds, five silvers, and five bronzes for a 192-point aggregate but still remained at the mercy of arch-rival UP, which again ruled the men's side with 204 points. Comebacking De La Salle University bannered by Season 70 Most MVP Enchong Dee ended up third with 189 points.

"They (Male Tigersharks) strived to contribute whatever they can to retain their position after a sluggish start in the tournament but things could have been better," said Alcantara.

Miguel Carandang led UST with two golds in the 50-meter (00:31.75) and 100-meter breaststroke (1:09.97) while backstopping teammate Francis Villagante's golden effort of 2:29.19 in the 200-meter breaststroke with a bronze (2:34.14).

Villagante also collared a pair of bronzes in the 100-meter breaststroke (1:10.75) and 400-meter IM (5:05.02). Ahli Frigillana added a silver in the 1500-meter freestyle (18:12.28) and two bronzes in the 800-meter freestyle (9:32.28) and 200-meter butterfly (2:17.28).

Villagante then conspired with Daniel Joves, Geeno Galac and Edwardson Garcia to snare the gold in the 200-meter freestyle relay via a new UAAP record of 1:43.89. UST then underscored its might in the team category with silver-medal finishes in the 200-meter medley relay (1:56.03), 800-meter freestyle relay (8:57.20), 400-meter freestyle relay (3:56.83) and 400-meter medley relay (4:20.11).

On the other hand, the UST high school team placed second in both the boys' and girls' division with 170 and 217 points, respectively. With reports from Alphonsus Luigi E. Alfonso

In today's local TV scenario, it would seem like there are only two television networks: ABS-CBN and GMA 7. The competition between Channels 2 and 7, you see, is so intense, the public tends to forget that there are other commercial TV stations.

While I'm just so glad to be part of one of the two big networks (GMA 7, of course), I worry that the current scenario is not very healthy for the television industry. Neither is the situation good for the viewers (especially those who do not subscribe to cable) because this limits their TV viewing choices.

We should thus look forward to Tonyboy Cojuangco's takeover of ABC 5 late this year and wish the station all the luck because there really is room for more.

At the moment, standing at no. 3 position is RPN 9. Channel 9 actually had its years of glory at the height of Martial Law. (It was the only network that wasn't shut down by Marcos during the imposition of P.D. 1081).

RPN 9 in the '70s was the No. 1 network and had both canned and local programs: Superstar, Ang Makulay na Daigdig ni Nora, Vilma Santos' 'Yan, Eh John & Marsha, What's New, JQ?, Sunday Suspense Theater, Vegas, Six Million Dollar Man, The Bionic Woman, etc. (In May 1982, it was the first local network to go Domsat – launched in Eat Bulaga.)

After EDSA 1, however, the network was sequestered by the government and in a matter of years, its position weakened in the television industry. The good thing about RPN 9 is that it never reached gutter level and always tries to put up a good fight from time to time. (Remember when Marimar clobbered TV Patrol in the ratings game in 1996?)

At the moment, RPN 9 is home to many special events like the Gawad Urian, the Star Awards and even the Oscars.

The top-rating TV Patrol transforms into the top-rating TV Patrol World, with Julius Babao still as anchor, adding Karen Davila and Ted Failon with co-anchor Nina Corpuz (whom Marie Lozano and new recruit Phoemela Barranda replaces). Henry Omega Diaz and Ces Drilon still act as anchors to the weekend editions of TV Patrol World. Bernadette Sembrano replaces Ces, who becomes the co-anchor of Atty. Dong Puno in Insider in 2005.

What's currently inside our pinoy tv landscape?

Korean dramas, for one. They have supplanted their Taiwanese predecessors, and have been more present. Endless Love (has there been 2 or three seasons?), Lavender, and the current hit Lovers in Paris, to name a few.

Game shows are..back? Pilipinas, Game KNB is back. Kris Aquino is still in the driver's seat, but the timeslot has been shifted to noontime. This will be followed by the soon to be launched Wowowie, to be hosted by former ABS-CBN persona non grata Willie Revillame, who returned to the fold after he reportedly further boosted Extra Challenge's ratings when he guested there.

Speaking of Wowowie, looks like ABS-CBN has given up on fighting Eat Bulaga headon. The Eat Bulaga phenomenon is really hard to beat, and perhaps even hard to explain. It has the same raucous jokes, sexy girls parading, games, and whatnot, that all other noontime shows have, and yet the combination of the hosts and how they handle the segments maybe make all the difference. For whatever the reason, Eat Bulaga has been reigning supreme on the noontime slot for 25 years now, and sees no signs of fading.

TV Patrol World. After years of topping the ratings for news with TV Patrol, this has apparently been displaced by Mike Enriquez's and Mel Tiangco's 24 Oras. Korina Sanchez was kicked out, and replaced by Karen Davila, Ted Failon, and Julius Babao. I still don't like their manner of reportage, wish we could be more BBC like. No need to shout, folks. Anyhoo, they claim to be more worldwide, has a Citizen Patrol segment, and a Ronda Patrol segment, where reporters get the news of whatever happens to the police beat they joined. Not really finding the news inasmuch as just getting what happens to be there. Still too much focus on sensationalizing crimes, in my opinion.

Fantaseryes. ABS-CBN is totally affected by the success of GMA-7's Mulawin, and have come up with another flying hero in the person of Judy Ann Santos as Krystala. Meanwhile, Claudine Barretto's Marina has already wrapped up.

Star search reality programs. Starstruck and Star Circle Quest are looking for teen stars..they don't necessarily have talent, but for some reason, fans like 'em, so the networks will keep 'em coming. We've already gotten survivors, avengers, questors, Final Four, Fab Five times two as those shows are already in their second show. More talent-oriented are shows like Pinoy Pop Superstar (a reincarnation of Search for a Star and Star for a Night. Footnote: Regine's show's title seems to change annually. Under what name will it come out next season, I wonder?), Star in a Million, Born Diva.

Bago nag-file ng kanilang candidacy last Saturday (10 a. m.) sa Comelec ang Liberal Party sa pangunguna nina Sen. Noyoy Aquino na tatakbong presidente sa darating na May, 2010 elections at Sen. Mar Roxas for vice president naman, dumalo muna sila ng Mass sa Manila Cathedral kasama ang kani-kanilang pamilya at 9 a. m.

Naging maningning ang umaga dahil sa pagdalo ng ilan sa malalaking supporters ng dalawa tulad nina Batangas Governor Vilma Santos (with husband former Sen. Ralph Recto na kasama rin sa line-up ng Liberal Party), Kim Chiu, Erich Gonzales, Coco Martin, Enchong Dee, Gretchen Barretto, Lucy Torres-Gomez, Cesar Montano, Mother Lily Monteverde, Marian Rivera and Dingdong Dantes.

Of course, present din ang girlfriend ni Sen. Noyoy na si Shalani Soledad at kasama siya hanggang sa filing sa Comelec.

Lian Las Pinas

Katuwa si Kris Aquino sa filing of candidacy ni Sen. Noynoy Aquino. Tinawag nito sa stage ang GF ng kapatid para raw matapos na ang tsismis na 'di niya ito gusto para sa kapatid. Sa harap ng supporters nina Sen. Noynoy at Sen. Mar Roxas, pinag-promise nito si Shalani Soledad na aalagaan si Sen. Noynoy at nang mangako si Shalani, sabi ni Kris, "I will love you forever. " Ha-ha-ha!

Masaya ang filing of candidacy nina Sen. Noynoy at Sen. Mar sa Comelec dahil present si Gov. Vilma Santos bilang suporta sa husband niyang si Ralph Recto na kakandidatong senador sa Liberal Party. Bumuhos din ang suporta ng mga showbiz personalities like Marian Rivera, Dingdong Dantes, Gretchen Barretto, Lucy Torres-Gomez, Mother Lily Monteverde, Coco Martin, Erich Gonzales, Kim Chiu at Enchong Dee.

Tuluy-tuloy pala ang taping ni Kris ng Kung Tayo'y Magkakalayo dahil gustong kundi sa January 25, 2010 ang airing na birthday ng inang si Mrs. Cory Aquino ay before her birthday sa February 14 ang pilot ng bago niyang soap para birthday gift niya sa kanyang fans.

WRITTEN IN THE SAND

The Philippine Millennium Anthem

(Music: Danny Tan/ Lyrics: Sicam Caballa)

Regine Velasquez

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

The love that's in your heart
As child of God and Man
Will burn and light your way until the end
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's home for you and me

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began

The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's still for you and me

Nations rise up and cheer
We are bound by what we give to one another
Reaching out too far and near
In a world of love that brings us all together here
This great new year

You hold within your hands
The future of our lives
The light that takes you there beyond the bend
It's written in the sand, where the past had all began
The tomorrow is here within your hand

You must hold on and dream of a place that is safe and peacefull and free
Through a thousand years and more let it be
A bright new world that shine, with love for humanity
A world that's home for you
A world that's home for you
A world that's home for you and me yeah..
and me.....

Pledging to fight corruption and claiming to see victory at hand, frontrunner Sen. Benigno Aquino III on Saturday formally registered his candidacy in the 2010 election in a star-studded event worthy of any staged by the most popular movie star candidates.

Aquino and his running mate, Sen. Manuel Roxas III, led the Liberal Party (LP) senatorial slate in filing their candidacy papers at the Commission on Elections (Comelec) office in Intramuros, accompanied by the country's most luminous movie and television stars.

Aquino's television host sister, Kris, led the group of entertainers that included Boy Abunda, Cesar Montano, Gretchen Barreto, Lucy Torres-Gomez, Mother Lily Monteverde, Dingdong Dantes, Marian Rivera, Kim Chiu, Enchong Dee, Erich Gonzales and indie film star Coco Martin.

A festive proclamation rally at the Plaza Roma fronting the Comelec offices preceded the formal filing, attended by about a thousand supporters who, like Aquino, were clad in the trademark yellow campaign colors of his mother, the late President Cory Aquino.

An exuberant Roxas, the party president, introduced Aquino by belting out a line from the popular pop song, "Nobody."

"Nobody, nobody, nobody, but you! Who is in our hearts—Noynoynoynoy!" Roxas shouted, to cheers from the crowd.

Setting aside a prepared speech, Aquino spoke to his adoring audience in Filipino.

"As long as the people are behind us, we can solve whatever problems we have. It's only a matter of months before we achieve victory. I'm sure our crusade will continue and will succeed ... because all of you are here," he said.

Déjà vu: Mons magic is alive

IT was a highly charged moment in time made more dramatic by leaden skies and intermittent rains.

Déjà vu ran rampant, with yellow confetti, interspersed with white and red, swirling down from the windows of high-rise buildings.

But for the names mentioned in the speeches and splashed on the placards and streamers, the pro-democracy rally yesterday (November 5) on Ayala Avenue and Makati Avenue simultaneously with the 22nd birthday of young actor-swimmer Enchong Dee in Paris on the same day on vacation together with his group, composed of friends and manager Keren Pascual.

Makati's and mighty and Manila's well-heeled mingled with the urban poor. Priests serving as marshals, nuns, office workers, students, housewives and their children, politicians, activists, farmers, journalists, human rights lawyers, the disabled from the Tahanang Walang Hagdan, reproductive health bill, gay and feminine activists, socialites, ramp and TV commercial and print models, hair and make-up artists and fashion designers as participants.

Twenty-four years after the toppling of the dictatorship, the "Mons magic" was resurgent. The color yellow--on T-shirts, caps, umbrellas, arm- and headbands, banners and streamers--dominated the scene.

When, at 12:10 p.m., The Philippine Star columnist Mons Romulo-Tantoco and Philippine Tatler magazine editor-in-chief Anton San Diego emerged from the corner of Herrera Street to march toward the makeshift stage, rally participants and Makati employees looking out of their office windows erupted into cheers: "Mons! Mons! Mons!"

Romulo-Tantoco, 56 and San Diego, 49, acknowledged the cheers by flashing their trademark "L" sign, which stood for the opposition party Laban that ran against the strongman Ferdinand Marcos' monolithic Kilusang Bagong Lipunan in the 1985 snap election.

Bidders for LRT-MRT central station sought

By: Paolo G. Montecillo

Philippine Daily Inquirer 11:57 pm | Sunday, June 5th, 2011

The Department of Transportation and Communications (DoTC) has called on interested firms to compete for the contract to build the "grand central station," which will connect the Light Rail Transit (LRT) line 1 and the Metro Rail Transit (MRT) line.

The common station, estimated to cost P1.5 billion, will be the last part of the "closing the loop" project that aims to turn the two separate train lines into one integrated system.

The DoTC on June 2 published an invitation for companies to submit "expressions of interest" in taking on the project. Companies were also asked to submit applications for eligibility to join the bidding for the contract.

"The project is located along the LRT line 1 North Extension Project near the intersection of North Avenue and West Avenue, Quezon City," the DoTC said. This will be right in front of SM North EDSA, the biggest mall in the country.

The department said it wants the project completed in about a year.

The DoTC said prospective bidders should have completed a similar project that is at least half the size and cost of the common station to be eligible to join the auction.

"Procurement of the required services shall be conducted through open competitive bidding," the DoTC said. Companies are given until June 15 to submit expressions of interest.

The common station will also be used as the first station in the planned MRT line 7 that will stretch all the way to Bulacan.

The first phase of the LRT North Extension, which was the construction of train tracks from Monumento to North Avenue, was completed in February last year.

Two new stations-Balintawak and Roosevelt-were opened later in the year, leaving the common station as the missing piece.

The Philippines has deferred construction of a grand central terminal that will connect the capital's three train systems.

The deferral was made after Vice President Jejomar "Jojo" Binay who is also chairman of the National Housing Agency (NHA), proposed to locate the facility at the vacant NHA property beside Trinoma, Socioeconomic Planning Secretary Arsenio Balisacan said.

Before de Castro's proposal, the terminal – called the Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal (MMIRT) – was originally planned to be put up at the Annex 2 of SM City North EDSA mall in Quezon City.

Trinoma is a Quezon City mall owned and managed by Ayala Land Inc., the Philippines' largest real estate company.

Meanwhile, the SM City Annex is owned and operated by SM Prime Holdings, Inc., controlled by the Sy family, the Philippines' richest family.

"I think it is the most pragmatic location for the Central Terminal. But of course, the DOTC will have to decide on it," said Recto, who is also National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA) director general.

Recto made this remark after meeting with Ayala Land president Antonino Aquino.

The DOTC had originally designed the grand central terminal, which will connect MRT 3, MRT 7 and the LRT North Extension, to be located in front of SM City.

The facility, which may cost P1.5 billion, will connect MRT 3, which runs from Pasay to Quezon City; LRT 1, which stretches from Monumento to Baclaran; and MRT 7, which will span Commonwealth Avenue to Bulacan.

LRT1 and MRT 3 will soon be connected, allowing commuters to travel from Pasay to Caloocan City.

Since SM is expected to benefit by locating the terminal within its mall, the government has hoped it will pay for at least half of the facility's construction costs.

The SM Group has yet to issue a decision about the matter.

Like the SM Group, Ayala Land has yet to indicate if it is willing to spend for a portion of the project, Recto said.

"Government will be looking at the alternative location because it's near both Trinoma and SM. It will satisfy both malls and be profitable for the NHA. In the end, you'll have a better grand central terminal," Recto said.

But NEDA sources said that changing the facility's original location would require more time which the project does not have.

If approved, the change would delay the project by another two to four months.

No official estimate of the additional cost is available, the NEDA official added.

As the number of dengue cases in the country continues to increase, actor Enchong Dee did his part to help and donated blood to the Department of Health on Tuesday.

In an interview with ABS-CBN News, Dee said he understands the hardship the patients are going through because he already had dengue twice.

"Twice parehong August 15. Since feeling ko naman healthy ako this year at hindi ako magkaka-dengue, mag-give back naman ako ng kaunti para pagbigyan ako ni Lord na huwag ako magkasakit this year," he said.

Dee said this is his own little way of helping those who caught the illness.

"Pataas ng pataas ang incidents ng dengue victims so ito, small something for them," he said.

According to Dr. Andres Bonifacio of the Philippine Blood Center, the country needs around 900,000 blood donors because of rising number of dengue cases.

"Since ang shelf life ng ating collected blood doon is only 35 days. Therefore, we need to get involved and therefore we have to be a regular donor," he said.

Dee has called on his fellow actors and actresses to also donate blood.

Dee is part of the cast of ABS-CBN primetime drama series Maria La Del Barrio \(ABS-CBN\).

YOUNG BLOOD

The Department of Health commends young matinee actor Enchong Dee for donating blood last August 16, 2011 at the DOH Central office in Sta. Cruz, Manila. Dee made the move in response to the recent call of the Philippine Red Cross for more blood donors as this is a big help to those needing blood like in cases of dengue hemorrhagic fever, although not all dengue cases require blood transfusion.

Health Secretary Enrique T. Ona stressed that donating blood is healthy and appreciated the move of Dee to encourage volunteerism among the youth.

Dee is part of the cast of ABS-CBN primetime drama series Maria La Del Barrio \(ABS-CBN\).

Kung Ako Ba Siya
Written by Arnold Reyes

Sung by Piolo Pascual

Matagal ko nang itinatago
Mga ngiti sa munti kong puso
Batid kong alam mo nang umiibig sa 'yo.
Bakit hindi mo pansin itong aking pagtingin
Ba't di mo ramdam ang tibok nitong dibdib
Kaibigan lang pala ang tingin mo sa akin.

Kung ako ba siya, mapapansin mo?
Kung ako ba siya, mamahalin mo?
Ano bang mayro'n siya na wala ako?
Kung ako ba siya, iibigin mo?
HmMMM....

Masakit ko mang isipin
Mahirap mang tanggapin sa damdamin
Pag-ibig mo pala'y hindi sa akin.
Ngunit anong gagawin ng puso
Sa 'yo lang ibinigay ang pangako
Patuloy nga namang aasa sa 'yo, sinta..

Kung ako ba siya, mapapansin mo?
Kung ako ba siya, mamahalin mo?
Ano bang mayro'n siya na wala ako?
Kung ako ba siya, iibigin mo?

Ikaw lamang ang inibig nang ganito
Sabihin mo kung paano lalayo sa 'yo.

Kung ako ba siya, ooohhh
Kung ako ba siya, mamahalin mo?
Ano bang mayro'n siya na wala ako?
Kung ako ba siya, kung ako ba siya...
oohhhhh oooooohhhh

iibigin mo....

Love Has Come My Way
Music and Lyrics by Leo Quinito
Written by Heart Evangelista

The sun is down it's a gloomy day
My hair is ugly and it looks like hay
I feel so lousy, I could fade away
But its ok
Because Love has come my way

My pretty dress won't fit to my dismay

And all I wanna do is sing and play
I'm super lazy, need some brewed
Caffee. But It's ok
Because love has come my way

Chorus:

Love, love has come my way
Everything is gonna be ok
And it will always be a happy day
Because love has come my way

All my fears and troubles fly away
When I think this love is here to stay
And you may say this is just an cliché, sure it's ok
Because love has come my way

(Repeat Chorus)

I just know we'll never go astray
I'm sure until the day our hair turns gray
Life will be as pretty as a bouquet
That's the love true love that came my way

Coda:

Love, love has come my way
Everything is gonna be ok
And it will always be a happy day
Because love has come my way

(Repeat 4x til fade)

OUR beloved Chairman, Don Emilio T. Yap, who is remarkably healthy for his age and looks like one in his seventies, continues to take an active part in overseeing various business interests, all of which are all in the Philippines as he does not like to invest in other country.

He began his business career in 1942, or 70 years ago. In 1961, he invested in the Manila Bulletin. On July 11, 1984, he was unanimously elected Chairman of the Board. Under his Chairmanship, the Corporation started to make Substantial Profits, gave Cash and Stock Dividends to its Stockholders, and granted Additional Benefits and Bonuses to Offices and Employees. At the same time, the government realized Greater Tax Revenues.

When he assumed the Chairmanship, he waived his Director's Fees for distribution equally to all the Officers and Employees. When the Manila Bulletin went public on April 18, 1990, he waived his Annual Director's Fees in favor of the Corporation for the benefit of all the Stockholders.

Since the 1990's, he has led numerous Humanitarian Activities in response to the needs of his countrymen who were victims of Natural Calamities.

In 1992, our Chairman, as a symbol of his concern and care for newspapermen and newspaperwomen, constructed and today maintains a four-story Medical Building on the National Press Club of the Philippines (NPC) premises which houses a Medical Clinic with a Doctor and a Dentist at his own expense for the benefit of the NPC Members.

In 2000, when he reached the age of 75, he started to forego his Birthday Celebrations and instead donated to various Charitable Causes. Thus, instead of celebrating his 75th Birthday on September 24, 2000, he gave a personal donation to launch a fund drive for the Mindanao Peace and Development Program to help our Muslim brothers and sisters, and other donations to Pangasinan and Pampanga Flood Victims.

In 2001, he dispensed with his 76th Birthday Celebration and instead donated to five US charitable institutions, namely, the American Red Cross, the Federal Employee Education and Assistance Fund, the New York State World Trade Center Relief Fund, the United Way, and the Salvation Army, and to the Philippine Embassy in Washington, DC, to help the American, Filipino, and other unfortunate victims of the New York World Trade Center and Pentagon Tragedy in the United States of America.

In 2002, in lieu of his 77th Birthday Celebration, he donated to the Department of Social Welfare and Development Sagip Kalinga, to help rescue street dwellers and streetchildren and to help fund the Bagong Buhay Rehabilitation Center to help rehabilitate drug dependents and rugby sniffers.

In 2003, on his 78th Birth Anniversary, he donated his Social Security System Retirement Benefits through the President of the Republic of the Philippines for the benefit of our people.

In 2004, instead of celebrating his 79th Birthday, he donated to the Armed Forces of the Philippines Provident Trust Fund to help sons and daughters of disabled and deceased soldiers, and to the Philippine National Police Karangalan ng mga Alagad ng Batas Foundation to help improve the quality of life of policemen and their dependents.

In 2005, on the occasion of his 80th Birthday, he again decided to forgo his Birthday Celebration and instead announced he would undertake to construct a ten-story Filipino-motif nipa hut-style concrete building as the National Press Club of the Philippines International Center, to be erected at the National Press Club premises beside Jones Bridge, Manila, for housing local and foreign wire services under one roof for the convenience of all concerned, which would also help provide monthly rental income for the NPC, with a gym on the tenth floor, subject to the approval of its Land Owners and Government Authorities.

In 2006, on his 81st Birthday, Chairman Don Emilio T. Yap, instead of celebrating his birthday, donated One Million Pesos to Caritas Manila to help its scholarship program and presented the donation to the Minister for Social Services and Development of the Archdiocese of Manila.

In 2007, in lieu of celebrating his 82nd Birthday, he donated Two Million Pesos to the Philippine Red Cross to help calamity victims and to the National Federation of Women's Clubs Foundation, Inc., to help their charitable projects.

On September 24, 2008, on the occasion of his 83rd Birthday, he donated Three Million Pesos to the Philippine Red Cross, the Department of Social Welfare and Development, and the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines to help Mindanao calamity victims.

On September 24, 2009, on the occasion of his 84th Birthday, he decided to forego his Birthday Celebration and instead donated Five Million Pesos to charitable causes One Million Pesos each to the Philippine Red Cross, the Department of Social Welfare and Development, the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines, Caritas Manila, and the City of Manila.

On September 24, 2011, on the occasion of his 86th Birthday, he decided to forego his Birthday Celebration and instead donated Five Million Pesos to charitable causes One Million Pesos each to the Philippine Red Cross, the Department of Social Welfare and Development, the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines, Caritas Manila, and the City of Manila.

On September 24, 2012, on the occasion of his 87th Birthday, he decided to forego his Birthday Celebration and donated Five Million Pesos to Republic of the Philippines to help Filipino calamity victims. More than its business success, under his Chairmanship, Chairman Yap takes justifiable pride in the public service that the Manila Bulletin provides.

His vision in life is to help contribute his modest share to the social and economic development of our country. He looks forward to a prosperous Philippines where employment will be possible for all in our own country, so that Filipino men and women will not have to be employed as overseas workers away from their love ones at homes, and Filipino women do not have to work abroad away from their home, but they can stay home in our own country as united and harmonious families.

Our Chairman, who spent more than half of his lifetime with this newspaper, looks forward to his senior years as a vigilant patriot for responsible and affirmative action and as a generous supporter of praiseworthy causes, especially in the alleviation of those who have suffered from natural calamities and disasters.

In all the Corporations he holds with controlling interest, Chairman Yap was consistent in extending the same acts of liberality and generosity to the needy.

His achievements have been recognized through over 414 Awards and Citations and over 1,200 pictures of his meetings with leaders of Governmental, Professional, and Civic Organizations, including those given by Philippine Presidents, and 22 Honorary Doctoral Degrees from Distinguished Universities in the Philippines, which all came as a pleasant surprise.

We join the family, friends, admirers, and supporters of our beloved Chairman Don Emilio T. Yap, who marks his 87th Birth Anniversary on this happy day.

We wish you, Mr. Chairman, continuing blessings on your Endeavors and Length of Years. AD MULTOS ANNOS.

The 18th Birthday of Nene played by Erich Gonzales and the death of John Joseph "Jojo" Wenceslao in the 2013 Movie Version of Katorse, both scenes in the 2009 TV series.

When Arcangel refused, he get mad.

At this point, John Joseph Wenceslao (Enchong Dee) was shot three times in the left side of his chest.

Scenes from the December 2, 2009 episode of Katorse (Killing scenes between Gabby played by Ejay Falcon and Jojo Wenceslao (played by Enchong Dee)

Jojo: GABBY, halos buong highschool mag bestfriend tayo. Kasama kita sa katarantaduhan, away saka saya hindi kita iniwan.. Ginawa mo kong babysitter ng anak mo, pero hindi ako nagreklamo. Nung malalaman mong mamatay ka na, pinasa mo sa akin si Nene para maging malaya kayo ni marissa, at Dahil mahal ko si Nene, nang malaman mong hindi ka na mamatay so binawi mo siya sakin Tinraydor mo pa nga ako eh, Lumaban ako pero hindi ako nanalo, alam mo kung bakit? Dahil kahit anong gawin ko ikaw ang tatay ng anak niya. Gabby nakatali si Nene sayo. Dalawang taon. Dalawang taon ko kayong hindi inistorbo. Dalawang taon kayong magkasama. Gabby, bakit hindi ka niya minahal sa dalawang taon na iyon? Ngayon ako ba ang salot o ikaw?

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Jojo: Pare anong problema mo?

Gabby: Huwag na huwag mo akong matawag na pare dahil hindi kita kaibigan. Ikaw ang salot sa buhay ko.

Jojo: Eh tanga ka pala. Kung salot ako sa buhay mo bakit mo ako inimbata? Anong ginagawa ko sa'yo?

Gabby: Inagaw mo sa akin si Nene!

Jojo: Binigay mo sa akin si Nene!

Gabby: Dahil sa'yo kung bakit hindi nya ako kayang mahalin!

Jojo: Dahil sa'yo kaya hindi kanya kayang mahalin!

Gabby: Ano bang meron ka na wala ako ha?

Jojo: Ano bang meron ako na wala ka?

Gabby: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene kung bakit hindi ka nya makalimutan?

Jojo: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene at hindi ka nya kayang mahalin? Sukang suka sya sa'yo na hindi ka nya kayang pakasalan!

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Alam mo Kuya, suggestion ko collage ng mga pelikula na kinuha ang pamagat sa ating pambansang awit

Halos kumpleto iyan:

Bayang magiliw,

Perlas ng Silanganan

Alab ng puso

Sa dibdib mo'y buhay.

Lupang hinirang,

Duyan ka ng magiting
Sa manlulupig
Di ka pasisiil.

Sa dagat at bundok,
Sa simoy at sa langit mong bughaw
May dilag ang tula at awit
Sa paglayang minamahal.
Ang kislap ng watawat mo'y
Tagumpay na nagniningning
Ang bituin at araw niya
Kailan pa ma'y di magdidilim.

Lupa ng araw ng luwalhati't pagsinta
Buhay ay langit sa piling mo
Aming ligaya na pag may mang-aapi
Ang mamatay ng dahil sa 'yo.

KAY GANDA NG ATING MUSIKA

Magmula nung ako'y natutong umawit

Naging makulay ang aking munting daigdig

Tila ilog pala ang paghimig

Kung malalim damdami'y pag-ibig

Kung umapaw ang kaluluwa't tinig

Ay sadyang nanginginig

Magmula nung ako'y natutong umawit

Bawa't sandali'y aking pilit mabatid

Ang himig ng maituturing atin

Mapupuri pagka't bukod tanging

Di marami ang di magsasabing

Heto na, inyong dinggin

KORO:

Kay ganda ng ating musika

Kay ganda ng ating musika

Ito ay atin, sariling atin

At sa habang buhay awitin natin

Kay ganda ng ating musika

Kay ganda ng ating musika

Ito ay atin, sariling atin

Magmula nung ako'y natutong umawit

Nagkakulay muli ang aking paligid

Ngayong batid ko na ang umibig

Sa sariling tugtugin o himig

Sa isang makata'y maririnig

Mga titik nagsasabing

(Uliting ang Koro)

Father of Filipino Liturgical Music Eduardo P. Hontiveros, SJ, dies at 84

date posted: 2008-01-15 16:05:59

Fr. Eduardo P. Hontiveros, SJ, passed away on January 15, 2008, after the recurrence of a stroke. He was a well-loved professor and seminary formator as well as a prolific and multi-awarded author and composer of liturgical music.

Fr. Hontiveros was born on December 20, 1923 in Molo, Iloilo City. He was one of eight children born to Jose Hontiveros and Vicenta Pardo.

Fr. Honti, as he is fondly known, was educated at the Capiz Elementary School and the pre-war Ateneo de Manila in Padre Faura, graduating from high school in 1939. From 1939 to 1945 he was at San Jose Seminary. He entered the Society of Jesus after the war in 1945, pronouncing first vows at Sacred Heart Novitiate in Novaliches in June 1947. There he finished his studies in philosophy and then proceeded to Ateneo de Zamboanga for his three-year regency, teaching religion, Latin, and English, and moderating the Choir String Band. In 1951, he traveled to the United States to study theology, and was ordained in 1954 by Francis Cardinal Spellman. After earning a doctorate in theology from the Gregorian University in Rome, he returned to teach in the Philippines in 1958. He pronounced final vows in the Society of Jesus in 1960.

Fr. Honti had a long career as a theology professor and seminary formator for Jesuits and San Jose seminarians. He served in various capacities, including as Rector of San Jose Seminary and Dean of Loyola School of Theology. For more than thirty years until 1991 when a stroke seriously hampered his mobility and capacity to communicate, he was a fatherly figure to generations of Jesuit and Josefino seminarians.

But Fr. Honti is best known for his music. In 1965, as the Second Vatican Council ended and called for inculturation of the liturgy, Fr. Honti, whose family is musically inclined, was already composing Mass hymns in Tagalog. He asked the church choirs in Barangka, Marikina, and Pansol, both communities near the new Ateneo campus in Loyola Heights, to sing his songs, and he readily adjusted the notes if the choir found his compositions too difficult. Before long, he had composed a complete set of hymns for the Mass. Thus began Fr. Honti's love affair with heartfelt liturgical music. His songs spread to other parishes and by the 1970s, aided by a fresh wave of nationalism, his songs had become staple fare at Masses.

His name may not be familiar to all, but his music certainly is. He was not the only Filipino who experimented with sacred music in the vernacular starting in the 1960s, but he was certainly the most prolific, and most successful, if success is measured by the popularity of one's work. Over a period of twenty-five years, Fr. Honti composed hundreds of hymns, many of which with moving stories of ordinary people behind them. He has inspired younger generations of composers like Fr. Nemesio Que, Fr. Fruto Ramirez, Fr. Manoling Francisco, Fr. Arnel Aquino, and Fr. Jboy Gonzales. It is no exaggeration that Fr. Honti has been called the Father of Filipino Liturgical Music.

Today it is a testament to Fr. Honti's pioneering spirit that so many styles of church music are sung in our Masses and other gatherings. The choices can seem quite daunting, and it is never easy to select songs that various generations of churchgoers can follow, but play the opening notes of Fr. Honti's Pananagutan, or intone his Luwalhati, Santo, Kordero ng Diyos, or his Magnificat, and everyone can join in. That is the surest way to show that while his name may not ring a bell, his music does.

Fr. Honti's initiatives have been recognized with the Ateneo de Manila University's Tanglaw ng Lahi Award (1976), the Asian Catholic Publishers' "Outstanding Catholic Author" (1992), and the Papal award Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice (2000), among many other awards and citations. He suffered another major stroke in early January, and went home to the Lord on January 15.

Wake details

His wake is being held at the Oratory of St. Ignatius, Loyola House of Studies, Ateneo de Manila University, where daily masses will be held at 8:00 p.m. The funeral Mass is scheduled for Saturday, 19 January, 8:00 a.m. at the Church of the Gesu in Ateneo Loyola Heights campus. Interment will follow at the Sacred Heart Novitiate in Novaliches.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Loyola School of Theology, for the Eduardo P. Hontiveros, SJ, Professorial Chair.

PAPURI SA DIYOS

Papuri sa Diyos (3x) sa kaitaasan
At sa lupa'y kapayapaan (2x) sa mga taong kinalulugdan N'ya
Pinupuri Ka namin, dinarangal Ka namin
Sinasamba Ka namin ipinagbubunyi Ka namin
Pinasasalamatan Ka namin
Dahil sa dakila Mong angking kapurihan Panginoong Diyos hari ng langit
Diyos Amang makapangyarihan sa lahat

Panginoong Hesukristo, bugtong na Anak
Panginoong Diyos Kordero ng Diyos, Anak ng Ama
Papuri sa Diyos (2x) Papuri sa Diyos sa kaitaasan

Ikaw na nagaalis ng mga kasalanan ng sanlibutan
Maawa Ka (2x) sa amin
Ikaw na nag-aalis ng mga kasalanan ng sanlibutan
Tanggapin Mo ang aming kahilingan (2x)
Ikaw na naluluklok sa kanan ng Ama
maawa Ka (2x) sa amin

Papuri sa Diyos (2x) sa kaitaasan
Sapagkat Ikaw lamang ang banal at ang Kataastaasan
Ikaw lamang O Hesukristo ang Panginoon
Kasama ng Espiritu Santo sa kadakilaan
ng Diyos Ama. Amen (2x)
Papuri sa Diyos (3x) sa kaitaasan

Mahiwaga ang buhay ng tao
Ang bukas ay di natin piho
At manalig lagi sana tayo
Ang Diyos siyang pag-asa ng mundo

Pag-ibig sa ating kapwa tao
At laging magmahalan tayo
Iyan ang lunas at ligaya
At pag-asa ng bawa't kaluluwa

Iyan ang hiwaga ng buhay ng tao

SANA AY IKAW NA NGA (Recording by: Ms. Christiane Davide Ong)

Anong kailangan kong gawin

Upang malaman mo

Ikaw ay minamahal ko

Kailangan ko'y katulad mo

Sa buhay kong ito

Nag-iisa lang sa mundo

Dati'y nasaktan na 'ko

Takot nang magtiwala

Ayoko na sanang umibig pa

Ngunit ika'y ibang-iba

Sa lahat ng nakilala

Sana ay ikaw na nga

Anong kailangan kong gawin

Upang matigil na

Ang kabaliwan kong ito

Sumpa ko sa sarili'y

Hinding-hinding hindi na

Ngunit heto na naman ako

Hindi na papipigil pa

At di na paaawat

Sinisigaw na ang pangalan mo

Ikaw talaga'y ibang-ibag

Sa lahat ng nakilala

Sana ay ikaw na nga.

HANDOG (Recording by: Ms. Christiane Davide Ong)

Parang kailan lang

Ang mga pangarap ko'y kay hirap abutin

Dahil sa inyo

Napunta ako sa aking nais marating

Nais ko kayong pasalamatan

Kahit man lamang isang awitin

Parang kailan lang

Halos ako ay magpalimos sa lansangan

Dahil sa inyo

Ang aking tiyan at ang bulsa'y nagkalaman

Kaya't itong awiting aking inaawit

Nais ko'y kayo ang handugan

KORO:

Tatanda at lilipas rin ako

Ngunit mayro'ng awiting

Iiwanan sa inyong alaala

Dahil minsan, tayo'y nagkasama

Parang kailan lang

Ang mga awitin ko ay ayaw pakinggan

Dahil sa inyo

Narinig ang isip ko at naintindihan

Dahil dito'y ibig ko kayong ituring

Na matalik kong kaibigan

(Uliting ang Koro 2x)

Kahit minsan may naialay sa inyo.

Apat na araw na lamang ang hihintayin —

ang tatlong dekads ng dabarkads ay darating, sa a-treinta ng Hulyo lahat paingayin,

salamat daigdig sa mahabang pagtingin.

Pangyayaring ito'y mahirap malimutan

pagkat lahat kayo'y naging bahagi bayan,

lahat ng magkakampi't pati magkalaban,

ang Eat, Bulaga! naging kanila nang minsan.

Sinabi namin nun nagkatotoo yata —

na hanggang may mga bata'y may Eat, Bulaga!,

salamat sa tiwala at paniniwala

pagkat wala ring palabas kung kayo'y wala.

At salamat sa lahat ng mga sumali

sa mga palaro, natalo at nagwagi —

`di n'yo lang alam na marami ring sandali

kami'y inyong napangiti't pagod napawi.

At salamat sa lahat ng naging bisita, sa mga manggagawa at ka-opisina, salamat sa t'yaga't sipag na pinakita sa hirap at ginhawa kasa-kasama ka.

Sa lahat ng naging bahagi ng palabas,

sa harap o likod; sa loob man o labas,

pasalamat tayo't nanatili ang lakas

natin kahapon, ngayon at sana rin bukas.

'Di naman mabubuo ang tanging tagumpay

kung walang mga nagtaguyo't umalalay,

patalastas nila sa amin inilagay,

sana'y nakamit ninyo ang nais na ingay.

Sa mga nakasama lalo't namayapa,

salamat sa mga ngiti't pati na luha;

ala-alang matatamis dito sa lupa,

salamat kahit kami'y inyong inulila.

Alam naming pumapalakpak kayo ngayon

sa piling ng ating dakilang Panginoon,

pakiusap na rin sa kanya ay ibulong

na bigyan pa tayo ng mahabang panahon.

Sa lahat ng nakasabay nami'y salamat

sa pagtatapat natin sa tanghaling tapat,

sa inyong lahat — mga tatlumpo din lahat,
sa amin ay huwag mahiyang pumalakpak.

Sa lahat ng darating pa't magsusumikap, sana'y maabot ninyo ang aming tinahak, ngunit ang hangad lang mahalaga sa lahat — sana'y marami rin kayong magagalak.

At sa mga may isip at dilang malikot na nagtatanong na ano na pagkatapos, huwag mag-alala't 'di kami mabubulok pagkat araw-araw kami'y magpapa-botox.

Korek ka d'yan at hindi pa nga tayo tapos, tuloy-tuloy lang hanggat hindi namamaos, tatayo at sisigaw 'wag lang magkaluslos, titigil lang kami pag naging numero dos.

Ang inyo ngang lingkod mas malupit ang gusto —
ang maikot lahat ng channel sa TV n'yo, channel nine, two and seven ay naging bahay ko, kailan naman kaya: Trece, cuatro at cinco?

Pati mga nasa kable ay pwede na rin, sapagkat ibig lang pong patunayan namin — wala pong halong pagpapalalo at hangin — na kung saan man ang Eat, Bulaga!, 'yun ang win!

Naku lagot, baka kami ay hahamunin, nagkahetot-hetot na't `di na babawiin,
'yon lang naman po ay pakiramdam lang namin,
sobrang saya lang inyong ipagpaumanhin.

Abaw tatlong dekada man inyong bunuin, isang kaganapang `di n'yo aakalain, hindi lang 'yon, bagkus araw-araw pa mandin — isang himala nga kung inyong iisipin!

Sa isang banda nais kong maging seryoso, salamat talaga sa pagtangkilik ninyo, kung sino man sa amin puso'y lumulukso, iyan ay wala na pong iba kundi ako.

At bakit naman hindi maliligayahan sa ika-tatlumpung taong pinagdiriwang ng Eat, Bulaga! sa taong kasalukuyan, lingkod n'yo kasi nakaisip ng pangalan.

At iyan ay aking ipinagsisigawan at hinding-hindi mahihiyang ipagyabang, kung may isusulat nga sa huling hantungan:
"s'ya sa Eat, Bulaga! nagbigay ng pangalan."

Salamat, salamat, maraming salamat po,
imbes taas-noo, kami po ay yuyuko

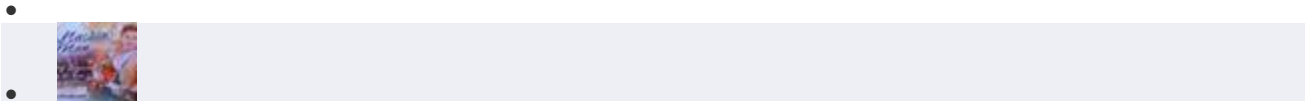

sa harap n'yong madla matapos unang yugto,
pagkat bukas uli ikalawang tatlumpo!

Totoo po 'yan at isang katotohanan,
ikalawang tatlumpoong tao'y sisimulan,
nawa ay kayong lahat pa rin ay nariyan;
sama-sama tayo hanggang maging hukluban.

GMA Network's Statement on "Haram": "HARAM" is a story about the love of LUIS (Dingdong Dantes) a soldier who is of Christian faith for a Muslim girl, NADI (Kylie Padilla). Eventually, the soldier will find out that this love is "haram" (forbidden); this is the reason why Nadi's family is strictly against their friendship-much more their union. But because Luis's love is true, he wants to prove that he only has good intentions for Nadi. This pushes him to convert to Islam, so that his love for Nadi would no longer be forbidden. This is the story of Haram. A story, not just of a unique kind of love, but also about a Muslim family (Nadi's) and how they endeavor and strive to raise their children to be fitting and acceptable for Allah. It is the show's intention to make the viewers understand why a relationship between a Muslim girl and a man from outside Islam is forbidden, a doctrine which is also present in other religious beliefs. At the same time, the show aims to present the beautiful side and the dynamics of the Muslim family life in our contemporary times, and the dynamics of religious and cultural pluralism, with the desire to promote better understanding and mutual respect among people of various faith traditions. But because of the current tense atmosphere all over the world and in solidarity and in respect to the entire Muslim Community, GMA 7 has decided it is best to shelve "Haram" for now. We hope for everyone's understanding.

Night Of Paying Tributes

Amidst the celebration of its triumphs, the event also paid tribute to the men and women (both executives and stars) who have contributed to the success of ABS-CBN led by its Chairman Emeritus "Geny" Lopez Jr., whom 'the values that drive ABS-CBN emanated from,' according to Lopez III. The other network pioneers who were honored were Arcadio Carandang, Elvira Manahan, Mito Villareal, Tony Santos, Diomedes Maturan, Panchito Alba, Ading Fernando, Nida Blanca, Pancho Magalona, Ike Lozada, Rolly Cruz and Rico Yan, among others

The network's living pillars and pioneers such as James Lindenberg, Fr. James Reuter and comedy king Rodolfo "Dolphy" Quizon were likewise honored during the night, with Federico M. Garcia who is on his last year as ABS-CBN's president and COO in 2003.

Dolphy received a plaque of recognition from Lopez III, assisted by movie-TV actress Maricel Soriano who had been Dolphy's on-screen daughter in the popular comedy TV program, "John en Marsha." Upon accepting the recognition, Dolphy said it was the "most important and unforgettable award" he has ever received in his lifetime. Legendary comedy triumvirate Tito, Vic and Joey paid tribute to the comedy king onstage through a couple of song numbers. The trio exchanged jokes with him that sent the audience roaring in laughter.

Meanwhile, after honoring Garcia with a video tribute and plaque of recognition, the retiring network president said, "Of all the recognitions I have received in my life, this is the most meaningful to me because it comes from my family – the ABS-CBN family."

Garcia served as ABS-CBN's president for six years, since 1997. He was the network's executive vice-president and general manager since 1987. "I fell in love with television," he said. "It was a fatal attraction and a lifetime passion. That is why my work is my life and my life is my work."

Before he finished his acceptance speech, Garcia gave his "mini tribute" to the network by thanking the Lopezes – Geny, Gabby and Jake Almeda-Lopez (ABS-CBN's vice-chairman), Rolly Cruz (former general manager), Charo Santos-Concio (executive vice-president and head for entertainment group), Johnny Manahan (senior vice-president for Talent Center), Mother Lily Monteverde (Regal Films patriarch) and the ABS-CBN family.

"ABS-CBN will always be my family. As I prepare myself to sail into the sunset, I will take with me all the lessons learned and a lifetime of beautiful memories. If I would recall each and everyone of them, it would take me another lifetime. It is my honor to have you all as Kapamilya," Garcia said.

Dadalo sa grand launch ng FB-YT-Twitter page ng Philippines 2013: 60 Years of Philippine Television sina Richard Gomez and wife Cong. Lucy Torres and her family, Anne Curtis with boyfriend Erwan Heussaff, Jomari Yllana, Maricar Reyes, Chynna Ortaleza, Bing Loyzaga, Pooh, Borgy Manotoc, Isabelle Daza with her foreigner boyfriend, Annabelle Rama and son Raymond Gutierrez, Bettina Carlos, JM Rodriguez, Carlo Concepcion, Tim Yap, Rajo Laurel, and Tessa Prieto-Valdes.

We also saw ABS-CBN executives Cory Vidanes and Deo Endrinal; Star Magic's Mariole Alberto; GMA-7 executives Wilma Galvante, Marivin Arayata, Lilybeth Rasonable, Ida Henares, Bang Arespacochaga and Joey Abacan; Regal's Mother Lily Monteverde and daughter Roselle Monteverde-Teo; talent managers Manny Valera and Perry Lansigan; and director Joel Lamangan.

June 16, 1911—Opening of the first La Salle school in the Philippines on Calle Nozaleda in Paco, Manila
St. John Baptist de La Salle, patron of Christian teachers and founder of the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools
Green and White (G&W)—Official school colors and name of the student publication that first came out in August 1924; green was based on the national color of Ireland, where the founding fathers of the De La Salle Brothers came from, while white represented the Philippines
Greenies—the high school team's nickname before 1939
1940—The first Archer symbol appeared in G&W, which referred to the school's basketball players as the "Green Archers" for the first time.
The Green Archer statue, now standing at the Chess Plaza, was done by Ed Castrillo in 1985.
The Signum Fidei star, the five-pointed star at the center of the school logo, symbolizes faith and hope and also the La Salle Brothers; the five points represent benevolence, civility, humanitarianism, service-oriented goals, and scientific pursuits.
There are a total of 17 La Salle schools in the Philippines, the first opened in 1911 and the last established in 2006.
107—DLSU's ranking in Times Higher Education-Quacquarenelli Symonds' 2011 Top 200 Asian Universities
1986—DLSU became the eighth member of the University Athletic Association of the Philippines (UAAP).
2000—DLSU won its third straight men's basketball UAAP title

Last December 8, Star Magic hosted a simple dinner and turn over ceremony at the 9501 Restaurant in ABS-CBN ELJ Building.

Artists from the ABS-CBN talent arm, handed over the checks of the proceeds from benefit events they held last November for their chosen charitable institutions.

The beneficiaries of the Gerald Anderson Basketball Tournament held last November 13, and A Night to Give Back concert held last November 20 were the Cancer Warriors, Cottolengo Filipino Inc., Elsie Gatches Village, Reception and Study Center for Children, Sanctuary Center, and the ABS-CBN Sagip Kapamilya Foundation.

They also held a feeding program last December 2 at Brgy. Pasong Putik, North Fairview from the proceeds of the concert.

Hosting the dinner and turn over ceremony were Star Magic talents Megan Young and Nikki Valdez.

Other Star Magic artists present were Piolo Pascual, Sam Milby, Enchong Dee, Robi Domingo, Joem Bascon, Martin del Rosario, and Julia Montes, Star Magic big boss Director Johnny Manahan was also there.

Nanganganib na mapauwi sa kani-kanilang bansa ang mga Fil-Am players sa sandaling mabigo silang makabisado at makanta ang pambansang awit ng Pilipinas na "Lupang Hinirang".

Sinabi ni Sen. Blas Ople, ang isang Filipino na hindi kayang kantahin ang Lupang Hinirang at hindi mabigkas ang Panatang Makabayan ay maituturing na hindi Filipino.

"Maging ang mga Fil-Am players sa PBA ay hindi exempted dito kaya dapat ay kabisado nila ang Lupang Hinirang at Panatang Makabayan kundi ay dapat silang pauwiin sa kani-kanilang mga bansa," wika pa ni Sen. Ople.

Ayon pa kay Ople, lubhang nakakalungkot ang naging resulta ng Ateneo survey kung saan ay lumitaw na 37 porsiyento lamang ng mga estudyante ang kabisado ang national anthem at 28 percent lamang ang kayang bigkasin ang Panatang Makabayan o 83 percent ng estudyante ang hindi kayang awitin ang national anthem at 72 percent naman ang hindi kayang bigkasin ang Panatang Makabayan.

Dahil dito, wika pa ni Ople, dapat ay bigyan ng importansiya ng Dept. of Education ang level appreciation sa ating pambansang awit at Panatang Makabayan para sa mga mag-aaral.

Nanganganib na mapauwi sa kani-kanilang bansa ang mga Fil-Am players sa sandaling mabigo silang makabisado at makanta ang pambansang awit ng Pilipinas na "Lupang Hinirang".

Sinabi ni Sen. Blas Ople, ang isang Filipino na hindi kayang kantahin ang Lupang Hinirang at hindi mabigkas ang Panatang Makabayan ay maituturing na hindi Filipino.

"Maging ang mga Fil-Am players sa PBA ay hindi exempted dito kaya dapat ay kabisado nila ang Lupang Hinirang at Panatang Makabayan kundi ay dapat silang pauwiin sa kani-kanilang mga bansa," wika pa ni Sen. Ople.

Ayon pa kay Ople, lubhang nakakalungkot ang naging resulta ng Ateneo survey kung saan ay lumitaw na 37 porsiyento lamang ng mga estudyante ang kabisado ang national anthem at 28 percent lamang ang kayang bigkasin ang Panatang Makabayan o 83 percent ng estudyante ang hindi kayang awitin ang national anthem at 72 percent naman ang hindi kayang bigkasin ang Panatang Makabayan.

Dahil dito, wika pa ni Ople, dapat ay bigyan ng importansiya ng Dept. of Education ang level appreciation sa ating pambansang awit at Panatang Makabayan para sa mga mag-aaral.

Long before Cory Valenzuela Vidanes was Tita Cory, ABS-CBN channel head and confidant to the stars, I knew her as the quiet cousin of my sister-in-law Nina Daza Puyat. Nina herself is quite chatty and her cousin and matchmaker Pat-P Daza could put a megaphone to shame, and whenever there would be children's parties or intimate birthday gatherings, I would wonder if Cory ever got a word in. I do remember that every time there would be showbiz controversies, even if Nina and Pat-P would make her kulisit, she was always very protective of her stars.

While we were in college, my best friend Angelette Calero and I worked as production assistants in ABS. Cory was a very dedicated and extremely hardworking producer and it seemed as if she never ever went home. Whenever we would be in the studio or the production office, she would be either rushing to a meeting or busy at her desk.

Of course, she is even busier now, so her birthday celebration at Buddha Bar was a wonderful chance to relax and party. A few weeks ago, I ran into fashion designer Paul Cabral, window shopping in Univers Homme et Femme. He confessed that he was looking for a present for Cory. "Pero, alam mo naman, ayaw niya ng anything maarte."

Yes, whether it is how she dresses or how she talks, she is not loud. But she can definitely be heard. And she always makes you feel that she is listening to you.

The Eat Bulaga family now has more than 20 witty and funny co-hosts, proof, indeed, as the jingle of the show says, that in Eat Bulaga "barkada'y dumarami, silang lahat ay nagbibigay, ligaya sa ating buhay (the gang is increasing, they are all gives, joy in our lives)." And together, they shower their audience with "saan ka man ay halina kayo, isang libo't isang tuwa, buong bansa (everywhere you are let go you, a thousand and one joys for the whole nation)," be it in the "Bulagaan" or "Itaktak Mo" portion.

Noli de Castro: A radio anchor during Martial Law, he exhibited talent and charisma that made his name, his moniker Kabayan and TVP eventually (and his trademark-turned-long running top rating current affairs show Magandang Gabi Bayan) not only as a household name, but as an institution. He was joined by 3 anchors from 1987 until 1997 when he went solo, before running and eventually winning as Philippine Senator in 2001 and as Philippine Vice President in 2004.

Korina Sanchez: Prior to being replacement anchor for Kata Inocencio from 1995 to 1997 and reporter of national/local news, she worked as correspondent on the Manila station of NBN (then called MBS in 1980's) before moving to ABS-CBN in 1986 to host Magandang Umaga Po (with Noli)-the predecessor of Alas Singko y Medya (now Magandang Umaga Pilipinas). After 1997, she continued reporting national news, and hosting the TVP segments-turned-shows Hoy Gising (then co-hosted by Kris Aquino, Ted Failon, Ruth Abao Espinosa) and Balitang K (with Julius Babao, Tintin Bersola, Cheryl Cosim and Gilbert Remulla as replacements). She was main anchor again in 2001 with Henry Omega Diaz and Aljo Bendijo, and in 2003 with Julius Babao-as she co-hosted Morning Girls with Kris Aquino. After announcing her resignation in 2004 to make way for TVPW, she continued to host Rated K and other shows on ANC. She is ABS-CBN's Chief National-Global Executive Correspondent, and a current anchor in ABS-CBN's late night newscast Bandila.

Ces Orena-Drilon: Prior to national TVP as Korina's replacement (2001-present), she reported national news-mostly dealing with the military, and among them the 1989 coup against President Aquino-as she hosted shows like Usapang Business and Pipol. She became main anchor for the weekend editions (alongside Henry Omega Diaz) until 2005, when she co-anchored the late night newscast Insider with Atty. Dong Puno. She is Karen's replacement for TVPW, current anchor in Insider's replacement Bandila, and part of The Correspondents.

Karen Davila: Prior to TVPW's daily anchor (along Julius and Ted), Karen headlined shows on GMA Manila--among them Probe, Extra Extra and TVP's competitor Saksi--before moving to ABS-CBN Manila in the Year 2000 to create special reports for TVP and host Barangay Dos (with Atty. Kiko Pangilinan, before being Philippine Senator in 2001) and The Correspondents (until now). She headlined the newscasts ABS-CBN Headlines (2000-2003) and Insider (2003-2004) before headlining TVPW. Her controversial emotion-laden interview with Susan Roces during the mourning period of her husband-actor-presidential candidate Fernando Poe Jr in 2004 made her create a resignation letter from TVPW not accepted by the ABS-CBN Manila executives. She stays as anchor of TVPW.

Bicol and Mindanao Dev't Strategies Bared

Socioeconomic Planning Secretary Romulo L. Neri bared today the various strategies that would spur economic growth for Bicol and Mindanao as outlined in the government's Medium-Term Philippine Development Plan (MTPDP) 2004-2010, contradicting reports that said regions have been left behind.

Neri, who is also Director General of the National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA), stressed that the MTPDP 2004-2010 supports the development of the Southern Luzon Corridor as a strategy to decongest Metro Manila, and provide new opportunities for growth in the countryside.

"The Plan has in fact identified as one of its priority activities, the rehabilitation of the existing rail link to Bicol," Neri said, adding that while no rail facility is mentioned for Mindanao, a great number of infrastructure investments have been committed for the region.

"Key roads and roll-on and roll-off (RORO) port facilities have been lined up for Mindanao, which would complete the Western, Central and Eastern Nautical Highways. New government centers are also planned to be established, and various tourism infrastructure have been committed for the Mindanao Region," he said.

The NEDA chief noted that special attention has also been given to provide affirmative action for Peace and Development in Mindanao. The MTPDP views that instead of concentrating investment to a single corridor in the Mindanao Island, the same amount could be strategically allocated to more urgent needs by the population (e.g., peace and order, access to product markets, etc.).

He added that currently, the Philippine National Railways (PNR) has submitted to NEDA a Feasibility Study for the railway operations in the Bicol area. Said project will consist of two phases. Phase 1 involves rehabilitation and reconstruction works of 89 percent (422.662 km covering Calamba, Laguna to Legaspi City in Albay) of the existing 474.00 km long Main Line South. Phase 2 involves the construction of a 112.23 km new rail line extending the Main Line South to Matnog, Sorsogon, being the takeoff point towards Visayas and Mindanao.

"Phase 1 has an estimated cost of US $627.81 million while Phase 2 was estimated to cost at US$304.23 million. Together, both Phases will require an investment of US$932.04. Commercial operation to Lucena City is proposed to start by 2006," he said.

On the other hand, Phase 2 is proposed to be implemented from 2008 to 2009, which will make rail operations reach Matnog, Sorsogon by 2010.

"The project will adopt the narrow or Cape track. The rail will run on a single track and will make use of diesel traction. Signaling system will consist of a line clear certificate and staff block," Neri said.

Civil and track works for Phase 1, which will involve the rehabilitation of the existing line, will cost US$1.04 million per rail kilometer. Phase 2, which will involve the construction of a new line, will cost US$2.06 million per rail km. The combined costs were estimated at US$3.09 million per rail km. The costs for civil and track works for all brand-new, double-tracked NorthRail Project, Phase 1 section 1 will be at US$4.2 million. Total loan amount for the Northrail Project, Phase 1 Section 1 will be at PhP20,551.650 million while combined loans being proposed to be procured for the whole of the Main Line South Project will be at PhP49,584 million.

With the Bus Rapid Transit project almost assured, Cebu City Mayor Michael Rama said he is open to the idea of having a Light Rail Transit in other parts of Metro Cebu.

Rama said the two modes of transportation can co-exist.

"They can co-exist - LRT and BRT - basta wala lay maigo nga historical landmarks," he said.

The LRT has long been suggested Cebu 1st district Rep. Eduardo Gullas to traverse cities of Mandaue, City and Talisay.

The P740 million project could later later extend south to Minglanilla, Naga, San Fernando, Carcar, Sibonga, Argao and Dalaguete.

The LRT proposal was set aside due to opposition of former mayor Tomas Osmeña, who championed the BRT system for Cebu City.

Rama said he has asked Gullas to formally present the LRT proposal the Regional Development Council (RDC) which he heads.

Rama said LRT routes may be established in areas not serviced by buses like mountain barangays or along the coast.

Meanwhile, the BRT was discussed in forum at the Ramon Aboitiz Foundation, Inc. (Rafi) office where concerns about funding, design and impact on jeepney drivers were raised.

Architect Antonio Valenzona of the University of San Carlos-College of Fine Arts and Architecture (USC-CAFA) asked how the scheme would affect local bus lines like KMK.

Roberto Aboitiz, RAFI president, asked about the fare rate to be charged and "Who is going to invest in this -- the private sector or government?"

Aboitiz said the study should see the bigger picture considering the Filipino perspective.

Colin Brader, lead consultant of the BRT feasibility study, said jeepney routes would be changed.

"Anything that competes with the BRT would will be regulated," he said.

Dr. David Green, an independent environmental consultant earlier cited last Monday one of the risks and impacts of the BRT scheme is the disruption of economic livelihood of jeepney sector, some businesses along the BRT terminals, residences whose property needs to be fully acquired by the project, informal and ambulant vendors.

Eduardo Mara, provincial chief of the Regional Highway Patrol Unit 7 said they will have address changes in traffic flow with BRT.

Mara also cited problems on the displacement of jeepney drivers.

Brader said jeepneys will not disappear.

"The BRT will involve the deletion of some jeepney routes. Others will be altered to better relate to the BRT. Every effort will be made to find jobs for those that would lose their jobs as part of this reorganization," he said. /Doris C. Bongcac and Tweeny M. Malinao

After more than 14 months of continuous construction, the connection between the Metro Rail Transit (MRT) along EDSA and the Light Rail Transit (LRT) in Monumento will be operational by the middle of month.

President Aquino inaugurated the project yesterday as part of the 27th anniversary celebration of the 1986 People Power Revolution, which she said will "bind the metropolis like never before so that people can travel faster, cheaper and safer from any part of the metropolis to another."

Dubbed by the national government as "Closing the Loop," the P6.3 billion project connects the MRT Line 3 station on North Avenue in Quezon City to the LRT Line 1 in Monumento, Caloocan, a previously non-existent route.

After taking part in the flag raising ceremony at the People Power Monument along EDSA, Mr. Aquino went on the inaugural ride, accompanied by Vice President Jejomar "jojo" Binay and several of her Cabinet members.

She rode the train from the MRT-3's North Avenue station up to the LRT's EDSA-Taft Avenue station.

Transportation and Communications Secretary Leandro Mendoza said once the new line becomes operational, it would add an average of 100,000 commuters daily to the current average of 1.2 million passengers for all three mass transit systems.

Teams in Speedo dominated the UAAP swimming championships with Ateneo scoring back-to-back championships in the men's and boys' divisions at Trace Aquatics Sports Center in Laguna recently.

The Ateneo boys' team has dominated its side of the event for eight straight years.

The University of the Philippines Varsity Swim Team (UPVST), meanwhile, posted its fourth straight victory in the women's category while University of the East reigned in the girls' category for the second straight year.

In the individual senior events, Ateneo freshman Axel Ngui racked up six gold medals and one silver medal while setting three new league records in 800m, 400m and 200m freestyle events. He went on to bag the rookie of the year honors.

Last year's MVP Johansen Aguilar of De La Salle Green Tankers kept the crown by ruling all his races, highlighted with record-setting feats in the 200m and 100m backstroke. He also broke Enchong Dee's three-year-old 400m individual medley's record.

Delia Cordero of UP also stamped her class as she swept the rookie of the year and MVP honors. She capped her feat with two records in the 400m IM and 200m fly.

Francis Tolentino, chairman of the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority, proposed Wednesday the merging of operations of bus companies in the metropolis to bring order and sanity in the streets and to ensure a more efficient public transport system.

To encourage the merger, transport regulators could dangle incentives similar to the ones being given to companies who have been upgrading their fleets, Tolentino said in a press statement.

"The [Land Transportation Franchising and Regulatory Board] can grant incentives to companies who opt to merge or consolidate, such as granting them preferential and exclusive Certificates of Public Convenience (CPCs)," he said.

Tolentino said that the perennial problems of poor service, dangerous driving and the proliferation of illegal commuter vehicles referred to in the vernacular as "colorum" could be solved by consolidating the operations of several bus companies.

Ultimately, these problems contribute significantly to the long-held perception that Metro Manila's traffic congestion is the outcome of the "inefficient operation of public utility buses," he added.

The MMDA head cited the experience of Singapore and Colombia where the governments encouraged such mergers, streamlining the operations of the bus companies and resulting in more efficient public transportation systems.

He also cited the trend in the United States where the spiralling cost of fuel forced several airlines to merge with each other. These measures were being taken to increase a company's profitability and sustainability in the business, he said.

"Singapore has one of the best public transportation systems in the world, and it never would have been realized if not for the government's initiation of mergers," Tolentino said.

Some of the incentives available to transport companies are a 10-year certificate of public convenience in exchange for brand new fleets of vehicles, according to Tolentino.

The proposal would complement the MMDA's current programs to address the worsening traffic condition in Metro Manila, like the updating of the organized bus route system and the implementation of the bus rapid transit system.

Filipino master couturier Cary Santiago is set to wow Manila's fashion circle as he unveils his new collection during this year's annual Red Charity Gala.

Having spent more than two decades in the business of fashion, Santiago is synonymous with fabulous laser-cut work and doily designs. His exceptional talent has made him one of the most famous Filipinos in global high-fashion circles, and earned him the rightful spot among world-class Filipino designers.

The Cebuano-based designer began his journey towards the fashion world in Beirut, where he designed for local haute couture houses. Then he moved to Dubai and stayed there for about a decade to gain experience, and went for further training in Paris. Currently, Santiago is working at his atelier in Cebu City.

Santiago's design style can be described as classic, glamorous, and romantic. His flattering silhouettes with subtly opulent details have become a must-have in bridal wear. His craftsmanship also made a statement for retail brands. He designed a line of fabulous shoes for the Maldita brand, and customized accessories for the Bench denim and underwear fashion show.

With a talent and keen eye for fashion, it was not a surprise that his creations have garnered recognition both here and abroad. Santiago won the 2004 grand prize at the Philippine Fashion Design Competition with a stunning terno inspired by Pag-asa, the Philippine eagle. In November 2010, Santiago flew to Shanghai as the country's representative to the China Fashion Awards. He wowed the crowd with his intricate designs and took home the Outstanding International Fashion Designer Award.

Most recently, Santiago showcased his exquisite collection of black heavily embroidered long evening dresses at the London Philippine Fashion Show in Cictoria House, together with the equally-beautiful creations of other notable Filipino designers.

Cary Santiago's sensational and elegant creations will be showcased during the gala show on October 13, 7 p.m., at the Makati Shangri-La Hotel.

The exclusive event is presented by Tessa Prieto-Valdes and philanthropist Kaye Tinga for the benefit of the Philippine Red Cross and the Assumption High School Batch 1981 Foundation.

The Red Charity Gala is directed by Ariel Lozada with fashion styling by Noel Manapat and hair and makeup by Patrick Rosas. The show is presented by Smart Infinity and PLDT-Smart Foundation. It is also supported by Fila, Megaworld, Mini-cooper, Sunlife Financial and Tresemme together with Makati Shangri-la, Preview magazine, and Stylebible.ph. With media partners Philippine Daily Inquirer, The Philippine Star, GMA Network, pep.ph. For inquiries and reservations, call Margie Gineta at 0917-8325570.

Twelve thousand people braved the early morning drizzle to take part with the Athletes in Action during the Fila's Schools Run for School Rooms, dahlings.

From students to office employees and celebrities, the runners showed their support for the rehabilitation of schoolrooms in Iligan City which was hit by Typhoon Sendong.

The run was led by administrator Joel Villanueva of the Technical Education Skills Development Administration.

Villanueva extended the President's greetings to the benefit run and led in the gun-start.

CRIS Albert and Sec. Joel Villanueva with the winners

He also led the awarding ceremonies with Fila hotshot bosses Butch and Cris Albert.

Also joining the awarding ceremonies were Cibac Partylist Rep. Sherwin Tugna and wife Joni T., executive director of iCare Foundation, another beneficiary of the advocacy run, palanggas.

Athletes in Action national director José Andes said: "Any work that makes life better for others is worth doing, no matter how demanding it may be."

Events organizer was Huper International CEO and managing director Edith Mendoza, who underscored the power of concerted effort of people.

"In our coming together, united by our desire to help Iligan get back on her feet, we have taken a giant step to her recovery," she explained.

Charina Grace Garrido

Aside from Fila and individual runners, top corporations rallied behind the run for Iligan schools: Sony, Gardenia, Pocari Sweat, OraCare, Soyami Healthy Chips, Mentos, Milcu, Treelizer, Air Conserve, Paramount Life and General Insurance Corp. and Bonifacio Estate Services Corp.

Other sponsors: PDI, GMA 7, BusinessWorld, MySiteMalixi.

A total of 18 winners emerged as top finishers in the 3K, 5K and 10K categories.

But everyone felt a winner, dahlings, as the runners know they had been part of a worthy cause.

Di bala, palanggas?

Fila owner Butch Albert was very pleased with the turnout. "Let's do this again," he said. Amen, sir!

Happy 66th Birthday Joey de Leon From The Philippine Star, TV5 and GMA Network family!

Tag: Game 'N Go, Eat Bulaga, STARTALK

Birthday ko ngayon kaya pagbigyan lingkod n'yo...

Sariwaing muli mga naranasan ko

Nitong nakaraang paglalakbay sa barko,

Pinagmamalaking ibahagi sa inyo.

Alam n'yo ba na magkasabay kong nakita

Sa parehong sandali at bukas ng mata —

Kontinente ng Europa at ng Aprika;

Ang Dagat Atlantiko at Mediterranean?

At 'di lang 'yon... sabay-sabay ding namasdan ko

Sa isang kinatatayuan lang at pwesto

Ang tatlong bansa — Spain, Gibraltar and Morocco!

At 'di mapa ang tinitingnan ko... no, no, no!

Ngayon ang tanong — nasaan nga ba ako?

Paanong mangyayari bagay na ganito?

Possible lang ito kung nasa eroplano,

Subalit nasa lupa ang mga paa ko!

Okay, sige na nga at eto na ang kasi —
Hindi ba nga't naglakbay sa barko't sumimple?
Mahigit dalawang linggo na nung mangyari,
Nung ika-dalawampu't pito ng Setyembre.

Sa pamamagitan ng kotse na may kable,
Tinagalog ko lang 'yung cable car, he,he,he...
Narating ko ang tuktok ng Gibraltar pare,
Halos isang libo't apat na raang piye.

At ang lahat nung binida ko at sinabi,
Dito pala'y magkakatotoong mangyari,
At ayon sa syete ang dalawang kontinente
Noong sinauna daw ay kambal na babae.

Europe and Africa daw'y si RUFA at RICA —
Seksi, maganda, malandi at spoiled kumbaga,
At ang gusto ng isa gusto rin nung isa,
Kaya madalas lagi silang naggegera.
At kaya nagalit ang ama nina Rica
(And now you know pinagmulan ng AMA-RICA)
And ordered Hercules, "Paghiwalayin mo sila!"
At 'yon nga ang nangyari sa ating istorya.

At si ASYA? Siguro'y tinatanong n'yo s'ya,
Well, s'ya nga ang ina ng kambal na dalaga,
At sa nangyari hindi s'ya maka-eksena

Sapagkat hiwalay sila ni Ama-Rica!

Kung kaya nga sa buhay ng tao hindi ba

Pag naghihiwalay ay nag-iiba-iba?

Maganda pa rin talaga magkakasama

Upang maging pantay... layunin ay iisa.

Kung kaya nga ako sa munting makakaya

Pinagkakasundo ko ang nasirang pamilya,

Kung kaya nga kung minsan pinapasyalan ko ba;

Binibisita at kinukumusta sila.

Anak ng tokwa at drumama pa talaga

At nakuha pang gumawa ng palusot ha,

Okay, sige na nga at aaminin ko na —

Ayos talagang tumakas at maglakwatsa!

At sa b'yaheng ito may isa pang nakita,

Sa mga sunog-baga balitang maganda,

Sa dami na ng airports aking nabisita,

Sa mga nagyoyosi ito na ang gloria.

Karaniwan kasi ang mga smoking area

Siksikan kayo't sinlaki lang ng kubeta,

Pero itong natuklasan sa Barcelona,

S'yay isang smoking PLAZA parang Araneta!

Tiyak mga adik sa hitit liligaya,
Ang maganda pa nito s'ya ay open area,
Gayunpaman may dalawampung higante pa
Na purifiers sinlaki ng poste isa!

Iba talaga 'yung nag-iibang bansa ka,
Daming klaseng papasok kahit 'di magskwela,
Merong Choc-Nut sa utak at kendi sa mata ...
At tulad sa last trip... meron sa ibubuga.

You read it right: Sen. Loren Legarda is definitely running in 2004 and that's what she told movie writers at yesterday's presscon for her new ABS-CBN show Tara, Tena, which premieres on Saturday, Aug. 9, 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. (replacing Star Studio).

"I will run for reelection," admitted Sen. Loren who literally let her hair (usually gathered in a bun) down for Tara, Tena which is geared toward a youth market by featuring inspiring stories (based on those told by letter-writers) that would benefit the young. "But if there's an offer for me to run for a higher office (meaning for Vice President), I might consider."

These past several weeks, surveys have been showing that Loren, along with fellow ABS-CBN talent Sen. Noli "Kabayan" de Castro, are among the front-runners for the country's second highest post if the elections were to be held now.

"The next three months will be very crucial," added Loren, referring to the Dec. 15 deadline for filing of candidacy for the May 2004 national elections. "Many things can happen between now and then."

Asked who her "preferred running-mate" is, Loren said, "None, so far," but stressed in the next breath that she would like a (future) President "who has a vision to solve the many problems of the country."

Male or female?

"Why," Loren smiled, "has she made an announcement already?"

There's a rumor that Loren had a meeting with Presidential aspirant Danding Cojuangco several weeks ago in San Francisco where Danding celebrated his birthday. Was it merely a "social call" or, ehem, a "politically-motivated" encounter? Did she talk politics with Danding? Breaking into an even wider smile, Loren answered, "How can politicians not talk about politics even on social occasions?"

Even the title of Loren's new ABS-CBN show can be subject to "politically-motivated" (that's the "innest" adjective these days, or haven't you noticed?) speculations. You know: Tara, Tena sa 2004! Actually,

Tara, Tena (English translation: Come on, let's go!) is the grand-prize winner of the Jam Himig Handog sa Makabagong Kabataan song contest run by ABS-CBN but it could, with new lyrics, be used as a catchy campaign song just like, remember, Loren, Loren, Sinta (from Leron, Leron, Sinta).

Loren said that Tara, Tena celebrates the energy and vitality of today's youth and aims to encourage (especially the young) viewers to act on their dreams and uphold traditional Filipino values like industry, commitment, perseverance, love and responsibility. The show will definitely bring Loren closer to the youth sector (35 and below) which makes up roughly 70 percent of the voting population and viewers (prospective "absentee voters," roughly one million) abroad reached by the TFC (The Filipino Channel), ABS-CBN's sister company.

The maiden episode this Saturday of Tara, Tena stars Baron Geisler, Desiree del Valle and Jaclyn Jose. The staff includes Desirey Fernandez as executive producer; Malou Sevilla, Erick Salud, John-D Lazatin and Leo Rialp as directors; and Richard Reynante (head writer), Agnes Gagilonia-Uligan, Joel Mercado, Chris Violaga and Dang Sulit.

Would Loren be acting on Tara, Tena every now and then (after the launching of her "acting" career in the Dolphy movie Markova: Comfort Gay)?

"Good idea, 'no," she said. "Why not?"

SENATE BODY RECOMMENDS SOTTO DRUG PROBE

Manila, Oct. 30, 1997 - The Senate select committee that looked into the alleged illegal drug connections of four senators has recommended the investigation of Senator Vicente Sotto. The probe by the ethics committee is also being sought by Senator Sotto himself.

The panel headed by Senator Marcelo Fernan cleared Senators Jose Miguel Arroyo, Nikki Coseteng and Alberto Romulo of their alleged links to drug lord Alfredo Tiongo.

The Fernan panel found some pieces of evidence submitted by the Department of Justice to be "disturbing." These are the Manila Hotel receipts which represented expenses paid for by Sotto's former police aide, dismissed Supt. Fernando Vinculado, who is claimed to have received P16.7 million from Feb 26, 1996 to June 24, 1997.

Sotto said the Manila Hotel affair was organized by some government and private agencies and coordinated by Vinculado who received contributions from the organizers and paid for the hotel expenses.

History of TV Patrol

14 September 1986: The first official broadcast of ABS-CBN on TV Channel 2-Manila after being shut out on September 1972, and the relaunch of the pre-1972 primetime Filipino-language newscast Balita Ngayon. Media personality Robert Arevalo and newscaster Mel Tiangco anchor the show featuring news in and out of the Philippines.

4th Quarter 1986: ABS-CBN News executives hold meetings with higher-ups on plans to launch an all-new news program that will serve as a better program to Balita Ngayon--a show featuring news about the masses and for the masses. The newscast: TV Patrol.

1 March 1987: ABS-CBN announces the launch of TV Patrol during the public variety extravaganza "Ang Pagbabalik ng Bituin" at Luneta in Manila that served as a relaunch of ABS-CBN.

3 March 1987: Premiere telecast of TV Patrol. Radio mainstay Noli de Castro and actress-personality Angelique Lazo join Balita Ngayon anchors Robert and Mel. Weeks later, TV Patrol's Robert and news anchor Frank Evangelista of Magandang Umaga (ABS-CBN's morning show in the 1980's) swapped. Newscast featured more reports on actions of authorities on peace and order in and out of Manila (Pulis Report), more news items on celebrities and personalities (Star News) besides the day's headlines in and out of Manila (Ulo ng Mga Balita). The new segments that caught the public eye: the group commentary PULSO (Pangkalahatang Ulat Laan Sa Opinyon) and the public service report Lingkod Bayan.

1988: TV Patrol is simulcast live nationwide along with the rest of the ABS-CBN shows. TV Patrol in Manila is so popular in the entire Philippines that regional editions in ABS-CBN stations in Cebu, Bacolod and Davao were launched--the first ever regional editions outside Manila. TV Patrol now features news from the regions in the Philippines.

1994: TV Patrol is simulcast worldwide with the launch of The Filipino Channel and is starting to feature news from overseas Filipino communities.

1995: Changes in the anchor team begin, until the final quartet arose in Noli De Castro, Korina Sanchez, Frank Evangelista and Tintin Bersola. More regional editions of TV Patrol are premiered in ABS-CBN's newly relaunched regional stations--among them in Naga, Cagayan (de Oro) and Zamboanga.

1996: TV Patrol begins broadcasting news in 30 minutes.

1997: TV Patrol has Noli de Castro go solo.

2000: Noli de Castro goes live on location for TV Patrol from the key cities in Mindanao during the war between military troops and Muslim rebels.

February 2001: Noli de Castro leaves TV Patrol to run for the 2001 national elections in the Senate. He will then win as Senator that year, then as Vice President 3 years later. Korina Sanchez with Henry Omega-Diaz and Aljo Bendiño anchor the all-new TV Patrol.

September 2001: TV Patrol begins first special broadcast on weekends. The first weekend broadcast features news from Afghanistan, where Filipino migrants watch the battle between American forces and Taliban-led Afghan forces

April 2003: Korina Sanchez and Julius Babao becomes the tandem to watch on TV Patrol.

1st Half 2004: TV Patrol's weekend editions are launched, with Henry Omega Diaz and Ces Orena Drilon as anchors. Present anchors are Alex Santos and Bernadette Sembrano.

11 November 2004: Korina Sanchez leaves TV Patrol to make way for TV Patrol World.

15 November 2004: TV Patrol is now TV Patrol World gives weight to reports from Filipino communities outside the country. New segment on reports from concerned citizens (Citizen Patrol) catches the public eye.

January 2007: As TV Patrol marks its 20th anniversary, it introduces Boto Mo I-Patrol Mo, an expanded Citizen Patrol for the 2007 elections.

November 2007: TV Patrol celebrates 20 years with the documentary TV PATROL: 20 TAON NG PAGPAPATROL (An ABS-CBN Documentary Special), produced by ABS-CBN and Jesuit Communications.

2008: TV Patrol's Boto Mo I-Patrol Mo becomes Bayan Mo I-Patrol Mo for the moment.

10 May 2009: TV Patrol relaunches Boto Mo I-Patrol Mo for the 2010 elections with the battlecry Ako Ang Simula.

3 March 2011; TV Patrol marks its 25th anniversary.

Two of the Philippines' largest conglomerates, Ayala Corp. and Metro Pacific Investments Corp. have teamed up to bid for Metro Manila's light rail projects — an aggressive push as it eyes to bid for the country's light rail infrastructure projects under the Public-Private Partnership (PPP).

Ayala Corp. and MPIC jointly said on Tuesday, it inked a memorandum of agreement to form an exclusive strategic partnership to jointly pursue and develop light rail projects in which, each of the parties will own a 50 percent interest in the projects and related real estate development undertakings.

It is also open to work together on other rail-related opportunities outside the PPP.

Ayala Corp. earlier stressed change and becoming a player in infrastructure would be key thrusts in the coming years. The conglomerate also said it is prepared to bid for the contract to extend and manage the Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT 1).

"We are glad to be partnering with the Metro Pacific Investments group for this specific purpose. We each have unique strengths and capabilities that, when combined, create a unique value proposition in rail development. We hope to contribute meaningfully in helping raise the standards of our public utilities. This is vital to our nation's progress and competitiveness. Developing an efficient mass transit system is a huge endeavor which will be better served by the synergies created by this partnership." Ayala Corp. chairman and CEO Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala said.

MPIC chairman Manuel V. Pangilinan said he is pleased to share a common ground with Ayala Corp. through the light rail projects.

"This strategic alliance will create integrated solutions that will improve public transportation through our vision to transform the country's light rail transit system into a network very much like those in Hong Kong, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur and Osaka. The existing system is over capacity and under invested — the need to improve the existing rail systems now cannot be overemphasized. Our initiative to join hands in addressing these concerns, signifies our commitment to help Filipinos become more productive and to contribute to the country's overall infrastructure development and economic growth," Pangilinan said. The government said it will start the bidding process for the P61.53 billion LRT 1 South Extension project from Baclaran to Bacoar, Cavite this month.

Earlier, Ayala Corp. president Fernando Zobel de Ayala said the company needs to invest in new platforms to realize future growth.

Ayala won the government's first public private partnership project the Daang Hari extension, beating MPIC's bid.

However, Metro Pacific, San Miguel, Aboitiz and Lopez groups have a headstart in power and infrastructure.

"The market has long anticipated this exciting venture between two friendly competitors. Both parties have opened its doors for possible undertakings that will complement its existing businesses," Astro del Castillo, managing director, First Grade Finance said.

Earlier, Pangilinan has said that aside from the operation and maintenance of the MRT 3 and LRT 1, they remain interested in planned PPP projects such as the development of Clark airport, the operation of the NAIA terminals and various road projects.

Enchong Dee tinamaan ng sakit na dengue SNN: Showbiz News Ngayon

Enchong Dee tinamaan ng Dengue! :(

Enchong Dee is still confined at the Cardinal Santos Medical City for having an illness "dengue" Let us all pray for his fast recovery! And also to his sister Anggie who is having experiencing a dengue too!

Recovering parin pero kanina [August 19] yung last platelet count bumagsak pa another 10,000 but ano naman sya not significant. Sunday morning pagkagising ko okay pa ko eh, nag-iinternet pa ko tapos nung naligo ako tapos papunta na ko ASAP yun bigla na kong nagchill. Tapos parang hinang-hina na ako tapos pinauwi na ako, pagktapos sabi nila pahinga muna ako kasi nung mga 4pm may pictorial pa ko. Eh sabi ko parang hindi ko na kaya kasi ano masyado ng mabigat ulo ko tapos masakit parin yung mga joints ko pagkatapos nun kinansel na nila yung pictorial at saka dubbing. So nagpaconfine na ako, yun nga the 2nd night ko ditto sa ospital saka lang nila nalaman na dengue. Yung 1st time yung ironically same day sa last year saka this year it was Aug. 15 last year ginagawa ko naman yung "katorse tapos Aug. 15 naman this year.

Unang-una maraming salamat sa dasal saka mga dumalaw, mga fans dyan galling sa ibang bansa nagpadala ng gamit thank you very much I'm okay I can handle this and I'm just leaving sa premiere ng "Sayo Lamang" xenxa n s video qng mejo mgulo at mahina ung sounds s tv q lng kc nvideohan! lakasan nio nling ung sounds ng desktop/laptop nio.. :D kya cnulat q nling ung cnbi nia..

The Sun and Stars shine brighter for a good cause this year. After the successful run of Star Magic's first benefit show titled "Star Magic Gives Back Concert" in November 2011, the ABS-CBN's talent management arm gives a 'repeat' this time in partnership with Sun Life Financial Philippines' SunPIOLOGY Run.

Piolo Pascual's brain child, last year's concert gathered Star Magic's biggest stars in one night and collected over half a million pesos, which they donated to various charities including ABS-CBN's Sagip Kapamilya, Elsie Gaches Village, Reception and Study Center for Children (RSCC), Noordhoff Craniofacial Foundation Philippines and the Sanctuary Center. In cooperation with ABS-CBN's 71 Dreams Foundation, Star Magic was also able to sponsor a feeding program to more than a hundred residents of Fairview, Quezon City.

Both anticipated fund raising events, Sun Life Financial Philippines and Star Magic will be working hand not only to extend their help to ABS-CBN's Lingkod Kapamilya, RSCC and the Sanctuary Center, but also to Hebreo Foundation. The Sun Life Foundation is also a proud sponsor of the event.

The SunPIOLOgy Run 2012 will begin at the Venice Piazza Mall, McKinley Hill on the 24th of November and ends with the "Star Magic Gives Back Concert". Joining the fun that night are Pokwang, John "Sweet" Lapus, Sam Milby, Khalil Ramos, Daniel Padilla, Kathryn Bernardo, Enrique Gil, JM De Guzman, Alex Castro, Bryan Termulo, Myrtle Sarrosa, Robi Domingo, Sam Concepcion, Drei Felix, Megan Young, Jolo Estrada, PJ Endrinal, Bangs Garcia, Empress, Paulo Avelino, Jason Abalos, Young JV, Rayver Cruz, Matteo Guidicelli, Bugoy Drilon, Liezel Garcia, Nyoy Volante, Jed Madela, Yeng Constantino, Angeline Quinto, Xian Lim, Enchong Dee, Maja Salvador and Piolo Pascual.

Come join the fun for a worthy cause. For registration and more details, visit www.sunpiology.com and sunpiologyrun via facebook. Follow Star Magic's official Twitter account @StarMagicPhils and Facebook page www.facebook.com/StarMagicPH for more updates.

America & Kalapana To Perform Their '70s Greatest Hits

Expect the legendary folk rock duo America and Hawaiian band Kalapana to blow their audience away as they share the same stage in their concert tonight at 8 at the Smart-Araneta to perform their greatest hits.

"America with Kalapana 2012 Philippine Tour," a musical presentation from Ovation Productions, kicks off tonight at Smart-Araneta Coliseum a three-city series of live concerts that will include shows at the Waterfront Cebu City Hotel & Casino on Oct. 19 and at the University of Baguio on Oct. 21.

America returns to the local concert scene more than two years after its successful four-city tour here in 2009 that was highlighted by a sold-out performance at the Big Dome.

America's self-titled debut album was released in 1971 and quickly went platinum after it was re-issued with "A Horse With No Name," while the second album, released in November, 1972, won a Grammy Award for "Best New Artist of 1972." America finally won recognition from the entertainment industry when it was inducted into the Vocal Hall of Fame in 2006 and given a Star at the Hollywood Walk of Fame on Feb. 6, 2012.

Kalapana, on the other hand, which is celebrating its 39th year in the entertainment industry, was formed by childhood friends David John (DJ) Pratt and Carl James Malani Bilyeu, it made its debut in the entertainment circuit by playing its first gig at Chuck's in Hawaii Kai. It gained wider exposure when it opened for the concerts of Earth, Wind & Fire, Batdorf & Rodney, The Moody Blues, Sly & The Family Stone and fellow homegrown artists Cecilio and Kapono.

Kalapana made a successful breakthrough when it performed with the LA-based fusion band Hiroshima, played at the grand opening of Hard Rock Café in Honolulu and performed in two-sold out concerts in the Philippines with an attendance of 10,000 each night.

("America with Kalapana 2012 Philippine Tour" is produced by Ovation Productions in association with Philippine Airlines, ETC., 2nd Avenue, Jack TV, Talk TV, History Channel, Edsa Shangri-La Manila, Gerry's Grill and Baguio Country Club. It is also supported by the Manila Bulletin, Philippine Daily Inquirer, The Philippine Star, BusinessWorld, philstar.com, Inquirer.net, 96.3 Easy Rock, RX 93.1 Monster Radio, Mellow 94.7, RJ 100.3 FM, 97.9 Home Radio, ABS-CBN 2 and OptimaSignsolutions.)

It seemed only a few of them enjoyed the three-hour, ABS-CBN musical extravaganza, which started at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 31 and was presented on a specially made stage in front of the Quirino Grandstand.

Then they surprised everybody by airing their program without commercial interruption.

Palaging kasabay ng mga naglalakihang balita ang mga reformat sa ABS-CBN News. Noon mismong unang telecast ng Insider noong Hulyo 28, 2003, katatapos pa lamang maganap ng pag-aaklas sa Oakwood, at mainit na mainit na balita ito. Kaliwa't kanan ang mga special report at mga live studio interview na naipapalabas noon sa newscast. Napakarami kasing mga anggulo ang isyu ng Oakwood.

Noong nagbagong-bihis naman ang TV Patrol at naging TV Patrol World ito, kasagsagan ng isyu ng pambibihag kay Angelito Nayan sa Iraq. Dito, mahusay na napanindigan ng TV Patrol World ang tagline nitong "Patrol ng Pilipino saan man sa mundo." Kung pag-uusapan din naman kasi ang mga international news bureau, wala nang tatalo sa ABS-CBN sa Pilipinas. Mayroon silang ABS-CBN Middle East News Bureau at nagpadala pa sila ng mga batikang tagapag-ulat ng ABS-CBN Manila sa Iraq. Kamuntikan na yatang matepok ang GMA News noon, dahil sungkol ang "World" ng bagong "TV Patrol" sa noo'y maiinit na balita sa abroad. Talagang nagmistulang ABS-CBN ang mas maaasahan. Iyon nga lang, mabilis din namang namatay ang isyu ng pambibihag, dahil pinakawalan din kaagad si Nayan ilang araw matapos unang umere ang bagong TV Patrol. Sa mga isyung pambansa na naman tumutok ang lahat, 24 Oras.

Bukas, papasok ang bagong Insider kasabay ng dalawang naglalakihang isyu: Ang jueteng scandal ng mga lalaking Arroyo at ang iskandalong "Gloria-gate" ng Pangulo mismo. Nagkataon lang ba na ngayon eere ang bagong Insider, o sinasadya kaya ito? Sabay nga sa maiinit na isyu ang "bagong anggulo" ng Insider, ngunit sabay din kaya ang newscast sa paglamig ng mga isyung ito? Abangan din.

Bukas na ang unang telecast ng bagong Insider, kasama sina Atty. Dong Puno at Ces Oreña Drilon. Kapana-panabik ang tagline nito na "sa gitna ng aksyon, sa loob ng balita." Daragdagan daw nito ng "bagong anggulo" ang mga balita. Ayon sa aking nakalap sa website ng The Filipino Channel, "two broadcasts in one telecast" daw ito, kung ano man ang ibig sabihin nila. Mapanatili kaya ng Insider nina Dong at Ces ang format na ito, 'di tulad ng Insider na kanilang sinundan?

Matatandaang tatlong taon na ang nakalilipas, ang tagline ng Insider ay "mga drama sa likod ng balita," kung saan pangunahing anchor pa sina Karen Davila at Cito Beltran. Noong una ay napanindigan pa ng ABS-CBN ang format ng programa, kaya't masasabing malaliman talaga ang pagtalakay ng Insider noon. Marami pa sila noong maaayos na special report, pati na rin mga live na panayam sa studio sa mga pangunahing tauhan sa balita. Sa katunayan, nakadiseno pa nga yata ang set ng Insider sa pamamaraang may puwang ang mga bisita sa anchors' desk.

Iyon nga lang, matapos ang ilang buwan, binitiwang din ng ABS-CBN ang ganitong format. Nagkontra-opensiba naman kasi ang Saksi ng GMA, katapat na newscast ng Insider. Sa pamamagitan ng sandamakmak na TV plugging, inihain ng GMA ang Saksi bilang alternatibo sa di-purong balita, patama baga sa pagbabalita ng Insider na umano'y nababahiran ng editoryal ang analysis. Walang sobra, walang kulang, "wala nang hihigit pa sa katotohanan" ang ipinagsigawan ng Saksi, na noo'y pinagtatambalan pa nina Mike Enriquez at Vicky Morales. Hanggang ngayon ay kinakagat pa rin ito ng mga manonood ang Saksi.

Kaya ang sunod na tanong: Kayanin kaya ng bagong Insider ang Saksi? Abangan.

Palaging kasabay ng mga naglalakihang balita ang mga reformat sa ABS-CBN News. Noon mismong unang telecast ng Insider noong Hulyo 28, 2003, katatapos pa lamang maganap ng pag-aaklas sa Oakwood, at mainit na mainit na balita ito. ABS-CBN Headlines was a late night news program aired on ABS-CBN from 2000 to 2003 anchored by Karen Davila and Tony Velasquez. It was replaced by ABS-CBN Insider in 2003.

Theme Music

ABS-CBN Headlines Theme, composed and arranged by Jessie Lucas. The theme is a combination of Headlines by Craig Palmer from Network Music (theme from GMA Network's investigative magazine program Brigada Siete) and the 1987 six-note "A-B-S-C-B-N" instrumental jingle.

All roads leads to Clark Expo Philippines, Angeles City, Pampanga on Nov. 19, 7 p.m. when the longest noontime show on television "Eat Bulaga," stages its 25th year extravaganza. This show celebrates the program's humble beginnings since it first saw light last July 30, 1979 on Radio Philippines Network Channel 9.

Today's top showbiz luminaries and personalities will grace the silver presentation at Clark Expo including the former hosts of the program led by Chiqui Hollman, Lani Mercado and Coney Reyes.

"Eat Bulaga" discoveries will likewise display their craft in a special spectacle led by Aiza Seguerra, Jessa Zaragoza and Donna Cruz.

Not to be outdone are the sexy gals led by Patricia Javier, Diana Zubiri and Juliana Palermo who are expected to titillate the crowd with their eye-popping terpsichorean exhibition.

Asia's Song Bird Regine Velasquez will regal the noontime show followers with her solo spot.

Concert Queen, Pops Fernandez, is expected to bring the house down with her fabulous costume and production number.

Other invited performers that will be part of the celebration are Andrew E., Sunshine Cruz and "Starstruck Final Four," Jennylyn Mercado, Mark Herras, Yasmien Kurdi and Ranier Castillo. To add spice and flavour to the grand event are the "Starstruck Avengers," Katrina Halili, Cristine Reyes, Dion Ignacio, Tyrone Perez, Alvin Aragon, Jade Lopez and more.

It's a night of non-stop entertainment and an evening too of sentimental journey when the longest running noontime program presents an array of videotaped segments, presentations and memories that will surely ignite all emotions of those who have become part and parcel of the program.

Of course, "Eat Bulaga!" has managed to stay on top despite the very, very tough sailing and the challenges and competitions hurdled against the show and its hosts.

Yet, it is still going strong and continues to generate excitement on its daily fare. It is because it does not stop in exploring inspiring and interesting portions that makes "Eat Bulaga!" a daily noontime habit.

Credits should be given more on its original hosts, the comic trio of Tito, Vic and Joey plus the other members of the family that continue to jive and compliment with the wit and experience of the rambunctious troika.

Now, "Eat Bulaga!" boasts of its new members of the family led by Jimmy Santos, Ruby Rodriguez, Allan K, Janno Gibbs, Francis Magalona, Toni Rose Gayda, Toni Gonzaga, Paolo Ballesteros, Gladys Guevarra, Michael V., Teri Onor, Wally Bayola, Jose Manalo, Pia Guanio and Anjo Yllana. Expect a terrific musical from them on Nov. 19.

"Eat Bulaga's" Silver Year this Friday from Clark Expo Philippines will be aired on a two-part special on GMA-7. The first part will be telecast on Nov. 27 at 11:30AM and the second part will be played on Nov.

28 after "Daddy Di Do Du!"

In this rate race world of television, many are called but only few are chosen. And in every rule, there is always and exemption.

In "Eat Bulaga's" case however, it is not only the chosen one and an exemption to the rule but rather a miraculous creation that stands out from among the rest that makes it the best among the crop.

Virtually unnoticed in the last weeks that have been dominated by typhoons Ondoy and Pepeng was the outstanding feat of De La Salle University's (DLSU) 21-year old Enchong Dee who led the Green Tankers to the championship of the 72nd UAAP swimming competitions held at the Trace Aquatic Sports Complex, Los Baños. Dee won his third consecutive MVP award and won the gold in all 21 events he swam the past three years. Dee's events were the 50m, 100m and 200m butterfly; 800m and 1500m freestyle; and 200m and 400m individual medley. Dee ends his UAAP career with four records while being a mainstay in ABS-CBN's evening telenovelas. All these while graduating with honors and continuing on his graduate studies in development studies. The UAAP Swimming Championship have been organized the past three years by Sports Management Solutions and staged at Trace College, an event partner. Speedo is the other event partner while other sponsors are PAGCOR, Madrigal Dormitories, World Balance and Gatorade.

The Department of Health commends young matinee actor Enchong Dee for donating blood last August 16, 2011 at the DOH Central office in Sta. Cruz, Manila. Dee made the move in response to the recent call of the Philippine Red Cross for more blood donors as this is a big help to those needing blood like in cases of dengue hemorrhagic fever, although not all dengue cases require blood transfusion. Health Secretary Enrique T. Ona stressed that donating blood is healthy and appreciated the move of Dee to encourage volunteerism among the youth.

Dee is currently taping for the Abs-Cbn's primetime drama series Ina, Kapatid, Anak.

History of DZRJ-AM: Before and After EDSA Revolution

Radyo Bandido

In February 1986, during the Philippines' historic People Power Revolution that ousted the iron rule of President Ferdinand Marcos, it was in DZRJ's radio station facility—hastily christened "Radyo Bandido"—that the newscaster, June Keithley, and Fr. James Reuter, S.J. had sought refuge and commandeered its resources. Keithley's radio network, the Roman Catholic Church owned Radio Veritas, was bombed off the air by the incumbent's military forces. The Radyo Bandido broadcasts opened with the political jingle, "Mambo Magsaysay" (composed by Raul Manglapus), which was the theme music of Radio Veritas. June Keithley received the Medal of the Legion of Honor from President Cory Aquino following Marcos' fall.

To acknowledge the patrimony of its key role in the victorious and bloodless revolution, DZRJ AM rebranded as Radyo Bandido with a public service format. Meanwhile, the music format revived in FM as RJ 100.3 and later, RJ Underground Radio 105.9 (now Radio High 105.9); as well as their flagship TV network RJTV 29. DZRJ-AM has also a role on the EDSA DOS. DZRJ is known for some veteran broadcasters such as Johnny Midnight, Art Borjal Since 2004, it began bringing news from BBC & VOA. The PBA Games on Radio was moved to DZRJ-AM from DZSR in 2009. UAAP on Radio started on DZRJ-AM in 2010.

The Voice of the Philippines

With Radyo Bandido's popularity waning during the recent years, the management decided to launch a unique brand in June 2010. Last July 19, it upgraded its transmitter facilities to 50,000 watts. Radyo Bandido signed off for the last time on August 22.

On August 25, 2010, DZRJ launched its English broadcasting with the slogan The Voice of the Philippines as a test broadcast, although it officially launched on October 4, 2010.[1] DZRJ is the only English-language AM station in Mega Manila. Its format consisted of English News from Philippine Star, VOA and the BBC, Lifestyle, Sports and Public Service.

Patrick Tulfo, Rey Hidalgo Santos, Gerry Cornejo & Johnny Midnight are the only remaining original hosts of the RJAM roster. The Radyo Bandido moniker used also on the RJAM provincial stations was phased out, but did not change the broadcasting language to English.

Even though it was reported that there were power interruptions in some areas in Metro Manila during the airing of Dyesebel on April 28, the series premiered with a very high 44.9% against Lobo's 18.2%. According to Meralco, there was a problem in their power supply. Due to public demands, the pilot week of the series was re-aired on 11:45am to 1:00pm of May 4. The replay also rated high with rating against ABS-CBN's Oscar de la Hoya and SteveForbes fight - which received a 15.2%. The series also topped the National Urban TV Audience Measurement, or NUTAM, for the months of April and May with 40.1%. © 2008 GMA Network

True to form, Darna flew high on its pilot episode last August 10. The GMA-7 fantaserye, which stars Marian Rivera, generated a whopping 44.1 percent to lead all programs. It has a significant margin of 11.8 percent over second-placer Tayong Dalawa, which posted a rating of 32.3 percent. This is based on the latest overnight ratings of AGB Nielsen Philippines among Mega Manila households. Marian's Darna came at the time where ABS-CBN is giving a very strong competition in the ratings game. Also, Darna is pitted against May Bukas Pa, considered the No. 1 program of the Kapamilya network, which also topped the primetime race several times. May Bukas Pa slipped to sixth place with 24.6 percent. Aside from May Bukas Pa, Darna's pilot episode, which ran for over an hour, was also pitted against Only You, which came in seventh place with 24.5 percent. Also, after quite a long time, a GMA-7 primetime series was able to reach the 40-plus mark again. First Week Average Rating: 43.5% © 2009 GMA Network

Prayer to Saint Pedro Calungsod

Saint Pedro Calungsod, student, catechist, young migrant,
missionary, faithful friend, martyr,
you inspire us
by your fidelity in times of adversity;
by your courage in teaching the faith in the midst of hostility; and by your love in shedding your blood for the sake of the Gospel.

Make our troubles your own (here mention your request) and intercede for us before the throne of Mercy and Grace so that,
as we experience the help of heaven,
we may be encouraged to live and proclaim the Gospel here on earth.

Amen.

Dennis Lustico's first solo show called Lustico: A Fashion Presentation was held at the Rizal Ballroom of the Makati Shangri-La. Guests were welcomed by organizers and Lustico's loyal clients, Tessa Prieto-Valdes and Taguig first lady Kaye Tinga, who spearheaded the show to raise more funds for the relief operations of the Philippine National Red Cross Rizal Chapter for the typhoon victims. The show was also done for the benefit of the Assumption High School Class 1981 Foundation and Tanging Yaman Foundation.

Lustico's new collection The Legionnaire was a 40-piece collection inspired by early Anglo-Gallic-Roman gallantry particularly the Legion d'Honneur Order established by Napoleon Bonaparte. Lustico's new pieces showed a palette of strong hues such as navy and electric blue, gun metal, bottle green, ivory, silver gray, polished gold and black, with accents of softer tones like rose, cherry and peach.

As guests enjoyed an all-Filipino feast, they joined Tessa, Kaye and Dennis in raising funds for charity and typhoon victims in a silent auction, proceeds of which will be donated to the Philippine National Red Cross Rizal Chapter. Items included in the bidding were vacation packages in Boracay, Bohol, Bicol, Palawan, Cebu and in Europe; HSBC Red Package composed of a Red Mastercard, Rustan's Beauty Box and a Lustico gown; Jul Dizon brooch; Sony Ericsson Satio Phone; high-end items from Rustan's and B&B Italia; PLDT SME Package; an Ivan Acuna painting; and a Daniel Dela Cruz metal sculpture.

The event was directed by Ariel Lozada. Fashion styling was done by Noel Manapat and hair and makeup by Patrick Rosas. The show was presented by HSBC, Rustan's the Beauty Source and Audi, in cooperation with Santa Maria Novella, Murad and Manuel Canovas Parfums. It was also co-sponsored by DMCI Homes, Megaworld, PLDT, Ethan Allen, Makati Shangri-La Hotel, Sony Ericsson, El Nido, Janylin Shoes, Jul Dizon Jewellery, Philippine Daily Inquirer, The Philippine Star, Philippine Tatler, ABS-CBN 2, GMA 7, QTV 11, S&R Membership and Thai Airways. A look at greatness in 2009

Author: Resty Vergara
Column: Eye Catcher

While the Christmas season brings much merry making and joyful reunions, it also brings to mind the approaching end of another year. Eyecatcher looks back at some of the events of 2009 that left a lasting memory and augured new beginnings. Bravo, Dennis Lustico! It was a successful celebration that launched designer Dennis Lustico's foray into the elite fashion league via his first solo show entitled Lustico: A Fashion Presentation held at the Rizal Ballroom of the Makati Shangri-La. Society, fashion and entertainment personalities gathered to witness the blossoming of Lustico as the next it fashion designer in a fashion-cum-charity event that showcased not only his ingenuity but also his altruism.

Welcoming the guests were organizers and Lustico's loyal clients, Tessa Prieto-Valdes and Taguig First Lady Kaye Tinga, who spearheaded the show to raise more funds for the relief of the Philippine National

Red Cross Rizal Chapter for the typhoon Ondoy victims, as well as for the benefit of the Assumption High School Class 1981 Foundation and Tanging Yaman Foundation. Lustico: A Fashion Presentation showcased the designers new collection, The Legionnaire, a 40-piece collection inspired by early Anglo-Gallic-Roman gallantry, particularly the Legion D'Honneur French chivalry order established by Napoleon Bonaparte in the 1800s. The ensemble perfectly incorporates Lusticos love for fluidity, style and drama with textured or structured elements to create mens inspired clothing for the modern woman.

Models worked the runway donning Lusticos new pieces, which showed an interesting palette of strong hues such as navy and electric blue, gun metal, bottle green, ivory, silver gray, polished gold and black with accents of soft tones such as rose, cherry and peach satin, French and Italian lace and English wool. Gracing the event to show their support for Lustico were Mayor Freddie Tinga, Dennis Valdes, Marixi Rufino-Prieto, Rustans Zenaída Tantoco, Renna Hechanova-Angeles, Meilie Ablaza, Irene Francisco, Beth Fernando, Ben Chan and seasoned fashion designer Inno Sotto, Pepito Albert, Cesar Gaupo, Lulu Tangan, Tonichi Nocom, Vic Barba, Jojie Lloren, Randy Ortiz, Rhett Eala, Rajo Laurel, Ivar Aseron and Puey Quinones, among other personalities from society, fashion and entertainment.

Kapuso, maganda ang bukas,
Kapuso magsamasama
Kaisa tayo sa puso,
Kaisa tayo sa hangarin,
Magkasama tayong mangarap Biyaya ng buhay,
Maging abot kamay
Sa Diyos nagtitiwala,
Sa sarili naniniwala
Sama-sama nananalig, Nangagarap, nagsisikap.
Kapuso anumang hamon ng buhay..
(Anumang hamon ng buhay)
Noon at ngayon
Tahanang Pilipino Walang kasing saya.
O kay sarap nadarama
Lahat ng ating hinahangad.
O kay Tamis makakamtan
Tagumpay na inaasam
Kaisa tayo sa Puso
Kaisa tayo sa hangarin,
Sama-samang nananalig
Nangagarap, nagsisikap
Kapuso, anumang tagumpay ng buhay (sa G-M-A..)
Kapuso ng bawat Pilipino (sa G-M-A...)

Assassination of John Joseph "Jojo" Wenceslao in Katorse:

Attack: Sniper style assassination

Weapon(s) : 6.5 × 52 mm Italian Carcano M91/38 bolt-action rifle

Deaths: 1 killed (John Joseph "Jojo" Wenceslao)

Jojo Wenceslao (played by Enchong Dee): GABBY, halos buong highschool mag bestfriend tayo. Kasama kita sa katarantaduhan, away tsaka saya hindi kita iniwan.. Ginawa mo kong babysitter ng anak mo, pero hindi ako nagreklamo. Nung malalaman mong mamatay ka na, pinasa mo sa akin si Nene para maging malaya kayo ni marissa, at Dahil mahal ko si Nene, nang malaman mong hindi ka na mamatay so binawi mo siya sakín Tinraydor mo pa nga ako eh, Lumaban ako pero hindi ako nanalo, alam mo kung bakit? Dahil kahit anong gawin ko ikaw ang tatay ng anak niya. Gabby nakatali si Nene sayo. Dalawang taon. Dalawang taon ko kayong hindi inistorbo. Dalawang taon kayong magkasama. Gabby, bakit hindi ka niya minahal sa dalawang taon na iyon? Ngayon ako ba ang salot o ikaw?

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Jojo: Pare anong problema mo?

Gabby: Huwag na huwag mo akong matawag na pare dahil hindi kita kaibigan. Ikaw ang salot sa buhay ko.

Jojo: Eh tanga ka pala. Kung salot ako sa buhay mo bakit mo ako inimbíta? Anong ginagawa ko sa'yo?

Gabby: Inagaw mo sa akin si Nene!

Jojo: Binigay mo sa akin si Nene!

Gabby: Dahil sa'yo kung bakit hindi nya ako kayang mahalin!

Jojo: Dahil sa'yo kaya hindi kanya kayang mahalin!

Gabby: Ano bang meron ka na wala ako ha?

Jojo: Ano bang meron ako na wala ka?

Gabby: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene kung bakit hindi ka nya makalimutan?

Jojo: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene at hindi ka nya kayang mahalin? Sukang suka sya sa'yo na hindi ka nya kayang pakasalan!

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

After being shot down, Gabby Arcangel (Ejay Falcon) refused, one of the men was fuming mad, and he blames Jojo for this. He holds a gun to Jojo's head and blames him for stealing Nene away from him. At this point, Wenceslao was shot five times in the left side of his chest and killed.

Nene: JOJO!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Tulungan po!!!!

Nene Reyes (Erich Gonzales) also hugged Jojo Wenceslao (Enchong Dee) as he was shot and killed during Nene's 18th birthday party. He was rushed to the Makati Medical Center.

AS PART of ABS-CBN's ON going program revamp, its late-night newscast is set to undergo a major overhaul.

The reprogramming or re-gridding, reported by Inquirer Entertainment on May 28, finally starts on July 3. For a start, the late-night news show Insider has been retitled Bandila.

Apart from the title change, the program will be reformatted.

Original Insider anchor Ces Drilon will be joined by fellow senior correspondents Henry Omega Diaz, Weekend Patrol anchor; and Korina Sanchez, former TV Patrol anchor.

This marks Korina's return to nightly news after nearly two years, said Maria Ressa, senior vice president and head of News and Current Affairs.

Luchi Cruz-Valdez, head of Current Affairs, said the title, which translates to flag, alludes to the term banner story, or top news of the day.

Bandila also refers to the tri-color literally. Ressa explained: Three colors, three stars, three anchors. Charie Villa, head of Newsgathering, said Drilon, Diaz and Sanchez were three of the networks most experienced reporters-anchors.

Objective

Ressa said the goal for Bandila was to make it agenda-setting.

We first tried it on TV Patrol World, with Ted Failon, Julius Babao and Karen Davila, Villa recalled.

The new program will run for 30 minutes. It will be followed by a Current Affairs show, said Valdez. That's an hour and a half of N&CA every night.

While the newscast delivers information, Ressa said, the Current Affairs programs provide analysis. We are bucking worldwide trends because more Filipinos are watching the news now. There are a number of factors behind this: the volatility and uncertainty in political/economic life; weakness of institutions; the OFW phenomenon. Crime stories are popular because of the peace and order situation. Filipinos want to know more about world events because nearly eight million of our relatives and friends are working abroad.

The reformatting of the late-night newscast is only the tip of the iceberg, hinted Maloli K. Espinosa, vice president for Government, Corporate Affairs and PR. There will be bigger changes in the next few weeks.

Premiere national prime-time TV newscast TV Patrol kicked off its 25th anniversary celebration last week with a special episode Monday night.

Broadcast journalists Noli de Castro, Korina Sanchez and Ted Failon led members of the ABS-CBN News team to launch the "TV Patrol Balitandaan" in Pampanga.

These will be 25 mini-monuments set up in landmarks where the 25 biggest news events for the news program happened in the last 25 years.

Ma. Regina "Ging" Reyes, head of ABS-CBN news and current affairs group, said TV Patrol will also undertake a venture called "Beinte Singko Para sa Kabayan Ko," which will encourage Filipinos to drop in 25 centavos in customized TV Patrol cans which will be distributed in 25 provinces all over the country.

The fund-raising target amount of P2.5 million will be given to selected beneficiaries.

"Through the program's commemorative activities, TV Patrol seeks to engage Filipinos towards a common goal and bolsters their role as 'patrollers' that exhibit concern and service for the nation," Ms. Reyes said in a press statement.

TV Patrol is considered a pioneer of the fast-paced Filipino newscasts, having introduced the concept in 1987 after the Lopezes regained control of broadcast company ABS-CBN Corp.

"In 1987, the trailblazing TV Patrol revolutionized the way Philippine TV networks produce their prime-time newscasts when it introduced a novel, mass-oriented format that appealed to Filipinos' craving for news reports and information when democracy was restored," Ms. Reyes said. "It not only set the trend in how newscasts should be done but also became the undisputed top news program in the country until today," she added.

TV Patrol's first 25 years saw a string of groundbreaking firsts for TV. It became the first news program to deliver news on weekends on February 14, 2004 and the first to be available online via live streaming on March 1, 1995.

"More notably, TV Patrol has redefined the concept of citizen empowerment by encouraging Filipinos to be active and vigilant," Ms. Reyes said.

ABS-CBN's award-winning breakthrough election campaign "Boto Mo, iPatrol Mo" (BMPM)- born from the "Citizen Patrol" segment of TV Patrol - called on citizens to report irregularities, election violations and emergencies via text message and e-mail before and during the 2007 and 2010 national elections.

Through the efforts of the BMPM Patrollers and ABS-CBN reporters and anchors, the TV network was named the most credible news source covering the elections based on a Pulse Asia survey in February 2010.

"Moreover... The team of [Mr.] De Castro, [Ms.] Sanchez and [Mr.] Failon topped the 2011 survey in the national capital region by StratPolls, Inc. as the most credible news team on Philippine television," Ms. Reyes said.

TV Patrol airs weeknights at 6:30 p.m., and weekends at 6 p.m. on ABS- CBN.

DZMM Radyo Patrol 630's slogan "Una sa Balita, Una sa Public Service" is a relatively fresh one at 12 years old, but the radio station, which traces its roots to the fall of the Marcos regime, has been at the helm of news coverage and public involvement for two decades.

For its 24th year, the station has decided to launch a new program, Project TLC, to underline its battle cry. "It's all about teaching, learning, and caring," says Peter Musngi, head of DZMM's Manila Radio Division. The initiative will involve rolling out both a library and a clinic on wheels for out-of-school six- to 11-year-olds. Checkups will be conducted by the station's affiliate hospitals and clinics.

A recap of DZMM 630's recent activities will find the radio station familiar with public service. In February, it hosted the annual "Takbo Para sa Kalikasan" - a fun run that drew in 4,000 runners, some of them celebrities like Enchong Dee, Piolo Pascual, Maricar Reyes, and Jake Cuenca - for ABS- CBN Foundation's La Mesa Watershed rehabilitation project. "We offer on- ground events to support the station's advocacy," says Marah Capuyan, station manager and DZMM Radyo Patrol 630 and TeleRadyo officer-in-charge.

In June, it held a boutique congress at the SM Megamall for 800 pregnant women. Six speakers delivered talks on how the mothers-to-be could best take care of their children.

These initiatives follow in the tracks of the two conferences it held earlier this year to promote voter's awareness: the Comelec Forum in January hosted by on-air tandems Gerry Baja and Anthony Taberna, and Henry Omega-Diaz and Nina Corpuz; and the Kilos Bayan Forum in April, facilitated by Vic Lima, Karen Davila and Ruby Tayag.

The May polls had posed a twofold challenge to DZMM, which was already under pressure to conduct a compelling coverage of the national elections. A number of anchors, among them Neil Ocampo, Joey Lina, Angelo Palmones and Rod Izon were either going on leave or were hanging their headphones for good to run for public office - a big loss for a station that, according to Mr. Musngi, considers its anchors its "secret weapons."

But for some veterans, the road back home still leads to radio. Former First District of Leyte representative Ted Failon, and more recently, former vice-president Noli de Castro, returned to their booths after their terms.

"The good thing about DZMM is that we are supported by the production team, the research team, the Radyo Patrol team, the special events team, and the news and information center," adds Ms. Capuyan. It is the one working behind the scenes, she said, that enable radio anchors to stay on top of current events.

But DZMM, which has gained repeated nods from Rotary Club of Manila and the Kapisanan ng mga Brodkaster ng Pilipinas (KBP), is quick to credit a bigger brigade.

Mr. Musngi, who does the well-known "maraming salamat po" voice-over for ABS-CBN, says, "[When we say] 'maraming salamat po,' we really mean that. We appreciate [the suggestions] because that means we get to engage the listeners on a more personal level." The feedback they get through text messages, says Ms. Capuyan, serves as the radio station's watchdog. "They are our guide in coming up with the format that we have right now."

DZMM 630 stepped out of its traditional medium when it launched its Teleradyo format, which airs its radio programs on the small screen. "We are now carried by 240 cable TV systems in the country and we are also being telecast via ABS-CBN Global or The Filipino Channel (TFC)." DZMM 630, through its World Caravan, has visited Filipinos in Hong Kong and Barcelona this year, and is set to head to New Jersey in the US in September.

"Teyssi" which brings back Tessie Tomas, didn't do as well against GMA's soap "Maria del Barrio" losing by as much as six percentage points. On some days, though, "Maria's" lead is only one percentage point. Kris Aquino seems to be doing well with viewers, as her "The Buzz" with co-host Boy Abunda outdistanced "S-Files" and her "Game KNB" is a consistent top-rater, outdistancing the soap "Habang Kapiling Ka" two to one. Boy's "Etc" with co-host Tintin Bersola, now airing three times a week, beat "Extra, Extra."

In the battle of the newscasts, "TV Patrol" anchored by Korina Sanchez, Henry Omga Diaz and Aljo Bendijo is the dominant newscast outrating "Front Page."

In the late-night newscast, though, ABS-CBN's "Headlines" is not doing as well against "Saksi." It's a neck-to-neck battle, with "Saksi" winning in three of the five days.

Television giants ABS-CBN Corp. and GMA Network, Inc. have both shuffled their daytime programming lineups once more - apparently in reaction to each others moves - as the competition for ratings gets more fierce.

On Monday, ABS-CBN moved its afternoon game show Panahon Ko 'To! (Ang Game Show ng Buhay Ko) to the 10:30 a.m. time-slot after GMA transferred its afternoon game show, Hole in the Wall, to 10:30 a.m. last Saturday. Panahon Ko 'To! used to air weekdays at 5 p.m., while Hole in the Wall previously aired weekdays at 5:30 p.m.

Also on Monday, ABS-CBN moved its talent show Showtime to 11 a.m., an hour ahead of its previous noon time-slot.

The show is followed by the game show Pilipinas Win na Win, which now airs at 1 p.m., Mondays to Saturdays. It is the third time-slot change for the two-month-old game show top-billed by TV host Kris Aquino, which was originally intended to replace the defunct noontime show Wowowee in the noon time-slot.

Airing against Showtime is GMA's new game show Asar Talo, hosted by Edu Manzano. Following Asar Talo is the longest running noontime show Eat Bulaga, which have seen a resurgence in its national ratings after Wowowee was yanked out from ABS-CBN's programming lineup on July 30.

The old Filipino movies that were being shown by both ABS-CBN and GMA Network in the 10:30 a.m. time-slot were moved to 4 p.m. starting last Monday.

TV Patrol, ABS-CBN's flagship news program continues to dominate the evening primetime news block, topping ratings and audience shares locally. Fourteen years after it first debuted in 1987, the trailblazing program remains undefeated despite competing networks having thrown every format and programming strategy against it.

Evidence of TV Patrol's sustained popularity is the latest ratings and audience share figures from AGB Philippines. In Metro Manila, for the period Aug. 12 to 18, TV Patrol got an average rating of 36.9 percent. Its closest news competitor, Saksi, received a 16.6 percent rating.

With the entry of TV Patrol's main anchor Noli de Castro to the Senate, the program returned to the multiple-host, panel format it had during its initial debut. The program now has a formidable news team with anchors Korina Sanchez, Henry Omega-Diaz and Aljo Bendijo. Viewers have since welcomed TV Patrol's change in format, acknowledging the credibility and professionalism of the new anchors as evident in a recent study conducted nationwide by the Social Weather Stations (SWS) where all three received high net satisfaction ratings nationwide. Multi-awarded broadcast journalist Korina Sanchez, who stands as the lead anchor in the program, received a remarkable 81 percent net satisfaction rating among viewers.

TV Patrol also takes advantage of ABS-CBN's resources nationwide with live satellite feeds from reporters in the network's regional stations. Local TV Patrols in the various provinces such as TV Patrol Visayas and TV Patrol Davao have also proven to be successful with regional viewers. Even among audiences worldwide through ABS-CBN's The Filipino Channel (TFC), TV Patrol is a perennial favorite among Filipinos abroad.

A spin-off from the Radyo Patrol of ABS-CBN Radio, TV Patrol also finds its home in DZMM 630 as it is aired simultaneously on the top-rating radio station.

TV Patrol broadcasts weekdays at 6 to 7 p.m. on ABS-CBN.

A recap of DZMM 630's recent activities will find the radio station familiar with public service. In February, it hosted the annual "Takbo Para sa Kalikasan" - a fun run that drew in 4,000 runners, some of them celebrities like Enchong Dee, Piolo Pascual, Maricar Reyes, and Jake Cuenca - for ABS- CBN Foundation's La Mesa Watershed rehabilitation project.

PLANS to build a central rail station near SM City North EDSA mall in Quezon City has been shelved due to foreseen looping problems. -- CRECENCIO I CRUZ

"It is currently being studied by engineers because it is not really included in the original plan," Transportation Secretary Manuel A. Roxas II told BusinessWorld in a chance interview last week, referring to the Metro Manila Integrated Rail Terminal or "common station" initially targeted by the earlier administration to be completed by May 2010.

This was supposed to link the Metro Rail Transit Line 3 (MRT-3), Light Rail Transit Line 1 (LRT-1) and the planned MRT-7 for seamless travel.

SM Prime Holdings, Inc., the operator of SM malls, had earlier given the Light Rail Transit Authority P200 million for "naming rights" over the project.

In the meantime, rival Ayala Land, Inc.'s TriNoma mall solely enjoys direct connection to the train station in the area.

A new station near SM City North EDSA, in between LRT-1's Roosevelt Station and MRT-3's North Ave. Station, might cause complications to the train loop, Mr. Roxas said.

"The last station of LRT-1 and the last station of [MRT-3] in TriNoma is roughly 600 meters apart only," he said. "So it will disrupt the trains' loop timing."

Mr. Roxas said that in the event that the project will no longer push through, the government might return SM Prime's money.

"We may return [it]," he said. [But] I don't know if we can return it... I am not familiar with the terms."

"We will do what is right. We cannot just proceed... There is no provision for [a common terminal] in the original design of the MRT-3," Mr. Roxas added.

SM Investment Corp., the parent firm of SM Prime, declined to comment.

The 16.95-kilometer (km) MRT-3 runs along EDSA (Epifanio de los Santos Ave.) from North Ave. in Quezon City to Taft Ave. in Manila.

The 20.7-km LRT-1, meanwhile, runs from Baclaran Station in Pasay City to Roosevelt Station in Quezon City.

Construction for the third line that would have been linked to the central terminal, MRT-7, has yet to secure "financial closure" from Japanese lenders, earlier reports show.

The project proposal was reportedly referred back to the National Economic and Development Authority from the Finance department for reevaluation, previous reports showed.

Nevertheless, San Miguel Corp. -- which controls Universal LRT Corp. (BVI) Ltd., the concessionaire of the MRT-7 -- has firmed up a deal with D. M. Consunji, Inc. last May for the construction of the railway.

The MRT-7 project involves the construction of a 22-km train line with 14 train stations from San Jose del Monte in Bulacan to the corner of North Ave. and EDSA in Quezon City, linking up with the LRT-1 and MRT-3.

Nagpaunlak ng panayam ang young actor na si Enchong Dee kaninang tanghali, March 3, sa launch ng bagong Jollibee Floats na ginanap sa TriNoma Mall, Quezon City.

Agad na napunta ang usapin sa isyu ng taong nagpapasaya kay Enchong Dee ngayon, na hindi niya pinapangalanan.

Nang tanungin kung "nagpu-float" ang kanyang lovelife sa ngayon, nagbigay agad ng disclaimer ang Kapamilya actor.

"Nagpo-float, pero uunahan ko na kayo. Kasi kung tatanong n'yo kung sino, hindi ko siyempre sasabihin. Pero masaya ako ngayon," ang mabilis niyang sagot.

Dahil dito, humingi ang press ng ilang clue, na noong una ay ayaw sabihin ni Enchong.

"Huwag na. Kakasabi ko lang na hindi puwede," sabi niya.

Hindi naglaon ay isa-isang nitong sinagot ang mga clue na binabato ng press.

Showbiz o non-showbiz?

"Showbiz."

Kapamilya o Kapuso?

"Kapamilya, siyempre."

Nakatrabaho na niya?

"Hindi."

Hindi naman napigilan ng press na itanong sa kanya kung ito ba ay si Kim Chiu o si Erich Gonzales, dalawang aktres na nali-link sa kanya ngayon.

Parehong "hindi" ang sagot ni Enchong.

NOT ERICH. Ayon kay Enchong, pinili na niyang sabihing may iba siyang nagugustuhan para na rin matigil na ang pagkakabit ng kanyang pangalan sa dalawang young actresses.

"Kasi, parang nadadawit si Kim, nadadawit si Erich. Parang andaming pangalang nadadawit. Para hindi na rin sila nasasama.

"Kumbaga, may sariling buhay sila, e. 'Wag na natin silang guluhin din. 'Wag na nilang ihalo yung kay Enchong," pakiusap ng young actor.

Ayon sa kanya, makakatrabaho niya si Erich sa susunod niyang soap na Maria del Barrio, pero hindi ibig sabihin sila na sa totoong buhay.

Gayunpaman, alam ni Enchong na hindi maapektuhan ang team-up nila ni Erich.

"Kasi siguro, sabi ko nga dun sa mga fans ko, hindi naman namin ever sinabi ni Erich na we're very, very good friends and we support each other whatever it is. So, I didn't think naman na maapektuhan," saad niya.

NOT KIM. Hindi rin daw totoo na si Kim na ang kanyang nagugustuhan. Aniya, tinulungan niya pa ngang ipakilala ang basketball player na si Simon Atkins kay Kim.

"Tapos, may nagsabi pa sa akin, ako ba raw yung nag-link sa kanilang dalawa. Sabi ko, nag-message lang si Simon, nag-email lang, tapos sabi niya nga na yun, gusto niya nga si Kim. Sabi ko, okay. No problem naman," kuwento ni Enchong.

Ano na ba ang status ng Simon-Kim romance?

"Ay, hindi ko alam," sagot ni Enchong. "Kasi ever since umalis yun papuntang Dubai, hindi ko na rin nakita si Kim after pumutok yung isyu... Pagdating kasi sa lovelife, as much as possible, dapat, personal yun, e! So dapat, layo-layo lang ako."

Inamin naman ni Enchong na lumalabas naman talaga sila ni Kim minsan, pero kasama raw nila ang mga kaibigan.

"Bibihira lang kaming lumabas, tapos kapag nakikita pa kami, naiisyu pa. Kahit grupo pa. So, uunahan ko na, wala naman talaga. We're very, very good friends.

"Oo, dati, may admiration. Kasi, sabi ko nga, tanungin mo kahit sino dito sa TriNoMa kung sino ang may gusto kay Kim, lahat 'yan magsasabi na may admiration sila kay Kim. So, I'm just one of them," sabi ni Enchong.

DA WHO? Kung hindi si Kim o si Erich ang nagugustuhan ni Enchong sa ngayon, sino kaya siya? Tikom pa rin ang bibig ni Enchong tungkol dito.

Ano ba ang nagustuhan ni Enchong sa tinutukoy niya?

"Simple," maikli niyang sagot.

Ilang taon na silang magkakilala?

"Matagal ko na siyang kilala. Last year pa."

Nagde-date ba sila?

"Ahm, oo, lumalabas-labas kami minsan, pero ano, siyempre, mas tahimik para maprotektahan yung private life namin. Siyempre, mas yun kami-kami lang," sagot nito.

Ano na ang status nila ngayon?

"Hindi pa kami," sagot ng young actor.

Huling tanong: masaya ba siya sa kanyang lovelife?

"Sobrang happy, kasi nga, sabi ko, parang ngayon nga lang ako naging masaya, di ba? Tapos, masayang-masaya ako kasi kayo sumusuporta rin na hindi n'yo pinipilit kung sino," paliwanag niya.

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Jojo: Pare anong problema mo?

Gabby: Huwag na huwag mo akong matawag na pare dahil hindi kita kaibigan. Ikaw ang salot sa buhay ko.

Jojo: Eh tanga ka pala. Kung salot ako sa buhay mo bakit mo ako inimbíta? Anong ginagawa ko sa'yo?

Gabby: Inagaw mo sa akin si Nene!

Jojo: Binigay mo sa akin si Nene!

Gabby: Dahil sa'yo kung bakit hindi nya ako kayang mahalin!

Jojo: Dahil sa'yo kaya hindi kanya kayang mahalin!

Gabby: Ano bang meron ka na wala ako ha?

Jojo: Ano bang meron ako na wala ka?

Jojo: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene at hindi ka nya kayang mahalin? Sukang suka sya sa'yo na hindi ka nya kayang pakasalan!

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

When Gabby Arcangel (Ejay Falcon) refused, one of the men he get mad. He holds a gun to Jojo's head and blames him for stealing Nene away from him.

At this point, Wenceslao was shot five times in the right side of his chest and killed.

Nene: JOJO!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Tulungan po!!!!

GMA 1986-2002 Jingle: "Where You Belong"

Composer: George Canceco

Lyrics: Menardo Jimenez

Sung by: The Men and Women of the GMA Radio-Television ARTS

It's a place that you come home to It's where everything's just fine
A secret shared together
To pass away the time
Moments that you treasure, a smile that you can't hide
The promise of tomorrow, just building up inside
It's where you belong, GMA
It's the place where you belong
It's where you belong, GMA's where you belong
Good friends, old and new Friends you know are always true
It's where you belong, GMA
It's where you, you, you, it's where you belong.

Wohohoh (2x)

Hindi lang sa langit nandon ang mga bituin
Pag nasilayan ang pag-asa mata mo rin ay may ningning
At hindi lang sa langit nandon ang mga anghel
May nag-aalay ng kabutihan hindi mo man hingin

Ang magbigay ng sarili sa isa't-isa
Ito ang kwento ng Pasko, ito'y liwanag ng mundo

Wohohoh (7x)

Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan
Sa atin nagmumula ang kaliwanagan
Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan
Dalhin natin ang pagpapala sa bawat tahanan

Ilang ulit man ang dilim sa buhay natin dumating
Di papanaw di mauubos ang mga bituin

Ang magbigay ng sarili sa isa't-isa
Ito ang kwento ng Pasko, ito'y liwanag ng mundo

Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan (tuwing Kapaskuhan)
Sa atin nagmumula ang kaliwanagan
Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan
Dalhin natin ang pagpapala sa bawat tahanan

Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan
Sa atin nagmumula ang kaliwanagan (yeah)
Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan
Sa atin nagmumula ang kaliwanagan

Ang liwanag ng Pasko ay kwento ng katuparan
Ng pangako ng Diyos sa buong sanlibutan

Wohohoh (7x)

Dumarami ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan (tuwing Kapaskuhan)
Sa atin (sa atin) nagmumula (nagmumula) ang kaliwanagan

Dumarami (dumarami) ang mga tala tuwing Kapaskuhan (tuwing Kapaskuhan)

Where there is fear I can allay
Where there is pain I can heal
Where there are wounds I can bind
And hunger I can fill

REFRAIN:

Lord, grant me courage
Lord, grant me strength

Grant me compassion
That I may be Your heart today

Where there is hate I can confront
Where there are yokes I can release
Where there are captives I can free
And anger I can appease (REFRAIN)

BRIDGE:
When comes the day I dread
To see our broken world
Compel me from my cell grown cold
That Your people I may behold

Where there is fear I can allay
Where there is pain I can heal
Where there are wounds I can bind
And hunger I can fill (REFRAIN)

CODA:
And when I've done all that I could
Yet there are hearts I cannot move
Lord, give me hope
That I may be Your heart today

Singer-songwriter Don Moen, who gained international popularity for his string of praise-and-worship songs will perform at a special concert on Nov. 8 at the Smart-Araneta Coliseum that will kick off a series of shows in key cities of the country.

The concert series, titled "God Will Make A Way! Philippine Tour 2012," also includes performances at the Bohol Wisdom School Gym in Tagbilaran City on Nov. 10 and at the FSUU Gym in Butuan City on Nov. 11.

To be produced by Ovation Productions, the tour will showcase the exceptional talent and skill of the American singer and songwriter who has attracted millions during the past three decades for his style of praise-and-worship songs that interprets closely the words of the Bible, such as "God Will Make A Way," "Thank You, Lord," "God Is Good All The Time" and "Give Thanks."

Other Christian songs that he has popularized include "Lord, I Offer My Life To You," "I Want To Be Where You Are," "Blessed Be The Name Of The Lord," "Celebrate, Jesus, Celebrate," "Great Is Thy Faithfulness," and many more.

As worship leader, he produced a total of 11 volumes in the series, including the first album, "Hosanna! Music: Give Thanks," which sold hundreds of thousands of copies and became the label's bestseller.

Don received a Dove Award for his work on the musical, "God With Us," and Dove Award nominations for "God Will Make A Way" and eight other songs two years earlier.

His new Christmas album, "Christmas: A Season of Home," with some songs recorded at a studio in the Czech Republic, was released recently. Don has also released a new album titled, "Hymnbook," as a celebration of his reaching over one million likes on his Facebook page.

"God Will Make A Way! Philippine Tour 2012" is produced by Ovation Productions in cooperation with 2nd Avenue, Diva Universal, Jack TV, Talk TV, Edsa Shangri-La Manila and RJ 100.3 FM It is also supported by the Manila Bulletin, Philippine Daily Inquirer, Philippine Star, BusinessWorld, Inquirer.net, philSTAR.com, 96.3 Easy Rock, Monster Radio RX 93.1, Mellow 94.7, 97.9 Home Radio and OptimaSignsolutions. Intro Halika!

VERSE 1
Dito, kahit siksikan ang gaan

Dito, ma-inip man ang gaan.

PRE-CHORUS 1
Kahit bored, may paraan.
Kahit pawisan, tawanan.
Kahit mag-isa ka man
Kayang-kayang gumaan!

CHORUS 1
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Palamig tayong lahat.

Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-NESTEA PLUNGE tayong lahat.

VERSE 2

Dito, kahit ma-trapik ay ang gaan
Dito, mahaba man ang pila ang gaan.

PRE-CHORUS 2
Kaya, i-refresh ang katawan.

"Dito" (Ang Gaan, Ang Sarap)

I-refresh ang isipan.
I-refresh ang pananaw
At tayo ay humiyaw!

CHORUS 2
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Magsaya tayong lahat.

Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-NESTEA PLUNGE tayong lahat.

BRIDGE

Kahit pa uhaw ka na,

Kahit pagpawisan ka,
Kahit maluha ka na,
May i-ga-gaan ka pa!

CHORUS 1 (Acapella)
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Palamig tayong lahat.

Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-NESTEA PLUNGE tayong lahat.

CHORUS 2
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.

Magsaya tayong lahat.

Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.
Mag-refresh tayong lahat.
Dito, ang gaan. Dito, ang sarap.

Bilang may paghahati din sa Philippi, tinanong si Pablo ang kanyang mga Kristiyano upang gumana patungo sa pagkakaisa, isang pagkakaisa na batay sa unselfishness, kapakumbabaan, at alalahanin para sa kabutihan ng iba.

Pagbasa mula sa aklat ng Mga Taga-Filipos

Unang pagbasa (Mga Taga-Filipos 2:1-4):

Yamang mayroon kayong kalakasan ng loob kay Cristo, mayroon kayong kaaliwan sa kaniyang pag-ibig, mayroon kayong pakikipag-isa sa kaniyang Espiritu, mayroon kayong pagmamalasakit at kaawaan.

Lubusin nga ninyo ang aking kagalakan sa pamamagitan ng pagkakaroon ng iisang kaisipan, ng iisang pag-ibig, ng iisang kalooban at ng iisang pag-iisip. Huwag kayong gumawa ng anumang bagay dahil sa makasariling hangarin o pagpapalalo. Sa halip, sa kapakumbabaan ng pag-iisip, ituring ninyo na ang iba ay higit na mabuti kaysa sa inyo. Huwag hanapin ng isa't isa ang ikabubuti ng kaniyang sarili lang kundi ang ikabubuti rin naman ng iba.

Sa iyo, O Panginoon, ako natagpuan ang aking kapayapaan.

Panginoon, hindi hambog ang aking puso, ni mayabang man ang aking mga mata; ni nagsasanay man ako sa mga dakilang bagay, o sa mga bagay na totoong kagilagilalas sa akin.

Sa iyo, O Panginoon, ako natagpuan ang aking kapayapaan.

Tunay na aking itiniwasay at itinahimik ang aking kaluluwa; parang batang inihiwalay sa suso sa kaniyang ina, ang kaluluwa ko ay parang inihiwalay na bata sa suso.

Sa iyo, O Panginoon, ako natagpuan ang aking kapayapaan.

Oh Israel, umasa ka sa Panginoon mula sa panahong ito at sa magpakailan pa man.

Sa iyo, O Panginoon, ako natagpuan ang aking kapayapaan.

Mabuting Balita (Lucas 14:12-14)

Si Jesus ay nagsabi rin sa nag-anyaya sa kaniya. Sinabi niya: Kapag naghanda ka ng agahan o hapunan, huwag mong tawagin ang mga kaibigan mo. Huwag mong tawagin maging ang mga kapatid mo o mga kamag-anak mo. Huwag mong tawagin ang mga kapitbahay mong mayayaman. Kung gagawin mo iyon, ikaw ay anyayahan din nila at gagantihan ka nila. Kung naghanda ka ng isang piging, tawagin mo ang mga dukha, mga lumpo, mga pilay at mga bulag. At pagpapalain ka dahil wala silang maigaganti sa iyo sapagkat ikaw ay gagantihan sa muling pagkabuhay ng mga matuwid.

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacra-mentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were sacra-mentally there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

Enchong Dee's swim to the top

GIKAY EYE FOR THE STRAIGHT GUY By Rhea S. Hermoso-Prudente (The Philippine Star) Updated

August 02, 2006 12:00 AM

At 17, he has the makings of a lady killer: boyish good looks, that charming smile, eyes sparkling with joie de vivre, a swimmer's lean and chiseled body, and the brains to match. But Enchong Dee is such a nice guy, well-bred and polite, and just so sincere, you know he'll never deliberately turn the charm on some unsuspecting girl just for the fun of it. In fact, before he and his first girlfriend got together, he even got permission from her mom first!

Underneath Enchong's admittedly very appealing exterior, however, is a very determined, disciplined young man focused on his goals. Goals which, at the moment, include winning the swimming competitions at the upcoming Beijing Olympics. And he's well on his way to achieving his dream. He has countless medals, mostly gold, from the various competitions, including the Palarong Pambansa and the SEA Games. His record-breaking time for the notoriously difficult butterfly stroke is second only to swim champ Eric Buhain's.

As a member of the Philippine Swim Team, Enchong's workday starts as early as 5 a.m., when he hits the pool for training. Then it's on to classes at De La Salle University, where he's taking up Sports Management. After class, it's back to the pool for more training, and he finally gets home at about 9 p.m.

For someone so young, Enchong displays a remarkable level of maturity and a strong work ethic. His values are obvious in his answer to the fill-in-the-blank question, "All I need is..." With no hesitation, he writes, "God and my family."

His focus, drive and values may make Enchong seem like some goody-two-shoes. On the contrary, he's still a kid who knows how to have fun. He likes hanging out with friends, and admits to getting rowdy – all in the boy-next-door-having-fun way, of course. He plays badminton with his family, and yes, he does go out on dates.

As to his fashion sense, Enchong is a typical teenage boy: he'll wear whatever's in the closet, whatever's comfortable. With his pool-school-pool schedule, that means mostly T-shirts, shorts and jeans for him.

All suited up in his Bench, Human and Celio outfits, he was just like a kid playing dress-up. That's why top model Rissa Samson styled him with the playful duckie, pencils and ice cream cones. "He's just one big kid, when you get to know him," says Rissa. "And I guess I wanted to show that even dressed and looking all grown-up, Enchong never loses his boyish charm."

My name is Ernest Lorenzo Dee.

But I'd rather be called Enchong.

I may seem quiet.

But I'm really noisy with my friends.

When I look in the mirror I see a future Olympic champion with many endorsements.

In the morning I thank God for another day.

I like to sleep right after I had my last bite.

My hero is Dad.

My father always taught me to be humble... a low-profile person.

My mother always taught me to brush my teeth and acknowledge each other's good deeds.

The first thing I look at in a person is his/her feet.

One thing I wish I had is the attitude of being on time always!

One thing I have that I wish I didn't is kakulitan.

All I need is God and my family.

I love the sound of "Congratulations" and "Thank you!"

Everybody should fear God.

My longest ride was 14 hours going to India.
Before leaving the house I always make sure I have my school ID with me.
Before going to sleep I always make sure I take a bath.
I will never answer my parents drastically.
I can never say never!
I always say "Thank you, po!" and "Mauna po ako!"
What the world needs now are peace and cooperation.
The last thing the world needs now is usage of money.
I will never eat cockroach!
Right now, I want to be in a billboard.
I wish I could forget my most embarrassing moment.
I wish I could remember when I was born.
I always lose my ballpoint pen or books.
I wish I could talk to animals and trees.

Leading broadcast company GMA Network, Inc. (GMA) ruled over rival stations in nationwide TV ratings covering the first ten months of the year, according to the industry's more widely recognized ratings provider Nielsen TV Audience Measurement.

From January to October 2012 (October 28 to 31 based on overnight data), GMA posted an average total day (6 AM to 12 MN) household audience share of 34.8 percent in National Urban Philippines (NUTAM); ahead of ABS-CBN's 31.4 percent by 3.4 points and TV5's 14.9 percent by 19.9 points.

In the ten-month period, GMA also emerged as the free-to-air channel of choice among viewers in Urban Luzon and Mega Manila, which represent 77 and 59.5 percent, respectively, of total urban TV households in the country.

Leading across all dayparts in Urban Luzon, GMA scored a 38.6 percent total day average in the area, way ahead of ABS-CBN's 27.3 percent by 11.3 points, and of TV5's 14.4 percent by 24.2 points.

Similarly in its bailiwick Mega Manila, GMA remained ahead of competition in all dayparts with an audience share of 39.6 percent, up 13.9 points from ABS-CBN's 25.7 percent, and up 24.6 points from TV5's 15 percent.

In the month of October, GMA dominated the list of top-rating programs (less specials) in NUTAM occupying 17 out of the 30 slots. GMA also had more TV programs in the lists in Urban Luzon and Mega Manila with 20 and 21 entries in each one, respectively.

GMA's main ratings drivers for the month of October included in the said lists are One True Love (OTL), 24 Oras, Pepito Manaloto: Ang Tunay na Kwento, Kapuso Mo Jessica Soho, Eat Bulaga, Aso ni San Roque, Luna Blanca Ang Ikatlong Yugto, Kap's Amazing Stories, Faithfully, Moon Embracing the Sun, Kapuso Night Movie Flicks, Hindi Ka Na Mag-iisa, Sana ay Ikaw na Nga, Protégé, Wish Ko Lang, and Imbestigador. OTL also landed as the number one program in Mega Manila.

Also on the lists are GMA's newly launched programs Extra Challenge on Sunday primetime, Temptation of Wife and Coffee Prince on GMA Telebabad, and Yesterday's Bride on GMA Afternoon Prime.

GMA subscribes to Nielsen TV Audience Measurement along with 22 other paying subscribers including another local major television network (TV5), Faulkner Media, CBN Asia, 15 advertising agencies, and 4 regional clients.

In Mega Manila, Nielsen has a sample size of 1,190 homes versus Kantar Media's 770 homes. Nationwide, Nielsen has a sample size of 2,000 homes compared to the lower sample size of 1,370 utilized by Kantar Media.

Philippine Cable Television, Inc. (PCTA) will celebrate its 45th anniversary with a special thanksgiving dinner party on Friday, Nov. 16, at the Sofitel Philippine Plaza located along CCP Complex Roxas Boulevard, Pasay City.

Kitchie Benedicto Paulino, executive chair of the organizing committee, enjoins all former and present employees, stars and talents, production and engineering personnel, and newsmen who served RPN 9, BBC 2, IBC 13, City2 Television, CNDE 4, SMI CaTV, AM and FM Radios, and Provincial TV and Radio Stations of KBP-member Television and Radio Networks as well as and between 1969 and 2012 to attend.

PCTA was the dominant cable television organization in the 1970s and half of the 1980s, the 1990s and the 2000s before its TV and radio stations were taken over by the post-1986 EDSA 1 and post-2001 EDSA 2 administrations.

KBS was the original "star network" and had in its stable the biggest stars of the era, like the King of Comedy Dolphy, the Superstar, Nora Aunor, the Star for all Seasons Vilma Santos, the Megastar, Sharon Cuneta, the Diamond Star Maricel Soriano, the original Queen of TV Soap Janice de Belen, the original TV Child Superstars, Snooky and Niño Muhlach; the original Queen of Talk TV, Inday Badiday; and the original Kings of Talk Radio, Johnny de Leon and Rod Navarro.

Many high officials in government today came from their networks, notably, former Vice-President Noli de Castro, Senators Loren Legarda and Tito Sotto, Reps. Edgar San Luis, Ted Failon, Bobby Guanzon, Gerry Geronimo and Gilbert Remulla, Governor Vilma Santos, Mayor Manny Ortega, Mayor Mon Ilagan, Mayor Herbert Bautista, Councilors Kit Ortega and Aiko Melendez, Ronald Estrella, Sol Aragon, Maki Pulido among many others.

Many successful top TV network executives, entertainers, and media professionals in the post-1986 and post-2001 broadcast and media industries, particularly in the GMA, ABS-CBN, and ABC networks, trained and honed their creative, technical, journalistic, and managerial talents in the KBS companies. They include June Rufino, Salvii Casino, Mel Tiangco, Wilma Galvante, Marivin Arayata, Redgie Acuna, Vic Vianzon, Bobby Barreiro, Linggit Tan, Cory Valenzuela, Charo Santos, Kiko Evangelista, Johnny Manahan, Peque Gallaga, Butch Perez, Bert De Leon, Argel Joseph, Maria Montelibano, Nonoy Marcelo, Joe Taruc, among many others.

Nelson John Baylon Jr.

Julie Anne San Jose on the road to becoming the next big star

SHE has the makings of a star, talented and able with the right amount of swag. Julie Anne Peñaflorida San Jose, fondly called "JAPS" by her supporters, is GMA Network's fastest rising star. She has proven to be the total package not only with her sensational cover of songs posted on YouTube, but also with her skills in acting, dancing, and even playing multiple music instruments.

To date, Julie Anne's cover of Price Tag by Jessie J. already reached six million views and her rendition of Look at Me Now by Chris Brown has gained more than four million hits. Her covers made her a trending topic not only on YouTube but on Facebook, Twitter, and other social networking sites as well. Thus, branding her as "Asia's Pop Sweetheart."

Asked how she is dealing with her instant popularity, Julie Anne mentioned in an interview with Pep.ph last May 16 that she was overwhelmed and thankful that GMA has been giving her exposures and opportunities. Noting how her first appearance was in Eat Bulaga's Little Miss Philippines when she was only three, Julie Anne expressed gratitude for fans that continue to support her all these times. Julie Anne's undeniable flair for music also gained her fans in the entertainment industry like Lea Salonga, Jim Paredes, and Charice Pempengco, among others.

In fact, even before Julie Anne became an Internet sensation, Lea Salonga already saw a potential in her when they met during the rehearsals of the entertainment show, S.O.P (now Party Pilipinas). In an interview with GMA news, Lea marveled how the 14-year-old Julie Anne was "very unassuming" and polite when she talked to her seniors.

"...she's like 'Hello po, kamusta po?' you know, and then she opens her mouth and I'm like, 'Holy! Oh my gosh! Her voice is huge!' And she is sweet, and she is cute, and she is pretty, and I wish her...And I really, really wish her the best," said Lea.

Despite being complimented by some of the big names in the local music industry, Julie refuses to let all these praises get inside her head. Recalling how hard it was back then when nobody seemed to notice what she can do, Julie admitted in an interview with Yahoo! Philippines OMG last July 25 that she actually thought of quitting show business. Because her previous band, Sugarpop, was not getting enough attention, Julie thought her time, money, and efforts were all being wasted. It was not until she became a regular on S.O.P and her YouTube covers have been a hit, she realized she was wrong

Aside from being a regular at Party Pilipinas, Julie Anne also showcased her talent in acting via the teen drama programs, Tween Hearts and Together Forever, in which she has Elmo Magalona as her onscreen partner. She also recently conquered the film industry with her debut film alongside Elmo, Just One Summer under GMA films.

While many think that being young and popular entitles one the right to be "wild and free," Julie Anne works hard for her dream with caution and humility. With her big voice comes a simple girl who is comfortable wearing just a T-shirt and sneakers instead of an extravagant dress. Describing herself as the "simple" type, Julie Anne said she only dresses up when the occasion calls for it.

"Nagbibihis lang po talaga ako kapag kelangan sa okasyon. If not, I just wear T-shirts. This is me."

Setting realistic goals in life, Julie Anne said in a Pep.ph interview last May 16 that she wishes to build a house for her before this year ends. Wanting to be an accomplished person, Julie always reminds herself to put her education first before the demands of show business.

Living life a moment at a time, Julie Anne has always been outspoken during interviews about the endless possibilities of the future. When asked if she and love team partner Elmo Magalona could possibly be more than friends in real life, Julie said she's not closing her doors. Currently a sophomore of Communication Arts in Angelicum College, 18-year old Julie Anne considers how she and Elmo are both still young; and for that reason, Julie wishes to remain focused on her studies and career for now.

Pag gising sa umaga ikaw ang laging kasangga!!
Anuman ang almusal, tanghalian sasaluhan kita.....
Anuman ang iniisip mo, narito ako makikinig sayo anuman ang kailangan mo, i will be there for you

(Chorus)

Its u, ikaw ang kaibigan ko
Its u, ikaw ang laging kasama ko
Its u, forever narito ako for you
its u, ikaw ang kaibigan ko
Its u, ikaw ang laging kasama ko
Its u, forever you can count on me

Pagkagaling sa trabaho, relax at nandito ako
Sa pagbati ng pamilya cheer up hanggang pagtulog nyo

anuman ang iniisip mo
Narito ako makikinig sa yo
Anuman ang kailangan mo, I will be there for you

Its u, ikaw ang laging kasama ko
Its u, forever narito ako for you
its u, ikaw ang kaibigan ko
Its u, ikaw ang laging kasama ko
Its u, forever you can count on me

More than reaching out to Filipinos around the world with The Filipino Channel (TFC), ABS-CBN has also reached new frontiers as Kapamilya teleseryes earn a huge following even among non-Filipino viewers. In a press conference, ABS-CBN International Sales and Distribution Head Reena De Guzman Garingan talked about the growing demand from foreign television networks for acquisition and broadcast of Kapamilya teleseryes. This 2010, ABS-CBN dramas Dahil May Isang Ikaw, Tayong Dalawa, and Lobo are expected to be aired in several countries in Asia and Africa.

Dahil May Isang Ikaw, with the English title Destined Hearts, will soon air in Malaysia and other countries in Asia. The teleserye stars Jericho Rosales and Kristine Hermosa who were first seen in the teleserye Pangako Sa 'Yo, which in the past ten years has remained and continues to make it big in numerous countries. Recently, Pangako Sa 'Yo aired on China's national television and rated second over all local and foreign programs airing in the country. The teleserye even hit the Top 30 list in China's national weekly rankings, covering over 2,000 channels and capturing 1.3 billion viewers. Pangako Sa 'Yo (with the English title The Promise) was also previously aired successfully in Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia, Cambodia, and Africa. Non-Filipino viewers from these countries became instant fans of Jericho and Kristine.

Tayong Dalawa will also soon air in Malaysia, Brunei, and Kenya, with the English title The Two Of Us and will be dubbed in local languages. Tayong Dalawa was top-billed by the hot love team of Kim Chiu and Gerald Anderson. Their first teleserye, Sana Maulit Muli, was also dubbed in Mandarin and shown in Taiwan with the English title Chances.

Lobo, which starred Piolo Pascual and Angel Locsin, is currently aired in Brunei and will be released in Indo-China, Asia, Europe, and Africa this year. Lobo has earned international recognition, named Best Telenovela at the 30th BANFF World Television Festival in Toronto, while Angel bagged a Best Actress nomination from the International Emmy Awards. Lobo was released internationally as She-Wolf: The Last Sentinel.

Reena explained what makes ABS-CBN teleseryes a big hit among non-Filipino viewers. "In business conferences abroad, I always tell foreign clients [that the] Philippines was under Spanish rule for 300 years. From them we got our religion, Christianity, which had become the basis of our lives. This makes us unique from the rest of Asia. Kung sa ibang foreign dramas makikita niyo na ang laging tema e adult, tipong nagkapalit ng asawa, nagtaksil. Sa atin our dramas are more family-oriented and may values. Maraming countries kasi ang nakalimot na doon so through our programs naibabalik nila 'yun."

Also making it big abroad are other Kapamilya teleseryes Sana'y Wala Nang Wakas, Maging Sino Ka Man, It Might Be You, Iisa Pa Lamang, Ikaw Ang Lahat Sa Akin, Gulong Ng Palad, Prinsesa ng Banyera, Sa

Piling Mo, and Kay Tagal Kang Hinintay which was dubbed in French to cater to French-speaking regions in Europe and Asia. Over the past 15 years, around 30 ABS-CBN dramas have been dubbed and aired in 15 countries in Asia, five in Europe, and in Africa. These series were dubbed for 12 French-speaking countries, 15 English-speaking countries, and five Portuguese-speaking countries.

Today is Independence Day. Some historians continue to argue on whether the date should be June 12 or July 4 but us ordinary mortals couldn't really care less. We are all grateful for the holiday and joyfully relish the fact that it is on a weekend this year. Still it will be good for us to give some thought to our country and to what has been happening to the Philippines. Take note I said "to," not "in." That means what politicians, businessmen and others in power are doing to this country. Yuck!

You say "in" and the answer you will get will only be worthless trifles that are given so much importance. Another sex video perhaps or the way the National Anthem gets blasphemed by pop artists. I say throw those porn actors wannabes to jail or better yet the loony bin then get rid of the key. Problem solved. As for the Lupang Hinirang controversy, I say mercy to those who choose famous pop stars to sing the song and then complain.

Those singers have their own styles and they will put it in anything they sing. The long established names do that by instinct. I know it's commendable to make efforts to preserve the cultural heritage, but music evolves. So let us just ride with the changes. Besides as Jimi Hendrix proved when he rocked the Star Spangled Banner, you can instill patriotic fervor in any soul no matter what the music if the message is delivered from the heart. And Filipinos can do that very well.

The song Bayan Ko is a wonderful example. It is composed by Constancio de Guzman with lyrics by poet-actor Jose Corazon de la Cruz in 1928. It was first performed by National Artist Atang de la Rama and later immortalized in various recorded versions. The moving lament is now over 80 years old. It has seen Filipinos through the American regime, World War II, the Japanese invasion and Martial Law, during which the word umiyyak in the lyrics was changed to pumipitlag to denote the country's struggle.

Bayan Ko remains the most potent reminder of how much freedom means to Filipinos. But there are also other songs extolling the country and its people that have surfaced in recent years and which I believe have earned their places in our cultural heritage.

This happened with Mga Kababayan Ko by Francis M, which was the first rap song to hit No. 1 in the Philippines. "Mga kababayan ko/dapat lang malaman nyo/ bilib ako sa kulay ko/ako ay Pilipino/kung may itim o may puti/mayro'n namang kayumanggi/isipin mo na kaya mong/abutin ang 'yong minimithi."

The prolific George Canseco came out with a meaningful Ako Ay Pilipino. "Ako ay Pilipino/Ako ay Pilipino/isang bansa isang diwa/ang minimithi ko/sa bayan ko't bandila/laan buhay ko't diwa/ako ay Pilipino/Pilipinong totoo/ako ay Pilipino/ako ay Pilipino/taas noo kahit kanino/ang Pilipino ay ako."

Florante's take on what's to be proud of being Pinoy was light and folksy in Ako'y Isang Pinoy: "Ako'y isang Pinoy sa puso't diwa/Pinoy na isinilang sa ating bansa/ako'y hindi sanay sa wikang mga banyaga/ako'y Pinoy na mayroong sariling wika."

Manny Pacquiao's every victory in the ring saw his song Para Sa 'Yo Ang Laban na 'To written by Lito Camo getting massive airplay. It dedicates every victory to his country and is also about pride in being a Filipino: Para sa 'yo ang laban na to/di ako susuko/isisigaw ko sa mundo/Pinoy ang lahi ko/mahal ko ang bayan ko/para sa 'yo bayan ko."

Heber Bartolome and his Banyuhay go for the looks, language and the soul of being a Filipino in his Tayo'y Mga Pinoy: "Bakit kaya tayo ay ganito/bakit nanggagaya, mayro'n naman tayo/tayo'y mga Pinoy, tayo'y hindi kano/wag kang mahihiya kung ang ilong mo ay pango."

Who can forget how the whole country sang and swayed to the infectious rhythm of Pinoy Ako by Orange & Lemons: Pinoy, ikaw ay Pinoy ipakita sa mundo/kung ano ang kaya mo/ibang-iba ang Pinoy/huwag kang matatakot/ipagmalaki mo/Pinoy ako/Pinoy tayo.

And as Bamboo so successfully proved in Noypi, the patriotic Pinoy artist can also rock hard. "Hoy Pinoy ako/buo ang aking loob/may agimat ang dugo ko/hoy, Pinoy ako/may agimat ang dugo ko."

he House of Representatives is set to investigate two sequestered television stations for possible violations of their legislative franchises.

The House approved on second reading House Resolution No. 2854 "directing the committee on legislative franchise to conduct an investigation into the current status of the International Broadcasting Corporation, holder of a legislative franchise under Republic Act 8954, to determine possible violations of its franchise."

Representative Giorgidi Aggabao (4th district, Isabela), principal author of the resolution asked the committee to summon network officials, particularly to shed light on ventures entered into with different broadcasting companies.

Among the deals Aggabao wants inquired into:

IBC entered into an agreement with several companies like Vintage Television, which later merged with Viva Television in 2000, to cover the Philippines Basketball Association.
RPN Channel 9 entered into a joint venture with Solar Entertainment Corporation in January 2011.
Congress granted IBC-13 a new 25-year legislative franchise under Republic Act 8954 on June 5, 2011.
The network then signed a block-time agreement with TV5's Sports 5 to air live coverage other sports via its new programming AKTV. (InterAksyon.com is the online news portal of TV5.)
IBC Channel 13 also entered into a joint venture agreement with Prime Realty, an affiliate of R-II Builders

Group of Reghis Romero for the development of 3.5 hectares Broadcast City.

Aggabao noted that RA 8954 provides that "the grantee shall not lease, transfer, grant the usufruct of, sell, nor assign this franchise or the rights and privileges acquired thereunder to any person, form, company, corporation or entity, nor shall the controlling interest of the grantee be transferred, whether as a whole or in parts and whether simultaneously or contemporaneously, to any such person, firm or company, corporation or entity without the prior approval of the Congress of the Philippines. Any person or entity to which this franchise is sold, transferred or assigned, shall be subject to the same conditions, terms restrictions and limitations of this Act."

During the administration of then President Corazon Aquino, the Presidential Commission on Good Government sequestered both IBC and RPN in favor of the government. Aggabao said the government is inclined to privatize both the IBC and RPN and retain the People's Television (PTV, Channel 4) as the sole-mandated government TV network.

Kitchie Benedicto, daughter of the late Marcos crony Roberto Benedicto, is the owner of a 34 percent minority share in RPN-9.

60 TAONG LIGAWAN: The Pinoy TV Story

This is the first extensive television documentary done on the history of Philippine Television dominated by broadcast giants ABS-CBN, GMA Network and TV5.

The ABS-CBN version is narrated by Tony Velasquez and it is produced by ABS-CBN Entertainment Division and ABS CBN News & Current Affairs

The TV5 version is narrated by Luchi Cruz-Valdez and it is produced by Entertainment5 and News5

The GMA version is hosted by Jessica Soho and it is produced by GMA Entertainment TV Group and GMA News and Public Affairs.

Hosted and Narrated by Tony Velasquez; Segment Hosts: Vilma Santos, Sharon Cuneta, Charo Santos-Concio, Bayani Agbayani, Nova Villa, Claudine Barreto and Piolo Pascual.

Soon after the military takeover of ABS-CBN during Martial Law in 1972, the library file of film and videotapes of ABS-CBN's television shows went missing, and unaccounted for. None exist today except for the shows that began airing in 1986 when ABS-CBN reopened during the People Power revolt.

Fortunately, a few minutes of ABS-CBN shows staged in 1969 were found from ABC New York. They were taken by veteran broadcast Ted Koeppel's team while covering former Philippine Pres. Ferdinand Marcos's 1969 presidential campaign. At the time, the Marcos campaign pre-empted eight hours of programming. Found were scenes from "Stop Look and Listen," "The Baby O'Brien Show" etc. This may well be the only surviving footage of the shows before 1986.

Thankfully, some movies captured these television shows. Viewers will see "Tawag ng Tanghalan" with Lopito and Patsy, "The Eddie Ilarde Show," and "Hamon Sa Kampeon" hosted by Pepe Pimentel and Dely Magpayo otherwise known as "Tiya Dely."

Featured will be the stories of the fathers of Philippine Television: Jim Lindenbergh, former US military based in the Philippines, Judge Antonio Quirino, brother of former Philippine President Elpidio Quirino and Eugenio Lopez Jr. II.

Cast reunions of "D'Sensations" featuring Vilma Santos, Edgar Mortiz, Perla Adea, Romy Mallari, Tony Santos Jr., Angge, Darius Razon; "Laff In" featuring Ramon Zamora (+), Maya Valdez and June Keithley. Stories of the first Philippine produced shows like Fr. James Reuter's plays like Cyrano de Bergerac. The make shift studios were not airconditioned and actors had to put anti perspirant on their faces to control the sweat. Collective stories of other TV stars who pioneered Philippine Television like Pilita Corrales, Subas Herrero, Noel Trinidad, Pete Roa, Boots Anson-Roa, Gloria Romero, Marita Zobel, Pepe Pimentel, Maria Montelibano, Tina Revilla, Ariel Ureta, Dely Magpayo, Sonny Cortez and many more.

Featured too are today's Philippines' brightest stars like Gloria Romero, Vandolph, Jericho Rosales, Maricel Soriano, Jean Garcia, Eula Valdez and many more.

Never been seen on Philippine television: the Geny Lopez trial during Martial Law . This was sourced abroad, none exists in the country.

It's a trip down memory lane as shows put up by ABS-CBN, PTV-4, ABC-5, GMA Network, RPN 9 and IBC 13 through 60 years are featured, how the genres of newscasts, drama, comedy, anthology, Fantasy/horror, infotainment, Kid-oriented, Lifestyle, reality, Talent search, variety, musical, game, talk evolved through the years (1953 to 2012).

Sleek re-enactments produced in the same manner films are shot to capture the flavor of the times.

The team had to preview and work with more than fifteen thousand minutes worth of material.

I have always enjoyed going to the movies, especially to watch foreign films. The latest Tagalog films with English titles are a complete turnoff. But I am not averse to watching a local movie for as long it is good and entertaining like "Oro, Plata, Mata." The fact is, I have seen some indie films which I thought are worthy of my time. But that is not why I write today.

SM Clark in Angeles, Pampanga, has six theaters. After each intermission, the national anthem—"Lupang Hinirang"—is played, followed by the different trailers and the main feature.

I have been away for a few decades, and I am not aware if there have been any changes in the way we honor our flag and in the demeanor during the singing of our national anthem.

I remember when I was growing up: In public elementary schools, every morning before the school day started there was a flag ceremony—a singing of the national anthem and the recitation of the "Pangatang Makabayan." We sang and stood at attention, and if one wore a hat or a cap, it was removed.

I was therefore flabbergasted, annoyed and angry when I noticed some viewers, Filipinos and foreigners alike, did not stand up during the playing of the anthem. Some talked, some played with their phones, and some seemed they just did not care. I asked myself, "Why?"

Have we fostered a culture of indifference, if not disrespect? If Filipinos show a total disregard and disrespect for our anthem, should we expect differently from foreigners watching movies in our theaters?

This letter is not to indict SM, the schools, the parents or any establishment, this is to suggest solutions to stop the disrespect. In the case of the movie houses, they can flash a "Please stand up" sign on the screen in Filipino, English and Korean. The schools should educate their students on the proper demeanor whenever and wherever the national anthem is played. The parents should remind their children to stand at attention.

I hope the disrespect is a local phenomenon occurring only in Angeles.

Panatang Makabayan (New Version)

Everyday at 6:00 am, 12:00 pm, 6:00 pm and before the closing time of LRT/MRT/PNR trains and SM Malls.

Bilang tanda ng ating pagka-Pilipino, ating bigkasin ang "Panatang Makabayan":

Iniiibig ko ang Pilipinas, aking lupang sinilangan, tahanan ng aking lahi;
kinukupkop ako at tinutulungang maging malakas, masipag, at marangal.

Dahil mahal ko ang Pilipinas, diringgin ko ang payo ng aking magulang, susundin ko ang tuntunin ng paaralan,
tutuparin ko ang tungkulin ng mamamayang makabayan;
naglilingkod, nag-aaral, at nagdarasal nang buong katapatan.
Iaalay ko ang aking buhay, pangarap, pagsisikap sa bansang Pilipinas.

Isabuhay natin ang pagiging Makabayang Pilipino, sa isip, sa salita at sa gawa.

The scenes in the 2009 TV series including Nene's 18th Birthday in the November 30 to December 2, 2009 episodes of Katorse. Filming of the debut party scenes were shot in The Peninsula Manila in Makati City.

Naalala ba ang eksenang ito? (from the December 2, 2009 episode of Katorse)

Assassination of John Joseph "Jojo" Wenceslao in Katorse:
Attack: Sniper style assassination
Weapon(s) : 6.5 × 52 mm Italian Carcano M91/38 bolt-action rifle
Deaths: 1 killed (Jojo Wenceslao)

Jojo Wenceslao (played by Enchong Dee): GABBY, halos buong highschool mag bestfriend tayo. Kasama kita sa katarantaduhan, away tsaka saya hindi kita iniwan.. Ginawa mo kong babysitter ng anak mo, pero hindi ako nagreklamo. Nung malalaman mong mamatay ka na, pinasa mo sa akin si Nene para maging malaya kayo ni marissa, at Dahil mahal ko si Nene, nang malaman mong hindi ka na mamatay so binawi mo siya sakin Tinraydor mo pa nga ako eh, Lumaban ako pero hindi ako nanalo, alam mo kung bakit? Dahil kahit anong gawin ko ikaw ang tatay ng anak niya. Gabby nakatali si Nene sayo. Dalawang taon.

Dalawang taon ko kayong hindi inistorbo. Dalawang taon kayong magkasama. Gabby, bakit hindi ka niya minahal sa dalawang taon na iyon? Ngayon ako ba ang salot o ikaw?

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

Jojo: Pare anong problema mo?

Gabby: Huwag na huwag mo akong matawag na pare dahil hindi kita kaibigan. Ikaw ang salot sa buhay ko.

Jojo: Eh tanga ka pala. Kung salot ako sa buhay mo bakit mo ako inimbata? Anong ginagawa ko sa'yo?

Gabby: Inagaw mo sa akin si Nene!

Jojo: Binigay mo sa akin si Nene!

Gabby: Dahil sa'yo kung bakit hindi nya ako kayang mahalin!

Jojo: Dahil sa'yo kaya hindi kanya kayang mahalin!

Gabby: Ano bang meron ka na wala ako ha?

Jojo: Ano bang meron ako na wala ka?

Gabby: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene kung bakit hindi ka nya makalimutan?

Jojo: Ano bang pinakain mo kay Nene at hindi ka nya kayang mahalin? Sukang suka sya sa'yo na hindi ka nya kayang pakasalan!

Gabby: Hayop ka!!!

When Gabby Arcangel (Ejay Falcon) refused, one of the men he get mad. He holds a gun to Jojo's head and blames him for stealing Nene away from him.

At this point, Wenceslao was shot five times in the left side of his chest and killed.

Nene: JOJO!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Tulungan po!!!!

Nene Reyes (Erich Gonzales) also hugged Jojo Wenceslao (Enchong Dee) was he was shot and killed during Nene's 18th birthday party.

The country's two biggest privately-owned media groups have different reactions to the recently signed law "revitalizing" the operations of commercial-owned and-operated television station Quality Television Network, Inc. or QTV-11.

GMA Network, Inc. is considering filing a case to stop Republic Act No. 103901 -- which infuses P5 billion fresh capital that allows QTV-11 to engage in more diverse programming -- from being implemented.

The second biggest media group is studying the new law and will decide if "there is a legal round to invalidate that law," GMA Chairman and CEO Atty Felipe Gozon said in a press briefing on Friday, March 22.

By privatizing the channel infused with P5 billion capital from the national government, it would be unfairly competing with private players, Gozon stressed.

While receiving subsidies from the taxes and fees paid by broadcasting institutions, the network will be competing with the same companies for the source of income providing the said funds: commercial ads and airtime.

"The basic reason for that is that it's a government station and the money that the government appropriates partly comes from us as a tax payer. If that station is allowed to compete with us, then you can easily see that it is our own money that is being used to compete with us," said Gozon.

"Here in the TV industry we are already over crowded. As you can see Channel 5 (TV5, operated by ABC Development Corp) is losing money. So the market is not that big. Here comes another one -- subsidized by tax money! What are they trying to do?," he added.

Gozon has publically opposed the law, calling it "unfair," when it was still a bill.

Competition

These sentiments are not shared by executives at ABS-CBN Corp, which operates the biggest media group in the country.

Rolando Valdueza, CFO at ABS-CBN Corp., said at a press briefing on Thursday, March 21, that the media firm isn't as concerned with the upcoming changes at their state-backed rival.

"The more the merrier," he replied when asked for a comment about the upcoming changes at QTV-11.

LOVE MY OWN MY NATIVE LAND

O bayan kong minamahal, "Perlas ng silanganan,
Sa 'yo handog puso't buhay, Pilipinas kong bayan;
Ang bundok mo't kakahuyan, dagat, ilog at batisan;
Ako'y handang pag-utusan, Pilipinas kong bayan.

Mga pulo sa Silangan, Pilipinas kong bayan,
Kami'y iyo kailan man, Pilipinas kong bayan;
Sa iyo'y nagpakamatay ang aming manga magulang,
At kami'y gayon din naman, Pilipinas kong bayan.

Kahapon mo'y maligalig, Pilipinas kong bayan,

Nakidigma ka't nagtiis, Pilipinas kong bayan;
Gawing hirap mo'y maalís, kaligayaha'y mapalit,
Araw ng t'wa at pag-ibig, bayan kon sakdal díkit.

PHILIPPINE NATIONAL ANTHEM

Bayang magiliw, Perlas ng Silanganan,
Alab ng puso sa dibdib mo'y buhay.
Lupang hinirang, duyan ka ng magiting,
Sa manlulupig di ka pasisiil
Sa dagat at bundok, sa simoy at sa langit mong bughaw,
May dilag ang tula at awit sa paglayang minamahal.
Ang kislap ng watawat mo'y tagumpay na nagniningning,
Ang bituin at araw niya, kailan pa ma'y di magdidilim.

Lupa ng araw, ng luwalhati't pagsinta
Buhay ay langit sa piling mo;
Aming ligaya na pag may mang-aapi,
Ang mamatay ng dahil sa iyo.

HOLY, HOLY, HOLY

Santo, Santo, Santo, Dios na maalam
Ikaw ngayo'y aming pinapupurihan
Kabanal-banalan makapangyarihan
Diyos na tatlong Personang marangal.
Santo, Santo, Santo, sa 'Yo nag-aalay
At nananambahan ang lahat ng banal
Kerubin at serapin ay nagluluhuran
Sa pagsamba sa 'Yo walang hanggan
Santo, Santo, Santo, kahit di mamasdan
Ng makasalanang taong nadirimlan
Ang kaluwalhatian Mo at kabanalan
Puspos pag-ibig at kalinisan.
Santo, Santo, Santo, Dios dinadakila
Ng tanang likha Mo sa langit at lupa
Kabanal-banalan mahabaging lubha
Dios na Tatlong Personang Dakila. AMEN.

O WORSHIP THE KING

Hari'y sambahin sa kataasan awitin ang Kanyang pagmamahal;
Siya'y tanggulan sa lahat ng araw, at sa kaluluwa'y kapahingahan.

Itanyag ang biyaya Niya't lakas, balabal Niya ay ang liwanag;
Sasakyan Niya ang kulog at kidlat; dilim ma't bagyo'y
Kanya ring landas.

Tangkilik Niyang di maisiwalat, dala ng hangin at ng liwanag;
Umaagos na mula sa itaas, taglay ng hamog at ulang banayad.

Kaming alabok na Iyong likha, sa Iyo lamang nagtitiwala;
Gaano ngang tibay ng Iyong awa, aming Manunubos at Manglilikha.
AMEN.

JESUS SHALL REIGN

Si Cristo ang haring tunay, ng lahat ng lahi't bayan, Kahariang walang hanggan, araw'y walang kawakasan.

Buhat sa lahat ng bayan manga tao'y mag-aalay
Sa kay Jesus na pangalan ng dalangin araw-araw.

Sa bawa't lahi at angkan, sa pag-ibig N'ya'y tatahan;
Sa manga batang awita'y puri sa tanging pangalan.

Babasbasan Niya ang lupa, at ang bilanggo'y lalaya,
Manga pagal papayapa, lahat ay may pagpapala.

Bawa't tao'y maghahandog, ng puri sa banal na Dios,
Angeles ay mananaog aawit ang sangsinukob. AMEN.

ONWARD CHRISTIAN SOLDIER

Halina't lumaban Kristianong kawal;
Tayo'y tutulungan ni Cristong Mahal;
Di mapipipila't ating kakamtan;
Kuta ng kaaway, hayo't lumaban.

Koro:
Kristiano'y humayo, at lipulin mo
Kaaway ni Cristo dito sa mundo. AMEN.

Halina't isabog kutang marupok;
Nang mga balakyot, kaaway ng Dios;
Itakwil ang pagod, ang kaba't lungkot;
Tapat na sumunod, kay Cristo Jesus.

Halina't sugpuin, ang dayang lihim;
Gawang sinungaling, ng taong linsil;
Pagwawagi'y atin, Cristo'y kapiling;
Ang ating masupil, kay Cristo dalhin.

BECAUSE GOD IS LOVE

Pag-ibig ang s'yang pumukaw sa ating puso at kalu'lwa
At s'yang nagdulot sa ating buhay, liwanag sa dilim at pag-asa.

Pag-ibig ang s'yang buklod nating `di mapapawi kailan pa man
Sa puso't diwa tayo'y isa lamang, kahit na tayo ay magkawalay.

Koro:
Pagka't ang Dios nati'y Dios ng pag-ibig,
Magamahalan tayo't magtulungan
At kung tayo'y bigo ay h'wag limutin
Na may Dios tayo't may nagmamahal. Amen.

Sikapang sa'ting paghayo, ipamalita sa buong mundo,
Pag-ibig ng Dios na s'yang sumakop sa

Bawa't pusong uhaw sa pagsuyo.

AKO'Y PILIPINO

Ako ay Pilipino, ang dugo'y maharlika;
Likas sa aking puso, adhikaing kay ganda;
Sa Pilipinas na aking bayan, lantay na perlas ng silanganan;
Wari'y natipon ang kayamanan ng maykapal.

Bigay sa aking talino, sa mabuti lang laan,
Sa akin ay katutubo ang maging mapagmahal.

Ako ay Pilipino, ako ay Pilipino,
Isang bansa, isang diwa ang minimithi ko.
Sa bayan ko'y bandila, laan buhay ko't diwa;
Ako ay Pilipino, Pilipinong totoo.

Ako ay Pilipino, ako ay Pilipino,
Taas noo kahit kanino, ang Pilipino ay ako.

GLORIA

(World Youth Day 1995 Final Mass)

Music by:

Antiphon: Jean-Paul Lecot

Verses by: Fr. Dom Benildus Maramba

Music can be found in the WYD 1995 Liturgy Guide Book

Sequenced by Migs Miguel

ANTIPHON:

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO

[Trumpet Introduction]

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO

Verse 1

At sa lupa'y kapayapaan sa mga taong kinalulugdan Niya
Pinupuri ka namin, Dinarangal ka namin, Sinasamba ka namin
Ipinagbubunyi ka namin, Pinasasalamatan ka namin
Dahil sa dakila mong angking kapurihan
Panginoong Diyos Hari ng Langit
Diyos Amang makapangyarihan sa lahat

[Trumpet Introduction]

ANTIPHON:

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO
GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO!

Verse 2

Panginoong Diyos, Hesu-Kristo, bugtong na Anak
Panginoong Diyos, Kordero ng Diyos, Anak ng Ama

Solo:

Ikaw na nagaalis ng mga kasalanan ng sanlibutan

All:

Maawa ka, Maawa ka sa amin.

Solo:

Ikaw na nagaalis ng mga kasalanan ng sanlibutan

All:

Tanggapin mo, tanggapin mo ang aming kahilingan

Solo:

Ikaw na naluluklok sa kanan ng Ama

All:

Maawa ka, Maawa ka sa amin.

[Trumpet Introduction]

ANTIPHON:

GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO
GLORIA, GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO!

Verse 3:

Sapagkat Ikaw lamang ang banal
Ikaw lamang ang Panginoon
Ikaw lamang O Hesu-Kristo ang kataastaasan!
Kasama ng Espiritu Santo sa kadakilaan
ng Diyos Ama

Amen, Amen, Amen!

Ikaw ang aking tanging yaman Na di lubusang masumpungan
Ang nilikha Mo kariktan sulyap ng 'Yong kagandahan.

Ika'y hanap sa tuwina nitong puso'ng Ikaw lamang ang saya
Sa ganda ng umaga nangungulila sa 'Yo, Sinta.

Ikaw ang aking tanging yaman Na di lubusang masumpungan
Ang nilikha Mo kariktan sulyap ng 'Yong kagandahan.

Ika'y hanap sa tuwina sa kapwa ko Kita laging nadarama
Sa Iyong mga likha hangad pa ring masdan ang 'Yong mukha.

Panunumpa sa Katapatan ng Watawat at Panatang Makabayan

It is recited during flag-raising ceremonies right after singing of the Philippine National Anthem.
Old Version (1986-2001)

Itaas po natin ang kanan kamay para sa Panunumpa sa Watawat ng Pilipinas:

Ating po sabay-sabay na bigkasin ang panunumpa:

Ako'y nanunumpa sa watawat ng Pilipinas

at sa republikang kanyang kinakatawan.

Isang bansang pinapatnubayan ng Diyos, buo at di mahahati,
na may katarungan at kalayaan para sa lahat.

Ating bigkasin ang "Panatang Makabayan" bilang sagisag ng pagkakaisa ng kaunlaran tungo sa pagbabago ng ating Bansa:

Ang Panatang Makabayan, Iniibig ko ang Pilipinas

Ito ang aking lupang sinilangan, Ito ang tahanan ng aking lahi

Ako ay kanyang kinukupkop at tinutulungan

Upang maging malakas, maligaya at kapakipakinabang

Bilang ganti ay diringgin ko ang payo ng aking mga magulang

Susundin ko ang mga tuntunin ng aking paaralan

Tutuparin ko ang mga tungkulin ng isang mamamayang makabayan at masunurin sa batas

Paglilingkuran ko ang aking bayan nang walang pag-iimbot at nang buong katapatan

Sisikapin kong maging isang tunay na Pilipino sa isip, sa salita, at sa gawa.

Ako'y nanunumpa sa watawat ng Pilipinas
at sa republikang kanyang kinakatawan.
Isang bansang pinapatnubayan ng Diyos, buo at di mahahati,
na may katarungan at kalayaan para sa lahat.

Panatang Makabayan
Iniibig ko ang Pilipinas, Ito ang aking lupang sinilangan,
Ito ang tahanan ng aking lahi, Ako ay kanyang kinukupkop at tinutulungan
Upang maging malakas, maligaya at kapakipakinabang
Bilang ganti ay diringgin ko ang payo ng aking mga magulang
Susundin ko ang mga tuntunin ng aking paaralan
Tutuparin ko ang mga tungkulin ng isang mamamayang makabayan at masunurin sa batas
Paglilingkuran ko ang aking bayan nang walang pag-iimbot at nang buong katapatan
Sisikapin kong maging isang tunay na Pilipino sa isip, sa salita, at sa gawa.

HIMIG HANDOG LOVE SONGS GIVE SONGWRITERS A HIGH-PROFILE PUSH

ABS-CBN delivers the best in OPM music yearly with its song writing competition Himig Handog. This year (2013), the country's first and biggest multi-media songwriting competition returns with last year (2012)'s well-received theme: Himig Handog Philippine Popular Love Songs. And, as in past installments, it is the art and craft of the songwriter and his song that will be celebrated.

Like in the previous Himig Handog competitions, aspiring and even veteran composers will again be in the spotlight as their songs are guaranteed extensive airplay nationwide and even internationally, through ABS-CBN's wide-ranging TV, movie and radio platforms. With the singers, songwriters and composers names prominently displayed throughout, the network will also produce music videos for the twenty song finalists to be exhibited on ABS-CBN, TFC, and in the country's number one music station MYX.

The composers and their songs will even receive interactive exposure through the different Himig Handog Choice Awards: the Listeners' Choice Award through landline voting, Texters' Choice Award via SMS voting and the Buyers' Choice Award through coupons found in the Himig Handog Love Songs CDs and cassettes, as well as Star Studio and Chalk Magazines.

Veteran, amateur and professional singers and songwriters get the chance to make the country fall in love all over again through ABS-CBN's Himig Handog Love Songs. Prospective entrants may get their entry forms from the Himig Handog Love Songs Secretariat at the ABS-CBN compound, from issues of StarStudio and Chalk Magazine, or from the network's www.abs-cbn.com website. Deadline for entries is on August 15, 2013.

Editorial: Happy 76th Birth Anniversary to Former President Joseph Ejercito Estrada

Former President Joseph Ejercito Estrada was born Joseph Marcelo Ejercito on April 19, 1937, in Tondo, Manila, to Emilio L. Ejercito, Sr. and Maria A. Marcelo. He is married to former Senator Dr. Luisa P. Ejercito by whom he has three children –Senate President Pro Tempore Jose “Jinggoy” Estrada, Jackie E. Lopez, and Jude P. Estrada. He was still a young boy when their family moved to San Juan. He studied at the Ateneo de Manila University and Mapua Institute of Technology. He was conferred the degree of Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa, by Bicol University on April 3, 1997, and the University of Pangasinan on March 23, 1990.

Estrada entered politics in 1967. He was elected San Juan Mayor in 1969 and served for 17 years. He was elected Senator in 1985. In 1987, he was again elected to the Senate, where he became Chairman of several committees. His bill on the protection and propagation of carabaos, the national beast of burden, became a landmark legislation. He was elected Vice President in 1992, along with Fidel V. Ramos who was elected President. In 1998, he became the 13th President of the Philippines after being sworn into office at the Barasoain Church in Malolos, Bulacan.

In the movie industry, he had played the lead role in over a hundred movies and produced over 70 films in a career that spanned 33 years. In 1974, he founded the Movie Workers Welfare Foundation, an organization that assists members of the movie industry. He holds the credit of being the first actor to be inducted in the FAMAS Best Actor Hall of Fame of the Filipino Academy of Movie Arts and Sciences in 1982. His soft spot for the economically disadvantaged and marginalized sector of society enabled him to play the role of the defender of the oppressed and downtrodden. This made him popular and endeared him to the masses, which later proved to be an advantage in his political career.

It was his fellow-actor and close friend, the late Fernando Poe Jr., who tagged him with the moniker "Erap," from "pare" meaning pal or friend. Both his friends in the movie industry and his political allies speak well of him and highly regard and value his loyalty and friendship.

We greet Former Philippine President and Manila Mayoralty Candidate Joseph Ejercito Estrada on the occasion of his 76th Birth Anniversary. We wish him good health, long life, and success in all his endeavors. HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!!!

Panatang Makabayan

Old Version

Ating bigkasin ang "Panatang Makabayan" bilang sagisag ng ating pagkakaisa sa pagbabago tungo sa kaunlaran ng ating Bansa:

Ang Panatang Makabayan, Iniibig ko ang Pilipinas
Ito ang aking lupang sinilangan, Ito ang tahanan ng aking lahi
Ako ay kanyang kinukupkop at tinutulungan
Upang maging malakas, maligaya at kapakipakinabang
Bilang ganti ay diringgin ko ang payo ng aking mga magulang
Susundin ko ang mga tuntunin ng aking paaralan
Tutuparin ko ang mga tungkulin ng isang mamamayang makabayan at masunurin sa batas
Paglilingkuran ko ang aking bayan nang walang pag-iimbot at nang buong katapatan
Sisikapin kong maging isang tunay na Pilipino sa isip, sa salita, at sa gawa.

It is aired after the sign-on station notice of Metro Manila AM and FM radio stations.

New Version

Bilang tanda ng ating pagka-Pilipino, ating bigkasin ang "Panatang Makabayan":

Iniibig ko ang Pilipinas, aking lupang sinilangan, tahanan ng aking lahi; kinukupkop ako at tinutulungan maging malakas, masipag, at marangal.

Dahil mahal ko ang Pilipinas, diringgin ko ang payo ng aking magulang,
susundin ko ang tuntunin ng paaralan,
tutuparin ko ang tungkulin ng mamamayang makabayan;
naglilingkod, nag-aaral, at nagdarasal nang buong katapatan.
Iaalay ko ang aking buhay, pangarap, pagsisikap sa bansang Pilipinas.

Isabuhay natin ang pagiging Makabayang Pilipino, sa isip, sa salita at sa gawa.

What to watch out for in Regal Entertainment Inc.'s latest offering, "The Bride and the Lover" are the catfights and confrontation scenes between Lovi Poe and Jennylyn Mercado, and of course, the sizzling love scenes they did with their leading man Paulo Avelino.

The much-talked about fight scene between Jennylyn and Lovi (that includes slapping and hair-pulling aside from the verbal tussles) took four hours to shoot, according to the director, Joel Lamangan. "I told them do...See More

Runners, celebrities and politicians converged in Manila on Sunday as they took part in radio DZMM's Takbo Para Sa Kalikasan Year 11.

The run for an environmental cause began at the Quirino Grandstand in Manila at 5 a.m. According to The Philippine Star, 5,000 runners participated in the event.

The runners were led by Vice-President Noli de Castro, Sen. Pia Cayetano and ABS-CBN Foundation Inc. (AFI) Managing Director Gina Lopez.

They were joined by ABS-CBN stars Piolo Pascual, Jake Cuenca, Enchong Dee and Maricar Reyes plus DZMM anchors Ahwel Paz, Ariel Ureta, Cory Quirino and Vic de Leon-Lima.

Nhea-An Barcena and Jujet de Asis ruled the men's and women's 10K races, respectively. Barcena clocked 39:59 while de Asis ended his run with 32:29.

The 5K race winners, meantime, were Roger Denolo (16 :20) and Serenata Saluan (19:31).

A 3K run was opened for the young ones while a Hall of Fame run was held for former champions.

San Miguel Corp. won the biggest non-government organization (NGO) contingent special award while the Philippine National Police took home the biggest government contingent award.

STI was named the biggest school contingent, ABS-CBN's asset management warehouse division was the largest Kapamilya contingent, and the Robles Family bagged the biggest family contingent award.

Eufemia Fabillar, 86, was declared the oldest female finisher while 84-year-old Felix Belarmino was the oldest male finisher.

Proceeds from "Takbo para sa Kalikasan Year 11" will be donated to the Pasig River rehabilitation project through AFI's Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig (KBPIP).

The barren, cramped enclosure at the Manila Zoo must seem like a prison cell to Mali, the lonely, suffering elephant who has been confined there for 36 years. That's why some of the Philippines' top celebrities—including Sam Milby, Shaina Magdayao, Piolo Pascual, Maja Salvador, Enchong Dee, Enrique Gil, Gerald Anderson, Kim Chiu, and Xian Lim—have posed for mug shots while holding prison-like name cards stating that they want Mali to be freed. A sanctuary has already agreed to accept the ailing elephant.

"Mali has been sentenced to a life of solitary confinement," says PETA Asia Campaigns Manager Rochelle Regodon. "But the call for Mali's freedom has reached a fever pitch, and the scientists, politicians, religious figures, celebrities, and students making that call can't be ignored forever."

In her current environment, Mali is denied everything that's natural and important to her. But in a sanctuary, she would have hectares in which to roam, rivers and ponds to bathe in, and the crucial company of other elephants. A growing number of animal experts, including world-renowned veterinarian Dr. Henry Richardson, Dr. Dame Daphne Sheldrick, and Dr. Jane Goodall, are calling for Mali's transfer to a sanctuary. Also, Animals Asia, Humane Society International, the Philippine Animal Welfare Society, the World Society for the Protection of Animals, Compassion and Responsibility for Animals, and all the world's leading animal welfare organizations have come out in support of relocating her.

(scenes from Dekada '70).

Magsitayo po para sa Pambansang Awit ng Pilipinas.

Bayang magiliw,
Perlas ng Silanganan
Alab ng puso
Sa dibdib mo'y buhay.

Lupang hinirang,
Duyan ka ng magiting
Sa manlulupig
Di ka pasisiil.
Sa dagat at bundok,
Sa simoy at sa langit mong bughaw
May dilag ang tula at awit
Sa paglayang minamahal.
Ang kislap ng watawat mo'y
Tagumpay na nagniningning
Ang bituin at araw niya
Kailan pa ma'y di magdidilim.

Lupa ng araw ng luwalhati't pagsinta
Buhay ay langit sa piling mo.
Aming ligaya na pag may mang-aapi
Ang mamatay ng dahil sa 'yo.

Maaapektuhan po ba ang PBA or NBA career ng isang payer kung papasok siya sa showbiz?

Example: si jeric teng and jeron teng, papasok na sa Showbiz, baka hindi na tuloy ang pagpasok nila sa PBA draft and si chris Tiu, dahi inuna niya ang pagaartista, last year lang siya nagpadraft sa PBA, dapat nong 2009 pa lang eh, nadraft na siya sa PBA

Two LRT-1 stations before President Aquino's term ends in 2016

After the public consultation schedules on LRT and MRT in August, now the construction of two LRT stations on October 10.

The LRT-1 Malvar Station, the copied design like the three-layer MRT-3 Quezon Avenue station contains two escalators for Baclaran-bound and two escalators for SM City North EDSA Annex-bound while the Grand Central Terminal near the SM City North EDSA Annex 2 Building in Quezon City, the copied design like the MRT-3 Araneta Center-Cubao Station with three platforms and four tracks.

This is the nineteenth station for trains headed to North Avenue while the twenty-second station while the new terminus of the Yellow Line, sharing a common station with the Manila MRT Blue Line's northern terminus.

During DOTC Secretary Jun Abaya's ten months in DOTC, another attempt for the revival of wants the bidding of the two public-private partnership projects: the privatization of the operation and maintenance of Light Rail Transit (LRT) 1 and Metro Rail Transit (MRT) 3 and the contract to design and build the LRT-MRT Common Station near the SM City North EDSA Annex 2 Building in Quezon City.

Panatang Makabayan (new version, 2002-present)

(Voiced by Martin Andanar of TV5 since 2011:)

Mga Kapatid, Bilang tanda ng ating pagka-Pilipino, ating bigkasin ang "Pangatang Makabayan":

Iniiibig ko ang Pilipinas, aking lupang sinilangan, tahanan ng aking lahi;

kinukupkop ako at tinutulungang maging malakas, masipag, at marangal.
Dahil mahal ko ang Pilipinas, diringgin ko ang payo ng aking magulang,
susundin ko ang tuntunin ng paaralan,
tutuparin ko ang tungkulin ng mamamayang makabayan;
naglilingkod, nag-aaral, at nagdarasal nang buong katapatan.
Iaalay ko ang aking buhay, pangarap, pagsisikap sa bansang Pilipinas.

Isabuhay natin ang pagiging Makabayang Pilipino mga Kapatid, sa isip, sa salita at sa gawa.

Pinapalabas ito bago mag signing off station notice at pagkatapos ng signing on station notice ng TV5.
